PREFACE.

The "Board's Rules," first edited in 1866, codified the rules then in force for the guidance of officers in the Revenue Department. A revised edition was brought out in two volumes, viz., Volume I of 1878 and Volume II of 1881. These were in due course broken up into different manuals, and the residuary chapters were retained in the Volume of the "Board's Rules" edited in 1888. This edition was subsequently brought up to date and republished in 1896.

2. It has been noticed that the arrangement of subjects in the Board's Manuals is not very convenient, while the rules in some cases over-lap. The Manuals have therefore been revised, and the following separate volumes have been issued:—

(a) The Government Estates Manual, containing Chapter III of the Board's Rules of 1896 as to Government estates.

(b) The Practice and Procedure Manual, containing rules as to conduct of Revenue suits, and of appeals in Revenue Courts, and rules as to service of processes, etc.

(c) The Register and Return Manual, containing a list of registers to be kept in Revenue offices, and of returns to be submitted.

(d) The Sale Law Manual, containing Revenue and Patni Sale Laws, with notes and rules for recovery of arrears.

The remaining portions of the Board's Rules and of the Revenue Officers' Manual have been rearranged and included in the present Manual. The rules include all changes introduced by circulars and correction slips up to the end of January 1902.

3. The Volume is interleaved with blank pages to facilitate insertion of additions or alterations made subsequent to its issue. All correction slips should be entered in their proper places.

4. Errors and omissions in the Volume should be brought to the notice of the Board.

5. This Volume is to be cited as "Board's Rules, 1902."

BOARD OF REVENUE, L.P., The 8th April 1902.

SLIP No. 113.

IN rule 1, chapter I, page 1 of the Board's Rules, 1902, for the words "and the Collector should by a written office order..... duly corrected to date" substitute the following :—

and the Librarian should be held responsible for correcting all the Manuals in the office. He should keep a complete list of all Manuals in all departments (all of which really belong to the library) and call them in when necessary and post the Correction Slips. Departments should be strictly forbidden to get Manuals except through the Librarian. 3-7-1906.

SLIP No. 12.

Omit the words "and year" from the heading of column 1 of the form at the end of rule 1, Chapter I, page 1 of the Board's Rules, 1902, and at the end of each of the Manuals. 3-10-1902.

BOARD'S RULES, 1902.

SLIP No. 134.

PAGE 1.—The following should be inserted as rule 2A, Chapter I of the Board's Rules —

2A. When a set of revised rules on any subject is promulgated, a memorandum of the changes made and a brief statement of objects and reasons should be appended as a preamble to the Circular Order prescribing the new rules. 16-11-1906.

RULES

BOARD OF REVENUE.

CHAPTER I.

Circular orders and Rules.

(a) OF THE BOARD,

Codification of Board's circular orders.

1. All the extant circular orders of the Board, which it is necessary to include, have been codified in this Volume and the Manuals; and every circular order of a permanent character now takes the shape of a paragraph to be added, in its proper place, to the rules herein and in the Manuals. Printed slips of all such additions are supplied for the purpose to all subordinate revenue officers, and the Collector should, by a written office order, make some specified officer individually responsible for the proper posting of these slips into each of the Manuals supplied for the use of his office. This work should be done under the general supervision of the Deputy Collectors in charge of departments, who should report to the Collector once a quarter that the Manuals which concern such departments have been duly corrected to date.

A note in the following form is to be entered at the end of each Manual, which is to be filled up as correction slips are received. Inspecting Officers will thus be able to see at a glance if all the slips have been duly entered—

Number and year of slip.	Date of receipt.	Pages in which corrections are noted.

Rules to be quoted, not circulars.

2. No circular order should be quoted, if its substance has been reduced to a rule and incorporated in this Volume or a Manual. The rules are the proper authority to quote. Old circular orders inconsistent with the rules must be understood to have been cancelled.

Issue of circulars.

3. The Board's circular orders are issued in bi-monthly parts, which are supplied direct (in any number required for office use) to every divisional, district, and subdivisional office subordinate to the Board.

They should be kept carefully in files in each office, and new circulars received should at once be added to the files, the correction and addition slips being forthwith inserted by the responsible clerk referred to in rule 1 in their proper places as soon as received. When the indexes to the Board's circulars are issued, the latter should be bound up in volumes.

Immediate attention to be paid to circulars.

4. Immediate attention must be paid by all grades of officers to the Board's circular orders. A Subdivisional Deputy Collector, for instance, must at once prepare and submit to the Collector any information which he finds from a circular order will be required from him, without waiting for any special instructions.

Rules under legislative enactments to be prepared in consultation with the Law officers of Government.

5. All rules to be issued under the provisions of any legislative enactments by local Governments with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council are, before submission to the Government of India, to be referred to the Legal Remembrancer, or some other competent legal adviser for opinion as to their general legality, and also as to whether they were drawn up in proper form as regards wording and arrangement. This course is to be invariably observed in the case of Government rules submitted by the Board and it is to be distinctly stated that they have been settled in consultation with the Law officers of Government.

(b) Of Commissioners.

Commissioners may issue circular orders.

6. Commissioners are authorised to issue circular orders to their subordinates, on questions of procedure and general practice. A copy of every such circular should, when it relates to revenue matters, be transmitted to the Board of Revenue, and in other cases to Government.

(c) Of Collectors.

Collectors not to alter practice.

7. A Collector may not alter any existing practice, or introduce any new practice, not specially required by law, into his district, without the sanction of the Commissioner, whose duty it is to preserve uniformity of practice in the districts of his Division,

SLIP No. 259.

Cancel rule 7, page 2 of the Board's Rules, 1902, and substitute in its stead the following :—

7. A Collector should not introduce a new practice in his district, without the sanction of the Commissioner, whose duty it is to preserve uniformity of practice in the districts of his division.

SLIP No. 236.

Insert the following as Rule 4A, Section I (a), Chapter II, page 3 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

4A. The term 'Heads of Departments' includes the following authorities engaged in revenue administration in the Lower Provinces :—

1. Board of Revenue.
2. Commissioners of Divisions.
3. Opium Agents, Bihar and Benares.
4. Commissioner of Excise and Salt.
5. Collector of Customs, Calcutta.
6. Director of Land Records.
7. Director of Agriculture.
8. Director of Surveys.

1-10-1909.

CHAPTER II.

Powers.

SECTION I.—RELATIVE POWERS* OF THE DIFFERENT AUTHORITIES.

(a) PRELIMINARY.

Powers assigned by competent authority.

1. The powers described in this Section are assigned by competent legal and executive authority.

Relation of higher to lower authority.

2. It is to be understood in each case that a higher authority has all the powers of any lower authority and, further, may, with or without appeal, modify or reverse any orders passed by a lower authority in a matter primarily within the competence of the lower authority, unless, by any law, the orders of the lower authority are final.

Reference to authority superior to two differing authorities.

3. A lower authority dissatisfied with the orders of the authority immediately above him may move that authority to refer the matter for the consideration of an authority superior to both. The responsibility in such case rests with the referring officer.

Officers to act upon their powers.

4. Officers are to be very careful to submit no matter for the decision of superior authority which they are competent to dispose of themselves.

(b) POWERS OF GOVERNMENT.

Government can issue orders where the power is not legally given to a lower authority.

5. Government has power to issue orders, at its discretion, in any matter in which the power to pass orders has not been conferred by law upon a lower authority.

Powers of Government.

6. The authority of Government is necessary in the following matters :—

To dispose of escheats	See Board's Rules.
To sanction loan at a lower rate of interest, or without interest, under Acts XIX of 1883 and XII of 1884
To grant leave of absence to executive officers

Section II.—General Authorisations and Prohibitions.

(a) Authorisations.

Authority of notification in Gazette of appointments, removals, leave, &c.

1. The announcement in the Government Gazette of an appointment, removal, leave of absence, &c., over the signature of a Secretary to Government, is sufficient authority for all officers concerned to recognise and act upon without any particular orders.

Civil officers to bring to notice anything in any law or system injurious to public interests.

2. Officers exercising important civil functions are expected to bring to notice anything injurious to the public interest in the operation of any law or system, after communicating with the officers of the department concerned.

Performance of a specific order to be specially reported.

3. The performance of any specific order of a superior officer is always to be specially reported.

Discretion in communicating the remarks and correspondence of superior to inferior officers.

4. The communication to inferior officers of the remarks and correspondence of their superiors in authority and position is always a matter of discretion.

Dates according to Christian era to be given.

5. Whenever a date is quoted in any official document according to any era peculiar to this country, the corresponding date according to the Christian era is to be added.

Hours of attendance.

6. By orders No. 382T., dated 18th May 1866, the Government of Bengal determined that the hours during which a magisterial and revenue officer is expected to be present in his office for the despatch of business are to be from 11 A.M. to 5 P.M., unless, with the sanction of the Commissioner, any other hours are fixed.

Diary to be kept.

7. The Government further ordered that all Revenue Officers shall keep a diary in the form prescribed by the High Court in their Circular Order *No. 8 and General Letter No. 6 of the 10th September 1892, and shall insert therein on the cause list, immediately after the list of criminal cases, a statement showing the details of the different kinds of revenue work done during the day and the time occupied by it.

Certificates to subordinates.

8. An officer having incurred the grave displeasure of the Governor-General in Council for omitting to state all the grounds for dismissal in a certificate granted by him to a dismissed subordinate, attention is specially drawn to the responsibilities of all officers in this particular, and to the necessity of stating the whole of the facts in respect of character and conduct in all certificates which may be granted by them to their subordinates.

Duties of Civil officers in respect of public buildings in their charge.

9. All civil officers who have public buildings in their charge are frequently to inspect them and to see that they are kept clean; that all doors, windows and wood-work are washed periodically; that any white-washing and petty repairs required are promptly executed; and that the furniture is kept clean and in good order. The quadrennial repairs required will then often be merely nominal, and the assistance of the Public Works Department should only be asked for when any important repairs have to be carried out, such as the renewal of beams or the general painting of wood-work.

(b) PROHIBITIONS.

Use of official documents.

1. The following notification by the Foreign Department of the Government of India, No. 150, dated 30th August 1843, is hereby republished for general information, with an intimation that the instructions therein contained are to be carefully observed by all officers subordinate to the Board:—

Notification.—Some misconception appearing to exist with respect to the power which officers of both services have over the documents and papers which come into their possession officially, the Governor-General in Council deems it expedient to notify that such documents and papers are in no case to be made public, or their contents communicated to individuals, without the previous consent of the Government to which alone they belong.

The officer in possession of such documents and papers can only legitimately use them for the furtherance of the public service in the discharge of his official duty, and it is to be understood that the same rule which applies to documents and papers applies to information of which officers may become possessed officially.

Disclosure of information received in official capacity.

2. Information received by all officers of Government in their official capacity, whether from official sources or otherwise, which is not from its nature obviously intended to be made public, should not be treated as if it were at their personal disposal.

The following orders on the subject were issued under Resolution No. 1C.H., dated 16th December 1878, of the Government of India in the Home Department:—

"The Governor-General does not think it necessary to issue any general order entirely prohibiting the disclosure, without special authority, of any information received officially. In such matters much must necessarily be left to the discretion and intelligence of officers holding places of trust, and in charge of duties more or less important. But His Excellency would impress upon all officers the serious responsibility involved in the exercise of the discretion. Whenever there is any room for doubt as to the right course to pursue, the orders of superior authority should be obtained before information regarding the public affairs is communicated to anyone not officially entitled to receive it."

Communication of information to the Press.

3. Officers of Government are forbidden to communicate to the Press, without special authority, information of which they may become possessed in the course of their official duty The following orders on the subject were issued under Resolution No. 22A., dated 3rd June 1885, of the Government of India in the Home Department:—

"(a) No officer of Government, not specially authorised in that behalf, is at liberty to communicate to the Press, either directly or indirectly, information of which he may become possessed in the course of his official duty. A similar professional reticence should be exercised by all officers of Government in their private and unofficial intercourse with non-official persons, and even with officers of Government belonging to other departments. His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General does not for a moment intend to debar officers of Government in private life from the same freedom in the discussion of public events which is enjoyed by all Her Majesty's subjects; but when an officer has in the course of his duty become possessed of special information not yet made public, he should always be strictly on his guard against the temptation of divulging it, even to other servants of Government, when these are not officially entitled to his confidence. Irresponsible persons hearing facts of interest mentioned without reserve in the course of general conversation can scarcely be expected to refrain from repeating them to others, and thus giving them a premature and too often a garbled currency.

"(b) His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General feels sure that he has only to invite the attention of the officers of Government to the importance of this matter to secure their earnest co-operation in putting a stop to such casual and unpremeditated breaches of official confidence. Officers of Government are bound to be as reserved in respect of all matters that may come within their cognizance during the discharge of their public duties as lawyers, bankers, or other professional men in regard to the affairs of their clients.

"(c) For the due communication to the Press of such information as may unobjectionably be given to it, departmental arrangements must be made under proper authority."

Connection of Government officers with the Press.

4. The following orders as to the extent to which officers in the service of Government are permitted to connect themselves with the Press were issued under Resolution No. 19-1134, dated 8th July 1875, of the Government of India in the Home Department :—

"(a) No officer in the service of Government is permitted, without the previous sanction in writing of the Government under which he immediately serves, to become the proprietor, either in whole or in part, of any newspaper or periodical publication, or to edit or manage any such newspaper or publication. Such sanction will only be given in the case of newspapers or publications mainly devoted to the discussion of topics not of a political character, such, for instance, as art, science, or literature. The sanction will be liable to be withdrawn at the discretion of the Government.

"(b) Officers in the service of Government are not prohibited from contributing to the public Press ; but their position makes it incumbent upon them to confine themselves within the limits of temperate and reasonable discussion, and they are prohibited from making public, without the previous sanction of Government, any documents, papers, or information of which they may become possessed in their official capacity. These rules have been hitherto in most cases honourably observed. In case of departure from them, or if the Government should consider the connection of any officer with the Press to be contrary to the public interests, his liberty to contribute will be withdrawn.

"(c) The Government of India will decide in case of doubt whether any engagements of officers with the Press are consistent with the discharge of their duties to the Government."

Attack on the policy and the proceedings of Government.

5. A member of the Government service is not at liberty to make an attack upon what he knows or believes to be the policy or procedure deliberately approved by the Government. It is no justification of such attack that he is actuated by conscientious motives or has a strong conviction of the correctness of his own judgment. It is improper for any officer to convey to the public, whether in writing, or in a speech, or otherwise, any opinion upon matters of Government policy which are, or are likely to become, the subject of public discussion. It is, of course, inevitable that cases must from time to time occur in which the decisions of Government do not commend themselves to the officers who may have to carry them out. On such occasion the officers in question, after making proper representations to their official superiors, have only two courses open to them, namely, either to acquiesce loyally and silently in the decision of the responsible authorities or to resign their positions in the service.

Attitude of Government officers towards political or quasi-political movements.

6. The Government of India have laid down that "servants of Government have not the same liberty of action as private individuals, and are bound to hold themselves aloof from many movements which are perfectly legitimate, and which private persons are free to promote;" and have directed the observance of the following rules as to the attitude which should be maintained by officers in the service of Government towards political or quasi-political movements with which they may be brought in contact:—

(a) As a general rule, no officer of Government should attend at a political meeting where the fact of his presence is likely to be misconstrued, or to impair his usefulness as an official.

(b) No officer of Government may take part in the proceedings of a political meeting, or in organizing or promoting a political meeting or agitation.

(c) If in any case an officer is in doubt whether any action which he proposes to take would contravene these orders, the matter should be referred to the Head of the Department or district and, if necessary, to the Local Government or Administration.

Vindication of acts or character from defamatory attacks.

7. In a general order of the Government of India in the Foreign Department, dated 15th March 1847, it was laid down that a Government officer is at liberty, if his public conduct in the transaction of his official duties is impugned, "to seek redress through the usual official channel by an appeal to the Government he serves, and that the Government so appealed to will afford him every opportunity of vindicating his character." As the practice in this respect is not uniform in all Provinces, the Governor-General in Council deems it desirable to prescribe the following procedure which should be generally observed in future:—

(i) (a) Without obtaining the authorisation of the Government to which he is immediately subordinate, no officer of Government is permitted to have recourse to the Courts for the vindication of his public acts, or of his character as a public functionary, from defamatory attacks. In giving authority to institute proceedings, the Local Government concerned will decide whether the circumstances of the case are such that the Government should bear the costs of the proceedings, civil or criminal, or leave the officer to institute the prosecution or suit at his own expense; and in the latter case it will also determine, in the event of the matter being decided by the Courts in the officer's favour, whether he should be recouped by Government the whole or any part of the costs of the action.

(b) The ruling above laid down does not affect an officer's right to defend his private dealings or behaviour in any way that he may be advised; but his official reputation is in the charge of the Government which he serves, and it is for that Government to decide in each case whether the institution of proceedings to vindicate his public acts or character is necessary or expedient.

Circular letter of the Government of India, Home Department, No. 30-Public 1676—1685, dated 5th September 1890.

(ii) Clause (i) of this rule and rule 3(a) of this Section do not, except indirectly and by implication, prohibit officers from communicating with the public Press in explanation or defence of their official conduct. The Governor-General in Council,* has, however, directed that no officer of Government shall communicate with the public Press in perpect of his official conduct or acts without the prior consent in writing of the Local Government under which he is serving.

* Letter from the Government of India, Home Department, to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, No. 1367, dated 29th May 1900.

Pecuniary arrangements referable to the resignation of appointments.

held by them. The Government of India in Notification (General Department) No. 216, dated 9th September 1842, laid down that "on proof of any appointment, civil or military, having been resigned under such circumstances, the nomination consequent on such resignation will be cancelled, and the parties concerned suspended the service in Public Orders pending the pleasure of the Hon'ble the Court of Directors."

Circular No. $\frac{55}{1864\text{-}73}$, dated 29th December 1883.

9. In the Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. $\frac{31}{1217\text{-}12}$, dated 11th July 1885, it is laid down that no officer of Government shall ask or accept pecuniary aid or subscriptions from Native Chiefs or officials of Native States in pursuance of public objects, except with the sanction previously obtained of the Local Government to which he may be subordinate. By a later Resolution of the Home Department, No. $\frac{25}{1437\text{-}60}$, dated 14th August 1889, this rule has been extended to applications for, or acceptance of, assistance towards private or semi-public objects.

Applications to Native Chiefs for pecuniary contributions.

10. The following summary of the existing law and rules regarding the acceptance by Government servants of presents from Native Chiefs and others is contained in Circular No. 1299G., dated 20th June 1876, of the Government of India, Foreign Department :—

Acceptance of presents from Native Chiefs and others.

"(a) The main provisions of the law on the subject are contained in 13 Geo. III, Chapter 63, sections 23-24; 33 Geo. III, Chapter 52, sections 62-63; 3 and 4 Wm. IV, Chapter 85, section 76. (See Appendix to this Chapter.)

"(b) The prohibition of the receipt of presents from Native Chiefs and others does not extend to the receipt of a few flowers or fruits, and articles of inappreciable value, although even such trifling presents should be discouraged.

"(c) It does not extend to the exchange of presents between Governors, Lieutenant-Governors, Chief Commissioners, Agents to the Governor-General or Political Officers generally in their ceremonial intercourse with Native Chiefs, on which occasions the presents from the Chiefs are deposited in the Government Toshakhana, and return presents are given at the Government expense.

"(d) It does not apply to presents to Medical officers made bonâ fide for services rendered.

"(e) The general prohibition extends to all servants of Government, Native or European, covenanted or uncovenanted, in whatsoever department they may be serving.

"(f) Where presents cannot absolutely be refused without giving offence, they must be delivered up to Government, and to this rule no exception whatsoever is permissible save with the express sanction of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, which will only be given under very special circumstances.

"2. The Governor-General in Council desires that the above rules may be strictly observed and no deviation therefrom permitted, except with the previous sanction of the Government of India."

Complimentary addresses, testimonials, entertainments, &c., to officers of Government.

11. Officers of Government are forbidden to receive complimentary addresses either from those with whom they have been officially connected or from the public. The following rules were re-issued under Resolution No. 729—53, dated 6th May 1898, of the Government of India in the Home Department, and the duty of exact obedience to them was impressed on all concerned:—

1. Save as in these rules otherwise provided, all servants of Government, covenanted or uncovenanted, are forbidden to receive complimentary or valedictory addresses in any form, or to accept testimonials of any kind, or to attend public meetings or complimentary entertainments of a formal and public character held in their honour.

2. The Government views with disfavour all similar manifestations in the case of retired officers, when following immediately upon their retirement from active service, and designed as an acknowledgment of acts done by them while in the service of Government.

3. It is not intended to prohibit such an expression of regard for the private or official character of an officer retiring from service, or leaving his station or district, as is involved in a farewell entertainment supported by his personal friends, even though some of these may be his official subordinates. But it is expected that the proceedings on such occasions will be substantially of a private and informal character.

4. Local Governments and Administrations are authorised to forward to an officer who has left a station or district the resolution of any local public body recording a vote of thanks to him for help and advice afforded during his official connection with the station or district.

6. Nothing in the above rules is meant to prohibit compliance with the request of a public body that a Government officer should sit for his portrait, bust or statue in recognition of his public services: provided that the portrait, bust or statue is not intended for presentation to the officer concerned.

7. The participation of Government officers in the raising of funds for the foundation of scholarships, or for procuring a portrait, bust or statue, as a spontaneous recognition of the services of a Government officer is not forbidden; but it should be clearly understood that any solicitation on the part of officers of Government for subscriptions from any person who does not voluntarily come forward to contribute is disapproved by the Government of India.

8. The previous sanction of the Government of India must be obtained to the relaxation of these rules in any special case in which the Local Government or Administration may think this desirable.

Pecuniary dealings with Natives.

12. Public servants of all departments are strictly forbidden to have any pecuniary dealings with Natives, whether within their jurisdiction or beyond it, except under the restrictions contained in the four following rules:—

(a) Whenever a public servant wishes to dispose of a house, bungalow, elephant, horse, or carriage, or other valuable property to any Native within his jurisdiction, or within the limits of the district in which he is employed on the public service, and from which he is not about to remove, he must report his intention to the Local Government to which he is subordinate, stating the facts and circumstances and the price offered for the article to be sold. The Local Government will then pass such orders on the reference as may seem fit and proper.

(b) Whenever a public servant is about to quit his station or district permanently, or for a considerable period, and wishes to dispose of his house, bungalow, elephant, carriages, and horses, and the like property of value to native purchasers, he shall report his intention to the Commissioner, or the head local authority to which he may be immediately subordinate, and that authority will use its discretion in allowing the transaction, or in reporting the circumstance to the Local Government for further orders.

(c) Whenever a public servant, on quitting his station or district, wishes to dispose of his furniture, household goods, live-stock, etc., he is at full liberty to do so either by circulating lists of such property amongst the community generally, or by having the same put up to public auction, without reference to any authority whatever. All that is necessary is that the transaction should be open and patent to everybody on the spot.

(d) Rule (a) is to be considered applicable to purchases equally with sales.

The above rules are not applicable to bonâ fide transactions with regular dealers.

Officers of Government not to lend money to land-holders.

13. By section 2 of Regulation XXXVIII of 1793, Covenanted Civil Servants are prohibited from lending money, directly or indirectly, to any proprietor or farmer of land, or dependent talukdar or under-farmer or raiyat or their sureties, and by a Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, of the 17th March 1882, this prohibition has been extended to natives of India appointed to an office ordinarily reserved for members of the Covenanted Civil Service under the provisions of 33 Vict., chapter III, section 6. By a later Resolution of the Home Department, dated the 16th January 1890, the rules which apply to Covenanted Civil Servants and members of the Statutory Civil Service, as above noticed, have been extended to all uncovenanted officers in the Subordinate Executive and Judicial Services of the Government, who are accordingly prohibited from lending money at interest, whether directly or through relatives or other agents, to land-holders, with or without security, within the Province in which they are employed.

NOTE 1.—These orders apply to all Executive and Judicial servants of Government to whom the term "officer" is usually applied,* and the prohibition covers all loans. (Letter from the Government of India to the Government of Madras, No. 2107, dated 6th December 1890.)

*e.g., Deputy Collectors and Tahsildars and Subordinate Judges and Munsifs.

NOTE 2.—The prohibition contained in the Resolution of the Home Department, No. 2R.-87—103, dated 16th January 1890, is applicable to loans (whether on the security of a mortgage or unsecured) to estates administered under a Court of Wards or an Encumbered Estates' Act.—[Bengal Government Circular No. 6A (Appointment Department), dated 30th November 1899.]

NOTE 3.—The prohibition contained in the Resolution of the Home Department, No. 2R-87—103, dated 16th January 1890, has been relaxed in the case of a Probationary Deputy Collector who belongs to a joint Hindu family which has been carrying on the business of money-lending as an ancestral profession, on the understanding that the officer takes no active share in the business and is not employed in the district in which the transactions of the firm are carried on. (Letter from the Government of India, in the Home Department, to the Government of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. 1036, dated 19th April 1900.)

Pecuniary transactions on behalf of estate under Government management.

14. Collectors are prohibited from entering into any pecuniary transactions with a public servant on behalf of an estate under the management of the Revenue authorities.

Pecuniary relations of Government officers with persons subject to their authority.

15. Officers of Government are forbidden to take loans from, or to place themselves under pecuniary obligations to, persons who are subject to their official authority or influence, or who reside, possess property, or carry on business, within the local limits for which they are appointed. The following orders on the subject were issued under Resolution No. 637—22-640, dated 16th March 1888, of the Government of India in the Home Department:—

From the replies to Home Department Circular of the 14th October 1887, it appears that there are no uniform executive orders on the subject of the pecuniary relations of Government officers with persons who are subject to their authority; and as Regulation VII of 1823 applies only to Covenanted Civil Servants and only to such officers when serving in certain portions of the Bengal Presidency, the Governor-General in Council considers it desirable that definite instructions should now issue with the object of making the liability in this matter of all officers holding civil appointments the same throughout India. The Governor-General in Council is accordingly pleased to direct that the following rules shall be strictly observed in future:—

(a) All Covenanted Civil Servants, Statutory Civilians, Uncovenanted Officers who hold gazetted appointments, and Military Officers in civil employ are prohibited under pain of dismissal from taking loans from, or otherwise placing themselves under pecuniary obligations to, persons subject to the official authority or influence of such Government officers, or residing, possessing property, or carrying on business within the local limits for which such Government officers are appointed.

(b) This prohibition does not extend to transactions in the ordinary course of business with Joint-Stock Banks and British firms.

The following orders were subsequently issued under Resolution No. 1032–49, dated 9th June 1897, of the Government of India in the Home Department:—

It has been brought to the notice of the Government of India that Home Department Resolution No. $\frac{22}{637-673}$, dated 16th March 1888, conveying orders on the subject of the pecuniary relations of Government officers with persons who are subject to their authority, makes no provision, such as is contained in section 6 of Regulation VII of 1823, for the case of pre-existing indebtedness on the part of Civil officers to individuals resident in districts to which they may be posted. The Governor-General in Council considers such a provision desirable, and is accordingly pleased to direct that the following rule shall be added to the rules laid down in the Resolution quoted above:—

(c) Any such officer, as is referred to in rule (a) who is appointed or transferred to a post in which he will be in a position to exercise official influence or authority over any person to whom he is under any pecuniary obligation, or to a post with local jurisdiction within the limits of which any person to whom he is under any pecuniary obligation resides, possesses property or carries on business, shall be bound to declare, without delay, the circumstance to the officer to whom he is immediately subordinate for report to the Government, and failing to do so shall be subject to the same penalty as if the obligation were incurred after his appointment or transfer.

Indebtedness of native public servants.

16 It is obligatory on native public servants to disclose to Government their indebtedness to individuals resident in districts to which they may be under orders of transfer. The following orders on the subject were issued by the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department, in letter No. 5757J., dated the 25th November 1896.

"(a) The Government of India have decided that it should be obligatory on native public servants to disclose to Government their indebtedness to individuals resident in districts to which they may be under orders of transfer. Although section 6 of Bengal Regulation VII of 1823, which contains directions in the matter, is only applicable to covenanted servants of Government, the principle is one which should, in the opinion of the Supreme Government, be extended to uncovenanted native officers also; and the Lieutenant-Governor therefore desires that the responsibility of such officers in this respect may be distinctly explained to them.

" (b) I am to observe further that excessive indebtedness of public officers to tradesmen is a very serious disqualification for Government service; but that, while it is not desired ordinarily to interfere in matters connected with trade debts, it will be within the discretion of District Officers and Heads of Departments to report to Government cases in which the degree of indebtedness is such as to threaten to give rise to a public scandal."

Insolvency.

17. In reply to a question submitted by the Government of Bombay, whether a public declaration of insolvency on the part of Civil Servants is to be regarded as a disqualification for office, or to be visited by Government with any marks of its disapprobation, the Court of Directors said :—

" We have no hesitation in giving it as our decision that such a declaration of insolvency as is involved in a resort to the Insolvent Debtors' Court for relief is quite incompatible with the maintenance of that high character for independence which we regard as essential in those filling offices of trust and authority in our service. We direct, therefore, that, in the event of any one of our Civil Servants at any time availing himself of the means afforded by the Court to obtain relief from his liabilities, he be suspended from public employment, and his case forthwith reported to us for final orders." These views are of general application.

Despatch from the Court of Directors, No. 18, dated 22nd March 1851, published in Home Department Notification No. 181, dated 26th January 1855.

Investment of public and charitable funds.

18. Government officers are forbidden to invest public and charitable funds otherwise than in Government securities, or to deposit such funds save in a Government Treasury, the Bank of Bengal, or one of its branches.

Unauthorized funds not to be created.

19. The creation of unauthorised funds by fines and deductions of pay, or in any other way, is strictly forbidden.

Copies of reports regarding officers.

20. If distinct charges are made against officers, or special praise awarded to them, they will, as a matter of course, be furnished with the remarks of their superiors; but they have no right to demand a copy of every official report made concerning them.

Commission on purchases for Government forbidden.

21. Any commission on purchases made by a public servant on account of Government, or any gratification, or payment, the receipt of which is not specially sanctioned by Government, has been, by notification in the Gazette, dated 16th July 1865, declared not to be a "legal remuneration" within the meaning of section 161, Act XLV of 1860.

Occupants of Government buildings may not utilise them to their own pecuniary advantage.

22. Persons living in Government buildings free of rent cannot utilise such buildings or portions of such buildings to their own pecuniary advantage by subletting and appropriating the rent.

Elephants not to be borrowed.

23. Elephants should never be borrowed from zamindars or others for the public service except upon an emergency, and with the consent of the Board.

Government officer prohibited from taking other service when in receipt of furlough or leave allowance.

24. By a Resolution of the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 2256P., dated 17th May 1899, it has been decided that no gazetted officer of Government who is in receipt of furlough or leave allowance, may, without the special orders of the Government of India, take service under any other employer in India, and no such officer, whose services have been lent to any other employer in India, can take leave or obtain leave allowances from the Government of India, unless he actually quits his employment for the period of such leave. In the case of a non-gazetted officer, the previous consent of his departmental superior is sufficient authority for the taking of leave with the object of obtaining such employment and for the acceptance of such employment during leave.

Channel of communication of Government officials in India with officials out of India.

25. No Government officials in India should, in any case, address official communications direct (1) to Officials in the United Kingdom, (2) to Officials in Continental Europe, or (3) to Officials in the Colonies. All references to the persons mentioned should be made through the channel of the Government of India and Her Majesty's Secretary of State. It is not the intention of these orders to prohibit the free communication between Local Governments and the adjoining colonial possessions of the Straits Settlements and Ceylon prohibited from acquiring or holding land within the province in which they are employed or with the administration of which they are concerned, whether that connection be permanent or temporary.* This prohibition does not extend to land occupied merely by buildings for residence and their usual appurtenances.

* To Secretary of State, No. 40, dated 16th June 1873; from Secretary of State, No. 99, dated 26th August 1873 (embodied in Home Department Resolution No. 13—467, dated 13th February 1874).

29. Natives of India appointed under the Statutory Rules are permitted to hold any lands actually in their possession when they enter the service of Government, or which may come into their possession thereafter by inheritance, gift† or devise, provided that full information in respect of such lands is given to the Local Government, which will consider in each case whether the fact of an officer holding any particular lands need be a bar to his employment in the district where these are situated. No fresh purchase of land is, however, allowed on the part of a Statutory civil servant without the previous sanction of the Local Government under which he is serving.‡

‡ Home Department Resolution No. 11—426—37, dated 17th March 1882, and circular letter No. 26—1095—1104, dated 21st July 1882 (Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 68, dated 8th June 1882).

NOTE.—This rule is also applicable to natives of India who enter the Indian Civil Service by competition in England. (Home Department Circular No. $\frac{19\text{-Public}}{1161—1170}$, dated 14th June 1890.)

30. Uncovenanted officers exercising independent judicial or revenue functions, whether of European, Eurasian, or Native descent, are not debarred from acquiring or possessing landed property in British India for agricultural purposes, provided that they must not hold landed property in the districts in which they are employed. Although uncovenanted officers are not precluded from holding land, it is inexpedient that appointments which necessarily confer a considerable amount of power and influence on their occupants, such as those of Munsif, Deputy Collector, and Tahsildar, should be filled by persons holding landed property within their jurisdiction.§

§ Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 22, dated 10th August 1861.

31. Officers (a) of all classes (including candidates for office) must be required to make a declaration (b) of the fact of their being in possession of, or of their having acquired, landed property, stating the district within which it is situated, with such other particulars as may be considered necessary, of which registers should be kept by the Local Governments concerned.‖

‖ Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 22, dated 10th August 1861.

(a) NOTE 1.—It has been laid down that the expression "officers of all classes (including candidates for office)" applies to all officers in superior service, and covers canal revenue and water establishments, including patrols. (Home Department No. 10R.—636-60 (Public) of March 1890, and No. 1050G., dated 24th April 1890, from Government of India, Public Works Department.)

(b) NOTE 2.—It has been ruled that similar particulars must be given of property held by, and managed by, wives of officers or other members of their families living with, and in any way dependent on them; and that the management of such property shall be subject to the same restrictions as that of property belonging to themselves. (Home Department No. 23—2405-14 (Public), dated 11th September 1888.)

32. It is incumbent on the several Local Governments to take care that no officer who may be in possession of landed property in British India or elsewhere, to whatever branch of the service he may belong, shall apply any portion of the time and attention which ought to be devoted to his public duties, whether Civil or Military, to the management of that property, and that longer or more frequent leaves of absence are not permitted on that account.*

Acquisition and possession of landed property in Native States for any purpose.

33. Civil servants and military officers in the actual service of the Crown in India are prohibited from holding lands in a Native State for any purpose whatever. This prohibition does not extend to land occupied merely by buildings for residence and their usual appurtenances.

Investments other than those in land for the profits of cultivation.

34. With regard to investments other than those in land for the profits of cultivation, officers of every rank and class in the public service are expected to abstain from any investment (though of itself unobjectionable) which interests them privately in affairs or undertakings of the kind with which their public duty is connected.† Subject to this general proviso, there is no objection to Government ‡ servants holding shares in mining or other companies (including agricultural companies) having for their object the development of the resources of the country, provided that they must not take part in the management of any such company, and that they must not be employed in the districts where the operations§ of the company with which they may be connected are carried on.‖ This latter prohibition must be held to apply sometimes with less, sometimes with greater, force to certain officers connected with the Central Administration, such as members of the Local Government, Members of the Board

‡ The Secretary of State has held(a) that the standing orders as to the connection of Government officers with trading companies apply only to gazetted officers of the Covenanted and Uncovenanted services, and do not apply in the case of clerks and other ministerial officers in Government employ, with regard to whom the supervision of heads of departments should suffice as a check.

* To Madras Government, No. 1086, dated 10th July 1884.

35. In the matter of taking part in the management of a company, it has been decided† that the prohibition was not intended to apply to the participation of Government officers in the direction of those companies only which are designed to develop the resources of the country, but also to preclude such officers from taking part in the direction of such institutions as banks‡ (a). It has also been held that the prohibition against officers taking part in the management of a company applies§ to public servants on leave equally with those in active service, but that it does not extend‖ to officers who, with the consent of the Government of India, take service under Railway Companies working under concession from Government, nor does it apply to the management¶ of associations which are established bonâ fide for the purpose of mutual supply, and not of trade and trade profit (provided in this latter case that the interests of Government do not suffer by the double employment of the officer concerned). Although the prohibition against taking part in the "management" of a company cannot, taken literally, be held to debar an officer from taking part as a promoter, or as one of the applicants for registration in the Memorandum of Association, the Governor-General in Council has held that the danger against which the prohibition was aimed, namely, that of official influence being abused or official trust betrayed, is, under such circumstances, not much less than if the officer took part in the management after the company has been started. Government servants are therefore distinctly forbidden to take any part in the promotion or registration of companies.

§ From Secretary of State, No 99, dated 7th September 1882.

‖ Resolution of the Public Works Department, No. 1650-1672G., dated 14th December 1882.

¶ Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 73, dated 19th July 1883.

(a) NOTE 1.—The Secretary of State has decided that the standing orders regulating the connection of Government officers with Banks and Trading Companies apply to all gazetted officers of Government, and that no such officer holding a permanent appointment under Government, whether pensionable or not, shall be permitted to serve as a Director of any Bank or Public Company without previous reference to him.

The Secretary of State has also decided that the Solicitors to Government at Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay may be permitted to serve as Directors of Banks and of Companies so long as the public service in on way suffers, and the interests of the Banks or Companies are not antagonistic to those of the Government, and that the like rule may be applied to Government Pleaders, Diocesan Registrars, Crown Prosecutors and Coroners.

[Vide despatches from the Secretary of State, No. 25 (Financial), dated 7th February 1889, and No. 53 (Public), dated 14th May 1891.]

The orders prohibiting Government servants from becoming Directors of Public Companies do not apply to non-gazetted and ministerial officers in Government employ, in whose case it is expected that the supervision of heads of departments and offices will suffice as a check. It must, however, be distinctly understood that Government can at any time prohibit any extra employment which in its opinion it is undesirable that its servants should undertake.

Speculations generally.

36. It is a standing order that servants of Government are required to abstain from speculative investments; but no literal definition has been laid down as to the stage at which, or the circumstances under which, the holding of land or other valuable property becomes speculative. It is obviously speculative to secure a grant of land supposed to be auriferous with the object of disposing of it hereafter to companies. Habitual speculation by officials has been always held to be an evil; and the Government has reserved* to itself full power to deal stringently with the practice whenever it appears to prevail. The general distinction which exists between permanent and speculative investments is sufficiently described in the extract given in the margin, from Home Department letter to the Government of Bengal, No. 1495, dated 10th April 1873.

37. The foregoing paragraphs contain a brief summary of the more important orders which have been issued from time to time on the subjects under notice, and the Governor-General in Council trusts that they will serve as a useful guide to Local Governments and Administrations and to officers serving under them. It should, however, be understood that this summary merely embraces the more important orders, and does not profess to be exhaustive.

* Paragraph 7 of despatch to the Secretary of State, No. 40, dated 16th June 1873. Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 99, dated 26th August 1873.

The Government of India consider that there exists an essential difference between permanent and speculative investments; that the distinction is one of motive, and that the frequency of a man's purchases and sales may be, and usually is, very good evidence of his motive in effecting them. If an officer habitually buys and sells securities of a value notoriously fluctuating, it is clear that he is addicted to speculation and he thereby undoubtedly lays himself open to the disapproval of Government, which can be expressed in various ways, and in a degree proportionate to the nature of the dereliction. If he engages in such pursuits to an extent which attracts public notice and unfavourable remark, so that his integrity or his application to his public duties is discussed and doubted, then he has given rise to a scandal with which the Government will have to deal.

APPENDIX.

The Governor-General, Council, and Judges restricted from accepting any present.

XXIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that no Governor-General or any of the Council of the said United Company's Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, or any Chief Justice, or any of the Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforesaid, shall, directly or indirectly, by themselves or by any other person or persons for his or their use, or on his or their behalf, accept, receive or take, of or from any person or persons in any manner, or on any account whatsoever, any present, gift, donation, gratuity or reward, pecuniary or otherwise, or any promise or engagement for any present, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward.

No person holding a civil or military office under the Crown or Company shall accept any donation or gratuity.

XXIV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that from and after the 1st day of August 1774 no person holding or exercising any civil or military office under the Crown, or the said United Company, in the East Indies, shall accept, receive, or take, directly or indirectly by himself, or any other person or persons on his behalf, or for his use or benefit, of and from any of the Indian princes or powers, or their ministers or agents (or any of the natives of Asia), any present, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward, pecuniary or otherwise, upon any account, or on any pretence whatsoever, or any promise or engagement for any present, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward.

[Extract 33, Geo. III. Chapter 52, Sections 62 and 63.]

Receiving gifts to be deemed a misdemeanour.

LXII. And be it further enacted, that the demanding or receiving any sum of money, or other valuable thing as a gift or present, or under colour thereof, whether it be for the use of the party receiving the same, or for, or pretended to be for, the use of the said Company, or of any other person whatsoever, by any British subject holding or exercising any office or employment under His Majesty, or the said United Company in the East Indies, shall be deemed and taken to be extortion and a misdemeanour at law, and shall be proceeded against and punished as such under and by virtue of this Act, and the offender shall also forfeit to the King's Majesty, his heirs and successors, the whole gift or present so received, or the full value thereof.

The Court may order gifts to be restored, and fines to be given to the prosecutor.

LXIII. Provided always, and be it further enacted, that the Court or jurisdiction before whom any such offence shall be tried, shall have full power and authority to direct the said present or gift, or any part thereof, to be restored to the party who gave the same, or to order the whole or any part thereof, or of any fine which the Court shall set on the offender, to be paid or given to the prosecutor or informer, as such Court in its discretion shall think fit.

[Extracts 3 and 4, William IV, Chapter 85, section 76.]

Salaries of Governor-General, etc., fixed, to be in lieu of all fees, etc.

LXXVI. And be it enacted, that there shall be paid to the several officers hereafter named the several salaries set against the names of such officers subject to such reduction of the said several salaries respectively as the said Court of Directors, with the sanction of the said Board, may at any time think fit; that is to say—

	Rs.
To the Governor-General of India	2,40,000
To each ordinary Member of the Council of India	96,000
To each Governor of the Presidencies of Fort Saint George, Bombay and Agra ...	1,20,000
To each Member of any Council to be appointed in any Presidency	60,000 and the salaries of the said officers respectively shall commence from their respectively taking upon them the execution of their respective offices; and the said salaries shall be the whole profit or advantage which the said officers shall enjoy during their continuance in such offices respectively, and it shall be, and it is hereby declared to be, a misdemeanour for any such officer to accept for his own use, in the discharge of his office, any present, gift, donation, gratuity, or reward, pecuniary or otherwise whatsoever, or to trade or traffic for his own benefit, or for the benefit of any other person or persons whatever, &c., &c.

Acceptance of gratuity a misdemeanour.

Duties of Officers.

SECTION I.—DUTIES OF THE BOARD.

(a) GENERAL.

1. The Board are held responsible by Government for all delays in the despatch of business, although these may be due to the dilatoriness of some one or more officers subordinate to them. In like manner the Board hold each Commissioner responsible for delay in his Division, even though it be due directly to the misconduct of a Collector, unless the Commissioner distinctly reports such misconduct. Collectors in the same way are entirely responsible for any delay by the officers under them.

Delays.

2. In all applications forwarded to the Board for sanction of expenditure of any description whatever, it must be stated whether the expenditure is covered by the budget allotment of the office by which it is to be incurred under the head to which the charge appertains.

5. When any person is confined in the civil jail for non-payment of a debt to Government, the sanction of the Board is necessary to his release so long as a sum exceeding Rs. 1,000 remains due from him.

Persons confined in the civil jail.

6. The Commissioners are authorised to carry out at once any reductions of establishment which they may consider practicable, reporting the same for the formal sanction of Government through the Board.

Division of work in the Board's office.

8. The division of work between the two Departments or Sections of the Board is as follows:—

IN THE LAND REVENUE DEPARTMENT, i.e., SECTION A.

1. Bengal Tenancy Act.
2. Budget and accounts.
3. Butwara, i.e., partitions.†
4. Government estates.
5. Establishments.
6. Miscellaneous.*
7. Embankments and irrigation.
8. Land registration.
9. Rent-suits and processes.
10. Cess.
11. Surveys and Settlements.
12. Wards', Attached and Encumbered estates.
13. Waste lands.

IN THE MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE DEPARTMENT, i.e., SECTION B.

1. Customs.
2. Excise.
3. Income-tax.
4. Marine.
5. Miscellaneous.
6. Opium.
7. Salt.
8. Stamps.
9. Stationery.
10. Land acquisition.
11. Railways, including acquisition.

(b) TOURS.

1. Members of the Board of Revenue.—With regard to these officers, the Lieutenant-Governor has, in paragraph 36 of the Resolution, dated the 6th October 1891, on the Board's Land Revenue Administration Report for the year 1890-91, expressed himself as follows on the subject of the inspections to be made by them:—

"He thinks that some system should be organised by which the Members should either spend a definite portion of the year on tour, or should visit a specified number of districts in the year. It would be advantageous both to themselves and to their subordinates if they were to inspect Commissioners' offices on the revenue side, collectorates in all branches of revenue work, distilleries and survey and settlement operations as far as able. Sir Charles Elliott is aware that the Members of the Board have to hear important revenue appeals, and that they are responsible for correspondence in affairs of considerable moment. But he believes that the appeals can be fixed and heard according to arrangement, and he presumes that correspondence can be carried on and disposed of by the Members when on tour. One Member only would ordinarily be absent from Calcutta at a time, so that urgent matters could be disposed of by the Member at the Presidency. At any rate the Lieutenant-Governor may safely say that he would welcome the co-operation of the Members of the Board in improving the mufassal revenue administration of the Province and assisting in the execution of the orders of Government."

Each Opium Agency should be visited once a year by the Member in charge of the Miscellaneous Revenue Department of the Board of Revenue.

* This head includes civil suits, indents, records, securities, office inspections, tours, land improvement and the like.

† Under the orders of Government No. 2025, dated the 22nd of November 1873 this subject is dealt with by the Member in charge of Section B.

Section II.—Duties of Divisional, District, and Subdivisional Officers.*

Tours.

1. Commissioners, District Officers, and Subdivisional Officers should be personally acquainted with all parts of their respective jurisdictions, and should inspect, with reasonable frequency, all public institutions therein situated, and should make from time to time, in person, such local enquiries as may be necessary to enable them to conduct their duties with satisfaction to themselves and Government, or supply any information specially required by Government.

Duration of tour and sketch of inspection to be made.

2. All Commissioners are to exercise a sound discretion in arranging the length and character of their own tour programme. They are expected to attend to the various matters specified in paragraph 3 of the Resolution† of the Government of Bengal, General Department, No. 398T.G., dated the 17th October 1891, but in doing so are at liberty to arrange their work for any particular year. They will in future be under no obligation to give up more important duties in order to visit yearly "every subdivisional office, registration office, subsidiary jail or lock-up." They will, however, in their annual land revenue report explain what they have been able to do and what they have omitted to do.

Commissioners' tour programme.

† "All Commissioners should be on tour inspecting each year every Magistrate's and Collector's office in all its branches, every subdivisional office, every registration office and dispensary at district or subdivisional head-quarters, every jail, subsidiary jail or lock-up; also every settlement mentioned in the settlement report of the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, which is under their orders, and so far as possible the summary unprofessional settlements of Government or temporarily-settled estates which are made by the district staff. They should pay special attention to the working of the Court Sub-Inspector's office, the regularity of attendance of Honorary Magistrates, the disposal of criminal cases by Stipendiary Magistrates, the frequency of remands, the work of the record-room, the certificate department, the land acquisition department, and the tauzi department."

3. Commissioners should decide annually the duration of each District Officer's tour, and what the tour programme of each Officer should comprise. These programmes need not be prepared once for all, but should be submitted from time to time, as required. Touring should be spread over the year, as suggested in the Resolution of the Government of Bengal, General Department, No. 398 T. G., dated the 17th October 1891. Except in a water district, the main part of a District Officer's tour should be done in the cold weather, but portions, such, for example, as the inspection of the head-quarters of subdivisions may be conveniently done at other seasons. In a water district

Immediate report of sudden calamities.

7. Besides the immediate report of inundations which include floods and storm-waves, and of droughts which is directed above paragraph 6 (2), other calamities such as earthquakes and tornados should also be reported immediately. The rules regulating these reports are summarised in Government order No. 587P.—D., dated 4th June 1904, which is reproduced below and which must be closely observed.

Action to be taken in the case of sudden calamities.

8. District and Subdivisional Officers on hearing of any serious general calamity within the area under their jurisdiction should report to their immediate superior by telegram, and proceed at once to make such local enquiry, and take measures for such immediate relief as may be advisable. The assistance of the Executive or District Engineer may be invited. Endeavour must be made to ascertain as exactly as possible what is the extent, of the damage done and as far as possible to render immediate effective assistance. For instance, on the occasion of a flood there may be lives to save; people or cattle who have taken refuge on islands or high lands to be rescued; dead bodies and carcasses of animals to be removed and disposed of; and the collection of boats and scavengers to carry out these measures to be attended to. If there is danger of starvation owing to the destruction of the local stores of food, measures should be taken for this purpose. The higher authorities must be kept promptly informed of the progress of the enquiry, and recommendations should be made as to the action which may be taken on the part of Government. An officer who fails to act in accordance with these instructions incurs a very serious reponsibility.

No. 587P.-D., dated Darjeeling, the 14th June 1904.

From—W. C. MACPHERSON, ESQ., C.S.I., Officiating Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal (Political),

To—All Commissioners of Divisions.

IN consolidation and amendment of all previous orders regarding the prompt communication to Government of information relating to matters of political and administrative importance, the Lieutenant-Governor desires me to communicate for your guidance and for communication to District Officers the following instructions.

the rainy season is the most convenient for the main tour. In settling the programme of touring, in communication with the District Officers, regard will be had to the size of the district and the acquaintance with its local peculiarities and requirements which the Magistrate-Collector already possesses. The important matters referred to in paragraph 4 of the Resolution* quoted above will not be overlooked, but care must be taken to see that special attention is given to any matters that may be pressing for enquiry at the time. The Lieutenant-Governor attaches much importance to careful inspection by the Magistrate-Collectors of their own offices, but it will suffice if there is one detailed inspection of the work in all departments annually (except the treasury, which must be inspected twice—vide rule 2, Section IX, Chapter V) by the District Officer, and one similar thorough inspection by the Commissioner. The fact is that a good Magistrate-Collector will be constantly inspecting one branch or other of his office work, and, if this duty is systematically undertaken, one department after another being gone into in turn, there is the less need for repeated over-turning of the office as a whole to the detriment of current work.

* The rest of their tour time should be devoted to making acquaintance with the chief residents in the district and the state of administration in the mufassal as regards roads, embankments, water communications, markets, ferries, pounds, &c. They should visit each municipality once a year and inspect the municipal office, looking specially into the distribution of work among the Commissioners, the arrangements for registration of births and deaths and for sanitation, the assessment, collection and arrears of municipal taxes.

In the case of Subdivisional Officers, the Magistrate-Collector should settle their tours, subject to the approval of the Commissioner, on the principles above set forth.

Ional Officer's amme.

The great difficulty in connection with the touring of District and Subdivisional Officers is the disposal of case work. Commissioners must see that proper arrangements are in all cases made for this. If a District Officer's tour is designed to last for some time, it is desirable that he should fix in his programme dates and places for the hearing of cases, and arrange to dispose of them accordingly, after due notice to the parties concerned. Convenient centres for the disposal of case work should be selected, notified and adhered to, the District Officer's camp being kept stationary until the files are cleared. Periodical visits to head-quarters should always be provided for in the case of the more extended tours. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that a Subdivisional Officer can generally, except when visiting the least accessible portion of his charge, arrange to spend two or three days a week at head-quarters. It is during these periods of revisiting his head-quarters that criminal cases should ordinarily be tried, and special care should be taken that parties are not harassed by being forced to accompany the Subdivisional Officer from place to place. The main point to be kept in view is to reduce to a minimum the inconvenience and trouble which the tour of a Subdivisional Officer must unavoidably occasion to parties, witnesses, and pleaders.

Disposal of case work during tour.

Section III.—Duties of a Commissioner.

(a) General.

Extracts from character reports.

1. Commissioners are not at liberty to give extracts of the reports on the characters of officers which they make to the Board, without obtaining the Board's permission.

Estimation in which subordinate officers are held by a Commissioner.

2. If a Commissioner knows and does his duty, there can never be any mistake on the part of any of his subordinates as to the estimation in which he is held by the Commissioner, or as to the general nature of the report which the Commissioner will make concerning him.

Transfer of ministerial officers.

3. The Commissioner should annually inquire (upon his visit to the district, if he goes there,—otherwise by special letter), how far the Collector of each district of the Division has attended to the provisions of rule 26, Section VIII, of this Chapter, and whether it is necessary for him to transfer any officer from the district to another district. He should mention the subject in his anual report.

Inspections of offices by District Officers.

4. On receipt of the reports of the result of the annual inspection of their offices by the District Officers, the Commissioners are to submit to the Board, in the first week of April of each year, the names of the District Officers in their Divisions who fail to make an annual detailed inspection of their offices in person.

Programmes and schemes of field operations for survey and settlement.

5. As important operations have sometimes to be postponed for no other reason than delay on the part of local officers in submitting their programmes of field work, Commissioners of Divisions are to see that the orders which prescribe that, when survey and settlement operations are in progress, or may hereafter be taken up under the orders of the Board, the programmes and schemes of field operations are to be submitted through the Commissioner to the Board in time to obtain their orders in or before October each year, are carefully attended to, as the loss of a season or even part of a season in important operations may involve a heavy loss of Government revenue.

Appeals pending before Commissioner against his orders as Collector.

6. A Commissioner in dealing with appeals pending against his orders as Collector, may, and should take up the appeals when he thinks there are sufficient grounds for reviewing his former orders, and in other cases forward them, without requiring a further stamp from the appellant, to the Board as though they were appeals from his orders as Commissioner.

(See rule 11, page 111 of Survey and Settlement Manual, 1900.) They are also competent to sanction compensation to proprietors for loss of settlement in badshahi tenures settled with the mafidars under the rules for the attachment of such tenures.

Payment of proprietary allowances to shareholders.

8. If a joint receipt from all the shareholders cannot be obtained, proprietary allowances may be paid separately to the individuals entitled, if there is a record of their share in general register A, and if their right to receive the allowances is undisputed.

Commissioner may pass travelling charges.

9. A Commissioner is competent to pass travelling charges at authorised rates to any amount.

(b) Tours.

Account of tours in Land Revenue Report.

1. Every Divisional Commissioner shall give in his Land Revenue Administration Report an account of the tours of inspection which he and the officers under him have made in the year, showing what places they have visited and what special matters have engaged their attention.

Sketch of inspection of offices.

2. The following is a general sketch of the inspection the Commissioners are expected to make of district and subdivisional offices :—

This inspection will be facilitated by the use of the Inspection Manual issued by the Board which contains a series of questions calculated to test the work in all departments of a Collectorate with the exception of the Treasury and Account Departments, for which a set of questions, under the authority of the Accountant-General, has been prescribed.

Examination of registers.

3. They are to examine carefully all the registers, ascertaining that they are punctually and neatly kept, and pointing out any error or mistaken practice that may come to light.

4. Special attention is to be paid to the registers prescribed by law (A to K). Inquiry should be particularly made whether general register B, part I, is kept up by the addition of estates of which the revenue is redeemed under the Tauzi Manual, or which are, otherwise, declared revenue-free.

5. The Commissioner should propose immediately any measure that may appear necessary for keeping these important records in thorough order, and should ascertain that the rules in the Manual on Land Registration under Act VII (B.C.) of 1876 are properly attended to.

6. He should inquire how far the treasury rules are attended to, examining carefully the treasury records and accounts, and should ascertain by personal inspection that the custody of treasure, currency notes, stamps, and opium, is provided for according to rule.

Treasury inspection.

7. He should enquire whether the immediate registry of new estates is cared for.

Registry of new estates.

8. He should ascertain that the securities of the ministerial officers have been properly tested.

Securities of ministerial officers.

9. The state of the survey records and maps should be specially ascertained.

Survey records and maps.

10. The Commissioner is to inquire whether the rules for the simplification of English correspondence (vide Records Manual) are carried out.

English correspondence.

11. He should examine the record-room, and see that the record rules (Records Manual) are adhered to, and that the English correspondence in the district and subdivisional offices is intelligently classified and periodically sorted, destroyed, &c., under the rules of the said Manual.

Record-room.

12. He should examine the office library, and see that the rules on the subject (vide Records Manual) are attended to.

Library.

13. He should ascertain that the rules for taking evidence are suspended in each court in the district, and that the rules for the service of processes of the revenue courts (Vide Practice and Procedure Manual) in English and in the vernacular are suspended in some conspicuous place in the offices of the Collector, Deputy Collector and Nazir respectively, where they can be read by the general public.

Rules for taking evidence and for the service of process.

14. He should ascertain that the file of copies of general powers-of-attorney is properly kept, and that the powers are attested as directed in rule 5, Section III, Chapter X.

File of general powers-of-attorney.

15. He should ascertain that the slips furnished by the Board are regularly and intelligently inserted in this Volume and the Manuals.

Correction slips for Board's Rules and Manuals.

16. He should inquire into the working of the Excise Department, and ascertain that the Collector and his staff visit the distilleries regularly and frequently.

Excise Department.

17. He should examine the diary kept by each officer in the form prescribed by the High Court in their Circular Order* No. 8 and General letter No. 6 of the 10th of September 1892;

SLIP No. 240.

Insert the following as rule 1A, Section IV, Chapter III, page 55, of the Board's Rules, 1902:—

"1A. In distributing work among the Deputy and Sub-Deputy Collectors, the Collector should bear in mind that the services of an officer can be more fully utilized by a combination of revenue and judicial functions than by restricting him to one particular kind of work. It is permissible to depart from this principle in the case of rent-suit officers, should a Collector or Deputy Commissioner thinks such a course advisable; but it has to be remembered that it is essential that every officer should have a thorough training in general administrative work, and long confinement to a particular branch would militate against the attainment of this object."

inquire minutely into the state of business before the Collector; provide for the disposal of arrears; and prevent the neglect of any particular branch of duty, or of any of the rules for the conduct of business, such as the rules for taking evidence, &c.

Other aids to inspection indicated.

18. The above is not intended to be an exhaustive description of a Commissioner's duty when inspecting a Collector's office; but it will be found helpful as a memorandum of the chief points of general inquiry. With lithographed circular No. 9 of 1853 was circulated a specimen letter addressed by a Commissioner to a Collector after one of these inspections, which shows the nature both of the inquiry to be made and of the orders to be addressed to Collectors.

When Commissioners' inspections to be communicated to Board.

19. Whenever a Commissioner's inspection order contains anything of particular interest, recording, e.g., either a remarkably creditable, or a remarkably discreditable, state of the office, a copy is to be submitted to the Board. But in regard to treasuries for the inspection of which special rules have been prescribed, the memoranda embodying the inspection orders of Commissioners is always to be separately submitted to the Board.

Inspection-book.

20. Register 26—Inspection Book—is to be kept at each head-quarter and subdivisional station. The remarks of high inspecting officers, such as Members of the Board and Commissioners, are to be entered in separate paragraphs in this register upon each visit, as well as those of Collectors made in their yearly inspections. All such orders should be recorded on the left half of a foolscap sheet, the right-hand half being reserved for the record of the measures taken by the station officer in consequence. This record should contain a condensed and clearly written memorandum showing merely the important points noted by the inspecting officer. Commissioner's orders, passed upon inspection of subdivisions, should be always sent in at once for the Collector's information.

Section IV.—Duties of a Collector.

(a) General.

Collector's duties in relation to his subordinates.

1. The communication between a Collector and his deputies should be close, constant and personal; not confined to the interchange of official orders and reports. The careful supervision of the proceedings of his deputies, both at head-quarters and at subdivisions, is one of the most important of a Collector's duties.

2. Collectors are to be careful that no Native officer, especially no sarishtadar, is permitted to evade his obligations, particularly in the way of authenticating books, documents, accounts, &c., by his signature.

Responsibilities of Native officers to be enforced.

3. Whenever a Collector proceeds to the interior of his district on duty for more than a very short time, he must report to the Commissioner the arrangement which he proposes to make for the charge of the treasury and the performance of the current duties of his office.

Charge of office during absence of Collector.

4. If a Collector or Deputy Collector is unable, on account of illness, to attend office for more than a week in one month, or for more than three consecutive days at any time, the circumstance should be reported for the information of the Commissioner without delay.

Absence from illness.

5. An officer partly subject to any other authority must not be summoned by a Collector without intimation to the other authority.

Summoning by Collector of officers subordinate to other authority.

6. Collectors are strictly forbidden to borrow money from land-holders, or managers of wards' estates, or guardians of wards.

Collectors not to borrow money.

7. The Collector is to be a member of the Committee of arbitration for valuing premises, the property of individuals, in cantonments, in case of necessity, according to the military law.

Committee of arbitration in cantonments.

8. Collectors are trustees for Government securities in the cases provided for by sections 9 and 10, Act XXVII of 1860.

Collectors as trustees for Government securities.

9. As under the present system of examination most officers are examined within their own districts, it is unnecessary that leave of absence should be granted to these officers, as heretofore, for the purpose of attending those examinations. District Officers are authorised in each case to fix, according to circumstances, the number of days during which each officer may be absent on this account from his subdivision, or from any duties entrusted to his charge.

Absence on account of examinations.

10. In the case of executive officers, the District Officer shall report, for the information of the Commissioner of the Division, the number of days for which each of the examinees in the district has been allowed leave of absence, and that he rejoined his duties within the time allowed.

11. When an officer has to attend an examination in a district other than that to which he is attached, the time allowed will be fixed in the same manner by the Collector.

Programmes and schemes for survey and settlement operations.

12. Collectors and Deputy Commissioners of districts in which survey and settlement operations are in progress, or may hereafter be taken up under the orders of the Board, are to submit their programmes and schemes of field operations to the Board through the Commissioner of the Division in time to obtain the orders of the Board in or before the month of October of each year.

Receipts for registered letters.

13. Receipts for registered letters addressed to the Collector of a district may be signed by any person connected with the Collector's office, or who may be authorised by the Collector to sign. District Officers are to issue a formal office order naming the person or persons whom they may authorise to sign post-office receipts for registered covers The person signing a receipt for a registered cover is invariably to open it himself and satisfy himself in regard to its contents. The responsibility for its contents will then rest with him, unless he can show how he has disposed of them.

Payments to legal representatives of deceased creditors of the State.

14. A Collector may satisfy the undisputed claims of parties claiming to be the legal representatives of deceased creditors of the State to sums of Rs. 100 and under without requiring the production of a certificate under Act VII of 1889. There must be, of course, no doubt as to the money being due to the estate of the deceased and as to the right of the claimant. In no case may more than Rs. 100 be paid away without a certificate.

Instalment bonds.

15. In all cases where debtors either to Government or to wards' estates are permitted to execute a bond or kistbundi for any sum realisable under the Public Demands Recovery Act, I (B.C.) of 1895 as amended by Act I (B.C) of 1897, they should be required to add a written agreement to the bond or kistbundi, bringing it expressly under the provisions of clause (i), section 7 (b), of the Act, and in such cases the Collector should see that the instrument is duly registered.

Procedure on attachment by Sheriff of Calcutta of money in a Collector's hand belonging to private individuals.

16. Upon receipt of a notice from the Sheriff of Calcutta attaching money in a Collector's hands belonging to private individuals, the Collector is to send a simple acknowledgment of the receipt of the notice. He is then, immediately, to communicate to the Solicitor to Government the circumstances under which the money came into his hands, the conflicting claims (if any) which have been made to it, and his reasons (if any) for thinking that the money should not be paid to the Sheriff. This information is to be furnished in so complete a shape as to enable the Solicitor without delay, and without further reference, to prepare an affidavit to be sworn by the Collector, if it should be thought advisable to show cause against any rule nisi for the payment of the money being made absolute. The Collector must be careful, meanwhile, to confine himself to acknowledging the notice. He must not pay away the money without specific instructions from a competent authority, or he may render himself personally liable for the amount.

(b) Tours.

Importance.

1. The duty of visiting the interior for the purpose of acquiring, by personal observation, a knowledge of the actual circumstances of his district is one of so great importance that its neglect by a Collector is on no account excused.

Arrangement.

2. Either an Assistant or Deputy Collector should be left, during the Collector's absence, in charge of the station. Even if there be no such officer, a Collector can easily arrange to be absent for short intervals in the interior without detriment to the public business.

Personal performance of duties.

3. Collectors are expected occasionally to perform in person such duties as settlements, &c., which are in general done by their subordinates.

Programme.

4. Collectors are to submit to the Commissioner, before the 1st of June and October in each year, a programme of their proposed tour in the interior during the ensuing rainy and cold weather, respectively.

Commissioner may alter.

5. The Commissioner will make any alteration that he thinks necessary in the Collectors' programme, and he is bound to see that the programme is carried out.

Report of arrangement.

6. The Collector is to report to the Commissioner his departure from his station on a tour, and the arrangement that he has made for the current duties of his office.

Diaries.

7. Collectors are required to submit monthly, or less frequently, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner, diaries of their tours. These should be written by the Collectors themselves on half margin in a bound book, and copies should be submitted to the Commissioner on half margin. The Commissioner will record orders on the margin and return the paper to the Collector for information and return (to Commissioner's office), or retain it in his office forwarding only copies of his orders, as in each case may be most convenient. The Collector will then cause the Commissioner's remarks, if any, to be entered on the margin of his original diary book.

Their object.

8. It is not intended that these diaries should be so elaborate as to impose on the Collector any serious labour in addition to his ordinary duties. The object is to give the Commissioner information of a general nature as to the condition of those parts of his jurisdiction which the Commissioner is unable to visit himself. Should the Collector happen to accompany the Commissioner on any tour, no diary will be required.

Subjects to be noticed.

9. The diary should contain remarks on such of the following points as may call for notice: Date; name of place visited; general condition of the country; state of crops; public feeling and health; any interesting facts elicited in conversation with natives of influence and position, or with other classes; relations between landlords and tenants; state of roads; wards' and Government estates; progress of local works; anything remarkable in connection with movements of people, or traffic in food staples, and the like; rise or decay of local industries, &c.

Inspection of institutions.

10. On inspecting institutions which keep visitors' or inspection books, the Collector will of course record his remarks therein, but may insert in his diary a few notes as to the general condition of the institution whenever necessary. In the case of institutions which do not keep visitors' books, a fuller report should be given.

Irregularities.

11. Any abuses or irregularities deserving of special reports need not be reported in full in the diary, but a brief remark may be made to the effect that a report is under preparation.

Office inspections.

12. The Government attaches much importance to the careful inspection by Magistrate-Collectors of their own offices, but it will suffice if there is one detailed inspection of the work in all departments annually by the District Officer. Such inspections should ordinarily be made in the hot weather and rains, except when the bulk of the Collector's touring has to be done in the rainy season. In making the annual inspections of his office, the District Officer should be guided by the rules, so far as they are applicable, contained in Section III (Commissioner's tours), which point out the principles on which Commissioner's inspections are to be conducted. An inspection, when it comes very closely after the one made by a Commissioner, may as a rule be directed mainly to an examination into the way in which the suggestions or orders given at previous inspections have been carried out. Each District Officer should report to the Commissioner the results of the inspections on or before the first week of April of each year. Such reports need not contain all the minute details of the inspection, but should give the general results in such a manner as to indicate the condition of the office or department inspected, and to place prominently before the Commissioner any matters on which any action or orders on his part appear to be called for, or which he should be informed of. It should be the aim of an inspecting officer, as far as possible, to set right, then and there, anything which he finds wrong, and not to originate a correspondence. One of the chief objects of an inspection should, in fact, be to prevent the necessity for correspondence with the Commissioner.

13. In each yearly report it is to be stated distinctly whether the orders given at the last previous inspection (by the Collector or Commissioner) have been duly carried out; if not, a full explanation of the omission is to be submitted.

Orders at previous inspections to be noticed.

Note.—Vide Board's Circular Order No. 3 of August 1899.

14. These inspections will be facilitated by the use of the Inspection Manual. It is not intended that answers to the questions in the Manual should be specially recorded and transmitted for the consideration of the Board. Commissioners will exercise a discretion in calling for the submission of answers, if they should think it necessary. But primarily the object of the Manual is to assist officers in inspection. These inspections should not be made at fixed times, but irregularly and without notice.

Inspection Manual.

15. Subdivisional Officers will in like manner submit diaries to the Collector, who will return them after perusal with his notes, unless he considers it necessary to submit them for the information of the Commissioner. These diaries should enter somewhat more into detail than those submitted by the Collectors and should contain, in addition to the points noted in paragraph 9, references to minor local institutions, such as cattle-pounds, ferries, village roads, and the like.

Subdivisional Officer's diaries.

16. The diaries of each cold-weather tour should be kept in a separate file to enable the Collector to compare the circumstances of past years with those of the present.

To be kept in a separate file.

17. Commissioners and District Officers are competent to prescribe the insertion in the diaries of notes on any points of special, local, or temporary interest.

Notes on any special points.

18. The diaries now prescribed are quite independent of the skeleton diaries to accompany travelling allowance bills referred to in No. 7 of the Accountant-General's circulars in force in April 1887.

Skeleton diaries.

19. The rules in Section III (b) apply mutatis mutandis to the inspection by Collectors of subdivisional offices.

Inspection duties.

Section V.—Assistant Collectors.*

1. Assistants may be employed, during the cold weather, entirely upon revenue duties in the interior, taking up only such criminal duties in the neighbourhood of their encampment as will not interfere with their revenue duties. It is very desirable that Employment in cold weather.

* See Regulation V of 1 21.

Assistants should be as much in the interior of their districts as possible, in the cold season, performing settlement or other duties.

Examination of returns.

2. Assistants may be very usefully employed in examining and attesting the periodical returns despatched from the office. This will give them a good practical knowledge of their duties.

Training in survey and settlement work.

3. The Government of India having called attention to the great importance of Assistant Collectors acquiring a knowledge of land surveying and of settlement details, so as in future to be able to check the proceedings of their subordinates in these respects, it has been directed that Assistants are to be attached to survey and settlement parties as opportunities occur, and that as in Lower Bengal such opportunities do not often present themselves, every Collector to whose district an Assistant of more than three months' standing is attached, is, during the cold weather, to assign some duty to him which shall tend to qualify him to become a Settlement Officer and to decide questions of boundary by making use of the thakbast and survey maps. The Government of Bengal has now issued specific instructions on the subject, and the Board desire that whenever survey-settlement operations are in progress in any district, all the junior members of the Indian Civil Service in that district, employed in executive duties, should receive some training in the work of — (a) survey, (b) khanapuri, and (c) attestation. If there is an Assistant Magistrate and Collector at the head-quarters station of the district, he should be attached to the camp of the Survey Officer to learn survey and khanapuri, and to that of the Settlement or Assistant Settlement Officer to learn khanapuri and attestation, spending about a month in each camp. A member of the Indian Civil Service in charge of a subdivision in which such operations are in progress should devote as much spare time as possible to making himself acquainted with the methods of survey settlement employed. He should not neglect his subdivision, but should spend some days of his tour season in the survey and settlement camps, with a view to acquiring as much practical knowledge of the work as he can. The Superintendent of Provincial Surveys and the Director of Land Records and Agriculture will respectively arrange that such officers receive full assistance from the officers in charge of the different camps, and that their services are utilised to the utmost. Instructions as to the course of training to be gone through by junior Civilians learning survey and settlement work are given in Appendix. A.

4. The subject of the employment which has been given to each junior Civilian under these orders and the proficiency he has attained should be treated in the Commissioner's Land Revenue Administration Report, any special aptitude shown by junior officers in this kind of work and the time actually spent by them being particularly noticed. At the half-yearly departmental examination of the junior members of the Civil Service, their knowledge of the laws and rules on the subject of survey and settlement is to be tested.

Section VI.—Uncovenanted Deputy Collectors* and Subdivisional Officers.

Mode of address.

1. An uncovenanted Deputy Collector is to be addressed as "Esquire," "Khan Bahadur," or "Rai Bahadur," according to his nationality.

Deputy Collector may not

2. Uncovenanted Deputy Collectors are forbidden, on pain of dismissal or removal—employ creditor,

(i) to employ, or retain on their establishment, any person being their private creditor, or any relative, dependent, or surety of such creditor;

borrow in the district,

(ii) to borrow money from, or in any way incur debt to, any zamindar, talukdar, raiyat, or other person possessing real property, or residing in, or having a commercial establishment within, the city, district, or Division to which their authority may extend;

take a farm in the district,

(iii) to take a farm of any estate borne upon the revenue-roll of, or situate in, or belonging to a ward of, the district in which they are employed;

buy land,

(iv) to purchase lands sold at public sales by the Collector or to hold land in the district in which they are employed; or trade.

(v) to engage in any commercial transaction within the district in which they are employed.

Not to be employed on trifling duties.

3. A Deputy Collector is not to be employed upon duties which cannot possibly pay for his salary, or even travelling allowances, such as, for instance, searching for small estates. A Collector is responsible for any waste of the time of his subordinates in unnecessary travelling or profitless employ.

4. A Deputy Collector can exercise the powers of a Collector under Act XX of 1848.

Allowance for office rent in the interior.

5. Commissioners are authorised to sanction, when necessary, a maximum of Rs. 10 a month for the office rent of an uncovenanted Deputy Collector not in charge of a subdivision stationed in the interior of a district. The actual sum to be allowed in each case must depend upon the facility or otherwise of obtaining accommodation in the particular locality. This allowance may not be drawn at the same time as travelling allowance, and it is not to be granted if there is available room for the Deputy Collector in any Government premises at the spot.

* See Regulation IX of 1833.

(Note.—The following rules apply to Covenanted officers also.)

Subdivisional officers.

6. An officer appointed to the charge of a subdivision is entitled to be provided with accommodation for his residence free of cost, or to house allowance in lieu thereof.

When not provided with a house at a subdivision.

7. When there is no Government residence at the subdivision, he will, for the first three months, draw the daily allowance to which he is entitled by the rules of his service when out in camp. After that period he will draw Rs. 50 per mensem until accommodation is provided for him.

When absent on tour.

8. If, during the three months mentioned in rule 7, an officer leaves his head-quarters and marches in the interior of his district, the allowance under that clause will cease; and during the period of his absence on tour, he will be entitled to draw house allowance only at the rate of Rs. 50 a month under rule 7, in addition to the mileage or daily travelling allowance to which he may be entitled.

When the residence is under repair.

9. When an officer in charge of a subdivision is obliged to vacate his residence for any extensive repairs or alterations to the building between the 1st of April and the 1st of November, he will be entitled to the same allowances as an officer taking charge of a subdivision at which there is no Government residence, that is, he will draw the daily allowance according to the rules of his service for the first three months, and Rs. 50 a month afterwards, until his residence is again ready for occupation.

Period when repairs to be made.

10. The Department of Public Works will, however, always endeavour to make such repairs between the 1st of November and 1st of April, when the Subdivisional Officer can reside in his tent, and when he will draw no allowance, unless he is out in the interior of the subdivision.

Assistant or Deputy Magistrates and Collectors when temporarily stationed in the interior.

11. Occasions frequently arise on which it is necessary to depute Assistant or Deputy Magistrates and Collectors from their head-quarters into the interior of the district on duties which enable them to make their temporary head-quarters at a subdivision or elsewhere, and which do not require constant marching about. On such occasions the officers will draw full travelling allowance, according to the rules in force for the first month of their halt at any one spot, and half the allowance for the second and third months. After the third month this halting allowance will cease altogether. This rule is not meant to interfere with the right of the officers to draw full mileage or travelling allowance during the second, third, and subsequent months, for days on which they may be marching to make tours of inspection, &c.

Inspection of Subdivisional Office.

12. Subdivisional Officers should make a detailed inspection of their own office annually in every branch.

Section VII.—The Subordinate Civil Service.

Sub-Deputy Collectors.

1. The following rules for admission into the Subordinate Civil Service have received the sanction of the Government of India, and were published by the Government of Bengal on the 30th November 1893 :—

Rules for admission into the Subordinate Civil Service.

Definition.—"The Subordinate Civil Service" includes Sub-Deputy Collectorships and any other appointments which the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time declare specifically to be included therein.

1. The Lieutenant-Governor will determine from time to time what proportion of the appointments to the Subordinate Civil Service shall be made by direct competition and by selection after examination, and will give sufficient notice to the public regarding the number of appointments to be so made.

2. The examination for appointments to the Subordinate Civil Service will be the same as that* prescribed for entrance to the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service ; and after the number of candidates required for the Executive Branch has been selected, the Lieutenant-Governor will select from the remaining candidates the number required for the Subordinate Service.

3. The subjects of Native Princes in alliance with Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India are eligible for appointment to the Subordinate Civil Service, if they are qualified under the conditions mentioned in rule 3 of the rules for the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service.*

4. Nothing in these rules shall be held to prevent the Lieutenant-Governor from appointing in exceptional cases any person whom he may consider to be specially qualified for the Subordinate Civil Service by nomination pure and simple.

5. Every person appointed to the Subordinate Civil Service shall be subject to a period of probation or training, during which time his appointment will be probationary only, unless in special cases the Lieutenant-Governor declares such probation or training to be unnecessary.

6. Probationers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem.

* Vide Notification of the Government of Bengal, No. 4822A., dated the 30th November 1893, published at pages 1009 to 1011 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th December 1893.

Strength and distribution of the staff employed on general duty.

2. The sanctioned number of Sub-Deputy Collectors employed on general duty is 82, and is distributed as follows among the several Divisions in Bengal:—

Burdwan	...	...	...	11
Presidency	...	...	...	14
Rajshahi	...	...	...	10
Dacca	...	...	...	6
Chittagong	...	...	...	8
Patna	...	...	...	13
Bhagalpur	...	...	...	12
Orissa	...	...	...	5
Chota Nagpur	...	...	...	3
		Total	...	82

Distribution and posting of the staff.

3. The distribution and posting of the staff of Sub-Deputy Collectors in each Division is left to the discretion of the Commissioner, who will be guided by the requirements of each district, which vary from time to time. The transfer of a Sub-Deputy Collector from one district to another should, however, be reported to Government for notification in the Gazette and correction of the Quarterly Civil List.

Duties of Sub-Deputy Collectors and their liability to departmental examinations.

4. The Sub-Deputy Collectors are ordinarily vested with criminal powers, and their duties, whether magisterial, executive or revenue, are similar in kind though lower in degree to those ordinarily entrusted to Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors. Rules have been laid down by Government in a Resolution, No. 3111A, dated 4th July 1892, regarding their appearance at the half-yearly departmental examinations of Assistant and Deputy Magistrates.

When to be placed in charge of sub-treasury.

5. A Collector may by a general order authorise a Subdivisional Officer, during his absence from the head-quarters of his subdivision, to place a Sub-Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-treasury. The personal responsibility for the treasury administration of his subdivision will, however, in such a case still remain with the Subdivisional Officer. (See also rule 2, Section X, Chapter V.)

KANUNGOS.

Status of kanungos.

1. Kanungos are treated as a separate service, and the expression "Subordinate Civil Service" as now used does not include kanungos. They are appointed and promoted by Commissioners, are not usually vested with criminal powers, and are not gazetted officers.

Appointment of kanungos.

2. The following rules for the appointment of kanungos, prescribed in Government orders No. 1360T.R., dated the 27th October 1893, and No. 1670 Agri., dated the 23rd April 1898, should be generally followed:—

(1) No candidate should be appointed if his age exceeds 25 years, which limit may be increased to 30 years in the case of candidates who are already in the service of the State.

(2) No candidate should be accepted unless (a) he has passed the First Arts Examination, or has received such an education as the standard of that examination requires; and (b) has passed a public examination in surveying, or holds a certificate of a qualification in this subject from the Professor of a college, an Executive Engineer, or a Survey Officer.

(3) Students of the agricultural classes of the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, who hold certificates of proficiency in agriculture from the Principal of the College, countersigned by the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, will be eligible for employment as kanungos.

(4) In all Divisions, except Patna, every alternate permanent vacancy in the post of a kanungo is to be given to an eligible student of the Sibpur Agricultural classes, if one is available. Intimation of the vacancy should be given to the Principal of the Sibpur Engineering College, who will report whether a student is available or not.

(5) Candidates should be required to produce evidence of strong constitution and active habits.

(6) The Commissioner is empowered to declare an accepted candidate to be on probation for a year, and to require him, as a condition of confirmation, to pass within that time an examination in practical surveying, and in the law and rules relating to the particular branch of work in which he may be required to be employed.

Strength and distribution of the staff.

3. The sanctioned number of kanungos employed on revenue work is 75, and is distributed as follows among the several Divisions in Bengal:—

SLIP No. 153.

1. Insert the following rule as rule 6, Section VII, Chapter III, under kanungos on page 67 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

" 6. The bills on which the charges on account of salaries of kanungos are drawn should be countersigned by the Collector before payment."

10-5-1907.

2. In the last line of rule 1, Section VII, Chapter III, under Chainmen and Messengers on the same page, for the words " Commissioner or by his Personal Assistant " substitute the word " Collector "

10-5-1907.

4. The distribution and posting of the staff of kanungos in each Division is left to the discretion of the Commissioner, who will be guided by the requirements of each district, which vary from time to time.

Distribution and posting of the staff.

5. The duties of kanungos are not clerical and sedentary, but are chiefly of an outdoor nature and include the following: —

Duties of kanungos.

(a) Duties in connection with the ordinary executive revenue administration of a district or subdivision ordinarily performed by Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors.
(b) Settlements.
(c) Management of Government estates.
(d) Taking up land for public purposes.

Kanungos are not to be employed, under any circumstances whatever, on the investigation of criminal cases antecedent to judicial enquiry.

Chainmen and Messengers.

1. A monthly allowance for chainmen and messengers has been sanctioned by Government for each Commissioner. Commissioners are authorised to fix the salaries of chainmen and messengers or peons within the maximum of Rs. 8 and Rs. 6 respectively. The Board are required by Government to insist upon the responsibility of Commissioners for checking and employing these establishments only when actually required. The bills on which the charges are drawn should in all cases be countersigned by the Commissioner or by his Personal Assistant before payment.

Allowance for chainmen and messengers.

Section VIII.—Ministerial Officers.

1. The rules passed by Government for the admission of candidates for ministerial employment as apprentices in mufassal offices will be found in Appendix B. Register No. 31, "Admitted apprentices," must be kept in the terms of the Government orders.

Rules for the admission of apprentices.

2. The attention of the Board having been drawn to the question of apprentices in Government offices, enquiries were made which showed that, in some places, apprentices had been allowed to linger on for years without obtaining any permanent appointment. The Board directed that if this practice still existed anywhere, it must be stopped. If apprentices of more than five years service have been passed over on account of inefficiency, and if it is not intended to provide them with permanent employment, they ought to be at once removed. But if they have already held acting appointments and given satisfaction therein, and if it is their misfortune rather than their fault that they have not been permanently employed, it would be a harsh measure to direct their removal directly they have completed the prescribed five years. There is room for the exercise of discretion by Collectors in this respect, but it must be distinctly understood that on no account are apprentices to be allowed to drag on indefinitely without permanent employment, and that, unless under very exceptional circumstances, an apprentice's term should not be extended beyond a year.

Should not be allowed to linger on indefinitely.

Age. The rule as to the age of admission of apprentices is to be strictly enforced.

Appointment of ministerial officers, &c.

3. The appointment of ministerial officers is in the power of the District Officer, subject to the Commissioner's power to transfer officers, as laid down in rules 26 and 27. A District Officer's choice in appointing ministerial officers is not limited to his own district or Division. Any ministerial officer dissatisfied with an appointment made by a District Officer may appeal to the Commissioner, but the latter is not bound to admit an appeal from any outsider who may believe that his merits and claims have not been duly considered.

Relationship of applicants for employment to any Government Officer.

4. Applicants for employment, either as salaried employés or as apprentices, in the offices of Commissioners and District Officers, should state in their applications whether they are related to any persons already in the service of Government, and, if so, specify the names of such employés and the nature of the employment held by each of them.

Stamp duty on applications for appointments.

5 Applications for appointments in Revenue offices are not liable to stamp duty.

Candidates to be examined.

6. As a general principle, the qualifications of candidates for vacancies in a ministerial office should be tested by examination, and preference should be given (cæteris paribus) to those who are well educated and well informed, regard being, of course, had to special qualifications for a special office.

Acting appointments disapproved.

7. Ministerial officers should not be kept acting on probation for an indefinite period; one or two months should suffice to test a man's fitness for office.

Officers are attached to their respective offices.

8. Ministerial officers are attached to their respective offices; and heads of offices are forbidden to carry them about with them when they are transferred to other districts. The transfer, by officers of one department, of ministerial officers in the employ of other departments, without the concurrence of their immediate superiors, is forbidden.

Cannot be employed in two offices.

9. Ministerial officers may not take service in two offices at once, or give part of their time to private service; and Government officers are forbidden to employ their official subordinates upon their private concerns.

Or on less than sanctioned salary.

10. Ministerial officers are not to be employed on lower salaries than those sanctioned for the offices to which they are appointed.

Power of dismissal or removal.

11. The power of dismissing or removing ministerial officers vests in the District Officer, subject to an appeal to the Commissioner and to the general power of revision vested in Commissioners and in the Board by section 4, Regulation I of 1829. The general rule of the service is that the authority who can appoint to a particular office has power to dismiss or remove from that office; and that an appeal lies from an order of dismissal or removal to the official superior of the officer who passes such order.* Where there is no appeal as of right, the power of revising an order not made final by law should be sparingly exercised unless there appears primâ facie to be some clear ground for questioning the justice of the order. In such cases petitions for revision may be rejected and interference may be refused, without assigning any reason for so doing (vide Government order No. 475, dated 12th June 1856).

Stamping of petitions and appeals by Government officers.

12. The rule to be followed as regards the stamping of applications and petitions† presented by Government officers to their departmental superiors, is laid down in Government Circular No. 228.R., dated 10th August 1894. Such applications and petitions, when presented to a Commissioner or to the Board with a request to exercise some power conferred on them by any law, or by any rule having the force of law, are liable to stamp duty under the Court-fees Act, VII of 1870.

Distinction between dismissal and removal.

13. The word "dismissal" is to be restricted to the case of an officer removed with disgrace. In other cases the word "removal" is to be used. A "dismissed" officer may not be re-employed in the public service. The orders of the Government of India laying down the general principles which should be observed in regard to public servants who have been removed or dismissed will be found in Appendix C.

---

* Note.—Section 16 of the General Clauses Act X of 1897, gives legal authority to this rule.

† Note.—"Petition" covers both revision and appeal petitions.

Procedure in cases of dismissal or removal.

14. In order that a servant of Government when dismissed or removed may be able to exercise his right of appeal, the Resolution of the Government of India, circulated with Bengal Government Miscellaneous Circular No. 21 of 12th August 1879, explicitly requires that (except in the cases of public servants who are dismissed in consequence of facts or inferences elicited at a judicial trial, or in the cases of persons who abscond with an accusation over their heads and in which, therefore, the prescribed procedure would be unnecessary or impossible), in all cases of removal or dismissal, the charge against the public servant concerned shall be reduced to writing, that his defence shall either be taken in, or reduced to writing, and that the decision thereon shall also be in writing. When witnesses are examined they should, when possible, be heard in the presence of the accused, who should be allowed to cross-examine, and a memorandum of this evidence should be placed on the record. Commissioners and other appellate officers are therefore precluded from confirming orders of removal or dismissal which have been passed in contravention of the above orders of Government.

It is not sufficient that these orders should be substantially complied with: they are to be strictly carried out. Orders of the Government of India on this subject will be found in Appendix D.

Note.—For rules for defending suits or prosecutions against officers, see rule 11, Chapter II of the Practice and Procedure Manual.

Papers to be sent up in certain cases.

15. When the Board call for a report in cases, of appeal or revision, in which public officers have been removed or dismissed from the service of Government, the Commissioner should invariably submit the original proceedings (or copies of the written charge, defence, and decision thereon) which are required by rule 14.

Appeals by Government servants.

16. Every petition of appeal by a Government servant against an order of a superior officer is to be submitted to the appellate authority through the officer against whose order the appeal is made. The Board have directed that such petitions of appeal shall invariably be forwarded to the appellate authority within three days of their presentation, with any observations thereon which the officer forwarding them may wish to offer.

Procedure in cases of petitions to the Board.

17. When a subordinate revenue or ministerial officer petitions the Board against the order of a lower authority imposing punishment on him, he may obtain such assistance as he thinks fit in drafting his petition and stating his case therein as effectively as he can, consistently with the facts. The Board have ruled that they will, at their discretion, on an application being made, allow the petitioner to appear in person and argue his own case,

SLIP No 79.

Add the following sub-paragraph to rule 21, Section VIII, Chapter III, page 71 :—

"The Commissioners are also authorized to exercise similar power in their respective Divisions." 10-5-1905.

2. Under rule 8—"Powers of a Commissioner" in Section I, Chapter II, page 21, of the Rules insert the following item :—

"To sanction extra expenditure up to a certain limit, in respect of an officer who has been reinstated after suspension or dismissal." 10-5-1905.

though this permission will not ordinarily be given; but the petitioner will not be allowed to be represented before the Board by Counsel (including in that term advocates of all descriptions). These orders do not apply to appeals which are regulated by law.

Procedure in cases of officers drawing more than Rs. 10.

18. In the spirit of the orders referred to in rule 14, a similar procedure should be followed in all cases of the punishment of Government servants in the receipt of higher salaries than ten rupees a month otherwise than by removal or dismissal; and in cases in which Collectors or Commissioners submit recommendations for the punishment of subordinate officers.

Reasons for not instituting criminal prosecution should be recorded.

19. Cases occasionally occur in which it is considered inexpedient to undertake the prosecution of Government servants who are dismissed on account of offences for which they are liable to be criminally prosecuted. In future, in such cases, the reasons which render it inexpedient to undertake a criminal prosecution should be recorded at the time that the order of dismissal is passed. When there is no objection to such a course, the reasons should be included in the order of dismissal, of which the dismissed servant receives a copy; but in every case a copy of the recorded reasons for not instituting a prosecution when the offender was liable to one should be forwarded with any report that may afterwards be made on the case to the Board or to Government.

Copies of orders of punishment, &c., to be given free of cost.

20. When ministerial officers are departmentally punished, or ordered to retire, copies of such orders, if applied for by them, are to be given free of cost.

Extra expenditure in respect of an officer who has been reinstated after suspension or dismissal.

21. Under the power delegated by Government, the Board are authorised, in respect of an officer who has been reinstated after suspension or dismissal from his appointment, to sanction under Article 215 of the Civil Service Regulations, 3rd edition, the expenditure in excess of that which would have been incurred if the officer had remained on duty, in cases in which the extra cost involved does not exceed Rs. 100, and in which the period during which an officer has remained unemployed owing to suspension or dismissal does not exceed four months.

May not hold leases;

22. Ministerial officers may not take farms or mukarraris from any landholder in the district in which they are employed. There is no objection to ministerial officers acquiring, as well as holding, immoveable property in the districts in which they are employed, provided that such purchases are made openly and are effected in the ordinary course, and that the officers in question neither purchase nor Ministerial officers dealing with money and accounts.

28. No ministerial officers (except Treasurers) holding responsible positions as heads of offices dealing with accounts and money can be allowed to hold their appointments uninterruptedly for an indefinite time.

(i) Existing incumbents of such offices must either be transferred to another appointment, or to another department of the same office, once in every period of 7 years' service, or be required to go on leave for a period of at least three months. In the case of heads of departments to whom this clause of the rule applies, the alternative of leave should not be allowed except with the special sanction of the Board.

(ii) In the case of future appointments to such posts, e.g., those of Treasury Accountant, Tauzi navis, Nazir, Head Clerk of the Cess and Excise Departments, Fine—clerks and such like, it will be a condition of such appointment that the officer is liable to transfer after five years and that his transfer is compulsory after seven years. Such transfer may be either to another department of the same office or to another office, and shall extend over a period of at least six months.

(iii) Officers who are subordinate to heads of offices dealing with accounts and money will not necessarily be liable to transfer, but should be required to take leave for at least three months once every seven years. In such cases the District Officer should take special care that the officer appointed to act is not a relative or dependent of the officer for whom he acts.

District Officers to report.

29. The names of officers liable to transfer under rule 28 should, after they have served five years in one appointment, be reported to the Board by Collectors through Commissioners, and should be entered in a list to be kept in their office. If any Commissioner or Collector is unable to arrange a transfer before the lapse of seven years, the Board will arrange it from the above list.

Subordinates under Magistrates, &c.

30. In the case of subordinates employed under Magistrates or other officers, the required report will be submitted to the Commissioners or to the Heads of Departments, as the case may be, on whom will rest the responsibility imposed on the Board in regard to revenue subordinates.

Responsibilities of sarishtadar.

31. The sarishtadar or head native officer of a Collectorate is generally responsible for the conduct of every branch of the duties of the establishment, and is bound to bring immediately to the notice of the District Officer, with the express purpose of obtaining the effectual interference of higher authority, any malpractices among the ministerial officers of which he may become aware If he neglect to do so, he is liable to instant dismissal for connivance. A plea of ignorance of such malpractices will be received as an admission of unfitness for the high and responsible duties of his office.

Procedure for excluding public from rooms occupied by clerks, etc., in Collectorates.

32. With a view to the better conduct of business in Collectorate offices, Government has directed that a wicket gate with a spring shall be placed at the entrance to each office room occupied by clerks or muharrirs or copyists. Inside each such office is to be kept a list showing who are the officers entitled to occupy the room; outside the entrance to the room should be hung, in a conspicuous place, a board having printed on it both in English and the Vernacular "No admittance for the public." The Collector and the Deputy Collector in charge of a department should visit at unstated times during office hours the room occupied by his subordinates and call the roll, and in the event of his finding any outsiders within the room, the ministerial head of the department should be punished, since he is to be held responsible that the public do not enter the room.

Card showing name of clerk and nature of his work.

33. Since cases have occurred in which, it being necessary to prove who was directly responsible for the entries in a particular register, such proof was not forthcoming owing to the absence of any record fixing such responsibility, the Government directs that, in future, each clerk or muharrir in a Collector's office shall keep a card showing the particulars given in the following form :—

Name of $\frac{Clerk}{Muharrir}$ Department.

Nature of Work.			Remarks.
Authorised registers.	Unauthorised registers.	Miscellaneous duties.
1	2	3	4

This card is to be signed by the sarishtadar and the clerk or muharrir concerned, and a duplicate of the same, similarly signed, is to be kept by the ministerial head of the department to which the clerk or muharrir belongs. Such ministerial head of the department will be responsible for having all changes in the nature of the work of each officer under him duly entered on the cards affected.

Section IX.—Establishments of Uncovenanted Deputy Collectors.

Establishment at Head-quarters permanent.

1. Under the orders of Government, in Financial Department, No. 439T.F., dated the 10th June 1901 the ministerial establishments of Deputy Collectors at the head-quarters of districts have been made permanent. No increase or decrease of such establishments is allowable on account of the increase or decrease in the number of Deputy Collectors. If additional establishment is required in excess of the sanctioned strength, applications should be made under the ordinary rules.

One orderly peon is allowed to each Deputy Collector at the head-quarters of districts.

For a Deputy Collector on field work.

2. For a Deputy Collector employed on field work, other than settlement work (which will be provided out of the Petty Settlement grant), an establishment of Rs. 50 is allowed.

The Collector may appoint this establishment as he thinks most convenient with reference to the nature of the work, provided that no muharrir receives less than Rs. 20 a month.

Subdivisional establishments.

3. The establishments at subdivisions are fixed and permanent.

Deputy Collector at subdivision.

4. When a Deputy Collector is appointed to a subdivision, in addition to the Subdivisional Officer, he is entitled, if performing no magisterial duties, to two muharrirs on Rs. 20 to Rs. 30 each, and a chaprasi on ~~Rs~~ 5. If he performs also magisterial duties, he is entitled to two additional muharrirs. These establishments are temporary.

Transfer of Deputy Collector.

5. When a Deputy Collector is appointed in succession to another Deputy Collector at a subdivision, the establishment of the predecessor will be the establishment of the successor.

Establishment to be discharged when the Deputy Collector goes.

6. When such a Deputy Collector is transferred and is not replaced, his establishment is to be discharged. This rule is also to be applied, after a lapse of two months, to the case of a Deputy Collector on leave, whose appointment may not, during that period, have been temporarily filled by another Deputy Collector. If the officers of an establishment, thus discharged, have a good character, they are to be regarded as having a special claim to re-employment in case of any vacancy occurring in the permanent establishments in the district.

Report of behaviour.

7. A Deputy Collector is, therefore, when leaving a subdivision, always to report to the Magistrate and Collector the manner in which each officer of his establishment has performed his duty.

Board may sanction retention to arrange records.

8. The Board are competent to sanction charges on account of establishment retained after the removal or death of a Deputy Collector at a subdivision, for arranging the records of his office, reporting each case, as it occurs, to Government, for communication to the Financial Department.

APPENDIX A.

(See Rule 3, Section V.)

Instructions for the training of Junior Civilians in Survey and Settlement work.

(Revenue Department's Circular to all Commissioners of Divisions No. 6T.R., dated 20th June 1899.)

BIHAR.

1. The course of training should occupy at least two months, and instructions will be given in the following branches of work:—

(a) Traverse survey.
(b) Cadastral survey and khanapuri.
(c) Compilation of statistics, &c.
(d) Khanapuri supervision and decision of interior and boundary disputes.
(e) Attestation.
(f) Office and case-work before and after final publication.
(g) Computation and recovery of cost.

*2. For training in (a) Traverse, (b) Cadastral survey and khanapuri, and (c) Compilation of statistics, &c., the junior Civilians will be attached to the head-quarters of the survey camp, but should come provided with a small tent, a horse, and, if possible, a muharrir who knows a little English, as they will be required to work independently for a part of the course. The muharrir should not be employed for more than the first month of the training, and then only if no extra expenditure is thereby involved. They should also bring with them copies of the Bengal Tenancy Act, VIII of 1885, the amending Act III (B.C.) of 1898, the Survey and Settlement Manual, and the Survey Act, V (B.C.) of 1875, all of which are available in Collectorate libraries. Rampini's edition of the Bengal Tenancy Act will be found very useful. Copies of these instructions and of all the North Bihar rules will be supplied by the Settlement Department, to be returned on the completion of the course. Should it be necessary to incur extra expenditure on this account, sanction should be applied for by the Collector of the district to which he is attached.

3. Directly junior Civilians join the survey camp, the officer in charge will explain to them the reasons for traverse survey and

* "N.B.—This provision will not ordinarily be held to apply to the cost of the carriage of horses or ponies brought by junior civilians to or from the training camps, unless the Settlement Officer certifies that the said horses or ponies were required by the junior civilians while on training, and could not, without inconvenience to their work, in their own districts, have been marched to the camps by road. Officers wishing to bring horses or ponies at Government expense to or from the camps to which they are sent should accordingly apply to the Settlement Officer for permission to do so before incurring the expenditure involved."

show them a copy of the 4″-to-the-mile trace of the revenue survey map which forms the basis of the work. He will then teach them the method of reading a vernier scale graduated to 30″ and the adjustments of an ordinary 5″ theodolite. He will explain how the ordinary village circuit angle is observed and recorded, and give all information necessary to enable them to understand the mechanism of a theodolite and to use it.

4. Each junior Civilian will then independently survey with, a 5″ theodolite, a small circuit comprising 12 angles, and for this purpose the officer in charge of the camp will lay down, near the camp, an imaginary village with an approximate area of 100 acres, with the bends of the boundary marked by the usual earthen mounds used for demarcation. He will mark with pegs at suitable points, never more than 1½ chains from the demarcated boundary, about 12 stations. At the time of survey the Gunter's chain will be used between stations.

5. When the circuit of the village has been completed, the 12 angles and the chain measurements will be entered in the village set up form, and the officer in charge will show how both the angular work and chaining can be proved mathematically.

6. The results will then be plotted by each junior Civilian on an ordinary cadastral sheet (1″ ruled squares) by means of the co-ordinates already calculated (vide rule 5).

7. On no account will more than four days be allotted to giving instruction in traverse survey. The spare time of those who finish earlier can be profitably spent in a study of the departmental system of traverse as applied to a thana, it being shown how, by the principle of working down from a whole to a part, error is minimised, and how, by the way in which checks and tests are applied at every stage, the final results must be very accurate.

8. Junior Civilians, having thus learnt how fixed traverse stations are obtained from which the external village boundaries can be mapped, will then receive instructions in field-to-field or cadastral survey. The officer in charge will explain the thanawar system of numbering villages from the north-west corner of the thana and the reason why it is necessary to retain the revenue survey mauza as the unit of the map, stating the measures taken to ensure this.

9. The officer in charge will next explain how to take off measurements from the 16″ diagonal scale, and will then show how to proceed in surveying a village cadastrally; first of all surveying the boundary, then cutting up the village into quadrilaterals, and finally plotting the field boundaries.

10. Each junior Civilian will after this be supplied with a plot on the 16″ = 1-mile scale of a small block of about 20 acres of village lands near the camp. This he will himself survey in detail by means of the Gunter's chain, optical square and offset rods.

11. So that the procedure followed in the case of boundary disputes may be fully understood, one side of each 16″ plot will be understood to be disputed, and will be accordingly marked with a double line of demarcation pillars containing the disputed area.

12. When the cadastral survey has been completed, each junior Civilian will be shown how to run an independent partal with chain and optical square across it (recording the re-survey in a field book and plotting it) and how to compare the trace with original maps.

13. The method of area extraction by acre comb and compass should next be explained, and each junior Civilian will extract the area of the fields surveyed by him twice and independently, and after totalling the means of the two independent extractions compare the result against the universal theorem area (which will have been explained in connection with traverse work) + or —offsets. At this stage the precautions taken in a survey camp to ensure entry of correct means should be explained, also the procedure followed in mapping homestead.

14. The officer in charge will finally show the form of fortnightly returns submitted to the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, Bengal, and to the Settlement Officer, explaining how they are prepared. Instruction in cadastral survey should not occupy more than four days.

(b2) Khanapuri (Preliminary Record-writing).

15. The officer in charge will next place before the junior Civilians the forms which are wholly or partially written up in the field, explaining each heading in the khewat, khasra, triplicate parcha (including area slips), and informing them how, by whom, and when each is filled up. If khanapuri is going on in the neighbourhood of the survey camp, the junior Civilian, accompanied by the officer in charge or one of his European subordinates, should visit an amin at work and study carefully and thoroughly how the khanapuri is done. If the khanapuri area is at a distance, this will be postponed to a later stage.

16. The officer in charge will explain how the terij, safewar, milan khasra, crop statements, and agricultural stock statements are compiled in the Survey Office. The method of converting acres and decimals into bighas, cottahs, and dhurs should be shown; also the way to prove the conversion, and to prove the totals of the khasra pages against the safewar and of the khatian slips against the terij. In fact, the officer in charge should give a complete description of the whole process of working up the records in the survey camp during recess prior to their despatch to the Settlement Department.

17. Not more than three days should be occupied in the work detailed in Rules 15 and 16; and after it is completed, the junior Civilians will come directly under the control of the Settlement Department. They will receive copies of the Khanapuri Rules, Khanapuri Officer's Instructions and Attestation Rules, all of which they should very carefully study.

(d) Khapapuri supervision and decision of interior and boundary disputes.

18. For instruction in this work, each junior Civilian will be attached to the camp of a Settlement Khanapuri Officer, and will begin by visiting, with him, an amin at work on khanapuri. The Khanapuri Officer will explain all entries as the amin and muharrir make them, giving special attention to the method of treating disputed entries and of recording crops in the khasra. He will explain the classification of crops into bhadai, aghani, and rabi, enumerating the principal crops in each class, and will inform the junior Civilian of the names of all the crops now found on the ground, and to the best of his ability explain their uses and how they are cultivated. The Khanapuri Officer must remember to explain the procedure followed in entering mortgages of plots or holdings. The entries that are made in the column of remarks will be gathered from the Khanapuri Rules, but the Khanapuri Officer must point out on the ground the kinds of trees that are recorded in this column, naming the English equivalents.

19. The Khanapuri Officer will then proceed to check the amin's work. He will test plot entries, check the khewat, &c., in the presence of the junior Civilian, explaining as he goes along what he is doing; and when the method of checking a khanapuri amin's work has been thoroughly grasped, he will record his inspection remarks in the yaddast, the other uses of which will be found detailed in the Khanapuri Rules. After this, he will go on to decide internal disputes, explaining the uses of the dispute list and the khatians of disputed entries. The junior Civilian will watch the Khanapuri Officer deciding internal disputes for three days, and for the following four days himself enquire into and decide simple disputes in the villages in which the Khanapuri Officer is working, consulting him wherever necessary. After this the junior Civilian will work alone, checking khanapuri and deciding internal disputes independently in villages running parallel to those the Khanapuri Officer is taking. The two camps should not be more than a mile apart, and the junior Civilian should be in daily communication with the Khanapuri Officer, and leave over for his disposal any important disputes that he finds himself unable to decide. Each junior Civilian will be employed on this work for three weeks, and arrangements will be made to hand over to him, for enquiry and report, during that period, some simple boundary disputes. His reports on them will be submitted, along with the records, to the Assistant Settlement Officer in charge for final orders.

20. Each junior Civilian will next be deputed to an attestation camp, and for the first day will watch (1) area slip distribution, (2) bujharat of both khewats and khatians, (3) attestation, the Attestation Assistant Settlement Officer explaining the object of each process. The next day he will spend entirely in company with the camp peshkar, checking the correction of an attested record and studying the contents of the munsarimi nathi, the arrangement of the khatians, and all the registers and returns. The junior Civilian will next watch the Attestation Assistant Settlement Officer deciding rent disputes, and will assist him to decide disputes left undecided at khanapuri, and can, when possible, be entrusted with small villages or portions of villages, wherein the rent disputes are few and of a simple nature, to attest independently. The junior Civilian will initial the khatians and khewats in pencil, and the Assistant Settlement Officer must re-initial the entries in ink in the same way as those he himself attests.

21. Each junior Civilian will spend 15 days in the attestation camp. He should make local enquiries freely into disputes under investigation, and should make a point of paying unexpected visits to the kanungo engaged in draft publication and to the surveyor munsarim. He will be able to readily check the latter's work by the experience already gained in the survey camp.

(f) Office and case-work before and after final publication.

22. The last seven days of the course will be spent at the settlement head-quarters, where, under the direct supervision of the Settlement Officer or of the Assistant Settlement Officer in charge, the whole course of office work, from the receipt of the records from the Survey Department up to their despatch to the Collector, will be carefully and fully explained. The functions of the Record Department will be demonstrated, it being shown, by the aid of the registers, how the thanawar system of arranging the records is maintained throughout, the means whereby any village records can be traced, and how all papers added to, or taken out of, the records as a result of attestation or case-work are duly registered. The duties of the head peshkar will then be explained. The use of the thanawar case register, with its alphabetical index, will particularly be brought to notice. It must be explained how this register is worked up from Registers VIII and IX, and how, by bringing all the cases filed in a village together, it enables the head peshkar to send out the records to the case officers in complete batches for each village, and to satisfy himself that all objections have been disposed of before the final publication begins. The procedure followed (1) by the office and (2) by the case officers in dealing with cases under section 103A will then be gone into, and some case records should be carefully perused. The manner in which the records are completed in office after all objections under section 103A have been decided will then be demonstrated. The method of check (janch), of revising the terij, and compiling the goshwara will be carefully explained; also the way the records are copied (safai) and compared and finally checked (moaina mokabila). In explaining the uses of the janch, safai, and moaina registers, care must be taken to explain how the dangers of paying twice or too much for work done at contract rate is obviated. The junior Civilian will of course be informed of the rate fixed for contract work. Then the process of final publication will be explained; and finally the procedure for the settlement of fair rats under section 105, and for the trial of disputes under section 106, should be very carefully explained and case records selected for perusal. When occupied in learning this branch of the work, the recovery rules should be thoroughly mastered.

(g) Computation and Recovery of Cost.

23. Finally, the junior Civilians will study the Computation and Recovery Rules. The method of apportioning the settlement and survey costs between the various kinds of landlords and the raiyats will then be most carefully set forth, and the various registers and forms written up for use in recovery camp will be explained. After this the junior Civilians will spend a day in a recovery camp, studying the process of realisation and the system of account-keeping.

24. On their return to head-quarters they will be shown the arrangement to be followed in depositing the record of rights in the Collectorate, and how all the village statistics of area, classes of land, classes of tenancy, crops, irrigation, rents, transfers and agricultural stock have been brought together, in a single volume for each thana, for the Collector's use.

25. When the training camp first opens, either the Settlement Officer or the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, Bengal, will be present to start work; and while the junior Civilians are attached to the survey camp, the Superintendent of Provincial Surveys, Bengal, will closely supervise their progress. Later, either the Settlement Officer or Assistant Settlement Officer in charge will arrange to visit each officer at least once, both when attached to a khanapuri camp and when employed on attestation, at the beginning of each stage of the work, if possible.

26. Each junior Civilian will keep a diary, to be submitted every Sunday to the Settlement Officer, in which he will give a full account of the work done, describing specially the kinds of disputes dealt with by him and his methods of investigation. He should state clearly, under each date, the distances he has travelled. The diary will be copied at the end of each month, and the travelling allowance bill will be drawn up in the settlement office and forwarded to the junior Civilian for signature and submission to the Collector of the district to which he belongs.

27. If extra coolies are required for the use of junior Civilians while engaged in learning survey, they will be supplied by the Survey Department and charged for on separate bills, headed "Training of Junior Civilians," to be submitted to the Settlement Officer for payment. A khalasi, paid for by the Settlement Department, will be attached to the camp of each junior Civilian.

APPENDIX B.

[See Section VIII, Rule 1.]

Rules for filling up vacancies in Mufassal Offices.

1. Whenever a permanent vacancy occurs or is about to occur, in a paid appointment, a notice of the fact shall be suspended in some prominent place in the office, and a date, which shall not be less than 15 days after the issue of the notice, shall be fixed for filling up the vacancy.

2. On the day fixed for filling up the vacancy the head of the office shall see and examine all applicants and their certificates, including those prescribed in the following rules, and record a proceeding stating that he has done so, noting in detail the claims of all the eligible candidates, and giving his reasons for the selection ultimately made.

3. This proceeding, together with the applications and certificates, &c., filed shall be made into a regular record bundle, and be available for reference in case of any appeal being made against the appointment.

4. In the case of a paid appointment of which the salary is less than Rs. 10 a month, the head of the office may make over the matter to any subordinate gazetted officer for report or decision.

5. Apprentices will have the first claim to temporary vacancies in the district to which they are attached In the case of permanent vacancies the head of the office has the power of introducing outsiders.

6. No apprentice shall be admitted to work in any mufassal office except in conformity with the following rules. The employment of apprentices without the express and formal sanction of the head of the office is absolutely prohibited.

Rules for the employment of unpaid Apprentices in Mufassal Offices.

(1) Apprentices may be appointed up to a number not exceeding 20 per cent. on the number of permanent employés, that percentage being calculated on the total of the ministerial establishment, and not on the strength of each department of the office.

(2) Candidates for any vacancy in the list of apprentices must fulfil the following conditions:—

(a) They must have passed the Entrance examination, or must possess a certificate of English education to as high a standard as can be obtained under local conditions.

(b) They must be under 25 years of age.

(c) They must produce a certificate of good moral character from the school in which they have last been educated, or from some respectable house-holder to whom they are well known in private life, and who is himself known to a responsible officer of Government, the last fact being certified by the countersignature of the officer in question

(d) They must produce a certificate from a Government medical officer to the effect that they are in good health and of sound constitution.

(3) If no candidates are available with the qualifications prescribed in rule 2 (a) above, an examination of candidates shall be held after due notice, whenever it becomes necessary to admit new apprentices into an office.

This examination shall be in English composition to test (a) the handwriting of the candidate, (b) his knowledge of English, and (c) any evidence of general ability. It shall be held by the head of the office, or by any subordinate gazetted officer to whom he may delegate the duty.

(4) The candidates selected by the result of the examination must produce satisfactory evidence of age, moral character and health, as prescribed in rule 2 (b), (c), and (d), and must also state their relationship if any, to any of the amla in any of the offices in the district. Any incorrect statement will render them liable to summary dismissal. Relationship to amla already in the office does not disqualify a candidate, but there must be no concealment of the truth.

(5) In January of each year the list of working apprentices shall be examined, and if any have been five years in the office, and it is not intended to give them permanent employment carrying pay, they shall be removed. If they have held acting appointments and given satisfaction, but have not secured permanent appointments, they may be allowed a year's grace to obtain a permanent appointment, and, if they fail, will then be removed.

(6) Apprentices on the list will have the first claim to officiating vacancies in the district to which they are attached, but for permanent vacancies the head of the office has the power of introducing outsiders who satisfy these rules.

(7) No pay shall be given to apprentices.

(8) An apprentice shall be liable to summary removal for incompetency or misconduct, without the formal proceedings requisite in the case of officers holding paid appointments.

(9) Apprentices in subdivisional and other offices in the interior of a district shall be appointed from the head-quarters of the district, and no apprentice in such an office shall be permitted to act in a paid appointment without the sanction of the authorities at the head-quarters of the district.

(10) An apprentice shall be liable to serve in any department of the office in which his services may be required.

(11) The heads of offices or departments when on tours of inspection should see that these rules are strictly observed.

(12) These rules do not apply to offices in which the rules for the regulation of appointments in the Secretariat Clerical Service and attached offices are in force.

APPENDIX C.

[See Section VIII, Rule 13.]

General principles to be observed in regard to public servants, who have been removed or dismissed.

No. $\frac{10 \text{ Public}}{919}$, dated Simla, the 15th June 1895.

From—J. P. Hewett, Esq., C.I.E., Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

In the circular letter from this Department, No. $\frac{11 \text{ Public}}{1085\text{-}1094}$, dated the 21st June 1894, the Government of India enquired what rule was observed with regard to giving Government officers necessary information as to dismissals of public servants; whether any difference was made between cases where re-employment is prohibited and where it is not; and whether in any case of dismissal, in which it is decided to issue a public notification, the cause which led to the dismissal is specified. The replies received to the letter of 21st June show that an uniform practice is not observed in the different Provinces in dealing with this matter. The Governor-General in Council accordingly deems it desirable to state the general principles which should be observed in disposing of such cases.

2. In the first place, His Excellency in Council desires to direct attention to the distinction that exists between the removal or discharge, and the dismissal, of a public servant. Removal from office for such a cause as unfitness for the duties of the office need not usually entail any further

(8) The probationers in district offices will receive an allowance of Rs. 10 and in Commissioners' offices Rs. 15 each per mensem.

(9) Probationers will be liable to summary removal for incompetency or misconduct, without the formal proceedings requisite in the case of officers holding paid appointments.

(10) Probationers in subdivisional nd other offices not at the head-quarters of a district will be appointed from the head-quarters, and no probationer in such an office will be permitted to act in a paid appointment without the sanction of the authorities at the head-quarters of the district.

(11) A probationer will be liable to serve in any department of the office in which his services may be required.

(12) The heads of offices or departments when on tours of inspection should see that these rules are strictly observed.

(13) These rules do not apply to offices in which the rules for the regulation of appointments in the secretariat clerical service and attached offices are in force.

(14) In those divisions where training schools for probationers have been or will be established the rules prescribed above will be subject to modifications in accordance with the rules prescribed by Government for the training school as regards the liability to attend a course of training, qualifications, conduct, grant of leave and allowance, etc. 4-4-1910.

2. Substitute the following rule for rules 1 and 2, section VIII, Chapter III, pages 67 and 68, and alter the heading of section VIII from "Ministeral Officers" to "Ministeral Officers and Probationers."

"1. The rules passed by Government for the admission of candidates for ministeral employment as probationers in mufassal offices will be found in Appendix B to Chapter III, Register No. 31—"Admitted Probationers"—must be kept in the terms of the Government orders." 4-4-1910.

Rules for the admission of probationers.

3. Substitute the word "probationer" or "probationers" for the word "apprentice" or "apprentices" in rule 4, section VIII, Chapter III, page 68, as well as in rules 5 and 6 of "Rules for filling up vacancies in mufassal offices" in Appendix Chapter III, page 83. 4-4-19 consequences. It ought not to bar re-appointment to another office, for the duties of which the person may be suited, and it should not be accompanied by any subsidiary orders which would operate as such a bar or otherwise prejudice the person in question. Removal should be the penalty in all cases where it is not thought necessary to bar future re-employment under Government.

3. In cases of dismissal, on the other hand, the effect of the order should be to preclude the dismissed officer from being re-employed. Ordinary cases of the dismissal of non-gazetted officers need not be notified in the Government Gazette. As a precaution against the inadvertent re-employment of men who may have been dismissed, it would be sufficient to rule that officers should ascertain whether an applicant for a post has been in Government service before, and should refer to his previous employer if the circumstances connected with his discharge are not clear. The applicant should be required to produce a copy of his character book or other record of service, and a person who succeeds in obtaining employment by the concealment of his antecedents would obviously merit dismissal on the true facts being discovered. The sanction of the Local Government or Administration should always be required to the re-employment of persons dismissed.

4. The dismissal of public servants should, the Governor-General in Council considers, be notified in the Gazette only in the following cases, viz., (1) when it is necessary to notify the public of the removal from service of an officer, whether because his appointment was previously gazetted or from any other cause, and (2) when it is specially desired to exclude from re-employment in the service of Government a public servant who has been dismissed for a heinous offence, such as fraud or falsification of accounts.

5. The reason for the dismissal of a public officer should not be stated in the notification regarding his dismissal, even in cases in which a conviction has been obtained in a Criminal Court. It will be sufficient to announce in the case of any person whose dismissal will be notified in accordance with the principle laid down in paragraph 4 of this circular, that the Government has dispensed with his services, except in those cases in which the cause of dismissal constitutes a disqualification under the terms of the law regulating the tenure of a particular appointment, and it is for this reason necessary to couple with the announcement of the dismissal a statement of the grounds upon which it has been ordered.

6. The Government of India leave it to the Local Governments to make such arrangements as they think necessary for securing that officers serving under them are informed what Government servants, other than those whose dismissals have been gazetted, have been dismissed. There is not before the Government of India sufficient evidence to show that it is necessary to communicate such information between Provinces, if the precautions abovementioned are taken by officers when making appointments to vacant posts.

Procedure to be followed in awarding punishments to officers of Government.

No. 37—1389-1404, dated Simla, the 29th July 1879.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India in the Home, Revenue and Agriculture Departments.

Resolution.—From time to time petitions or appeals against the orders of local officers, removing or dismissing Government servants, reach the Government of India. Such appeals ordinarily are forwarded through, or are reported upon by, the local Governments. And the Governor-General in Council is glad to say that he very rarely indeed sees ground for thinking such removals hasty or unjust. The general rule of the service is that the authority who can appoint to a particular office has power to dismiss or remove from that office; and an appeal lies from an order of dismissal to the official superior of the officer who passes such order. Since the date of the order passed by the Court of Directors in 1851, no general instructions on the subject of dismissing public servants have been circulated by the Government of India. Local Governments have from time to time issued such orders; and copy of a recent circular of the North-Western Provinces Government on the subject is appended to this Resolution. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council believes that the forbearance and consideration enjoined by the Honourable Court are usually exercised by public officers of all grades and departments; but at the same time he deems it advisable to republish those instructions with the following remarks:—

1. In order that a dismissed servant of Government may be able to exercise his right of appeal, it is obviously necessary that the charge against him, his defence, and the order thereon should be reduced to writing. And this course, so far as the Governor-General in Council is aware, is usually taken. In the case of public servants who are dismissed in consequence of facts or inferences elicited at a judicial trial, or in the case of persons who abscond with an accusation over their heads, this procedure may be unnecessary or impossible. But in all other cases of the dismissal of public servants, the charge against a public servant should be reduced to writing, his defence should be either taken in, or reduced to, writing, and the decision on such defence should also be in writing. In many cases (such, for instance, as that of a clerk at an outlying tahsil station) the officer who passes the order of dismissal may not be able to make the enquiry himself, and the proceedings leading to dismissal would be conducted by the superior officer on the spot. The record of such charge, defence and decision would then furnish sufficient information for, and should be submitted to, the superior officer or the Government to whom the dismissed servant may prefer an appeal.

2. In regard to the rules of conduct which should guide the relations of superior officers with their subordinates, the Governor-General in Council fully concurs in the views expressed by the late Court of Directors in paragraphs 4 to 9 of their Despatch No. 42 of 1851, copies of which are appended to this Resolution.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of the above Resolution, with enclosures, be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations, and to all departments of the Government of India for information.

No. 11A., dated Camp Lucknow, the 13th April 1877.

From—C. ROBERTSON, Esq., Offg. Secretary to Govt., N.-W. P. and Oudh,

To—All Heads of Departments, Commissioners, and District Officers in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

IT has frequently been noticed by the Government in petitions from persons who have been degraded or deprived of their situations in the public service that the petitioners have not had an opportunity of explaining their conduct, and of making their defence before being reduced or dismissed from their appointments. The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner accordingly directs that in all cases of punishments, and especially in all cases of dismissal, the person concerned shall always be given a hearing before the final order is passed; and a formal proceeding embodying the statements taken and the reasons of dismissal shall invariably be recorded.

Extract (paragraphs 4 to 9) of the Despatch from the Honourable Court of Directors, No. 42, dated 6th August 1851.

4. In the letter from the Secretary to the Sadar Board of Revenue, North-Western Provinces, conveying the opinions of the Members of that Board, we notice the following passages:—

"It scarcely needs to be stated that native officers are frequently dismissed from their situations, not for proved delinquency or any tangible matter or substantial charge, but in accordance with the opinions of their immediate superiors taken up against them sometimes hastily.

"A large portion of the public servants are under the absolute control of one officer, who has the absolute power of dismissal, and men are consequently often dismissed by caprice and also as a punishment.

"An officer often, too, dismisses a man merely as a punishment with the intention, frequently carried out, of reappointing him.

"Further, the native servants of Government are treated with a degree of hardship which stands in remarkable contrast to the conduct adopted towards Europeans or officers of mixed parentage.

"To such an extent does this severity prevail that all prudent natives resign when they perceive that their superiors do not regard them with favour. This state of things has the worst effect on our native officers. It induces them to 'make hay while the sun shines,' and to add to the severity now used by pronouncing every man dismissed incapable of serving Government would only add to the evil.

"Once again, the Junior Member of the Board takes this opportunity to put on record his deliberate opinion that less caprice, less severity, less indignity in the treatment of native servants of Government is necessary if Government would be well served by them."

5. We confess we have perused these statements with pain and deep regret. If the treatment of native officials by their Covenanted superiors be indeed generally of the harsh character here alleged, it is most discreditable to those Members of our Civil Service who have practised it.

6. But the rule we instructed you to introduce, in place of aggravating the evil, as is alleged, will in reality ameliorate the position of the Uncovenanted Servants. We would establish it as a principle that when persons are appointed to permanent situations in any department they should not be dismissed upon light grounds. Fraud and dishonesty, continued and wilful negligence, and all offences involving moral disgrace meet with their appropriate punishment in dismissal, and our position is that in every case in which that punishment is inflicted upon just grounds the individual should be considered to be permanently excluded from Government employ. With regard, however, to the instances of arbitrary dismissal for slight reasons, adverted to by the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, we can neither recognise their propriety nor see the advantage accruing to Government from the practice. It may be doubtful whether the punishment of temporary suspension under the name of dismissal "with the intention of reappointment" has any beneficial operations as regards the supposed offender. But we cannot doubt that it must tend to impede the business of the office by raising fears in the minds of the other native officials that the caprice of their superiors may inflict upon them the same penalty. We consider it more likely that Government will be well served if it is distinctly understood that probity and diligence are the conditions of continued employment than if the subordinates work in slavish dread of their official superior, knowing that his whim, prejudice or passion may at any hour eject them from their situations and reduce them to destitution. In our opinion, moreover, the knowledge that gross misconduct will altogether exclude from the service of Government will operate as an additional inducement to the honest and attentive discharge of duty on the part of native servants. If the offence which a subordinate may commit be considered by the chief of his office to merit severe punishment, though not the ultimate one of dismissal, the circumstances should be reported to higher authority, and if necessary to the Government for their judgment and decision.

7. The salutary tendency of the proposed rule will therefore be to make subordinates more faithful in the discharge of their duties and superiors more cautious in inflicting punishment upon those under their control. Necessary as it is that the power of dismissal should be vested in the Chiefs of Departments, it is equally desirable to check and, as far as may be practicable, to regulate that power. If evidence of this be required, the letter from the Agra Board of Revenue affords it, and we shall here further quote the sentiments of the Junior Member of that Board as a corroboration of the view which we are led to take of this question. He observes that since he has entered the service "the Government have done much to temper the arbitrary severity with which their native officers are treated by their European fellow-servants, and they have in consequence materially increased the honesty and faithfulness of that deserving class of men, but more remains to be done, and he doubts not will be done by degrees." We give due weight to the opinions to which we have adverted, and under the explanation we have now given we are not disposed to depart from our order of the 10th July 1850.

8. There is, however, a class of cases which does not come within the intention of our order, though erroneously considered in this light by the authorities in the North-Western Provinces. We mean cases of inaptitude for the particular branch of occupation to which a native servant may have been originally appointed, as well as cases of physical incapacity The latter must be treated according to rule, and with regard to the former we cannot but think that in the majority of cases the difficulty might be overcome by a re-adjustment of duties without recourse to the harsh steps of removal from office.

9. We would, in conclusion, express our hope that the notice we have taken of this subject will have the beneficial effect of inducing the exercise of greater forbearance and a more just consideration on the part of our Civil Servants towards the useful and deserving class of men placed in subordination to them. With respect to the most important class of those men, namely, those receiving salaries of above Rs. 10 a month, and to some of whom, under certain restrictions, pensions are granted upon retirement, we think that you might issue instructions that you should be kept advised of the dismissal of all of individuals composing that class and of the causes of their dismissal. This would afford an opportunity for enquiry into cases in which the cause might appear unsatisfactory or questionable, which does not at present exist. Should any instances unfortunately occur to disappoint the expectation which we have expressed, that greater forbearance and justice will be exercised towards the native servants, we desire to be invariably informed of them, whether they shall occur in the class above referred to or in any other, and we shall feel it to be our duty to visit such conduct with the expression of our severe displeasure.

No. 50—1682, dated Simla, the 13th November 1883.

From—G. S. Forbes, Esq., Offg. Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Dept.

I am directed to forward, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, the accompanying copy of a Resolution recorded by the Government of Bombay on the subject of dismissals of native subordinates for misconduct.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of Bombay, Judicial Department, No. 7170, dated Bombay Castle, 16th October 1883.

READ the following:—

Resolution of Government on the subject of the procedure that should be adopted when native subordinates in the Civil Departments are dismissed from pensionable service for misconduct.

RESOLUTION.—The Court of Directors, by Despatch No. 42 of 6th August 1851, enunciated their views on the habit imputed to European heads of offices and departments of inconsiderately dismissing native subordinates. This habit had been reported to the Court of Directors as deeply rooted. The Court quoted a Member of the Agra Board of Revenue as observing that, since he had entered the service, "the Government have done much to temper the arbitrary severity with which their native officers are treated by their European fellow-servants, and they have in consequence materially increased the honesty and faithfulness of that deserving class of men, but more remains to be done, and he doubts not will be done by degrees." The purport of the instructions then laid down was that native subordinates were not to be dismissed merely in consequence of unfavourable opinions entertained towards them by their superiors, or for slight reasons, but on proof only of tangible delinquency in such matters as "fraud and dishonesty, continued and wilful negligence, and all offences involving moral disgrace," and a subordinate once dismissed upon just grounds was to be permanently excluded from Government employ.

2. After 28 years, i.e., in July 1879, the habit adverted to was found to be still existent in sufficient force to induce the Government of India to republish these instructions of the Court of Directors with an expression of their own concurrence, and to add to them as follows:—

In all cases of the "dismissal of public servants, the charge against a public servant should be reduced to writing, his defence should be either taken in or reduced to writing, and the decision on such defence should also be in writing." As a reservation it was stated in the case of public servants who are dismissed in consequence of facts or inferences elicited at a judicial trial, or in the case of persons who abscond with an accusation over their heads, this procedure may be unnecessary or impossible.

3. In May last, by Resolution 1549 of the General Department, this Government further added the orders that "the dismissing authority should always record in English under his own handwriting a statement showing briefly, but clearly, the charges brought against the official, the evidence supporting those charges, the motives which are supposed to have influenced him, and the opinion of the dismissing authority on each charge."

4. Cases that have lately come before Government suggest that even additional fulness and precision should be given to the orders of Government.

5. The Governor in Council would first observe that the state of things now calling for correction is not quite the same as that which attracted the notice of the Court of Directors in 1851. The Court had in view the habit of dismissing native officials in consequence merely of the unfavourable opinion of their superiors, or for slight reasons, but as a rule subordinates are now dismissed only on very precise charges of delinquency. The same disposition of mind, however, on the part of European superiors, which in former days led to the dismissal of native subordinates on slight charges, now too often leads to the hasty acceptance of evidence as establishing serious charges.

6. The Governor in Council will now state why the late rules do not sufficiently ensure that the defence of a native subordinate shall be patiently heard before his dismissal is recommended or ordered. The rules require that the charge shall be reduced to writing, that the defence shall be given in or reduced to writing, and that the decision shall be in writing, and comprise certain details. But all this is compatible with the disposal of the case in a very offhand way. It would seem indeed as if the rules were sometimes taken as meaning that the charge against the accused might be communicated to him and his explanation taken by correspondence, whereas the first principles of justice require that he should be brought before the enquiring officer in person. Again, it is not enough that he should be told of the charge he has to meet —he should be told also of the evidence and arguments in support of the charge before he is required to defend himself. It is very unfair that he should not know the case against him until the enquiring officer has actually committed himself to a decision.

7. The necessary orders so far are that an enquiry in judicial form should precede an order or recommendation for dismissal. It is not meant that the admission of evidence should be restricted by the law of judicial evidence. All evidence which in the opinion of the enquiring officer conduces to moral conviction should be admissible, but in whatever form received, it should be noted and explained to the person charged. Much evidence could be recorded simply in the form of questions to which the person charged should be required to give specific answers. He should be allowed besides to place on record a full written statement of his defence.

8. In the next place, some principle should be laid down for guidance in those cases where there is strong suspicion rather than actual proof against the person implicated. The intention of Government is that no servant of theirs should be dismissed except on proof, but proof in the great majority of cases, even in a court of justice, means no more than a preponderance of probabilities, and the estimate of what the preponderance ought to be and is varies with the temperament of the judging officer. Executive officers in the matter of dismissals have to discharge the judicial function, but do not always possess the judicial faculty. It is necessary, therefore, to lay down as a general rule that no subordinate should be dismissed except on grounds capable of being stated. There is a distinction between judicial enquiries and departmental enquiries as regards the admissibility of evidence, but there should be no distinction as regards the decision being based solely on the evidence admitted.

9. It may indeed be thought that in some cases a compromising suspicion is in itself a sufficient reason for removing a subordinate from the service of Government, but if so, this should be honestly stated, and there should be no pretence of proof when there is only suspicion. The subordinate should not be dismissed with disgrace, but allowed to resign or simply relieved of his office. And in such cases it is more necessary than ever that the exact case against him should be carefully recorded, in order that he may, if possible, satisfy any other employer who has the means of livelihood in his gift.

10. The possibility of men being removed from the public service on mere suspicion suggests the difficult question of the moral liability of Government in such cases to make compassionate allowances. It has been decided, and the Governor in Council thinks rightly, that the admission of such liability would work mischief to the public service in its general effect. But if a man has earned, or nearly earned, his pension, his would not be a proper case for removal on suspicion. He would necessarily be an old servant of Government, who has reached a time of life when it would be most improbable that he would turn to any other occupation for a livelihood. The sudden beggary of a man whose working days are drawing to a close is as serious an exercise of power as the penal sentence of a court of justice, and should not be inflicted on haphazard principles. The Pension Rules, moreover, provide that a portion of the pension may be withheld from those whose service has not been entirely approved.

11. The Governor in Council considers that in proportion as the evidence falls short of full proof, consideration should be given to the previous character of the subordinate concerned, and especially to any specific instances of good or bad service that may have been officially noted in his case. It would seem sometimes as if previous good conduct was regarded of the case in a very offhand way. It would seem indeed as if the rules were sometimes taken as meaning that the charge against the accused might be communicated to him and his explanation taken by correspondence, whereas the first principles of justice require that he should be brought before the enquiring officer in person. Again, it is not enough that he should be told of the charge he has to meet —he should be told also of the evidence and arguments in support of the charge before he is required to defend himself. It is very unfair that he should not know the case against him until the enquiring officer has actually committed himself to a decision.

7. The necessary orders so far are that an enquiry in judicial form should precede an order or recommendation for dismissal. It is not meant that the admission of evidence should be restricted by the law of judicial evidence. All evidence which in the opinion of the enquiring officer conduces to moral conviction should be admissible, but in whatever form received, it should be noted and explained to the person charged. Much evidence could be recorded simply in the form of questions to which the person charged should be required to give specific answers. He should be allowed besides to place on record a full written statement of his defence.

8. In the next place, some principle should be laid down for guidance in those cases where there is strong suspicion rather than actual proof against the person implicated. The intention of Government is that no servant of theirs should be dismissed except on proof, but proof in the great majority of cases, even in a court of justice, means no more than a preponderance of probabilities, and the estimate of what the preponderance ought to be and is varies with the temperament of the judging officer. Executive officers in the matter of dismissals have to discharge the judicial function, but do not always possess the judicial faculty. It is necessary, therefore, to lay down as a general rule that no subordinate should be dismissed except on grounds capable of being stated. There is a distinction between judicial enquiries and departmental enquiries as regards the admissibility of evidence, but there should be no distinction as regards the decision being based solely on the evidence admitted.

9. It may indeed be thought that in some cases a compromising suspicion is in itself a sufficient reason for removing a subordinate from the service of Government, but if so, this should be honestly stated, and there should be no pretence of proof when there is only suspicion. The subordinate should not be dismissed with disgrace, but allowed to resign or simply relieved of his office. And in such cases it is more necessary than ever that the exact case against him should be carefully recorded, in order that he may, if possible, satisfy any other employer who has the means of livelihood in his gift.

10. The possibility of men being removed from the public service on mere suspicion suggests the difficult question of the moral liability of Government in such cases to make compassionate allowances. It has been decided, and the Governor in Council thinks rightly, that the admission of such liability would work mischief to the public service in its general effect. But if a man has earned, or nearly earned, his pension, his would not be a proper case for removal on suspicion. He would necessarily be an old servant of Government, who has reached a time of life when it would be most improbable that he would turn to any other occupation for a livelihood. The sudden beggary of a man whose working days are drawing to a close is as serious an exercise of power as the penal sentence of a court of justice, and should not be inflicted on haphazard principles. The Pension Rules, moreover, provide that a portion of the pension may be withheld from those whose service has not been entirely approved.

11. The Governor in Council considers that in proportion as the evidence falls short of full proof, consideration should be given to the previous character of the subordinate concerned, and especially to any specific instances of good or bad service that may have been officially noted in his case. It would seem sometimes as if previous good conduct was regarded as an aggravation of a man's offence as showing concealment of his true character. It would, in the opinion of the Governor in Council, apart from the question of evidence, work well for the service of the public if subordinates were able to feel that a good character and acts of good service would stand them in real stead when their conduct is exposed to question.

The admission, however, of evidence of previous bad chaarcter requires great caution. It was argued lately in a petition that if one fault is taken as evidence of another, the first punishment of a small fine expands into dismissal by a sort of natural growth. It is certainly not uncommon for dismissing officers to support a weak case by reference to previous punishments for misconduct, too slight for confidence that it received close attention.

12. Controlling officers, as, for instance, Commissioners, to whom orders of dismissal are submitted for confirmation or on appeal, should be reminded that they have an individual responsibility of their own. They must of course on certain points, like all appellate authorities, place confidence on the judgment of the officer who has personally conducted the enquiry; but they should withhold this confidence unless it is clear from the proceedings that the enquiring officer has acted with care and fairness. No defects in the record of enquiry should be passed over with such reflections as that the enquiring officer is a very careful man, and that he probably knows a good deal more about the case than he has been able to say. If there are such defects, the case should be remanded for further enquiry, and the controlling officer should commit himself to no opinion of his own till the case is as complete as it can be made.

13. Lastly, the Governor in Council observes that the reservation of the Government of India, quoted in paragraph 2 of this Resolution, to the effect that the prescribed procedure might be unnecessary "in the case of public servants who are dismissed in consequence of facts or inferences elicited at a judicial trial," has been in some cases misunderstood. Doubtless trials may occur in which the conduct of some public servant is so mixed up with the matter under adjudication that any after enquiry into it by the head of his department would be superfluous; but what oftner happens is that some censure is passed on a public servant in a side remark from the Bench which he has no opportunity of answering, or which the presiding officer may not have thought of sufficient importance to require verification. It would be extremely hazardous and unfair to accept such a remark as a deliberate judgment, and there seems no safe general rule except that a public servant, unless himself convicted at a judicial trial, has a right to defend himself departmentally against any imputation that he may have therein incurred.

14. The system enjoined might result occasionally in undesirable individuals being retained in the service who would otherwise be got rid of; but the Governor in Council is satisfied that its general tendency would be to raise the tone of the native subordinate service. Any disposition on the part of superiors to seek opportunities of making examples, and to act on general impressions in disposing of specific charges, is calculated to encourage the prevailing habit of intrigue and false accusations among their native subordinates. So far as dismissals are examples rather of the precariousness of the Government service than of a strictly just discipline their effect must be demoralising. Such examples, instead of having a deterrent effect, must rather suggest the use of opportunities for laying by provision for the future, in case the Government pension should never be attained.

15. The Governor in Council has purposely confined these remarks to dismissals for misconduct. Dismissals for inefficiency, though equally falling within the scope of the observations of the Court of Directors in 1851, depend on a different set of principles, and His Excellency in Council has not observed any need for correction in the practice of dealing with this class of cases.

16. The case of peons differs in some respects from that of Government servants of a superior class. Though their service is pensionable, they belong to the class of cultivators and the lower rank of domestic servants; their parents have put themselves to no sacrifices to educate them for the public service, and they require to be kept very strictly in hand. But, however unwilling the Government may be in such cases to interfere with the discretion of departmental authorities, it will be gathered from what has been said that the Governor in Council expects from the responsible officers the exercise of a fair and impartial consideration of the case even of the humblest servants of Government. Loose decisions and inconsiderate dismissals are stains upon the Administration.

CHAP. III.] PROCEEDINGS.

CHAPTER IV.

Transfer of Charge, Holidays, Accounts, &c.

Section I.—Transfer of charge.

1. Whenever the transfer of a Collectorate or Treasury from one officer to another is reported, the cause of the transfer is to be stated.

Report.

2. An officer taking charge of a Collectorate should examine particularly the state of the camp equipage and of the library.

Procedure.

3. An officer delivering over charge, whether of a Collectorate or a Commissionership, is to furnish to his successor, for transmission to superior authority, a list of all existing arrears of business, and a memorandum, for the annual report, of his opinion of the official character and conduct of his subordinates to the date of his quitting office.

Memorandum.

4. An officer taking charge of a Treasury is always to ascertain the amount of cash balance by passing the coin through the scales.

Charge of treasury.

Section II.—Holidays.

1. The following holidays are sanctioned yearly as public holidays under section 25 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, XXVI of 1881:—

Authorised public holidays.

All Sundays.		Janmáshtami ...	1 day.
New Year's Day or, if it falls on Sunday, then the day following ...	1 day.	Mahálayá	1 „
Sri Panchami ...	2 days.	Durgá and Lakshmi Pujás	6 days.
Dol Játrá	1 day.	Káli Pujá	2 „
Chaitra Sankránti ...	1 „	Jagadhátri Pujá ...	2 „
Dasaharáá	1 „	Christmas Eve ...	1 day.
Good Friday	1 „	Christmas Day or, if it falls on Sunday, then the day following ...	1 „
Easter Saturday ...	1 „	The day following Christmas Day... ...	1 „
Empress' Birthday ...	1 „

The dates of the holidays will be notified annually by the Government of Bengal before the beginning of each calendar year.

2. In addition to the abovementioned public holidays, the following holidays, which are not declared to be public holidays under the Act, are sanctioned in public offices with certain exceptions, and in all Revenue and Magisterial Courts in Bengal:—

Other holidays.

Muhammadan holidays.

Id-ul-fitr	1 day.
Id-uz-zuhá	1 „
Muharram	2 days (last 2 days).
Páthia dawázdaham	1 day.

5. Revenue officers should allow Brahmo officials to absent themselves from their duties on the 11th day of Magh in each year, when possible, and, as a rule, should not fix cases in which Brahmo suitors or witnesses are concerned, for hearing on that day, or on the days immediately preceding or following it.

And for Brahmo officials.

6. The first day of Bysack will be observed as a public holiday in the Chittagong district in lieu of Mahalaya.

Special day in Chittagong.

7. If the office remains open for the public convenience on any of these days, a substitute, to be paid by the individual, may be appointed for any native officer whose absence is inconvenient, but who yet wishes to be away.

Substitute may be appointed.

Section III.—Absence.

1. The rules for the absence on leave of Covenanted and Uncovenanted officers are contained in "the Civil Service Regulations" of the Government of India, Financial Department.

Reference to Civil Service Regulations.

2. An Assistant or Deputy Collector requiring leave of absence must make his application to the Collector, who will forward it to the Commissioner with an endorsement stating whether or not the leave may unobjectionably be granted. The Commissioner will exercise his discretion in submitting the application, through the Accountant-General, to Government, or declining to do so.

Mode of application by subordinate officer.

3. Whenever a Commissioner submits to Government an application for a short leave of absence from any of his subordinates, he must suggest the arrangements which should, in his opinion, be made for carrying on the duties of the absentee during his absence.

Commissioner to suggest arrangements.

4. Subject to the orders of the Government of Bengal, heads of offices may grant, at their discretion, casual leave of absence from office, in case of sickness, death of near relations, &c. Such casual absences are not to be reported to the Accountant-General, but they are to be systematically recorded in the leave-register to be kept in each office; and when an application for privilege leave is received, it is to be dealt with with some reference to the entries in this book.

Casual leave.

5. Half-pay is allowed to peons in the employ of Government while sick in hospital, or receiving medical aid as out-door patients of the hospital of the station to which they belong.

Allowance to peons under medical treatment.

Register to be kept.

6. A Leave Register 46 is to be kept in every office. Its headings given in Chapter I of Register and Return Manual are:—

Register of leave to ministerial officers drawing Rs. 10 a month and upwards:—

1. Name of officer.
2. Appointment held by him.
3. Salary (including allowances).
4. Description of leave granted.
5. Clause and section of Code under which leave granted.
6. Rate of allowance during leave.
7. Initial (and date) of officer granting leave.
8. Length of leave granted.
9. Date of commencement of leave.
10. Extension granted.
11. Date of return to duty.
12. Initial (and date) of officer receiving report of return to duty.
13. Remarks.

Section IV.—Routine.

Relief of officers.

1. In order to relieve revenue officers as far as possible of the mechanical labour of signing papers, the following practice is authorised.

Head-clerk.

2. The head-clerk in a Commissioner's and Collector's office may authenticate, with his English signature, copies of letters, statements, decisions, &c.

Sarishtadar.

3. The sarishtadar may sign orders of the following descriptions:—

to file papers in a case or record them in the office;

to return exhibits, &c., to the owners;

to give copies of decrees, judgments, or papers;

calling for a report or explanation from any ministerial officer; making over papers of any description to the ministerial officer concerned.

His responsibility.

4. The sarishtadar is entirely responsible for every order he signs. If in any case he has a doubt what order ought to be passed, he will of course obtain the orders of the presiding officer.

Exception.

5. If, from adventitious circumstances, the date or character of an order is likely to be important, the executive officer should himself sign it.

No reports.

6. Reports from one branch of an office to another should be avoided.

Board's and Commissioner's offices.

7. The Superintendent of the Board, and Personal Assistants to Commissioners, are authorised to sign reminders, dockets and other formal letters, and to authenticate copies, &c.

Travelling allowance bills to be countersigned by Commissioners.

8. Personal Assistants to Commissioners are authorised to countersign ordinary bills not containing charges of an unusual nature other than travelling allowance bills of officers on tour. Bills containing charges other than of an ordinary character, and all travelling allowance bills of officers on tour must be countersigned by Commissioners themselves. The deputation allowance bills of Deputy Collectors on duty in the interior of a district should also be countersigned by Commissioners themselves.

Section V.—Payment of money and refunds.

Payment of money from a treasury.

1. Every officer possessing a knowledge of English, in ordering payment of any sum of money from a treasury, must record his order in that language, distinctly specifying the account under which payment is made, and the reasons for ordering it. This rule is not to apply to purely formal payments of salaries.

Authorisation of Agent.

2. No payment of money is on any account to be made to an agent for another party until the disbursing officer, or his assistant or deputy, has thoroughly satisfied himself that the agent is authorised to receive it. Particular attention should be directed to the signature and attestation, and the disbursing officer should take the greatest care to assure himself of their genuineness.

Refunds.

3. Refunds of current deposits may be made upon the authority of the officer who ordered the acceptance of the deposits. A Commissioner may sanction refunds rendered necessary by any orders that he has legally passed and refunds in cases of erroneous payment, and of payments on account of lands released by competent authority. The Commissioner of Excise has been authorised to sanction refunds in excise cases. All other refunds require the authority of the Board, who will inform the Accountant-General of any refunds that they may authorise. The Board may sanction interest upon sums refunded.

Excess payments of revenue not to be refunded.

4. A proprietor or co-proprietor of an estate paying revenue to Government is not entitled to a refund of any sum which may have been paid by him on account of the revenue of the estate of which he is proprietor or co-proprietor in excess of the amount due from the estate up to the date of such payment, unless such payment shall have been specially made as a deposit under section 15, Act XI of 1859.

Refund of lapsed deposits.

5. If an application for the refund of a deposit that has been credited to the Government appear to require special orders, it should be submitted to the Board through the Commissioner; otherwise, and ordinarily, it should, if the amount to be refunded does not exceed Rs. 50, be addressed direct to the Accountant-General, and in other cases to the Board, who will forward it, after sanction, to the Accountant-General. The following particulars must be given in all such applications :—

(a) Reference to the registers showing number of original deposit, and of any subsequent entry in which it has been included.
(b) Nature of the deposit.
(c) Date of deposit.
(d) Reasons why it has not hitherto been applied for.
(e) Name of present applicant, and, if he be not the original depositor, the grounds upon which it is proposed to pay the money to him.
(f) Certificate of Collector that after due inquiry he finds the refund applied for to be just and proper.

Claims to surplus sales proceeds.

6. Deposits on account of surplus sale-proceeds of estates sold under Act XI of 1859 should be treated in the manner laid down in Article 256 of the Civil Account Code, Volume I, fifth edition. The claims of proprietors to sale-proceeds of their estates should never be rejected on the ground of limitation. When, however, they are submitted after a long interval, the enquiry for the purpose of ascertaining whether the amount claimed has never been paid, and whether the claimants are the persons legally entitled to the refund, should be made with special care. Explanations of the delay in applying should be taken from the claimants in such cases, and where the evidence of the amount being still unpaid or of the right of the claimants to receive payment is unsatisfactory, the applications should be rejected.

Form.

7. A form of application has been prescribed by the Board, printed copies of which may be obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery.

Notice of refund and payment in certain cases.

8. Whenever a refund or disbursement of money has been sanctioned on account of law charges or other account, notice should be served, free of charge, on the party entitled to receive it, requiring him to make immediate application for payment on pain of forfeiture of interest from a given date, which should be fixed with reference to the distance of the party's residence from the Collector's treasury.

Collector's signature to certificate.

9. The certificate required by heading (f), rule 5, must be invariably signed by the Collector himself. Should an application be preferred during the Collector's absence from his head-quarters and should he be unable in consequence to make the necessary

SLIP No. 133.

Substitute the following for rule 5, Section V, Chapter IV, page 98 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

Refund of lapsed deposits.

5. If an application for the refund of a deposit that has been credited to the Government appears to require sapcial orders, it should be submitted through the Commissioner to the Board who will forward it, after sanction, to the Accountant-General; otherwise, and ordinarily, it should be addressed direct to the Accountant-General. The following particulars must be given in all such applications:—

(a) Reference to the registers showing number of original deposit, and of any subsequent entry in which it has been included.

(b) Nature of deposit.

(c) Date of deposit.

(d) Reasons why it has not hitherto been applied for.

(e) Name of present applicant, and, if he be not the original depositor, the grounds upon which it is proposed to pay the money to him.

(f) Certificate of Collector that after due enquiry he finds the refund applied for to be just and proper.

SLIP No. 232.

To rule 3, section VI, Chapter IV, page 99 of the Board's Rules, 1902, add: "On no account may sums, which have not passed through the Nazir's hands (such as stamps realized by peons on processes and paid direct into the treasury), be entered in this cash-book or its subsidiary registers."

20-5-1909.

inquiries into the propriety of the refund applied for, its disposal must await his return.

Delay to be reported.

10. In recommending refunds the Commissioner must ascertain the cause of any delay which has occurred, and report the officer responsible.

Refunds to be noted in the register of receipts.

11. In the case of refunds of land revenue receipts, a note, attested by the initials of the officer making the refund, should be made in the column of remarks against the original entry in the treasury registers in which the receipt is shown.

Section VI.—Nazir's Accounts.

Direct payments to treasury.

1. No money should be unnecessarily allowed to pass through the Nazir's hands. Direct payments into the treasury should be insisted on, and direct payments made whenever this is possible.

Books to be kept.

2. Every Nazir shall keep the following books:—

A.—A cash-book with subsidiary registers as described below.

B.—A treasury remittance-book.

C.—A stock-book.

How to be kept.

3. In the general cash-book (A) should be shown the details of all receipts and payments not included in any subsidiary register, and the daily totals of receipts and payments included in such a register. The number of subsidiary registers to be kept must vary in different districts. One subsidiary register should show realisations under process. When realisations under process of any particular kind are numerous, there may be more than one such register. In it should appear disbursements on account of stamps representing process fees not paid before the issue of process.

Stamps for process fees.

4. It should be noted, with reference to the last rule, that whenever a process has issued without previous payment of fee for the realisation of any sum, the Nazir, out of the first amount which he recovers, should purchase stamps to the amount of the process fees due, and affix them to his report of recovery. If payment is offered to the officer by whom a process was issued, he should require a report from the Nazir that the process fees have been paid before accepting payment. To such report stamps to the amount of the fee should be affixed. It is the record-keeper's duty to report the fact if the record of any case in which process fees were recoverable should be sent to him without stamps denoting the proper fee.

Initialling of Treasury remittance book.

5. Each entry in the Treasury remittance-book (B) is to be initialled by the Accountant. Each entry of Rs. 500 or over is to be also initialled by the Treasury Officer, and each entry below

Rs. 500 is to be also initialled by the Treasurer as an acquittance to the Nazir.

Stock-book.

6. The stock-book is to be kept in the subjoined form C by every civil officer, showing the live-stock, European and other stores, and moveable property in his custody, including iron safes, European locks, European scales and weights, tents, ordnance stores, machines of European manufacture, scientific and mathematical instruments, boats, vehicles, horses and elephants; but articles of ordinary office furniture (such as benches, tables, racks, wooden and tin boxes), books, and articles of petty value, stores (such as stationery) supplied for consumption, and stamps, opium, and other stores supplied for sale, for the audit of which there are independent arrangements, should not be shown in the stock-book. All new purchases and sales, &c., of old stock should be entered at the time.

Nazir under Sarishtadar's supervision.

7. The Nazir is under the general supervision of the Sarishtadar, who will examine his accounts and initial his cash-book daily.

Certificate of correctness of Nazir's accounts.

8. At the close of each month the Assistant or Deputy Collector in charge of the Nazir's Department is to satisfy himself and certify to the Collector that the Nazir's accounts have been duly kept.

9. The above rules apply, mutatis mutandis, to subdivisional offices, the head-clerks of which are also Sarishtadars for the purpose of rule 7.

Instructions for keeping the stock-book.

1. In case of stock on hand at the opening of the original register, it is only necessary to give date of receipt for tents and other articles which are renewed after fixed periods.

2. Of muskets and similar articles, large numbers may be received at one time; a column for number has therefore been provided, and if all are not returned into store at once, the number returned at each time should be noted in the column of date of disposal.

3. If the value credited by the Ordnance Department for returned stores be not known to the officers who returned them, the column of value realised will be blank in his register.

4. In the columns provided for initials, initials of the head of the office will be set against each entry in the original register; and the number of the voucher and the name of the account from which the item is taken should be noted.

5. Surgical instruments, for the audit of which independent arrangements exist in the Military Department, need not be included in the stock-book.

6. Instruments issued by the Mathematical Instrument Department must be brought on the stock-book and shown in the returns.

CHAPTER V.

Budget and Miscellaneous Treasury Rules.

Section I.—Preparation of Budget Estimates.

1. The following rules are not intended to supersede, but merely to bring together in a convenient form and to supplement, some of the instructions given in the Civil Account Code and the Bengal Treasury Manual.

Preparation of Budget estimates.

2. The Budget estimates should be carefully prepared in accordance with the instructions contained in Article 155 of the Civil Account Code, and the following rules should be observed by local officers and Heads of Departments in the preparation of the details of their estimates.

Form of estimates.

3. Printed forms for the preparation of estimates are supplied to all officers by the Accountant-General and only these forms should be used, as it is an object of great importance to secure uniformity of detail in order to facilitate compilation into one general form of Budget estimate for the Province.

4. The forms contain columns to show, both for receipts and for expenditure:—

i.—The headings under which the items should be classified.

ii.—The actuals of the year preceding that for which the estimate is being framed.

iii.—The sanctioned estimates of the year preceding that for which the estimate is being framed.

iv.—The proposed estimates of the year.

v.—Explanation of increase or decrease.

5. In the expenditure portion of the estimates a column is provided to show the number of employés on the strength of the establishment in the year for which the estimate is being framed as well as the number in the preceding year. The figures should be shown separately against each detailed head of the prescribed form. If provision has to be made under any head not included in the forms it should be entered in manuscript.

Description of Budget estimates to be submitted.

6. The following lists, marked (A) and (B) respectively, show: (i) the budget estimate sheets to be submitted through Divisional Commissioners to the Board for transmission to the Accountant-General, Bengal, and: (ii) those to be furnished by District Officers either direct or through Divisional Commissioners to the Accountant-General.

With regard to list (A), it is to be distinctly understood that the marginally noted budget estimates together with the resolutions recorded in respect of them, should be submitted to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue Miscellaneous Revenue Department, for transmission to the Accountant-General. The remaining budget estimates together with the resolutions thereon, should be submitted to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue Land Revenue Department.

Date of submission of Budget estimates.

7. It is a matter of great importance that budget estimates should be furnished to the Accountant-General on the dates fixed by the Government of Bengal, Financial Department, in Resolution No. 4238½-F., dated 3rd August 1894. In order to ensure this District Officers should personally see to the punctual submission of their budget estimates to controlling officers on the prescribed dates. They are reminded that any delay in the submission of the estimates prevents the completion of the consolidated Budget Estimate of the Province and necessarily leads to much inconvenience.

The estimates of District Officers should be submitted to the Commissioners of Revenue by the 1st August of each year, and Commissioners will pass on the district estimates, with their own, to the Board, so as to reach that office by the 1st September at latest. The estimates should be submitted to the Board in duplicate, one copy being required for record in their office.

Notes.—(1) Under Government Order No. 584P.D., dated the 18th June 1900. (Board's Office Collection 7, File 133 of 1900) the estimates and returns relating to the district of Angul will continue to be submitted to Government by the Board.

(2) Under Government Order No. 2495, dated the 23rd July 1900 (Board's Office Collection 1, File 230 of 1900) the estimates for the management and improvement of the Government estates in the Sonthal Parganas will be furnished to the Board by the local officers.

Section II.—Estimates of Revenue.

Manner of preparation of estimates.

1. The estimates of revenue and receipts should show the amounts expected to be realised within the year, and those only. In estimating fixed revenue for the ensuing year, the calculations should be based upon the actual demand, including any arrears due for past years and the probabilities of its realisation during the year: in the case of fluctuating revenue, the estimate should be based upon a comparison of the last three years' receipts.

Framing of estimates under "I.—Land Revenue."

2. It has been brought to the notice of the Board that there is great diversity of practice in framing the yearly budget estimates under "I.—Land Revenue" against the headings—

(i) Fixed collections.
(ii) Surplus ditto.
(iii) Arrear ditto.
(iv) Collections from Government estates.

In order to secure uniformity, the Board, in consultation with the Accountant-General, Bengal, now issue the following instructions, which District Officers are requested to observe in future:—

should provide for the gross sanctioned pay of each incumbent to be drawn on 1st April of the year for which the estimate is framed, without reckoning future increments. A detailed list showing the rate of pay to be drawn by each incumbent working up to the amounts provided for in the estimate should be furnished with the estimates. If any increased establishment has been applied for, provision for the same should be made and the number and date of the letter in which sanction has been applied for should be inserted against the entry in the list.

Travelling allowances and contingencies.

2. For travelling allowances, contingent expenditure and other fluctuating charges, the estimates should, as a general rule, provide for the average actual expenditure of the past three years. If, however, any special expenditure is likely to be incurred during the year, provision for the same should be made with a full explanation of the reasons. No entries need be made in the column of actuals in respect of establishment charges.

NOTE.—With regard to establishment charges and fixed allowances, it should be remembered that the charges debited to the Budget grants are those actually paid from the Treasury within the official year. For example, pay and allowances for March fall due in April, and should be estimated for as payments of the latter month; thus if an establishment or a special allowance is sanctioned for a year from 1st April, the charge for the last month would become due when the next year had commenced and must be taken against the grant of that year; provision should be made accordingly.

Establishments employed on Revenue and Judicial duties.

3. The cost of establishments employed on both Revenue and Judicial duties, which is debitable in moieties to Land Revenue and to Law and Justice, should be entered in moieties in the separate estimates of Collectors and Magistrates, respectively.

Contract contingent charges.

4. No provision need be made in the estimates for contract contingent charges.

Travelling allowance.

5. The estimate under "Travelling Allowance" should, as in the case of contingent expenditure, be based generally on the average of the actuals of the three preceding years. If an unusually large expenditure on this account is anticipated, the necessary provision for the same should be made in the estimates, and a note should be inserted in the column of remarks giving reasons for the increased provision made.

Savings.

6. Savings in grants allotted for expenditure in a financial year cannot be utilised for expenditure in the succeeding year. If, however, expenditure for a specific purpose, such as "House-rent," Municipal Rates and Taxes, &c., payable in a year was not claimed in the year and is required to be disbursed in the succeeding year, the necessary provision for the charge should be made in the estimates, and a note should be made against the entry in the estimates explaining the cause of the increased provision.

7. In all cases where the estimate for the year for which it is being framed differs from that of the preceding year, a full explanation must be given justifying the figures proposed to be adopted.

Difference in estimates to be explained.

8. With regard to contingencies, it has been stated (rule 2) that the estimates should be based on the average actual expenditure of the previous three years. These charges therefore require careful scrutiny, and should not be allowed to exceed the average of the past three years' actuals without satisfactory reasons being given for the increase.

Contingencies.

9. Similarly, in the case of all fluctuating items, either of revenue or expenditure, if for any special reason it is necessary to provide for larger receipts or expenditure than the average of the actuals of the past three years, full explanations must be given in the estimates in justification of the increase.

Fluctuating items of revenue and expenditure.

10. Pensions are not to be included in the Revenue Department estimates, as the Accountant-General prepares a special budget for them.

Pension.

11. Charges for rates or municipal taxes on Government buildings should be estimated in the Magistrates' and the Collectors' offices for the buildings in their departments, but to ensure accuracy, the estimates of the Collectors' office should be made in communication with the Magistrate's office, as the latter, having to deal with the municipalities of the district, can furnish correct information as to the buildings assessed, and of the rate of assessment. A list of the buildings and the rate at which each is assessed should accompany the estimate of the department occupying the building.

Estimates for rates or municipal taxes on Government buildings.

Section IV.—Extra and Supplementary Budget Allotments.

1. The budget estimates of local offices for any particular year being prepared and submitted in the middle of the previous year, emergencies not unfrequently arise which have not, and could not have, been provided for. It may also happen that, through inadvertence, or the non-receipt of the necessary information, duly sanctioned charges are omitted from a budget estimate.

Emergencies and omissions.

2. In the latter case the omission, if brought to light at a sufficiently early period, may be supplied by the submission of a supplementary estimate, to the preparation of which all the rules and conditions, under which the regular budget is drawn up,

Preparation of supplementary estimates.

Insert the following as rule 8B., Section III, Chapter V, page 110 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

"8B. The Board of Revenue, Commissioners of Divisions, the Director of Land Records, the Director of Agriculture and the Opium Agents of Bihar and Benares, are authorised to sanction the supply of copying machines (such as typewriters or cyclostyles), subject to the submission of a re-appropriation statement to the Accountant-General, Bengal, showing how the cost is to be met. On receipt of that statement the Accountant-General will forward the requisition to the Controller of Stamps, Stationery and Printing, and adjust the charge in the manner indicated in the Financial Department Circular No. 28F., dated the 29th August 1906. No further sanction of Government is necessary." 1-11-1908.

Government Circulars Nos. 16F., dated the 26th March 1908, and 40F., dated the 5th September 1908.

SLIP No. 95.

Add the following as Rule 4A to Section IV, Chapter V page 111 of the Board's Rules, 1902:—

4A. The Commissioners and the District Officers are authorised to entertain temporary establishments in Revenue offices in accordance with scales laid down by Government. When there is no budget provision, the expenditure for such items is allowed by Government to proceed against the total grants provided in the Provincial Budget. If the total grant for any item is likely to be exceeded, the Accountant-General, Bengal, will report the probable excess to Government and necessary re-appropriation will be made. The salary of the additional men should be drawn on separate bills supported, in the case of the first bill for each additional appointment, by a certificate from the officer making the appointment that the conditions laid down by the Government are satisfied. 3-12-1905.

apply. Such supplementary estimates will usually be received by the Board up to the end of November; but local officers should, by carefully preparing within the prescribed time complete estimates of expected expenditure, provide, as far as possible, against the necessity for the submission of supplementary estimates, as they cause trouble both in the Board's and the Accountant-General's office.

Excess expenditure not to be incurred in anticipation of sanction.

3. Except in the case of inevitable payments, such as are referred to in the following rule, expenditure in excess of the sanctioned budget grant for the year may not be incurred in anticipation of sanction to an extra grant, and when an officer exceeds the annual grant at his disposal he may, under the orders of Government, be held personally responsible for the excess expenditure.

Establishment charges.

4. Expenditure upon establishments sanctioned by competent authority, as well as payments which are obligatory (e.g., under decrees of Court), should be paid when due even though they are not provided for in the budget; but this does not remove the necessity of obtaining supplementary grants for such expenditure, as under Article 158 of the Civil Account Code expenditure which cannot be met from the grant made at the beginning of the year for the service of the department to which it appertains, requires, ipso facto and apart from all other rules, the sanction of Government.

Applications for extra budget allotments.

5. Should the necessity for making a disbursement during the year budgetted for come to light after the period within which a supplementary budget can be submitted, an extra budget allotment must be applied for in the subjoined form showing how it is proposed to meet the expenditure, together with the necessary application for departmental sanction. The same course should be adopted in all cases in which a disbursement, for which no budget provision has been made, becomes necessary during the year then current. It is absolutely necessary that such applications should reach the office of the Accountant-General, Bengal, by the 15th March at the latest so that the orders of Government may be obtained before the close of the year, as after the year has closed no re-appropriation of budget grant is admissible.

A copy of the form in question should be forwarded by the sanctioning authority, together with the order of sanction, to the Audit office. Where re-appropriation is made from an existing grant, the Audit office will conduct the audit against the reduced grant.

submitting applications for additional grants to meet charges not provided for, or insufficiently provided for, in the estimates, it is necessary, under the instructions in Article 158 of the Civil Account Code, to mention in the re-appropriation statement the specific head or heads of charge under which savings will be effected to meet the excess expenditure, vide form annexed to rule 5.

Details to be specified in appropriation statements.

In case no re-appropriation of a budget grant is found possible, the fact should be clearly stated in the re-appropriation statement, as otherwise it will be necessary to return the statement for supply of the omission.

7. Every application for an extra budget grant should be submitted in triplicate to the Commissioner of the Division, who will, if departmental sanction has been already accorded, or if he considers that it should be accorded, to the work on which the money is to be spent, forward the same to the office of the Board in the proper department, with his remarks. The Board after considering the Commissioner's report, will decide on the merits of the application, and will either reject it, or forward it to Government, through the Accountant-General, Bengal, for sanction, as may seem proper.

Applications for extra grants to be submitted to the Commissioner.

8. When the expenditure cannot be met by a re-appropriation of the funds transferred from one detailed head to another in the same provincial budget, the Board, if they approve the proposed extra grant, will submit the application to Government for sanction, through the Accountant-General. In such a case the orders of Government will be necessary for departmental sanction to the work, as well as to a re-appropriation of the budget provision by transfer to the head to which the extra charge appertains of a portion of the sanctioned grant made under a head to which the expenditure does not properly belong.

Applications for extra grants how to be dealt with by the Board.

9. Save for exceptional reasons, expenditure for which no provision has been made in the estimates of the current year should not be proposed, and cannot be sanctioned; in the absence of special explanations, the Government of India assumes that any proposed expenditure is intended to have effect from the beginning of the following financial year, and not earlier. In all applications for sanction to expenditure, it should be distinctly stated whether provision for the proposed charge has, or has not, been made in the budget estimate of the year, and, if not, whether it can be met from savings in existing grants. Whenever, therefore, a proposition of this kind is made, the fact that provision has not been made in the imates for the desired expenditure should be prominently set rth, as well as the particular reasons why it is, nevertheless, con idered

Expenditure not provided for not to be incurred till the following financial year.

necessary that the outlay should be incurred immedi not postponed to the next financial year. Explanation also be invariably given as to why the need for the expen was not foreseen in time to obtain sanction for its inclusion in the estimates.—(Civil Account Code, Chapter 9-9.)

Applications for extra budget grants to be made only when the allotment in the department concerned is found insufficient.

10. An application for an extra budget grant should in no case be sent up until it is evident that the budget allotment of the office or department making the application will be insufficient under the particular head of expenditure to which it is proposed to debit the disbursement for which funds are required.

Departmental sanction necessary.

11. These rules in no way supersede the necessity for submitting applications for departmental sanction to previously unsanctioned charges, provision to meet the cost of which exists in the budget of the office by which the expenditure is to be incurred.

Section V.—Charge of Treasury.

Appointment of Assistant or Deputy Collectors.

1. On sufficient cause being shown, Commissioners of revenue may authorise Collectors to transfer to any Assistant or Deputy Collector, any, or all, of the administrative duties connected with the treasury.

Does not save Collector's responsibility.

2. It is, however, to be clearly understood that a Collector does not, by such transfer, divest himself of his responsibility for the good ordering of the business of the treasury, and that he is not exempted from the duty of examining and certifying to the amount of the cash balance every month.

Drawing bills.

3. The power of drawing bills on other treasuries is not to be exercised by any Assistant or Deputy Collector, until his authority to do so has been notified in the Gazette, under the signature of the Commissioner.

Native Deputy Collector.

4. A Native Deputy Collector must not be put in charge o a treasury unless he has a fluent acquaintance with the English language. The Government of Bengal has ordered that native officers, signing orders for payment of money, shall give their signature in full. The signature of only the final name, such as Roy, Dutt or Bose, is insufficient; the first names should also be signed in full.

Officer to be thoroughly qualified.

5. No officer should be placed in charge of a treasury until he has been thoroughly instructed in the rules issued for the guidance of treasury officers. Commissioners are specially enjoined to satisfy themselves on this point before giving sanction to a Collector's recommendation. In this connection, Board's Circular Order No. 8 of April 1896, which is reproduced in the Appendix to this Chapter, should be referred to.

Duties of Collector.

6. It is the duty of the Collector to see that the strong-room is safe, the chests substantial, the hinges, hasps, &c., in good order and unremovable, and the locks sufficient, and also to satisfy himself that the duplicate keys (which are always sold with Chubbs' locks) are with the Superintendent of Stationery.

Valuables for safe custody.

7. Valuables of the following kinds only may be received by the Treasury Officer for safe custody, and they should be kept in the same way as cash :—

(1)—Books of bill forms.

(2)—Books of money-order forms.

(The books in current use remaining in the treasury officer's personal possession.)

(3)—Advices of bills.

(3*a*)—Opium.

(3*b*)—Stamps of all kinds.

(4)—Promissory notes or bonds deposited as security in connection with Government work and endorsed to the officer with whom they are deposited.

(5)—Promissory notes, bullion, jewellery, or other valuables connected with any case, executive or judicial, and directed by the District Officer to be placed in the treasury for safe custody.

(6)—Church plate.

Register to be kept.

8. For valuables for which separate registers have not been prescribed, a register should be kept in the following form :—

Date of receipt.	Circumstances and conditions of receipt.	List and description of property.	Initials of the—		Note of final disposal with receipt of person to whom delivered.	Initials of the—

Section VI.—Custody of duplicate keys of Chubb's locks in use in treasuries, sub-treasuries and other departments.

Register of locks and keys.

1. Every officer in charge of a district treasury, sub-treasury, treasure chest, or any other department which uses Chubb's locks, shall keep a register in Form No. 48.

Numbering of locks and keys.

2. The Superintendent of Stationery, before he issues a Chubb's lock, is required to impress on it, or attach to it by a metal or other label, a distinct number, and the same number shall be impressed on or attached to each key belonging to it. No two locks in the same district shall bear the same number.

Custody of duplicate keys and their annual examination.

3. The Superintendent of Stationery will keep the duplicate keys of all locks which he issues, and once a year, in the month of April, he is required to examine them, and note the fact of having done so in the Remarks column of the register prescribed in rule 3, paragraph 12, Section II, Volume I of the Stationery Manual. All spare locks, except those the retention of which has been sanctioned by the Board under rule 5 below, and the duplicate keys of Chubb's locks of any department which an officer of that department may have in his possession, should be at once forwarded to the Superintendent of Stationery.

Loss of keys.

4. When the key of any Chubb's lock is lost, a seal shall forthwith be placed on the lock, so that it cannot be unlocked without breaking the seal, and an application for the duplicate key shall at once be made to the Superintendent of Stationery. Such other precautions as considerations of safety may require, e.g., the addition of another padlock, should also be taken; and if the key is the key of a treasury strong-room or chest, the loss should be at once reported to the Board. When the lock has been opened by the duplicate key, the lock and keys shall be immediately forwarded to the Superintendent of Stationery. In a case of great urgency, or where some malpractice is suspected, the locks should be broken ope[illegible]

Unserviceable and spare locks.

5. If a Chubb's lock becomes unserviceable or ceases to be required, it shall be returned to the Superintendent of Stationery. No spare locks should be kept at a sub-treasury, or, except with the permission of the Board, at a district treasury.

Repairs, &c.

6. No local mechanic shall ever be allowed to repair a Chubb's lock, or to make a new key for one.

Examination of locks and keys on transfer of charge of Treasury.

7. Whenever the charge of a treasury is transferred, or a treasurer is changed, all locks and keys belonging to the treasury shall be examined and compared with the register, and a certificate shall be signed that they have been found to be correct.

Inspection of locks and keys.

Section VII.—Duties and Responsibilities of District and Treasury Officers in respect of Public Money kept in Treasuries of which they are in charge.

1. A District Officer is personally responsible to Government for the due accounting for all moneys received and disbursed; for the agreement between the departmental returns and the cash accounts (both of which go out under his signature), and the registers kept in the treasury; and for the safe custody of cash, notes, stamps, opium, securities and other Government property. Although the Collector may manage his treasury by a deputy, he must not treat his treasury as a separate and independent office. Letters addressed to the Treasury Officer must be regarded as addressed to himself. He should not address his Treasury Officer by separate letter, as if he were an independent officer, and then forward the Treasury Officer's explanation, instead of his own, in reply to questions or inquiries touching his treasury business (Civil Account Code, Chapter 18, Articles 301 and 302). When any irregularity is brought to his notice, nothing but a report on his own knowledge, after personal investigation, can be considered satisfactory.

Responsibility of District Officer.

Treasury not to be considered a separate and independent office.

2. The District Officer is bound to satisfy himself by a periodical examination (at least once in every two months for cash, once in every quarter for deposits, and once in each half-year for stamps, opium, securities, bill and money-order forms)—(1st) that the actual stock of cash, stamps, opium, and securities is kept under joint lock and key, and corresponds with the book balances, and that the treasurer does not hold a sum larger than is necessary for the convenient transaction of the Government business, or larger than the security given by him; (2nd) that the deposit registers are kept up according to the rules prescribed in the Code; (3rd) that the stock of bill, money-order, and similar forms, which are intended for use in money transactions, is carefully kept under lock and key, and periodically tallied with the nominal balance of such forms on the stock books; and (4th) that the tahsil balances are verified once a year by a Gazetted Officer, if possible by a Covenanted Officer. Where subdivisional treasuries are in charge of gazetted officers, the Collector should verify the balances during his cold-weather tour. The examination of the deposit registers is not intended to be mechanical, and to secure only that all necessary entries are made and initialled, without fail at the time of the Periodical examination by District Officer.

Nature of examination of deposit registers.

transaction; but also that no moneys are unnecessarily placed in deposit, or allowed to remain there, without good cause.

Duties of District Officers.

3. The District Officer, unless unable to perform the duty from physical inability, or from absence on tour, is required to sign the periodical accounts (Civil Account Code, Chapter 18, Article 336). He is also required to see that implicit obedience is given to the instructions issued from the Account Office, and to send immediate notice to the Accountant-General of any embezzlement in an office or treasury. This notice must be supplemented, as soon as possible afterwards, by a detailed report after personal inquiry into the case.

Verification of stock.

4. The District Officer should be especially careful, when assuming or making over charge of a district, to see that the stock is thoroughly verified, and the certificate which is required from the transferor and transferee, showing the state of the cash, stamps, and opium balances, should be invariably despatched to the Accountant-General on the same day that charge is transferred.

N.B.—It is not sufficient only to count bags of treasure. The contents of all the bags must be turned out and passed through the scales, unless the bags are of net, when the contents of all are visible.

Responsibility of officer in charge of treasury or sub-treasury.

5. As the Collector's delegate and representative, the treasury officer is responsible to the Collector primarily for the right discharge of his duty. Just as Government hold the Collector responsible in the first instance, and expect from him such a general supervision as is incumbent upon an officer entrusted with the collection of the revenue and the payment of Government dues, so will the Collector look to the treasury officer for a thorough observance of all prescribed treasury rules, and strict attention to all the details of the daily routine of treasury work. The treasury officer is responsible to the Collector for the working of the treasury, and for the conduct of the subordinate treasury officials, and has carefully prepared rules for his guidance in every branch of his duties. The above remarks apply also to the officer in charge of a subdivisional treasury.

Section VIII.—Treasurer.

Working balance in custody of treasurer.

1. A separate chest should be placed at the sole disposal of the treasurer, in which a working balance is to be kept. Its maximum should be fixed at the lowest convenient figure, and must never, including cash, notes, stamps, &c., exceed the amount for which the treasurer has given security. The maximum value of stamps left with the treasurer is not to exceed one week's supply. In the largest treasury, the cash in the treasurer's possession need never exceed Rs. 3,000. The sum so held by the treasurer should be roughly verified night and morning.

Responsibilities of treasuror.

3. The treasurer is to make payments only on orders of payment passed by the accountant, and signed by the Treasury Officer. He is responsible for any loss by the receipt of light weight or uncurrent rupees.

Treasurer not to receive public money except at treasury;

4. The treasurer may receive no public money, except at the public treasury, upon pain of immediate dismissal.

or private money for deposit in treasury.

5. The treasurer may receive no private cash or valuables for deposit in the public treasury.

May appoint subordinates.

6. The treasurer should be allowed to appoint his own subordinates.

Grading of treasurers and their securities.

7. The treasurers of Midnapore, Darbhanga, Muzaffarpur, Saran, Shahabad, Chittagong, and Gaya are first grade officers, receiving Rs. 100 a month, and give Rs. 20,000 security.

8. Those of the following districts are second grade officers, receive Rs. 80 a month, and give Rs. 15,000 security :—

Darjeeling.	Faridpur.	Murshidabad.
Backergunge.	Hooghly.	Mymensingh.
Bhagalpur.	Jessore.	Noakhali.
Burdwan.	Khulna.	Nadia.
Cuttack.	Monghyr.	24-Parganas.
	Tippera.

9. The remainder are third grade officers, receive Rs. 65 a month (except the treasurer of Singhbhum, who gets Rs. 45 a month), and give Rs. 10,000 security. There are no treasurers in the districts of Dacca and Patna, the work being carried on through the agency of the Bank of Bengal.

Section IX.—Inspection of Treasuries.

Inspection of treasuries.

1. The general orders in the Civil Account Code for the inspection of treasuries are contained in Volume I, Chapter 18, Articles 339 to 341, sixth edition. For facilitating the work of inspection, a separate form of questions has been prescribed by the Accountant-General, which should be adopted in preference to the set of questions given in Appendix H of the Code. The Board direct the attention of inspecting officers to the importance of satisfying themselves that the personal assurances, which are periodically given by officers in charge of money and stamps, are strictly and literally in accordance with fact. In this respect, instances of laxity are constantly coming to light. Recently an officer certified that a certain sum (which had actually been paid out) was in his custody, in the shape of pice ; and in another case, a Treasury Officer was found to have periodically certified to the effect that he held certificates from the Subdivisional Officers, that they had themselves counted the money in their charge on a certain date and found it to be so much, whereas, in fact, the Subdivisional Officers had not certified to that effect. It is evident that if these personal certificates are not given in strict accordance with fact, not only are they useless, but they are mischievous, as creating an impression of security on the part of the controlling officers for which there is no ground. If, in any case the requirement of these personal certificates imposes on any officer a duty which practically he cannot perform, the proper course is obviously to point out the difficulty to a superior authority, and not to allow certificates to be submitted which comply with the requirement in form only. In any case in which a Commissioner or other inspecting officer finds that the treasury management is not satisfactory, he should necessarily go very much deeper into details in his inspection.

Treasury inspections by Collectors and Subdivisional officers.

2. Every Collector and every Subdivisional Officer in charge of a treasury is to make a systematic inspection of the working of his treasury once in six months. For want of such inspections, abuses and errors have been found to prevail in treasuries for years, although they were of such a nature that they could not have failed to attract at once the attention of an inspecting officer, looking at them from another stand-point than that of "the custom of the office." Collectors are to transmit copies of their inspection memoranda to Commissioners for information. No date for this return can be fixed, as it is not desired that the inspection shall be made on any fixed dates.

Copies to Commissioners.

NOTE.—Where a second Deputy Collector is attached to a subdivision and is placed in charge of the sub-treasury, the Subdivisional Officer is not relieved from the duty of inspection imposed by this rule.

Treasury inspections by Commissioners.

3. Commissioners are to inspect every treasury in their division at least once in two years, the memoranda embodying the result of their inspection being forwarded to the Board, who will pass them on to the Accountant-General of Bengal in original. The inspection memoranda received from Collectors relating to district treasuries are also to be forwarded, with the Commissioner's remarks, to the Board for transmission to the Accountant-General. Commissioners are, whenever practicable, to acquaint the Accountant-General beforehand with their intention to visit treasuries, in order that they may be informed of any matters requiring special attention. The printed forms of Treasury Inspection Reports can be obtained, on indent, from the Superintendent of Stationery, and all reports have to be submitted in the printed form with a clear and definite answer to each question. When irregularities are detected in the working of any treasury, Commissioners should issue orders for their correction to the officer in charge of the treasury concerned, and note the same in their inspection report.

Inspection of subdivisional treasuries.

4. A set of questions to be used in the inspection of subdivisional treasuries has been framed by the Board, and printed copies are obtainable from the Superintendent of Stationery. If District Officers do not receive a supply from the Superintendent of Stationery, they are to indent for copies, and their replies to the questions are to be submitted to Commissioners. Commissioners will deal with these inspection reports without referring to the Accountant-General, but they should take the opportunity of bringing to the notice of the Board any material irregularities which may be brought to light.

Reports how to be dealt with.

District and Divisional Officers responsible.

5. The responsibility for the due administration of treasuries and sub-treasuries rests with District and Divisional Officers, and not with the Accountant-General. The latter is not responsible for dealing completely with inspection reports, which are, in fact, sent to him for information rather than for his orders. The general rules for the management of treasuries are contained in the following orders:—

Civil Account Code, Volume I.
The Bengal Treasury Manual.
Accountant General's Rules for subdivisional treasure chests.
Rules for the receipt and payment of money by Judicial Officers, issued by the High Court.

Rules relating to custody, supply, and sale of stamps of all kinds—Appendix K,—Civil Account Code, Vol. I, sixth edition.

Section X.—Miscellaneous.

Officers to whom money is entrusted are personally responsible.

1. Officers to whom advances have been made, or to whom public money has been in any way entrusted, shall, as a general rule, be held personally responsible for such money, if it happens to be lost or stolen while in their immediate custody, or from a police station in which it may have been placed by their order, unless they can clearly show that every reasonable precaution was taken by them for its safe custody.

Subdivisional Treasuries.

2. In subdivisions to which Sub-Deputy Collectors are attached, in addition to the Subdivisional Officer, the Collector of the district may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, place a Sub-Deputy Collector in charge of the sub-treasury, at any time when pressure of work renders this course desirable. In such cases, however, the Subdivisional Officer must still be considered responsible for the proper transaction of the treasury work, and he must satisfy himself by an inspection, at least once in three months, that the work is being done according to rule. In the absence of the Subdivisional Officer in the interior of his subdivision, the Collector may by a general order (as provided by rule 5, Section VII, Chapter III) adopt a similar course. In all such subdivisions the sub-treasury shall be kept open, as far as possible, all the year round, on the same dates as the district treasury is open, and in any case, it shall be opened at least once a week when the Subdivisional Officer is on tour. In subdivisions to which Sub-Deputy Collectors are not attached, it is impossible to lay down any hard-and-fast rule, and the requirements of the Postal Department cannot be allowed to disturb the arrangements made for carrying on the ordinary administration; but even in such cases, it can rarely be necessary for the Subdivisional Officer to absent himself for long periods at a time from head-quarters, and he should, as far as possible, arrange to return to his head-quarters at least one day in the week, for the discharge of sub-treasury and other business. On these occasions previous notice should be given to the Postal Department, and to the public generally, of his return. Under any circumstances the Subdivisional Officer must be at his head-quarters between the 1st and 7th of each month, for a time sufficient for the issue of pay, stamps, and opium, unless there is a Sub-Deputy Collector to whom this duty can be entrusted. The treasury-chest and books must be absolutely closed when neither the Subdivisional Officer nor a Sub-Deputy Collector is in charge.

Excise remittances,

3. When money is remitted to a district or subdivisional treasury through the police, by an excise officer, such officer shall give notice of the despatch, at the same time, through the post or other separate channel, to the receiving officer of the treasury.

to where, and how often.

4. Excise officers should remit daily their collections of excise revenue to the sadar or subdivisional treasuries, provided they are at the sadar station of a district, or the head-quarters of a subdivision, or not more than two miles from either, but when the treasuries are situated at greater distances, the remittances should be made every second or third day, according to the distance and the sum to be remitted. Collections need not be forwarded to such treasuries until they amount to Rs. 50.

Distribution of duties in subdivisional treasuries.

5. A case of defalcation occurred in a subdivisional treasury, where one and the same clerk was both treasurer and accountant. Such a combination of duties was contrary to the rules issued by the Accountant-General, for subdivisional treasuries; but as this did not appear to be universally known, the Board framed a definite rule on the subject, and directed that in subdivisional treasuries the head-clerk should in future be the Treasurer, and the second clerk the Accountant, unless otherwise expressly ordered by the Commissioner of the Division, who is authorised to issue such orders as may seem advisable in special cases, where difficulty may be experienced in giving effect to the general rule. The Commissioner is also to determine, for each subdivisional treasury, what security the head-clerk treasurer should give.

Treasury duties in the Durga Puja vacation.

6. The Postmaster-General of Bengal having brought to notice the inconvenience occasioned to the Money Order Branch of the Postal Department, by the general cessation of work, for many days in succession, at the treasuries in Bengal, the Board issued the following instructions, under the orders of Government, with a view of obviating this inconvenience :—

"District Officers must make the necessary arrangements, in communication with the postmasters for receiving money in the treasury from the Money Order Branch of the Postal Department once or twice during the Durga Puja vacation. The money so received must be deposited by the postmaster in sealed bags which for safe custody will be kept in a box in the strong-room of the treasury. The box itself will be under the single lock of the postmaster, and no responsibility for its contents will be taken by the treasury."

Encashment of bills.

7. The attention of Government has been drawn to many cases of laxity in the encashment of bills in treasuries in which—

(a) the pay-order was not signed by the Treasury Officer;
(b) there was a difference between the amount ordered for payment in figures and in words; and (c) the pay order was for an amount differing from the total of the bill.

All these cases indicate culpable carelessness on the part of the Accountant and of the Treasury Officer, and in cases (a) and (b) of the Treasurer also. The treasurer would also be responsible in cases falling under (c) if the amount he pays is not the amount named in the pay-order.

Report of defalcation.

8. As serious frauds may easily arise out of such carelessness and neglect, it has been directed by Government that the Accountant-General is to bring to the notice of Government every case of the kind which may occur in future, and to report at the same time the names of the officials concerned. The local officers are required to report to the Accountant-General all cases of defalcation, and will correspond with him in regard to such cases, unless on receipt of any communication from him, the Board find it necessary to enter into separate correspondence with them. Immediately a case is discovered, a short report should be sent to the Accountant-General, who will forward it to the Board, by whom it will be submitted to Government. After the enquiry into the case has closed, a full report should similarly be sent to the Accountant-General. He will transmit a copy to the Board with his own remarks, and the Board will then submit a complete report to Government, specially noting whether any defect has been found in the existing system, whether any gazetted officer has been distinctly and gravely to blame, and whether the loss should be written off.

9. Under the orders of Government of India, No. $\frac{A}{1555}$, dated the 8th April 1896, to the Government of Bengal, the Board of Revenue are authorised to write off the irrecoverable value of stores or public money in all cases in which the amount to be written off does not exceed Rs. 1,000 and does not refer to Imperial Revenues.

APPENDIX to Chapter V, page 125—Omit the words "or Sub-Deputy" and "or Subdivisional" from paragraph 6 of the Government of India's Resolution No. 355, dated the 18th January 1882.

APPENDIX.

[See Section V, Rule 5.]

Circular Order No. 8 of April 1896.

It having been brought to the notice of the Board that officers who have not passed their departmental examination are sometimes placed in charge of district treasuries, the Board invite the attention of all Commissioners and District Officers to the subjoined extract (paragraphs 6 and 7) of Resolution No. 355, dated the 18th January 1882, by the Government of India, in the Department of Finance and Commerce, published in the Gazette of India, Part IA., dated the 21st idem, and republished in the Calcutta Gazette, Part I, dated the 25th idem.

2. The Resolution does not contemplate an unpassed officer being placed in charge of a treasury otherwise than for purposes of training for the limited periods prescribed in clause 2 of paragraph 7 of the Resolution, subject to the supervision of a qualified Treasury Officer, who is responsible, though allowed to relieve himself of the chief labour of the charge by utilising the services of the unpassed officer. The latter officer, therefore, should not be gazetted as placed in charge of the treasury. The provisions of the Resolution should be carefully observed in future.

Extract paragraphs 6 and 7 of the Resolution.

6. The appointment of young civilians, and of supernumerary and probationary Deputy Collectors, who have not passed all or any of their examinations, appears to have been a fruitful source of laxity and irregularities on the part of subordinate officials. His Excellency the Governor-General in Council directs that this practice may be discontinued, and that (except as provided in paragraph 7) no Deputy or Sub-Deputy Collector remain hereafter in charge of a district or subdivisional treasury, unless he has passed the departmental examination according to the higher standard, and has also been not less than three years in the service of Government.

7. In order to ensure a better acquaintance with the system of treasury accounts, and of the revenue accounts which in some provinces are an important contributory to the accuracy of the latter, His Excellency the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct—

1st.—That examination in treasury and local fund accounts, and in departmental revenue accounts, shall form a part of the test obligatory on all Assistant and Deputy Collectors or other officers, at the departmental examinations, according to both the lower and higher standards. The scope of the questions at the former will necessarily be somewhat elementary, but at the latter the candidate should be required to exhibit a satisfactory general acquaintance with the whole system of accounts as prevailing in the province in which he is employed. A paper of questions on treasury and local fund accounts, set by the local Accountant-General or Comptroller, should form a part of the examination under each standard.

2nd.—That every Assistant Magistrate, Deputy Magistrate, or Sub-Deputy Collector shall undergo a training in Treasury work, and shall, for that purpose, be placed in charge of a District Treasury, under the general supervision of the Deputy Collector ordinarily in charge for a period of not less than six weeks continuously. He will not be held to have passed the examination in Accounts by either standard, until the Collector of the District, to which he is attached, shall have furnished a certificate that he has, under the above provisions, duly attended to, and satisfactorily discharged, the duties of Treasury Officer for the prescribed period of six weeks within one year prior to the date on which he appeared for examination in Accounts. If a candidate has passed by the Lower Standard only, a second certificate will be required before he can be considered to have passed by the Higher Standard, unless at the time at which he presents himself for examination by the Higher Standard, less than a year has elapsed since the candidate was last in charge of a Treasury. The Collector will see that this certificate is forwarded to the Central Examination Committee at each Departmental Examination.

CHAPTER VI.

Money orders.

SECTION I.—RULES RELATING TO MONEY-ORDERS OTHER THAN REVENUE MONEY-ORDERS IN FAVOUR OF OFFICERS OF GOVERNMENT AND LOCAL BODIES ENTITLED TO BANK AT TREASURIES OR SUB-TREASURIES.

PART I.

Procedure in the Office of Issue.

Official money-order form.

1. Whenever a money-order presented for issue is drawn in favour of any officer of Government or of a local body in his official capacity, it will be the duty of the Money-order Clerk, or Sub or Branch Postmaster, to see that the proper form of money-order is used.

Revenue money-order form.

*2. If the remittance is for land revenue, road cess, public works cess, or zamindari dâk cess, the revenue money-order form must be used, and the rules relating to revenue money-orders must be observed.

Inland money-order form.

3. If the remittance is for any other purpose, the ordinary inland money-order form must be used.

Limit of amount.

4. The rule prohibiting the inclusion of pies (fractions of an anna) is not applicable to money-orders in favour of any officer of Government or local body in his official capacity. Such money-orders may contain any fraction of an anna not less than one pie. Remittances of amounts including fractions of pies are not allowed. The limit of the amount of a single money-order is the same as of any other ordinary money-order.

Forms for different kinds of remittances.

5. If a remitter of land revenue, road cess, public works cess, or zamindari dâk cess, desires to remit at the same time any sum due to Government on any other account, he must use a revenue money-order for the remittance of land revenue, road cess, public works cess, or zamindari dâk cess, or for so many of these dues as he wishes to remit, and a separate ordinary inland money-order form for each of the other remittances.

---

* The Revenue money-order form and the Revenue money-order rules are given in Section XIII, Chapter II, page 12 of the Tauzi Manual, 1899.

remitter is responsible for the correctness of the entries, but it is the duty of the Money-order Clerk or Sub-Postmaster or Branch Postmaster to refuse any money-order in which all the particulars are not entered.

(b) If the remitter is illiterate, the Money-order Clerk or Sub- or Branch Postmaster should give him any aid he may require to fill up the entries. The Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster must give this aid freely, and may not demand or accept any gratification in return on pain of dismissal.

Post office to help remitter in making entries.

(c) The income-tax coupon should then be carefully and strongly pasted by the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Post-master to the blank space provided on the coupon of the money-order form. Care must be taken that the coupon is not pasted over any part of the acknowledgment.

Income-tax coupon, how to be pasted.

8. When an ordinary inland money-order form is used for remittance on any account other than income-tax, the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster must see that particulars of the object of the remittance are entered clearly on the ordinary coupon of the form. If the object of the remittance is not clearly stated on the coupon, the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster should not accept the order until the omission is rectified and the object clearly stated. The Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster should give any aid that the remitter may require to fill up the coupon, and may not demand or accept any gratification in return on pain of dismissal. In the case of a telegraphic money-order the remitter should be requested to advise the nature of the remittance by a separate telegram to the payee.

Filling up of coupon in other cases.

Remittance by telegraphic money-orders.

After the money-order has been properly filled up, it should be received and dealt with in the same way as any other ordinary inland money-order.

Treatment of money-orders.

10. Every remitter of a money-order, other than a rent or revenue money-order, in favour of an officer of Government or of a local body, should be informed that, instead of the usual money-order acknowledgment, signed by the payee, he will ordinarily receive the usual departmental receipt, which will be forwarded to him direct by post, and that he should address the payee regarding it if he do not receive it in due course. He should also be advised to keep the carbonic receipt carefully until he receives either the formal departmental receipt from the payee or the usual money-order acknowledgment.

Receipt for money-order.

Separate form to be used for each Government due remitted by ordinary inland money-order.

6. A separate money-order form must be used for each Government due remitted by the ordinary inland money-order, and remittances on two accounts may not be included in one ordinary money-order.

Income-tax coupon.

7. (a) If the remittance is on account of income-tax, the remitter must be furnished with one of the special income-tax coupons (Form 1—G. M. O.), and must fill up all the particulars indicated thereon.* The remitter is responsible for the correctness of the entries, but it is the duty of the Money-order Clerk or Sub-Postmaster or Branch Postmaster to refuse any money-order in which all the particulars are not entered.

Office of issue to help remitter in making entries.

(b) If the remitter is illiterate, the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster should give him any aid he may require to fill up the entries. The Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster must give this aid freely, and may not demand or accept any gratification in return on pain of dismissal.

Income-tax coupon, how to be pasted.

(c) The income-tax coupon should then be carefully and strongly pasted by the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster to the blank space provided on the coupon of the money-order form. Care must be taken that the coupon is not pasted over any part of the acknowledgment.

Filling up of coupon in other cases.

8. If the remittance is on any account other than income-tax, the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster must see that particulars of the object of the remittance are entered clearly on the ordinary coupon of the ordinary inland money-order form. If the object of the remittance is not clearly stated on the coupon, the Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster should not accept the order until the omission is rectified and the object clearly stated. The Money-order Clerk or Sub or Branch Postmaster should give any aid that the remitter may require to fill up the coupon, and may not demand or accept any gratification in return on pain of dismissal.

Treatment of money-order.

9. After the money-order has been properly filled up, it should be received and dealt with in the same way as any other ordinary inland money-order.

Receipt for money-order.

10. Every remitter of a money-order other than a Revenue Money-order in favour of an officer of Government or of a local body should be informed that, instead of the usual

* It may happen that a remitter does not know, and cannot conveniently ascertain, the number of list K, or has not received or has lost the notice I. In such a case the remitter should be asked to enter "not known," or words to that effect, against item 5 on the coupon, and on his doing so, the money-order should be accepted, provided all the other particulars are given. Whenever it is practicable for him to do so, the remitter should, however, be required to fill in item 5 as well as the other items.

money-order acknowledgment signed by the payee, he will ordinarily receive the usual departmental receipt, which will be forwarded to him direct by post, and that he should address the payee regarding it if he do not receive it in due course. He should also be advised to keep the carbonic receipt carefully until he receives either the formal departmental receipt from the payee or the usual money-order acknowledgment.

PART II.

Procedure in the Post Office of Payment.

Procedure in post-offices at head-quarters and other post-offices.

11. These rules only apply to post-offices (head or sub) at the head-quarters of districts and subdivisions. Other post-offices which receive for payment ordinary money-orders in favour of officers of Government or of local bodies in their official capacities will pay them in cash under the procedure applicable to money-orders in favour of private individuals.

Payment by book-transfer.

12. All money-orders in favour of the Magistrate or Collector (or Deputy Commissioner), or in favour of the Deputy Collector or other officer in charge of any department under the Magistrate or Collector (or Deputy Commissioner), or in favour of the Subdivisional Officer or any officer in charge of any department under the Subdivisional Officer, will be paid by book-transfer. All money-orders in favour of any other officer of Government in his official capacity will also be paid by book-transfer when a written requisition to that effect has been received by the post-office from the treasury or sub-treasury officer.

With the exception of money-orders in favour of a Cantonment Committee, all money-orders in favour of any local body entitled to bank at the treasury or sub-treasury will also be paid by book-transfer.

List of money-orders.

13. When the ordinary or telegraphic money-orders in favour of the officers of Government and local bodies named in rule 12, and any other officers whose money orders are, according to the requisition of the treasury or sub-treasury officer, to be paid by book-transfer, are in all respects ready* to be handed over to the postman, a list in

* Only the total number and amount of official money-orders received for payment need be entered in the register of money-orders received. In order, however, that the record may be complete, it will be necessary to make a note in the last column of the register whenever all the official money-orders received in one day are not included in the list of that date. For example, if in the register of money-orders received on the 5th July there are shown 500 official money-orders for Rs. 10,000, but 300 of these orders for Rs. 7,000 were received too late for inclusion in the list sent to the treasury on the 5th, there should be an entry in the last column of the register in this form—

200 for Rs. 3,000 included in the list of 5th.
300 for Rs. 7,000 included in the list of 6th.

Part II.

Procedure in the Post-office of payment.

N. B.—The rules in Part II apply only to Post-offices (head or sub) at the head-quarters of districts and subdivision .

Payment by book-transfer.

11. Money-orders will be paid by book transfer—

(1) for rent, if in favour of a District Officer, Subdivisional Officer, Certificate Officer or other gazetted officer, excepting the Khas Tahsildars, Tahsildars and Managers who are Deputy or Sub-Deputy Collectors;

(2) on other account than rent, if in favour of the Magistrate or Collector (or Deputy Commissioner) or in favour of the Deputy Collector or other officer in charge of any Department under the Magistrate or Collector (or Deputy Commissioner), or in favour of the Subdivisional Officer, or any officer in charge of any Department under the Subdivisonal Officer;

(3) upon a written requisition received by the Post-office from the Treasury or Sub-Treasury Officer, if in favour of any other Government officer in his official capacity;

(4) If in favour of any local body (other than a Cantonment Committee) entitled to bank at the Treasury or Sub-Treasury.

List of money-orders.

12. When the rent and other money-orders to be paid by book transfer under rule 11 are in all respect ready* to be handed over to the postman, they should be examined with reference to the name of the audit office

---

Only the total number and amount of official money-orders received for payment need be entered in the register of money-orders received. In order, however, that the record may be complete, it will be necessary to make a note in the last column of the register whenever all the official money-orders received in one day are not included in the list of that date. For example, if in the register of money-orders received on the 5th July there are shown 500 official money-orders for Rs. 10,000, but 300 of these orders for Rs. 7,000 were received too late for inclusion in the list sent to the Treasury on the 5th, there should be an entry in the last column of the register in this form—stamped on them, and a separate list in triplicate* (Form 2—G. M O.) should be made out by the money-order clerk for each audit office, the name of the audit office being noted in red ink at the head of the list. † The entries in the money column of the list should be carefully totalled. The original copy of the list will take the place of the journal of money-orders paid, the duplicate of the list will be sent to the Treasury under the procedure described below, and the triplicate of the list will be the list for the audit office. No money-order which is not a telegraphic money-order should be included in the list, unless the object of the remittance is entered on the coupon.

200 for Rs. 3,000 included in the list of 5th.

NOTE.—When it is necessary to prepare one or more separate lists in addition to the list for the Home audit office, the total of each other list should be entered below the total of the list for the Home audit office, and a grand total made both in words and figures. In that case too, after the words "detailed above" in the pointed entry to be signed by the Postmaster at the foot of the original and duplicate of the list for the Home audit office, should be inserted in manuscript the words "and in the accompanying list" or "and in the accompanying two lists" as the case may require.

Documents to be made over to the postman.

13. The Postmaster should then check the entries in the list or lists with those on the money-orders, and also check the total or the money column. He will then give the postman the duplicate of the list or lists, the money orders, and a Treasury or Sub-Treasury voucher representing the total value of the money-orders, as entered at the foot of the list for the Home audit office as directed in note to rule 12 above. The amount represented by the Treasury or Sub-Treasury voucher will not be charged against the letter of credit, and will be paid quite independently of the balance of any letters of credit held by the Treasury in favour of the post-office.

Documents to be taken to Accountant and to be received back from him.

14. The postman will take the duplicate list or lists, the money-orders and the Treasury or Sub-Treasury voucher to the Accountant, and will receive back from him the money-orders without the coupons and the acknowledgments, except in the case of "rent" money-orders paid by book transfer, from which the coupons only will be detached by the Accountant and not the acknowledgments. The postman will be careful to see that he receives back all the

* The duplicate and triplicate will be prepared by carbonic paper, and a hard pencil must be used in writing the list.

† If on any date official money-orders stamped with the names of all three audit offices are received for payment, it will be necessary to prepare three separate lists, each in triplicate.

triplicate† (Form 2—G. M. O.) should be made out by the Money-order Clerk, and the entries in the money column of the list should be carefully totalled. The original copy of the list will take the place of the journal of money-orders paid, the duplicate of the list will be sent to the treasury under the procedure described below, and the triplicate of the list will be the list for the Comptroller.

No ordinary money-order should be included in the list unless the object of the remittance is entered on the coupon.

Documents to be made over to the postman.

14. The Postmaster should then check the entries in the list with those on the money-orders, and also check the total of the money column. He will then give the postman the duplicate of the list, the money-orders, and a treasury or sub-treasury voucher representing the total value of the money-orders as entered at the foot of the list. The amount represented by the treasury or sub-treasury voucher will not be charged against the letter of credit, and will be paid quite independently of the balance of any letters of credit held by the treasury in favour of the post-office.

Documents to be taken to treasury officer and to be received back from him.

15. The postman will take the duplicate list, the money orders, and the treasury or sub-treasury voucher to the treasury or sub-treasury officer, and will receive back from him the money-orders without the coupons and acknowledgments, and will be careful to see that he receives back all the money-orders, and that they are all duly receipted by the treasury or sub-treasury officer.

Disposal of paid money-orders.

16. The paid money-orders received back from the treasury or sub-treasury will be examined by the Money-order Clerk in the same way as other ordinary money-orders, and the total amount of the money-orders will be entered in the journal of money-orders paid by a single entry, thus—"As per G. M. O. list— | | | | ." The classification columns of the triplicate list will then be filled up, and the money-orders will be disposed of in the usual way. As the official payees of the money-orders will furnish the remitters with departmental receipts, the acknowledgments will not be returned by the treasury or sub-treasury officer for transmission to the remitters. The original and triplicate lists will be kept with the journal of money-orders paid until the next list of ordinary money-orders paid is sent to the Comptroller, when the corresponding (triplicate) lists of official money-orders paid will also be sent, the paid money-orders being arranged in order and attached to the lists. The original lists will then be filed, a separate file of original lists being kept with each journal of money-orders paid, so that the dates of the journal and file of official money-order lists correspond.

† The duplicate and triplicate will be prepared by carbonic paper and a hard pencil must be used in writing the list.

17. The amount of the treasury or sub-treasury voucher will be entered in the post-office accounts on the receipt side as drawn from the district or sub-treasury, as the case may be, and will be included in the sum entered on the payment side under the head "Amount of money-orders paid." In the case of a head office the amount will also appear in column 11 of the head office pass-book (a/c-8). All these entries must be made on the same date.

Entries in accounts.

18. If it should happen that a money-order for any officer or local body named or indicated in rule 12, is received at the office of payment without the object of the remittance being entered on the coupon, the money-order will, as stated in rule 13, not be included in the day's list. The Postmaster will retain the money-order in deposit, and make a reference to the Office of Issue to ascertain the object of the remittance. On the receipt of a reply he will attach it to the coupon, and the reply will be considered as part of the coupon. The money-order will then be included in the next list sent to the treasury or sub-treasury. If, notwithstanding a reference to the Office of Issue, the object of the money-order cannot be ascertained, the Postmaster of the Office of Payment will treat the money-order as refused, and return it, under the usual procedure, to the Office of Issue, noting across the coupon the words "refused, as object of remittance not stated." Every case in which a money-order is received without the object being entered on the coupon should be reported by the Office of Payment to the Superintendent of the division in which the Office of Issue is situated.

Procedure in respect of money-orders without object of remittance on the coupon.

19. On the 1st of every month the Money-order Clerk or Sub-Postmaster of the head-quarters or sub-divisional post-office will prepare a return (Form 3—G. M. O.) of official money-orders, other than revenue money-orders, received during the previous month. The returns of Postmasters at subdivisional stations will be submitted to the Postmaster of the district head-quarters on the 1st of the month, and the return of the head-quarters post-office will be submitted to the head of the circle on the 5th of the month, together with the returns of any offices at subdivisional stations in the district.

Monthly return of official money-orders.

Part III.

Procedure to be followed in the Treasury or Sub-Treasury.

20. When any officer of Government not specified in rule 12 requests that money-orders in his favour may be paid by book-transfer, a written requisition to that effect will be addressed by the treasury or sub-treasury officer to the Postmaster at the treasury or sub-treasury station.

Requisition for payment of money-orders by book-transfer money-orders, and that they are all duly receipted by the Accountant, and in the case of money-orders for amounts exceeding Rs. 500 by the Treasury or Sub-Treasury Officer also.

Disposal of paid money-orders.

15. The paid money-orders received back from the Treasury or Sub-Treasury will be examined by the money-order clerk in the same way as other ordinary money-orders, and the total amount of the money-orders will be entered in the journal of money-orders paid by a single entry, thus:—As per G. M. O. list; Rs. A. P., and the money-order will be disposed of in the usual way. As the payees of official money-orders other than rent money-orders will furnish the remitters with departmental receipts, the acknowledgments other than those pertaining to rent money-orders, will not be returned by the Accountant for transmission to the remitters. The original and the triplicate lists will be kept with the journal of money-orders paid until the next list of ordinary money-orders paid is sent to the audit office when the corresponding (triplicate) list of official money-orders paid will also be sent, the paid money-orders being arranged in order and attached to the appropriate lists. The original lists will then be filed, a separate file of original lists being kept with each journal of money-orders paid, so that the dates of the journal and file of official money-order lists correspond.

Entries in accounts of post office.

16. The amount of the Treasury or Sub-Treasury voucher will be entered in the post-office accounts on the receipt side as drawn from the District or Sub-Treasury, as the case may be, and will be included in the sum entered on the payment side under the head "Amount of money-orders paid." In the case of a head office the amount will also appear in column 11 of the head office pass-book (A/c 8). All these entries must be made on the same date.

Procedure in respect of money-orders without object of remittance on coupons.

17. If it should happen that a money-order for any officer or local body named or indicated in rule 11 is received at the office of payment without the object of the remittance being entered on the coupon, the money-order will, as stated in rule 12, not be included in the day's list. The Postmaster will retain the money-order in deposit and make a reference to the office of issue to ascertain the object of the remittance. On the receipt of a reply he will attach it to the coupon, and the reply will be considered part of the coupon. The money-order will then be included money-orders for amounts exceeding Rs. 500, the treasury or Sub-Treasury Officer also should sign and date the money-orders as payee. The Accountant will retain the coupons of rent money-orders, the coupons and acknowledgments of all other money-orders, the duplicate list or lists of money-orders (Form 2--G. M. O.) and the Treasury or Sub-Treasury voucher.

NOTE—In the case of rent money-orders the acknowledgments should not be cut off by the Accountant, but should be returned to the postman duly signed.

Entries in Treasury and Sub-Treasury accounts.

21. The Treasury or Sub-Treasury Officer will on the same day adjust the amount of the treasury or sub-treasury voucher by transfer, debiting the amount to the post-office and crediting the amounts of the several money-orders as shown in the list or lists and on the coupons to the appropriate departments or local bodies. If the amount of any money-order cannot for any reason be credited at once to the proper head of account, it should be entered in the body of the cash-book with such particulars as are available, and a reference should be at once made through the department concerned for further particulars, on receipt of which credit to the proper head should be effected in communication with the Accountant-General. In the case of telegraphic money-orders the reference should be made direct by post from the Treasury or Sub-Treasury.

In the case of Sub-Treasuries a note should be made in the "Remarks" column of the duplicate list showing on what account each money-order was sent as indicated on the coupon. This column will be blank when received from the post-office. The duplicate list or lists will be forwarded to the district Treasury with the Sub-Treasury "daily sheet."

Advice-list of money-orders.

22. To each department or local body in favour of which any money-order or money-orders have been received and credited, the Treasury or Sub-Treasury Officer will on the same day send an advice-list in the form (4—G.M.O.), together with the corresponding strips, consisting of the coupons, and acknowledgments, or if rent money-orders are concerned, together with the corresponding coupons. In the case of officers and local bodies to whom daily advice-lists are sent of other receipts on their accounts, the total amount of each money-order advice-list will be entered with a reference to the money-order advice-list) in the daily advice-list.

Duties of treasury officer.

21. On receipt of the list, money-orders and treasury or sub-treasury voucher (see rule 15), the treasury or sub-treasury officer will check and compare the documents. If there is any error, he will return all the documents to the post-office with a note of the error or errors. When the documents are correct, the treasury or sub-treasury officer will at once cut off the strip of each money-order containing the coupon and acknowledgment, sign and date the money-orders as payee, and return them to the postman. The treasury or sub-treasury officer will retain the strips, including the coupon and acknowledgment, the duplicate list of money-orders (Form 2—G. M. O.), and the treasury or sub-treasury voucher.

Entries in accounts.

22. The treasury or sub-treasury officer will on the same day adjust the amount of the treasury or sub-treasury voucher by transfer, debiting the amount to the post-office and crediting the amounts of the several money-orders as shown in the list and on the acknowledgments to the appropriate departments or local bodies. If the amount of any money-order cannot for any reason be credited at once to the proper head of account, it should be entered in the body of the cash-book with such particulars as are available, and a reference should be at once made through the department concerned for further particulars, on receipt of which credit to the proper head should be effected in communication with the Accountant-General.

In the case of sub-treasuries a note should be made in the "remarks" column of the duplicate list showing on what account each money-order was sent as indicated on the coupon. This column will be blank when received from the post-office. The duplicate list will be forwarded to the district treasury with the sub-treasury "daily sheet."

Advice list of money-orders.

23. To each department or local body in favour of which any money-order or money-orders have been received and credited, the treasury or sub-treasury officer will on the same day send an advice list in the form (Form 4—G. M. O.), together with the corresponding strips, consisting of the coupons and acknowledgments. In the case of officers and local bodies to whom daily advice lists are sent of other receipts on their accounts, the total amount of each money-order advice list will be entered (with a reference to the money-order advice list) in the daily advice list.

The treasury or sub-treasury officer will be responsible that the total of the amounts of the money-order advice lists is equal to the amount of the treasury or sub-treasury voucher received from the post-office, and debited to the Postal Department.

Money-order not to be refused

24. No money-order received from the post-office may be refused.

Part IV.

Procedure in the offices of the payees of the money-orders.

Request for payment of money-orders by book-transfer.

25. When any officer of Government, not separately specified in rule 12, desires that money-orders in his favour be paid by book-transfer, he will make a written request to that effect to the treasury or sub-treasury officer for communication to the Post-master.

Entries in registers and sending off receipts to remitters.

26. On receipt of an advice list (see rule 23) with the corresponding strips, consisting of the acknowledgments, the usual entries will be made in the prescribed registers, and the prescribed receipts will be sent to the remitters by post, the postage being prepaid by service or ordinary stamps, according as the department or local body is, or is not, entitled to use service stamps.

Receipts to be sent when.

27. The prescribed form of receipt should be sent to each remitter at latest on the first open day after the receipt of the advice list from the treasury or sub-treasury.

Remittances which do not tally with the accounts or specify the period for which made.

28. If the amount of a money-order is more than is due from the remitter, the excess should be entered as an advance on account of future dues or be dealt with in such other way as the rules of the department or local body may prescribe; if the amount is less than is due, it should be credited as a payment in part; if the period on account of which the remittance is made is specified, the amount should be credited on account of the period; if the period is not specified, the remittance should be set off against those dues which have been longest outstanding.

Procedure in the offices of the payees of the money-orders.

Request for payment of money-orders by book-transfer.

25. When any officer of Government, not separately specified in rule 12, desires that money-orders in his favour be paid by book-transfer, he will make a written request to that effect to the treasury or sub-treasury officer for communication to the Post-master.

Entries in registers and sending off receipts to remitters.

26. On receipt of an advice list (see rule 23) with the corresponding strips, consisting of the acknowledgments, the usual entries will be made in the prescribed registers, and the prescribed receipts will be sent to the remitters by post, the postage being prepaid by service or ordinary stamps, according as the department or local body is, or is not, entitled to use service stamps.

Receipts to be sent when.

27. The prescribed form of receipt should be sent to each remitter at latest on the first open day after the receipt of the advice list from the treasury or sub-treasury.

Remittances which do not tally with the accounts or specify the period for which made.

28. If the amount of a money-order is more than is due from the remitter, the excess should be entered as an advance on account of future dues or be dealt with in such other way as the rules of the department or local body may prescribe; if the amount is less than is due, it should be credited as a payment in part; if the period on account of which the remittance is made is specified, the amount should be credited on account of the period; if the period is not specified, the remittance should be set off against those dues which have been longest outstanding.

PART IV.

Procedure in the Offices of the payees of the Money-orders.

Request for payment of money-orders by book transfer.

24. When any officer of Government, not separately specified in rule 11, desires that money-orders in his favour be paid by book transfer, he will make a written request to that effect to the Treasury or Sub-Treasury Officer for communication to the postmaster.

Entries in registers. Sending of receipts to remitter.

25. On receipt of an advice-list (see rule 22) with the corresponding coupons or strips of coupons and acknowledgments, the usual entries will be made in the prescribed registers, and in the case of all orders other than rent money-orders the prescribed receipts will be sent to the remitters by post, the postage being prepaid by service or ordinary stamps, according as the department or local body is or is not entitled to use service stamps.

Receipt where to be sent.

26. The prescribed form of receipt should be sent to each remitter at latest on the first open day after the receipt of the advice-list from the Treasury or Sub-Treasury.

Procedure in respect of remittances which do not tally with the accounts or specify the period for which made.

27. If the amount of a money-order is more than is due from the remitter, the excess should be entered as an advance on account of future dues, or be dealt with in such other way as the rules of the department or local body may prescribe; if the amount is less than is due, it should be credited as a payment in part; if the period on account of which the remittance is made is specified the amount should be credited on account of the period; if the period is not specified, the remittance should be set off against those dues which have been longest outstanding.

Section II.—Rules relating to Rent Money-orders.

Part I.

The Form of Rent Money-order, vide Form $\frac{1}{Rent}$.

1. The rent money-order form is divided into four parts, viz :— Division of form.

(a) The money-order.
(b) The receipt. This is printed below the money-order, and will be retained by the Postal Department.
(c) The acknowledgment. This is the tenant's receipt.
(d) The coupon. This is the counterfoil or landlord's portion of the receipt.

2. Parts (a) and (b) require no description, as they are exactly like the corresponding portions of the ordinary inland money-order form. Part (c) is much larger than the acknowledgment of an ordinary money-order form. On one side of this part are printed headings to provide for the entry of full particulars of the remittance, and on the other side are spaces for the name and address of the remitter. Part (d) is the same size as the acknowledgment, and contains the same headings as part (c). On the back of part (d) are special instructions relating to rent money-orders. Its description.

3. This form is to be used for rent money-orders only, and for no other purpose. Its use.

4. Forms of rent money-order should be freely distributed among the rent-paying classes, and every facility should be given to tenants to obtain these forms. To be freely distributed.

5. Every Postmaster, Sub-Postmaster, and Branch Postmaster will be personally responsible that a sufficient supply of rent money-order forms is always available in his office. In case of emergency, supplies may be obtained by telegraph direct from the Stock Depôt. Divisional Superintendents and Inspectors, when visiting offices, will see that a sufficient supply of rent money-order forms is available, and mention the fact in their inspection reports. Supply of forms.

PART II.

Issue of Rent Money-orders.

6. Rent money-orders are issued from every head, sub and branch post-office in all districts in the Lower Provinces of Bengal in which the Bengal Tenancy Act is in force,* and such other districts as the Local Government may from time to time extend the provisions of the said Act under the rules which govern the issue of ordinary inland money-orders. The following rules contain additional instructions which relate specially to the issue of rent money-orders.

Districts in which rent money-orders are issued.

Burdwan.	24 Parganas.	Gaya.
Birbhum.	Nadia.	Malda.
Bankura.	Murshidabad.	Monghyr.
Midnapore.	Jessore.	Muzaffarpur.

Jalpaiguri.	Backergunge.	Saran.
Rangpur.	Bhagalpur.	Shahabad.
Bogra.	Champaran.	Tippera.
Pabna.	Darbhanga.	Chittagong.

Limit of amount.

7. The rule prohibiting the inclusion of pies (fractions of an anna) in the amount of an ordinary money-order does not apply to rent money-orders, which may contain any fraction of an anna not less than one pie.

Note.—The sub-items which go to make up the total of the rent money-order may contain fractions of a pie.

Separate money-order for each tenure.

8. There must be a separate money-order for each tenure or holding. Rent for two tenures or holdings may not be sent by one money-order.

Office of issue to help remitter in making entries.

9. The office of issue, when requested to do so, will help the remitter to make the requisite entries, and, if necessary, will make entries for him in the form of rent money-order, but no fee or any gratification for this service may be demanded or accepted, either directly or indirectly, by any official of the Postal Department.

To whom and where payable.

10. Persons remitting money by rent money-orders should be informed that, unless they have received special instructions from the landlord on the subject, they should make the orders payable to the landlord, or to his agent, or to the manager (if one has been appointed), according as the rent has previously been paid to the landlord, or to his agent, or to a manager. The name of the payee must in each case be entered on the money-order. In the absence of special instructions from the landlord, a rent money-order should always be made payable at the place at which the tenant has previously paid rent. If the rent has previously been collected in the tenant's village by an agent whose office is not in the village, the money-order should be made

SLIP No. 50.

THE following revised rule should be substituted for Rule 6 Section II, Chapter VI, page 140:—

"6. Rent money-orders are issued from all head, sub and branch post offices, under the rules which govern the issue of ordinary inland money-orders provided they are prepared in the prescribed form and are payable in districts in the Lower Provinces of Bengal in which the Bengal Tenancy Act is in force,* or any other districts which the Local Government may, from time to time, extend the provisions of the said Act. The following rules contain additional instructions which relate specially to the issue of rent money-orders." 6-8-1904.

Part V.

Disposal of Rent Money-order Acknowledgments.

Delivery of acknowledgments from head office,

23. The acknowledgments appertaining to paid rent money-orders will, if they are to be delivered from the head office of payment, be made over to the postmen at the next delivery and be dealt with as prescribed in rule 25. The acknowledgment portion of rent money-orders paid by sub and branch offices should not be cut off by the actual office of payment, but the paid money-orders should be forwarded, with the acknowledgments attached to them, to the head office of payment. It is not, therefore, necessary for sub and branch offices to keep the Form Rent 6 (Book of rent money-order acknowledgments returned).

and from branch offices.

24. Nor need branch offices keep the Form Rent 7 (Book of rent money-order acknowledgments delivered). The acknowledgments of all rent money-orders to be delivered from a branch office should in future be sent by the head office of payment to the Account office of the branch office. These acknowledgments should be detailed by the Account office in the special book of rent money-order acknowledgments delivered (Form Rent 7), and be forwarded by the Account office to the branch office entered on the reverse of the branch office daily account. The Branch Postmaster will note the numbers of the acknowledgments in the branch office journal, obtain the postman's signature against each entry, and then hand over the acknowledgments to the postman for delivery.

Entry in books and remitter's signature.

25. The postmen will enter the acknowledgments in detail in their books, and will obtain the remitter's signature or mark therein when delivering each acknowledgment.

Despatch at new addresses.

26. Acknowledgments appertaining to rent money-orders, the remitters of which have removed beyond the delivery range of the original office of issue, will be forwarded direct to the remitters at their new addresses (if known) enclosed in postal service registered covers.

Undelivered acknowledgments

27. Acknowledgments which cannot be delivered in consequence of the remitters not being found will be returned by the postman to the Postmaster or money-order clerk (as the case may be), who will sign for them in the postman's book or village postman's register.

to be kept in office of issue for six months,

28. Undelivered acknowledgments will be kept in the office of issue (if a head office) for a period of six months, and, if still unclaimed, will be forwarded, under a postal service registered cover, to the Postmaster-General.

22. In all other respects refused rent money-orders will be dealt with exactly like ordinary inland refused money-orders.

Part V.

Disposal of rent money-order acknowledgments.

N.B.—The rules in this part apply to all acknowledgments pertaining to rent money-orders whether paid in cash or by book transfer.

23. The acknowledgments appertaining to paid rent money-orders will, if they are to be delivered from the head office of payment, be made over to the postmen or village postmen at the next delivery and be dealt with as prescribed in rule 25. The acknowledgment portion of rent money-orders paid by sub- and branch offices should not be cut off by the actual office of payment, but the paid money-orders should be forwarded with the acknowledgments attached to them to the head office of payment. It is not, therefore, necessary for sub and branch offices to keep the form 'Rent 6' (book of rent money-order acknowledgments returned). This form should be maintained only in head offices, and acknowledgments to be delivered from any office other than the head office of payment should be sent to it in rent acknowledgment envelopes (Rent 8) duly entered in registered lists.

24. Head and sub-offices should keep the form 'Rent 7, (book of rent money-order acknowledgments delivered). The acknowledgments of all rent money-orders to be delivered from a branch office should be sent by the head office of payment to the account office of the branch office. These acknowledgments should be detailed by the account office in the special book of ent .money-order acknowledgments delivered (Form Rent 7), and be forwarded by the account office to the branch office entered on the reverse of the branch office daily account. The branch postmaster will note the numbers of the acknowledgments in the branch office journal, obtain the postman or village postman's signature against each entry, and then hand over the acknowledgments to the postman or village postman for delivery or deliver the acknowledgments himself in the case of offices in which the delivery work is performed by the branch postmaster.

25. The postman or village postman will enter the acknowledgments in detail in his book or register as the case may be and will obtain the remitter's signature or mark therein when delivering each acknowledgment.

5. In the absence of special instructions from the landlord, the remitter should make the Money-order payable at the place at which rent has previously been paid, and to the landlord himself or his agent, according as rent has previously been paid to the landlord or an agent.
6. The limit of amount of a Rent Money-order and the rates of commission are the same as for ordinary Money-orders.

SLIP No. 249.

Insert the following as rule 1A, section 1, Chapter VII, page 149 of the Board's Rules, 1902:—

1A. In order that the Commissioner may be in a position to decide whether any increase in an establishment is needed, or a reduction can be rightly enforced, it is necessary to compare the various establishments and the volume of work with which they have to deal in the several districts of his division. He should, therefore, cause to be prepared for each separate department of the officers who are subordinate to him a statement showing (a) the volume of work of the department, (b) the number of officers employed to do the work. In the preparation of this statement it is essential to make certain that the volume of work is compiled on a uniform basis in every district. Owing to the devices which are commonly adopted when a question arises about the adequacy of an establishment, a most careful scrutiny by Collectors and Commissioners of the data supplied and the methods adopted will be very necessary. From a comparison of the lists prepared under such safeguards it will be possible to arrive at a standard of outturn which may be applied with safety to demands for additional staff and may even justify a reduction in the existing staff in some districts. Proposals are rarely initiated by local officers for the reduction of establishment, and this is probably due to some extent to the absence of standards, or the culpable neglect of standards already prescribed. 9-3-1910.

SLIP No. 72.

Substitute the following for rule 3, Section 1, Chapter VII, pages 149 and 150 of the Board's Rules, 1902:—

Form of application for increased establishment.

All applications for any increase of establishment or for any additional allowances are to be submitted in the manner and forms prescribed by article 57 of the Civil Account Code, volume 1, 1899.

The necessity for the proposed increase should be fully explained in each case.

Commissioner should have the column "Present scale" verified in the Account Department before submission to the Board in cases in which there is any doubt as to the correctness of that scale, and in all cases the number and date of the orders sanctioning the present scale must be cited. 14-3-1905.

CHAPTER VII.

Miscellaneous.

Section I.—Applications for Establishments, &c.

Establishment must not be increased without sanction.

1. Arrangements involving any increase to, or change in, an establishment are never to be carried out without sanction previously obtained; or, in cases of emergency, without immediate report for sanction. Even the Local Government can only sanction any change in an establishment subject to report to the Government of India. Any local officer breaking this rule is personally liable for the consequences.

Condition of temporary appointment.

2. It must be made a condition of the appointment of any person on any temporary establishment sanctioned by the Board that three-fourths pay only shall be drawn during the period for which the establishment is entertained, and that the remainder can be claimed at the expiry of the sanctioned period, provided the work be then completed, or sufficient cause shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner of the Division for the failure; otherwise the quarter pay will be forfeited to provide for the completion of the work by other persons.

Form of application for increased establishment.

3. All applications for any increase of establishment, or additional allowances, are to be submitted in the subjoined form, the necessity for the increase being fully explained:—

Order sanctioning present establishment.—Government of Department.		Office to which the proposition refers.	NATURE OF CHARGE.
			Present scale.						Proposed scale.
					Pay.						Pay.

Commissioners are to have the column "Present scale" verified in the Account Department before submission to the Board in cases in which there is any doubt as to the correctness of that scale, and in all cases the number and date of the orders sanctioning the present scale must be cited.

Comparative statement of work.

4. As a general rule, the statement of the present work, on an average of three years, as compared with the work ten years previously, should be appended, whenever the proposition is for a permanent increase to an established office.

Note of savings;

5. In submitting their detailed statements of establishments to the Accountant-General at the close of the year, officers are to annex a note showing those items of expenditure which, though sanctioned, have not been actually incurred.

and of discontinuance.

6. The date on which a temporary establishment is discontinued is always to be reported to the Accountant-General.

Personal allowances to cease on promotion.

7. Personal allowances are not to be continued when the officer receiving them is promoted to an office of which the salary is equal to, or exceeds, the amount received by the officer in his old office, including personal allowances.

Powers of Government to sanction.

8. In the Resolution No. 2679, dated the 31st August 1878, in the Financial Department, the Government of India issued the following rules to regulate the powers of Local Governments to sanction special additions to salaries, which are not authorised by any general or special orders of the Government of India:—

1. Unless in any particular case it be otherwise distinctly provided, the whole time of a public officer must be held to be paid for by the State, and he may be employed in any manner required by proper authority within his own branch of duty, without claim for additional remuneration, whether the services rendered are such as might ordinarily be paid for from the Imperial or Provincial revenues, or any local fund.

2. A local Government may, however, sanction an addition to the pay of any officer employed under its orders for the performance of any special duty outside the duties of his regular appointment, as a charge against any fund administered under the local Government, including Municipal or Port Trust Funds, or Wards' estates.

Provided that, without the previous sanction of the Government of India and Secretary of State, no such addition shall raise the total emoluments of any officer to more than Rs. 5,000 yearly.

3. A local Government may also sanction a grant to any officer from Provincial revenues as a bonus or honorarium for work done out of office hours and beyond the regular duties of his office, payment for which is a proper charge against those revenues.

4. A similar grant, under like conditions, may be made by a local Government from Imperial funds within a limit of Rs. 200 in each case, and on the understanding that no excess over the budget grant for the head of service concerned is caused thereby.

Slip No. 15.

The following should be added as rule 4A, in Section I, Chapter VII, page 150 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

4A. Applications for the renewal of sanction to temporary appointments and deputations or allowances, which would require a reference to the Secretary of State for India should be submitted in sufficient time to admit of their consideration, and to avoid the Secretary of State's sanction having to be anticipated.

Applications for renewal of sanction to be in time.

5. Remuneration shall not be given under these rules for superintending examinations rendered compulsory on persons belonging to the public service, but may be granted in the case of examinations of candidates for admission to the service, or where it has been specially authorised heretofore, or when the fees received from the persons examined meet the whole charge.

6. Excepting in the case of the examinations referred to in rule 5, these rules shall not be applicable to any officer whose pay exceeds Rs. 400 monthly.

7. In other cases not provided for by existing special orders, sanction of the Government of India should be obtained to the grant of remuneration in addition to the fixed pay of any public officer.

SECTION II—MALIKANA PAYMENTS.

Description of malikana.

1. Malikana is of two kinds—

Vide Chapter XII, pages 98—100 of Mr. D. J. McNeile's Memorandum on the Revenue Administration of the Lower Provinces of Bengal, 1873.

I.—Malikana, or proprietary allowance, granted for estates of which the settlement is not made with the proprietors. This is fixed for the term of the settlement,—(a) when tender of settlement is made to the proprietor, and his offer is not accepted, in which case the malikana is calculated on the amount of his offer; and (b) when tender of settlement is made to the proprietor, but the settlement is refused absolutely without any offer being made, in which case the net collections of the year immediately preceding form the basis of the calculation of the malikana. In both these cases also the amount of malikana is not dependent on collections. Malikana is fluctuating—(c) when settlement is not offered to the proprietor, the malikana being then calculated on the net collections of each year. (Vide section 5 of Regulation VII of 1822.)

II.—Malikana which was allowed to zamindars in virtue of their right as proprietors, in consequence of the settlement of their estates, or lands out of their estates, with others. The Bihar malikana falls under this class, and is a compensation permanently granted to proprietors,—(a) on account of the settlement of their estates with others, on their refusal; (b) for lands given out of their estates rent-free to others, by royal or other grants, which were never subsequently resumed; and (c) for such lands which were subsequently resumed and assessed to revenue by Government, and settled with the holders. It is of a pensionary nature, and does not depend on collections.

Malikana of the first class is payable for a term of years only, that is, during the currency of a settlement. In cases (a) and (b) the amount is fixed, while in case (c), it may vary from year to year. Malikana of the second class is permanent.

Register.

2. The payment of malikana due to proprietors during the currency of a settlement, whether the amount is fixed or dependent on net collections, will be made only in one instalment for the whole year. A record of recipients and of payment of such malikana will be maintained in the following register:—

This register will be in charge of a Deputy Collector, duty it will be to see that all entries are correctly made. amounts payable and the payments must be checked with g care. No claim to malikana, which is barred by limitation, shoul be entertained, unless the claimant can show good cause to the contrary. The onus must rest entirely upon him to make good his claim and account for the delay in applying for payment of malikana. No payment will be made without a special order of the Collector, or the officer in charge in his absence. The instructions at foot of the register must be carefully observed. They will not appear on every page, but one of the pages on which they are printed will be placed at the beginning of each register.

3. Permanent or pensionary malikana will be paid on permanent payable orders issued by th Collectors.

Permanent payable orders.

4. A register of recipients of permanent malikana be kept by each Collector in the follo form:—

Register.

Register of Recipients of Permanent Malikana.

Serial number.	Name and tauzi number of estate for which, or for lands of which, the malikana was granted.	Name, father's name and residence (thana and village) of the person entitled to the malikana.	Amount payable annually.	Cesses due from malikana for the year.	Mutation.				Remark
					Date of order sanctioning mutation.	Name substituted and serial number of the separate entry in this register.	Amount of malikana transferred.	Malikana, if any, remaining payable to person in column 3, and new serial number under which he is entered in this register.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10

All malikana grants relating to the same estate (where there are more than one) should follow one another in the register, that is, the register should be written up estate by estate; and the same course should be followed whenever the register has to be rewritten at any future time. The register provides also for the recording of mutations, whether due to sale, gift, or inheritance. On a mutation occurring, the necessary particulars will be filled in in the mutation columns against the original item affected, and whether the whole or only a portion of such item is transferred, the original entry, will be scored through (i.e., columns 1 to 4) by a line in red-ink, and entries of the transferred amount and of the balance, if any, of the original amount will be made at the end of the register in continuation of the last serial number in the register. By thus recording changes a continuous and clear record of all items payable in a district will be maintained in the register. When malikana is payable to joint sharers, all their names will be entered in the register under a single number, and mutations of any of the names will not be accompanied by the entry of the new sharer's name under a separate number at the end of the register. The addition of such new and separate numbers is to be made only when the transfer is of a share to be held separately in future.

How to be kept.

5. The register will in the first instance be prepared under the personal supervision of a Deputy Collector, who will initial every item in token of his having satisfied himself that the malikana is payable. Every subsequent entry of a mutation and of a new serial number in continuation of the register will similarly be initialled by a Deputy Collector.

Roll of malikanadar.

6. For each item in this register a roll in the following form will be drawn up under the signature and seal of the Collector, and made over to the recipient, who will present it half-yearly for payment at the District Treasury on or about the 1st April and the 1st October respectively :—

Roll of Recipients of Permanent Malikana.

Serial number in the general register of recipients of permanent malikana.	Name of recipient.	Father's name.	Residence. — Thana and village.	Amount of annual malikana.	Half-yearly instalment.	Deduct half the cesses payable during the year.	Net amount payable half yearly.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

In columns 5 and 6 the figures to be entered in words as well as figures.

Memo. of actual payments.

Date of payment.	For what period.	Amount paid.			Signature of the Treasury Officer.	Remarks.
		Rs.	A.	P.

(To be printed on the back of the roll.)

Duplicate roll.

7. Duplicate copies of the rolls (which will contain two additional columns between 4 and 5 for identification, showing the height of and any marks borne by the recipient) will be prepared for record in the Treasury, and, when applications are made for payment, the Treasury Officer must satisfy himself of the validity of the claims by comparing both copies of the rolls in every case, and will then order payment, noting the fact in both rolls, in the memo. form on their reverse. When no space is left in this form to note the payments, fresh duplicate rolls should be prepared and given to the recipients under the Collector's seal and signature, care being taken to have the old rolls first returned by the recipients for cancellation.

Transfer of malikana.

8. Whenever any transfer of malikana by sale, gift, or inheritance occurs, the roll given to the old recipient must similarly be recalled and cancelled, a new roll being then drawn up and given to the transferee. If the transfer is of a portion only of the malikana, the old recipient must still be required to give up his roll for cancellation. A new roll for payment of the balance of the malikana retained by him will then be supplied to him, and a roll will be also given to the transferee for the share acquired by him. Care must be taken on no account to give a new roll for malikana until the old roll has been surrendered and cancelled.

Exemption of malikanadar from personal appearance.

9. A recipient of malikana specially exempted by the Local Government from personal appearance, a female malikanadar not accustomed to appear in public, or a male malikanadar who is unable to appear in consequence of bodily illness or infirmity, may receive his or her malikana upon his or her causing to be produced before the Treasury Officer a life certificate signed by a responsible officer of Government, or by some other well-known and trustworthy person.

Life certificate.

10. A recipient of malikana of any description who causes to be produced before the Treasury Officer a life certificate signed by some person exercising the powers of a Magistrate of any class under the Criminal Procedure Code, or by any Registrar or Sub-Registrar under the Registration Act, or by any pensioned officer who, before retirement, exercised the powers of a Magistrate, or by a Chaplain, or any other gazetted officer of Government, is also exempted from personal appearance, and the malikana due to him can be paid to the presenter (provided the Treasury Officer has no doubt as to the latter's bonâ fides) of the bill, which should be accompanied by the life certificate above referred to, without requiring a formal power-of-attorney.

Precaution.

11. In all cases referred to above, the disbursing officer must take precautions to prevent imposition, and must, at least once a year, require proof, independent of that furnished by the life certificate, of the continued existence of the recipient of malikana.

SLIP No. 121.

Insert the following as rule 3A in section III, Chapter VII, page 157:—

Government Circular No. 11 T. F., dated the 18th June 1906.

3A.—Expenditure on petty construction and repairs will be adjustable as contingent expenditure of the Civil Department concerned so long as it does not exceed Rs. 2,500. No work, the cost of which exceeds this limit, should be considered as coming within the category of "Petty construction and repairs". 1-8-1906.

(2) In rules 3, 5 and 6 of the same section substitute "Rs. 2,500" for "Rs. 1,000."

SLIP No. 55.

Add the following as Rule 8A, section III, Chapter VII, page 157:—

Erection of temporary settlement buildings and custody of settlement records before their final deposit in the Collectorate record-room.

8A. (i) All settlement records should be kept, except for temporary purposes, in buildings constructed of non-inflammable materials.

(ii) There should be no temporary settlement sheds or buildings of any kind constructed of inflammable materials or roofed with thatch, mats or other inflammable substance, within 100 yards of a settlement record-room, or, if in the direction from which the prevailing wind blows during the dry season, within 200 yards, thereof.

(iii) Settlement records should be kept in temporary settlement sheds only while the muharrirs are actually present at work, the records being taken by them from the settlement record-room to the temporary sheds every morning and being returned to it by them every evening. 4-9-1904.

For the heading "Section III—Public buildings and lands" in Chapter VII, page 157 of the Board's Rules, 1902, substitute "Section III—Part I—Public buildings and lands; omit rules 1. to 16 from that section and insert the following as Parts II to IV of the section :—

SECTION III.—PART II.—RESUMÉ SHOWING THE PROCEDURE LAID DOWN IN THE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT CODE IN CONNECTION WITH WORKS EXECUTED BY THE AGENCY OF THE PUBLIC WORES DEPARTMENT.

1. Administrative approval.—Administrative approval, prior to technical sanction being accorded, must be obtained* for works initiated by, or connected with, Departments other than the Public Works Department. Such approval is accorded either by Heads of† Departments and local authorities, or by the Government of India in the Administrative Department concerned, if beyond the powers of the former authorities. In the case of works the cost of which is likely to exceed Rs 5,000 a preliminary report and statement of probable cost should be submitted, accompanied by such general plans or sketches as may be necessary for the elucidation of the proposed work. For works which are estimated to cost Rs. 5,000 or less the preliminary report may be dispensed with and the detailed plans and estimates submitted for administrative approval by competent authority.

* Paragraph 6 of the Public Works Cess.

† Paragraph 649.

2. Technical sanction.—For all works, whether initiated by other Departments or by the Public Works Department, the next stage is what is termed final or technical sanction. It is a fundamental principle ‡ that no work shall be commended unless a detailed estimate has received the sanction of competent authority and proper working drawings and estimates have been prepared. Provision of funds (vide paragraph 5 below) and the preparation of detailed plans and estimates will be arranged for and carried out by the Executive Engineer of the Public Works Department. This done, the authority granted by a sanctioned estimate must always be looked upon § as strictly limited by the precise objects for which the estimate was intended to provide.

‡ Paragraphs 648 and 1922.

§ Paragraph 673.

3. Revised estimate.—Deviations from a scheme which result in any material alterations should be reported || by the Executive Engineer for the approval of the Superintending Engineer, and if they are of an important nature, the consent of the authority who technically sanctioned the original estimate should be obtained. Directly it becomes apparent that the estimate originally sanctioned is likely to be exceeded by more then 5 per cent. either from insufficiency of rates or from any other cause (except as Provided in the succeeding paragraph) an advice of the anticipated excess should be immediately submitted to the authority competent to sanction the excess expenditure,¶ followed promptly by the revised estimate. No delay is permitted in bringing the probability of an excess to notice and Executive Engineers are bound to report the fact forthwith to the Superintending Engineer (P. W. D. Form No. 33). If, however, an excess occurs at such an advanced stage of the construction of the work as to render a revised estimate purposeless, the excess will be dealt with in the form of a completion report.†† It must, however, be borne in mind that any excess over a revised estimate sanctioned by the Government of India ‡‡ or the Secretary of State can be sanctioned by these authorities only.

|| Paragraph 783.

¶ Paragraphs 675, 676 and 1930.

 Paragraphs 275 and 1306.

†† Paragraph 678.

‡‡ Paragraph 1928-A.

4. Supplementary estimate.—Cognate to the revised estimate is the supplementary estimate. Any development of a project considered necessary while a work is in progress, and which cannot be considered fairly contingent on the work as originally sanctioned must be covered by a supplementary§§ estimate, accompanied by a full report of the circumstances which render it necessary. This estimate must be duly sanctioned prior to the supplementary works being commenced.

§§ Paragraph 674.

5. Provision of funds.—Funds for works, the estimates for which have been duly sanctioned, are provided in the Public Works Department and it is as essential a principle as technical sanction that no work shall be commenced until funds have been specifically‖‖ allotted for it, and the expenditure should be limited by the allotment ¶¶ assigned as well as by the sanctioned estimate. In reference to works appertaining to, or initiated by, Departments other than the Public Works Department, Heads of such Departments are required to submit annually to the Local Government or Administration concerned a statement of new works which will be required during the ensuing year, but no work should be entered in this statement that has not been administratively † † † approved (vide paragraph 1 ante). For works in progress no ‡‡‡ statement is required as such works will have appeared in the statement of a previous year and the Local Government or Administration is already in possession of information to enable it to determine what provision is necessary.

‖‖ Paragraph 1923.

¶¶ Paragraph 1875.

 Paragraph 1793.

† † † Paragraphs 1793 and 1830.

‡‡‡ Paragraph 1793.

6. Audit.—It is incumbent on Examiners of Accounts immediately to place under objection §§§ in periodical statements all items of irregular outlay, i.e. :—

§§§ Paragraphs 1434 et seq. and 1482 et seq.

(i) Expenditure incurred without estimate;

(ii) Expenditure incurred in excess of estimates;

(iii) Expenditure incurred without appropriation of funds;

(iv) Expenditure incurred in excess of the funds appropriated;

(v) Estimates which have not received the sanction of competent authority; and

(vi) Miscellaneous irregularities.

They are, moreover, required immediately to report,‖‖‖ by special letter, to the Local Government or Administration all instances of irregular expenditure which they consider to require immediate consideration and to furnish the Accountant-General in the Public Works Department with a copy of the report.

‖‖‖ Paragraph 1488.

7. Summary.—It will therefore be seen that the fundamental principles governing the execution of work by the Public Works Department are:—

(i) Accordance of administrative approval to works of other Departments;

(ii) Accordance of technical sanction to estimates for all works, either by an original, a revised, or a supplementary estimate;

¶¶¶ Paragraph 781.

(iii) Accordance of orders¶¶¶ for the commencement of work by competent authority;

(iv) Provision of funds;

and that these requirements must be duly complied with prior to the commencement of a work.

 Paragraphs 1922 and 1923.

Section III.—Part III.—Provincial Public Works.

1. Under the orders now in force, Provincial public works are classed as (1) Major Works (estimated to cost over Rs. 5,000) and (2) Minor works (estimated to cost Rs. 5,000 or less). They are further classified as (a) works other than residences, and (b) residences of Government officials.

Revenue Department Resolution No. 2205, dated the 20th July 1909.

2. With regard to residences, the Board of Revenue and heads of departments (which term includes Commissioners of divisions) have not been empowered to give administrative approval in any case. They may, however, allot funds for such works from the grants annually placed at their disposal for minor works, subject to the limit of their power of sanction of minor works, and provided the estimate has been duly sanctioned by government.

3. So far as the Revenue Department of Government is concerned, the powers of civil officers to sanction expenditure on individual works required for its own departments or departments subordinate to it are as follows:—

	Rs.
Board of Revenue	5,000
Commissioners of divisions	5,000
Director of Land Records	2,500
Director of Agriculture	2,500
Collectors of districts and Deputy Commissioners.	500

Subject to these limits administrative approval to works, other than those connected with residences, should be given by the authority empowered, and funds should be provided, as the case may be, out of the minor works grants of Commissioners of Divisions or out of sanctioned allotments in departmental budgets. Except where the work consists of petty construction or repair, estimated to cost not more than Rs. 2,500, and is to be carried out by civil officers, the requisite funds should be transferred to the Public Works Department budget in order that the expenditure may be adjusted and audited in the manner laid down in article 1779, Public Works Department Code, Volume II.

4. Proposals for major works and all proposals for residences should be submitted to Government, with rough plans and estimates, for administrative approval.

5. After the total grant for the ensuing financial year has been fixed by Government, each head of a department will be informed how much can be allotted to his department. He will then consult the Public Works Department direct as to the amount which can be spent during the year on the works selected by him from amongst the projects administratively approved by Government, and will thus frame his proposals for utilising the sum allotted to his department. He may also prepare a supplementary list of works (which have received administrative approval) for 25 per cent. in excess of his total allotment in view of more funds being available. These proposals should be submitted to Government as soon as possible for consideration and orders as to their inclusion in the budget of the Public Works Department.

6. For the purposes specified in the preceding paragraph the officers concerned should maintain two lists, viz. :—

I.—List of works administratively approved, in Form I appended. On the allotment of funds for any work it should be removed from the list.

II.—List of works considered desirable, but not administratively approved, in Form II appended. This should include, amongst others, works to which administrative approval has been refused by Government for want of funds.

7. Each list should be divided into two parts, (i) works other than residences, and (ii) residences, and the items should be arranged in order of urgency so as to keep the most urgent near the top. In the column of remarks the necessity for the work and the reasons why it is considered urgent should be clearly stated. Each list should be kept corrected up to date and a copy of it should be submitted to Government not later than the end of December in each year. Any modifications subsequently found necessary should be at once intimated to Government in order that the consolidated lists maintained in the Secretariat may be kept up to date, and whenever any new project is submitted for approval, Government should be informed whereabouts on list I it should be placed.

Serial number in order of urgency.	Locality.	NAME OF WORK.	Amount of rough estimate.	REMARKS.
1	2	3	4	5

8 On the requisition of the civil officer, the Executive Engineer, or the District Engineer will prepare detailed plans and estimates for works costing up to Rs. 5,000 each. But when the works are likely to exceed Rs. 5,000 in cost, a preliminary report and statement of probable cost, together with such general plans or sketches as may be necessary to elucidate the proposal should be submitted for the administrative approval of Government before the detailed estimate is prepared. When the total of the estimate is within Rs. 200, the Executive Engineer, in districts where works are carried out by the Public Works Department, will send the plan and estimate direct to the civil officer. When the estimate exceeds Rs. 200 (and in districts where District Boards carry out works for the Public Works Department, whatever the amount of the estimate may be), the plan and estimate will be sent by the Executive Engineer or District Engineer to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works who, after scrutiny and, if necessary, revision, will forward them to the civil officers. Civil officers who have been given grants for minor works from the Public Works budget should record their sanctions on estimates which have been duly approved by the Public Works officers competent to deal with them in the following form:—

Paragraph 648 of Public Works Department Code.

"Estimate for sanctioned by for the sum of Rs. debitable to the allotment placed at his disposal by the Government of Bengal in No. , dated as below:—

	Rs.
Allotment available for the year ...
Less sanctioned previously ...
Amount of this sanctioned ..
Balance of allotment still available ..	,,

The sanction should in all cases be intimated and the plans and estimate sent to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, and not to the Executive Engineer or District Engineer direct.

Civil officers who have not received any allotment for minor works should send the plans and estimates approved to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works who will, if possible, sanction and allot from the grant at his disposal.

9. Commissioners and Heads of Departments should not call on Executive or District Engineers to prepare detailed estimates for works for the execution of which they are unable to find funds from the grants placed at their disposal.

10. For all major works, i.e., works costing above Rs. 5,000 which exceed the limits of sanction of civil officers the administrative approval of the Local Government is required before detailed plans and estimates are prepared. The Executive Engineer or District Engineer will, on request by the civil officer, furnish a rough plan for, and approximate estimate of the cost of, the work proposed. These will in all cases be sent to the civil officer through the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, who should state if he considers that the amount provided in the approximate estimate is fair for a work of the class proposed.

The civil officer should furnish the Executive Engineer or District Engineer with particulars as to the reasons for which the building is required and as to the accommodation which has to be provided, while the Executive Engineer or District Engineer should show that his plan will generally suit the civil officer's requirements, and he should give particulars as to the class of work which it is proposed to provide for and show on what information his estimate of cost is based.

On receipt of the rough plan and approximate estimate from the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, the Civil Officer will submit them to the Government in the Department concerned. When administrative approval has been accorded, orders will issue in the Public Works Department to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works for the preparation of the detailed plans and estimates.

11. When a scheme is submitted for approval, for which funds have not been allotted, the term "administrative approval" should be used for "administrative sanction"

Section III.—Part IV.—Imperial Public Works.

1. The Board are empowered to accord administrative approval to expenditure, on original works connected with buildings of the Imperial Customs and Salt Departments, up to a limit of Rs 2,500 as in the case of buildings belonging to the Opium Department.

2. Detailed plans and estimates for any Imperial Works which are beyond the powers of heads of Departments to sanction or administratively approve under the Public Works Department Code, should not be prepared by the Executive Engineer until the projects have received administrative approval in the Department concerned All rough plans and estimates for works estimated to cost over Rs. 10,000, or for works (whatever their estimated cost) connected with official residences, should be submitted for the Chief Engineer's scrutiny and approval before being sent on to the Head of Department.

Procedure for preparation of plans and estimates for Imperial works. Government order No. 488A., dated the 12th February 1907.

3. When a scheme is submitted for approval, for which funds have not been allotted, the term "administrative approval" should be used for "administrative sanction."

Part III.

Payment of rent money-orders.

15. Before a rent money-order is made over to the postman or payment, the money-order clerk or postmaster of the office of ayment will carefully examine the name or month and the year the kist entered in the coupon and acknowledgment, and satisfy imself they have been clearly entered and bear no marks of asure or correction.

16. If the examination prescribed in rule 15 shows any dis-epancy or alteration in the entries of the kists in the coupon id the acknowledgment, the money-order must not be paid the payee, but should be returned to the office of issue for

12. Both the registers now prescribed by rules 2 and 4 will be kept under the supervision of the Sarishtadar for daily reference. They will be in English.

Supervision of registers.

Section III.—Public Buildings and Lands.

1. Plans of all Government lands and buildings in a district are to be deposited in the Collector's office, duplicate copies being lodged in the office of the Chief Engineer when the premises are in the charge of the Department of Public Works, otherwise in that of the Board.

Plans to be made and kept.

2. A Register (No. 6) of all lands used for public purposes is to be kept up. Lands in the occupation of Municipalities, District Boards, and Local Boards should be entered in a separate volume to be called Register 6A.

Registers of lands.

3. Public buildings in the Revenue Department, permanent or temporary (i.e., whether constructed of masonry or not), of which the cost is estimated to be less than Rs. 1,000, are to be constructed under the Collector's orders, funds being provided in his budget under the head "Petty constructions and repairs."

Buildings to be constructed by Collector.

4. Temporary buildings in the charge of District Officers are to be examined periodically to ascertain their condition and the probable necessity of repairs.

Temporary buildings to be examined.

5. All buildings of which the cost is estimated to be Rs. 1,000 or more are constructed by the Public Works Department and borne on the books of that department, the expenditure being estimated for in the budget of that department. The repairs of all buildings borne upon the books of the Public Works Department will be executed by that department, and the cost estimated in their budget.

Buildings to be constructed by Public Works Department.

6. If the Collector thinks it desirable that any masonry building, estimated to cost less than Rs. 1,000, should be constructed by the Public Works Department, he may report the matter for orders.

Special exception.

7. Petty repairs of buildings not on the books of the Public Works Department are to be executed by Collectors and charged in their contingent bills.

Repairs by Collector.

8. Thatched buildings may not be erected upon the premises surrounding any public buildings without a reference to the department in whose charge the building is.

Thatched buildings forbidden.

9. When it is proposed to enlarge cutcherries or other buildings for the accommodation of offices or courts other than those by which they are occupied, or to erect buildings near to other public buildings, the senior officers of the department occupying the existing buildings should countersign the plans, in token that there is no objection on their part to the proposed arrangement.

Senior officer to countersign plans.

SECTION IV.—RULES UNDER SECTIONS 10 AND 11 OF THE LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT, XIX OF 1883, AS AMENDED BY ACT XVIII OF 1899, ISSUED WITH THE NOTIFICATION OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, NO. 931L.R., DATED THE 19TH FEBRUARY 1901.

Definition of Collector.

1. In these rules the word "Collector" means the Collector as defined by section 3 of the Act.

Powers of sanction.

2. Subject to the provisions of these rules, the Collector may sanction loans of sums not exceeding Rs. 1,000 each for purposes specified in the Act, provided that the district allotment be not exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. Any loan exceeding Rs. 1,000 requires the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000, the sanction of the Board. In such cases the Commissioner or the Board may call for such detailed plans and estimates, or for such professional opinion, as may seem necessary.

Applications,

3. Applications for loans may be presented to any Revenue Officer of, or above, the rank of a Kanungo or Sub-Deputy Collector for transmission to the Collector.

and form.

4 All applications shall be made in writing and as nearly as possible in the annexed Form A.

Local enquiry.

5. The Collector shall either make a local enquiry himself or shall cause one to be made by a Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo or Sub-Deputy Collector, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A.

Security.

6. (a) When the applicant's interest in the land to be improved is sufficient to cover the loan, no collateral security need be required.

(b) When the sureties are a body of village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally as provided in section 9 of the Act, their personal surety will generally be sufficient.

(c) In all cases not covered by clause (a) or clause (b) of this rule, immoveable property shall be hypothecated by the applicant as collateral security, provided that the sureties have executed a bond in the annexed Form D[A].

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES UNDER THE LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT, XIX OF 1883.

Powers of sanction.

1. (1) Subject to the provisions of these rules, and provided that the district allotment is not exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, Subdivisional Officers, and also Deputy Collectors specially empowered by the Collector with the approval of the Commissioner, may sanction loans of sums not exceeding Rs. 500 in each case, and the Collector may sanction loans up to Rs. 1,000 in each case, for purposes specified in the Act.

(2) Any loan exceeding Rs. 1,000 shall require the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000 the sanction of the Board; and the Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, may call for such detailed plans and estimates, or for such professional opinion, as may seem necessary, before sanctioning any such loan.

Application to whom to be made.

2. Applications for loans may be presented to the Collector, or to any other Revenue Officer, not below the rank of a Kanungo, authorized in this behalf by the Collector.

3. (1) Application may be made orally or in writing.

Form of application.

(2) The officers authorized by rule 2 to receive applications shall keep with them, for free distribution, copies of the annexed Form A, and shall do their best to secure the presentation of all written applications as nearly as possible in that form, but shall not reject any such application that may be presented in any other form.

(3) If applications are received orally, they shall at once be reduced to writing by the officers authorized to receive them.

Local enquiry.

4. (1) A Revenue Officer receiving an application under rule 2 shall either make a local enquiry himself, or cause one to be made by another Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo, or by some reliable non-official agency if available, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A.

(2) A Kanungo shall be so employed only when a gazetted officer is not available.

(3) In addition to the procedure prescribed in this rule, a Revenue Officer receiving the application under rule 2 may, if he thinks fit, publish a notice under section 5 of the Act calling upon persons objecting to the loan to appear before the officer deputed to hold the local enquiry, at a time and place to be fixed in the notice, and to submit their objections.

(4) Such notice shall be published by being affixed to a prominent place in the village in which the land, to the improvement of which the loan is to be applied, is situated.

Submission of application with report of local enquiry.

5. If the Revenue Officer is not empowered by rule 1 to sanction the loan, he shall transmit the application with his report to the Collector or to the officer who ordered the enquiry, as the case may be, provided that, if the receiving or enquiring officer is subordinate to a Subdivisional Officer, he shall submit it to the Subdivisional Officer.

Delegation of functions.

6. The Local Government may, by general or special order empower any person to perform all or any of the functions of a Collector or of a Revenue Officer referred to in rules 2, 4 and 5.

Security.

7. In deciding whether the security offered is sufficient, the officer dealing with the application shall be guided by the following principles:—

(i) Where the amount of the loan does not exceed three-fourths of the value of the applicant's transferable interest in the land after the improvement has been made, no collateral security need be required.

(ii) Where the applicant's interest in the land is not sufficient of itself to guarantee the repayment of the loan, further security shall be required, which may consist of transferable interests in other lands belonging to the applicant or to other persons willing to become his sureties, or of personal security.

(iii) Where a body of five or more co-villagers bind themselves jointly and severally as contemplated in section 9 of the Act, their personal security will generally be sufficient, and such officer may, if empowered by rule 1, at his discretion advance on such security an amount not exceeding five times the annual assessment of the land held by such villagers.

Procedure.

8. If the proposed improvement falls within section 4, sub-section (2), of the Act, and if the security offered is good and sufficient, the officer dealing with the application, or the Collector, when the application and report have been transmitted to him under rule 5, may on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if he has power by rule 1 to do so ; otherwise the Collector shall forward the application, with his report thereon, to the Commissioner for disposal.

Disbursement of loans on the spot.

9. Where the Revenue Officer, other than the Collector, has power under rule 1 to sanction the loan applied for, he may, as soon as the local enquiry is completed, and the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A are filled in, take the security required by rule 11, sanction the loan and, if so desired by the applicant, disburse it on the spot. Loans, or instalments of loans, sanctioned by the Collector or any higher authority may be disbursed in the village by Subdivisional Officers and Deputy Collectors empowered under rule 1, and by any reliable non-official agency where available.

Provided that disbursement on the spot may not in any case exceed Rs. 500 for a single item :

Provided also that, when any loan is payable in more than one instalment, the second or any subsequent instalment shall not be passed for payment by the sanctioning officer until he has had an enquiry made locally and satisfied himself that satisfactory progress is being made with the work for which the loan was sanctioned.

10. For the purpose of rule 9 the Revenue Officer may draw a lump sum at a time on an abstract bill, subject to the following restrictions:—

Drawing of money on abstract bills.

(a) No officer disbursing loans under the said rule shall be allowed to draw a second abstract bill without producing a detailed bill to account for the amounts already disbursed from the last advance taken, any balance left being at the same time refunded into the Government Treasury.

(b) In no case shall the submission of the detailed bill be delayed beyond the end of the month following that in which the advance was drawn from the Treasury.

(c) The disbursing officer shall take the receipts of the payees on the spot as soon as advances have been made, and shall certify at the foot of the detailed bill that the advances were duly sanctioned by him and paid in his presence.

(d) The Collector shall prescribe a money-limit for the amount which may be drawn on an abstract bill by each officer with due regard to the circumstances of each case.

Explanation to clause (a).—It is not intended that the money should actually be returned to the Treasury on each occasion. When preparing the detailed bill, the disbursing officer should show in it the unexpended balance of the advance as refunded. This balance will be deducted at the Treasury from the amount of the abstract bill submitted for a further advance.

11. (1) If the loan is sanctioned, the applicant must sign a certificate in the annexed Form B; and when the value of his interest in the land to be improved, or in the said land, together with any other land belonging to him which he may have hypothecated, is not sufficient to cover the loan, he must execute, or cause to be executed, a bond in the annexed Form C or D, as the case may be.

Certificate for grant of loan, and security bond.

(2) If the loan is granted to a body of villagers who make themselves jointly and severally liable, they shall, in addition to signing the certificate in Form B, sign a bond in the annexed Form E.

12. A copy of the certificate shall be given to the applicant, and, on presentation thereof, payment of the loan, or of any instalment of the loan may be made to him either at the district or the subdivisional treasury, or on the spot under rule 9.

Payment where to be made.

13. (1) In the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed.

Closure of loan, on failure to take instalment due.

(2) The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 17 and 18, in modification of the certificate in Form B granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned.

ILLUSTRATION.—A applies for and obtains sanction to a loan of Rs. 1,000, payable to him in four instalments of Rs. 250 on the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July, and the 1st October 1908. In the certificate granted to him, the loan is declared to be repayable in half-yearly instalments beginning from the 1st October 1909. He takes only the first two instalments. The Collector may treat the loan as one of Rs. 500 completely paid on the 1st April 1908, and if he does so, he must draw up a revised certificate in Form B in which all the conditions of the repayment of the loan actually taken are to be recorded.

14. (1) The ordinary rate of interest on loans shall be one anna in the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

Interest on loans.

(2) The Local Government may, for special reasons, and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest, or without interest.

(3) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector shall charge interest on it at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum, from the date of its falling due to the date of payment:

Provided that, whenever the Collector is satisfied that the default is due to inability to pay, and that the levy of such interest would be productive of hardship, he may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, reduce or remit it.

(4) In charging penal interest on overdue instalments not suspended under rule 20, the same period of 15 days' grace shall be allowed as in the case of payments of cesses, and thereafter interest shall be charged on the total of the overdue instalment at the same rate as the interest on the loan.

15. (1) Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable.

Interest for intervening period.

(2) The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum on the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

16. (1) The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the Table of Equated Repayments of Takavi Loans, prepared by the Accountant-General, Bengal, similar to the annexed Form F, which shows the amounts of equal yearly payments necessary to repay a loan advanced with interest at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

Table of repayment.

(2) When the instalments are payable half-yearly, the sum to be paid each half-year shall be half the sum shown in the said Table for a yearly instalment.

17. (1) Repayment shall be by yearly or half-yearly instalments.

(2) The date of the first instalment shall be the time when profit begins to accrue, but shall in no case be later than two and a half years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.

Repayment by instalments: date of first instalment.

18. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily be later than twenty years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement: Provided that the whole amount of the loan shall in all cases be repaid before expiry of the period for which the improvement is likely to be effective.

Date of last instalment, and principle on which instalments should be fixed.

19. The dates for repayment of instalments (annual or half-yearly) shall be fixed by the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, for each thana of his district, with reference to the season when repayment can most easily be made.

Dat of repayment of instalments or of interest.

EXPLANATION.—The season at which repayment can most easily be made will ordinarily be the time when crops grown for sale are taken to market. In jute districts, for instance, it would probably be best to provide for repayment by one annual instalment in September, when the jute crop is sold, except in cases where the borrower himself prefers to pay in two yearly instalments.

20. (1) The realization of instalments or of interest may be suspended by the Collector on proof of failure of crops from causes beyond the borrower's control, or of other exceptional calamity rendering the payment of instalments unduly burdensome to him.

Suspension of instalments.

(2) The Collector shall report every such suspension to the Commissioner, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

(3) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspension. The total amount to be repaid shall remain the same as before.

(4) The power of suspension of payments of instalments or of interest on loans which is conferred on the Collector by clause (1) of this rule may be exercised to the extent of Rs. 1,000 in any one case.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (4) of this rule, in all cases where suspension of revenue or rent has been granted on a large scale over a wide area, a suspension of payment of instalments due during the period for which suspension of revenue or rent has been granted shall be made by the Collector without reference to any higher authority, and the effect of such suspension shall be to postpone for one instalment period at a time the payment of all remaining instalments due on the loan.

21. (1) The Collector shall, in no case without reference to the Commissioner, remit repayment of a loan; and he may recommend remission only in cases where a work fails from causes beyond the borrower's control and where recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship.

Remission of loan.

(2) Remission may be sanctioned by the Commissioner up to the amount of loan a Collector may sanction, and by the Board up to the amount a Commissioner may sanction. Larger remissions require the sanction of the Local Government.

Inspection of work.

22. The Collector shall make provision for the inspection, from time to time, of all works undertaken under the Act. In all cases the works shall, if possible, be inspected within one month from the expiration of the time within which completion is directed in the certificate Form B.

Misapplication of loan.

23. (1) If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of a loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue Authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

(2) Before determining to take action under clause (1) of this rule, the Collector shall take into consideration the expense of supervision, even when that may have been supplied by the debtor himself.

Returns, registers and accounts.

24. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

Supplementary Rules having effect only in temporarily settled Estates.

Reclamation of waste land.

25. When land is reclaimed from waste and brought under cultivation by means of a loan granted under the Act, the increase in value derived from the improvement shall not be taken into account in revising the assessment of land-revenue on the land until after the expiration of a period of three years, reckoned from the beginning of the harvest first reaped after such reclamation was effected.

Improvement by irrigation.

26. When land assessed at unirrigated rates is improved by irrigation by means of a loan granted under the Act, the increase in value derived from the improvement shall not be taken into account in revising the assessment of land revenue on the land—

(a) if the irrigation is provided by the construction of a new masonry well, until after the expiration of twenty years, reckoned from the beginning of the harvest first reaped after such improvement was effected;

(b) if the irrigation is provided by the construction of a distributary from a canal, until after the expiration of a period of five years, reckoned as in clause (a) of this rule directed; or

(c) if the irrigation is provided by any means other than those hereinbefore in clauses (a) and (b) specified, until after the expiration of a period of ten years, reckoned as in clause (a) of this rule directed.

Loans combined with free grants.

27. (1) For the purpose of carrying out any irrigation work or protective work, such as a private tank or embankment—

(a) which is likely either to lead ultimately to an increase in the land revenue, or to be necessary to secure the land revenue already assessed, and

(b) which is beyond the capacity of the people to be benefited thereby to carry out without assistance in money, loans may be granted to a landowner, sufficient to pay for a portion of the cost of the work, a free grant being made of the remainder of the cost, the proportion of the free grant to the total cost depending on the property of the applicant and the marginal profit from the work.

Provided that, without the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which shall only be accorded in special cases, the maximum amount of the free grant shall not exceed half the said total cost or Rs. 500, whichever may be less:

Provided also that the work be carried out to the satisfaction of the Collector.

(2) Should the amount of any loan made under clause (1), or any part thereof, be misapplied, or be spent otherwise than in accordance with the conditions on which the loan was made, the whole amount of the loan shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue under section 7 of the Act.

(3) In dealing with loans and free grants under this rule, the procedure prescribed in rules 1 to 23 shall, mutatis mutandis, be followed:

Provided that the payment of any such free grant shall be deferred until the agreement in Form B has been registered by the grantee under the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

(4) The amount of any free grant made under this rule shall not be included in the loan accounts, but shall be shown in a separate account, and debited to "43—Minor Works."

Saving.

Loans in special cases.

28. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to affect any power of the Board of Revenue or the Local Government to grant, in special cases, loans under the Act on terms other than those hereinbefore prescribed or to affect the terms of any special agreement under which any loan under the Act has been, or may hereafter be granted, or the terms of any unexpired settlement.

2. The conditions relating to the making and repayment of this loan are as follow:—

(a) That it, with the interest thereon, shall be payable on the dates and by the amount specified below:—

Date.	Amount (Principal and interest).

(b) That, in the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed. The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 17 and 18, in modification of this certificate.

(c) That interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum on the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

(d) That the loan shall be applied solely to the purpose specified above; and that, if at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

when needed.

(e) That, unless (here enter any conditions as to the period or periods appointed for completing the work) the work has been completed by (date) or any extension of the said date granted by the Collector, the loan shall be held to have been misapplied.

(f) That, for the repayment of the loan with any interest due on the same, the immoveable property specified in the margin is hypothecated to Government.

(g) That, if any instalment is not paid on the due date the whole amount of the loan shall be deemed to have become due.

(h) That, if it be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that the statements made by the aforesaid in his application for this loan, as to the nature and extent of encumbrances, are in any particular untrue, the Collector may so declare in writing, and thereupon the whole of such loan, with such interest as may become due thereon, shall forthwith become due and payable.

(i) (Where a loan and a free grant are made under rule 27.)—That, if the work be not carried out to the satisfaction of the Collector, the amount given as a free grant shall be repaid, and shall be recoverable under the provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1628L.R.—The 23rd March 1909.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules for Bengal (including the district of Sambalpur), in supersession of those in section 152, pages 45-48, of the Bengal Famine Code (Revised Edition of 1905), as to the grant of loans under that Act to proprietors and occupants of land, in tracts which may from time to time be affected by distress, for the purpose of constructing tanks and executing other works in their own villages and giving employment to labourers thereon.

II. The following notifications are hereby cancelled, namely:—

No. 1286L.R., dated the 28th February 1908, published at pages 554-560 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 4th March 1908.

No. 1317T.R., dated the 24th June 1908, published at page 1194 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 1st July 1908.

No. 3545L.R., dated the 4th September 1908, published at page 1526 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th idem.

F. W. DUKE,

Offg. Chief Secy to the Govt. of Bengal.

SPECIAL RULES UNDER THE LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT, XIX OF 1883, FOR TRACTS AFFECTED BY DISTRESS.

Application of rules.

1. These rules shall have effect in such tracts as may from time to time be declared by the Local Government to be affected by distress.

Allotment of funds.

2. (1) On the first warnings of distress, the Local Government will call upon the Board of Revenue to submit estimates of sums required for advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, and will allot to each Division such amount as may, with reference to local conditions and the district programmes of village relief works, seem to be necessary.

(2) Commissioners may divide the sums so allotted among the districts of their Divisions at their discretion, and may transfer assignments from one district to another; but the total expenditure within the Division must be kept within the amount assigned.

(3) If a Collector considers the allotment assigned to his district to be insufficient, he shall report the fact and his requirements to the Commissioner, who shall, if possible, arrange for a transfer from another district, or report the matter, through the Board of Revenue, to the Local Government for orders.

Loans combined with free grants.

3. (1) In distressed areas loans may be made for land improvements which will afford employment to the poor, with the assistance of free grants-in-aid from famine funds.

(2) The general proportion of the free grant-in-aid to the total expenditure will be fixed for each Division by the Local Government.

(3) The proportion in individual cases or classes of cases shall be fixed by the Collector, but the previous sanction of the Commissioner must be obtained if that proportion varies by more than 25 per cent. from the average proportion fixed for the Division.

(4) Should the amount of any loan made under this rule, or any part thereof, be mis-applied, or spent otherwise than in accordance with the conditions on which the loan was made, the whole amount of the loan shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue under section 7 of the Act.

(5) The payment of any free grant made under this rule shall be deferred until the agreement in Form D—II(a) has been registered by the grantee under the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

(6) The amount of any free grant made under this rule shall not be included in the loan accounts, but shall be shown in a separate account, and debited to "33—Famine Relief."

4. (1) Subject to the provisions of these rules, and provided that the district allotment is not exceeded Subdivisional Officers and Famine Relief Charge Superintendents, and also Deputy Collectors specially empowered by the Collector with the approval of the Commissioner of the Division, may sanction loans (including free grants-in-aid at the proportion fixed under rule 3) not exceeding Rs. 1,000 in each case, and the Collector may sanction such loans up to Rs. 5,000 in each case.

Powers of sanction.

(2) Loans exceeding Rs. 5,000 shall require the sanction of the Commissioner, and loans exceeding Rs. 10,000 the sanction of the Board; and the Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, may call for such detailed plans and estimates or for such professional opinion on the project proposed as may seem necessary before sanctioning any such loans.

5. (1) Applications for loans may be made orally or in writing to the Famine Relief Circle Office or Charge Superintendent, or to any Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo.

Applications for loans.

(2) The officers authorised by clause (1) of this rule to receive applications shall keep with them, for free distribution, copies of the annexed Form D—I, and shall do their best to secure the presentation of all written applications as nearly as possible in that form, but shall not reject any such application that may be presented in any other Forms.

(3) If applications are received orally, they shall at once be reduced to writing by the officer authorised to receive them.

6. (1) An officer receiving an application under rule 5 shall either make a local enquiry himself, or cause one to be made by a Famine Relief Officer not below the rank of a Circle Officer, or by a Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo, or by some reliable non-official agency if available, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form D-I.

Local enquiry.

(2) A Kanungo or a Circle Officer shall be so employed only when a gazetted officer is not available.

(3) In addition to the procedure prescribed in this rule, an officer receiving application under rule 5 may, if he thinks fit, publish a notice under section 5 of the Act calling upon persons objecting to the loan to appear before the officer deputed to hold the local enquiry at a time and place to be fixed in the notice, and to submit their objections.

(4) Such notice shall be published by being affixed to a prominent place in the village in which the land, to the improvement of which the loan is to be applied, is situated.

Submission of application with report of local enquiry.

7. If the Famine Relief Officer or the Revenue Officer is not empowered by rule 4 to sanction the loan, he shall transmit the application with his report to the Collector or the officer who ordered the enquiry, as the case may be, provided that, if the receiving or enquiring officer is subordinate to a Famine Relief Charge Superintendent or to a Sub-divisional Officer he shall submit the application to his immediate superior.

Security

8. In deciding whether the security offered is sufficient, the officer dealing with the application shall be guided by the following principles:—

(i) Where the amount of the loan does not exceed three-fourths of the value of the applicant's transferable interest in the land after the improvement has been made, no collateral security need be required.

(ii) Where the applicant's interest in the land is not sufficient of itself to guarantee the re-payment of the loan, further security shall be required, which may consist of transferable interests in other lands belonging to the applicant or to other persons willing to become his sureties, or of personal security.

(iii) Where a body of five or more co-villagers bind themselves jointly and severally as contemplated in section 9 of the Act, their personal security will generally be sufficient; and such officer may, if empowered by rule 4, at his discretion advance on such security an amount not exceeding five times the annual assessment of the land held by such villagers.

9. (1) Where any application submitted refers to a project already entered in the district programme of village relief-works, the information given in the programme and in any plans that may have been prepared for the work may be referred to in dealing with such application.

Principles to be observed in determining the amount to be advanced.

(2) In determining the amount of the loan in such cases, the officer dealing with the application shall follow the estimates of cost of the works as given in the said programme. For other works the rate shall not exceed the ordinary local rate by more than 25 per cent.

10. If the proposed work be approved by the enquiring officer, and if the security offered be good and sufficient, he may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself if empowered by rule 4 to do so; otherwise he shall forward the application with his report for orders under rule 7.

Procedure.

11. If the loan is sanctioned in the village by an officer other than the Collector, the sanctioning officer, after filling in the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form D—I, and taking the security required by rule 13 may, if so desired by the applicant, disburse the loan on the spot. Loans or instalments of loans sanctioned by the Collector or any higher authority may also be disbursed in the village by Subdivisional Officers and Famine Relief Charge Superintendents and by Deputy Collectors empowered under rule 4, and by any reliable non-official agency, where available.

Disbursement of loans on the spot.

Provided that, when any loan is payable in more than one instalment, the second or any subsequent instalment shall not be paid by the disbursing officer, except as provided in rule 16.

12. For the purpose of rule 11, the officer concerned may draw a lump sum at a time on an abstract bill, subject to the following restrictions:—

Drawing of money on abstract bills.

(a) No officer disbursing loans under the said rule shall be allowed to draw a second abstract bill without producing a detailed bill to account for the

16. Loans shall ordinarily be given in three instalments, viz., two-fifths before the work has been commenced, two-fifths when it is approximately half finished, and one-fifth when it has been passed as completed after due inspection.

Payment of loans by instalments.

17. (1) Repayment shall be made by yearly or half-yearly instalments.

(2) The date of the first instalment shall be the time when profit begins to accrue, but shall in no case be later than two and-a-half years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually taken.

Repayment by instalments; date of first instalment.

18. The date of the payment of the last instalment shall not ordinarily be later than twenty years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually taken, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement :

Date of last instalment, and principle on which instalments should be fixed.

Provided that the whole amount of the loan or such portion of it as will be recovered shall in all cases be repaid before the expiry of the period for which the improvement is likely to be effective.

19. (1) In the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed.

Closure of loan on failure to take instalment due.

(2) The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken ; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector consistent with rules 17 and 18, in modification of the certificate in Form D—II (a) granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned.

ILLUSTRATION.—A applies for and obtains sanction to a loan of Rs. 1,000 payable to him in three instalments, two of Rs. 400 each (⅖ths of the total amount) and one of Rs. 200, payable, respectively, on 1st January, 1st May and 1st September 1908. In the certificate granted to him, the loan is declared to be repayable in half-yearly instalments, beginning from the 1st October 1909. He takes only the first two instalments. The Collector may treat the loan as one of Rs. 800 completely paid on the 1st May 1908, and, if he does so, he must draw up a revised certificate in Form D—II (a) in which all the conditions of the repayment of the loan actually taken are to be recorded.

20. (1) The realization of instalments or of interest may be suspended, by the order, and at the discretion, of the Collector, on proof of failure of crops from causes beyond the borrower's control or of other exceptional calamity rendering the payment of instalments unduly burdensome to him.

Suspension of instalments or of interest.

(2) The Collector shall report every such suspension to the Commissioner, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

(3) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspension. The total amount to be repaid shall remain the same as before.

(4) The power of suspension of payments of instalments, which is conferred on the Collector by clause (1) of this rule, may be exercised to the extent of Rs. 5,000 in any one case.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (4) of this rule, in all cases where suspension of revenue or rent has been granted on a large scale over a wide area, a suspension of payment of instalments due during the period for which suspension of revenue or rent has been granted shall be made by the Collector without reference to any higher authority, and the effect of such suspension shall be to postpone for one instalment period at a time the payment of all remaining instalments due on the loan.

21. (1) It shall ordinarily be sufficient, if a work has been properly located and measured out beforehand, to make a detailed measurement after it has been completed, a careful inspection being made only when the work is about half done, with the object of ascertaining whether the second instalment of the loan should be paid.

Inspection and measurement.

(2) If the final measurements agree substantially with those specified in the original estimate, the account shall be closed, any difference being adjusted by the Collector.

22. (1) If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of a loan has been misapplied, or that it is not being spent on the work for which it was intended, or that the statements made by the applicant in his application for the loan (Form D—I), or by his sureties in their bond proffering collateral security, as to the nature and extent of the encumbrances on the immoveable property pledged as security for the repayment of the loan, are in any particular untrue, the

Interest to be levied in the case of misapplication of loan, or of discovery of untruth of statements made by applicant or his sureties.

Collector may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue Authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon at the rate of 12½ per cent. per annum from the date on which the loan was made to the date of recovery.

(2) Before determining to take action under clause (1) of this rule, the Collector shall take into consideration the expense of supervision, even when that may have been supplied by the debtor himself.

Interest for intervening period.

23. (1) In the circumstances described in rule 22, interest shall also be levied at 12½ per cent. per annum for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable.

(2) The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum on the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

Form of remission of part of loan.

24. If the work for which a loan is made is carried out to the satisfaction of the Collector, and in accordance with the conditions imposed by these rules, and if it is necessary to grant some remission, it shall take the form of a remission of land revenue. The loan with interest shall ordinarily be recovered.

Irrecoverable loans.

Returns, registers and accounts.

26. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers and accounts relating to loans advanced under these rules.

(iii) If applications are received orally, they shall at once be reduced to writing by the officer authorised to receive them.

Local enquiry.

4. (i) A Revenue Officer receiving an application under rule 2 shall either make a local enquiry himself or cause one to be made by another Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo or by some reliable non-official agency, if available, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A.

(ii) A Kanungo shall be so employed only when a gazetted officer is not available.

Submission of application with report of local enquiry.

5. If any Revenue Officer is not empowered by rule 1 to sanction the loan, he shall transmit the application with his report to the Collector, or to the officer who ordered the enquiry, as the case may be, provided that, if the receiving or enquiring officer is subordinate to a Subdivisional Officer he shall submit it to the Subdivisional Officer.

6. The Local Government may, by general or special order, empower any person to perform all or any of the functions of a Collector or of a Revenue Officer referred to in rules 2, 4 and 5.

Delegation of functions.

7. (i) When the applicant possesses an interest in immoveable property of value sufficient to secure the whole amount that may become payable in respect of the loan, he shall mortgage that interest, or a sufficient portion thereof, to the Government as security for the payment of that amount, and no further security need be required from him.

Security.

(ii) When the applicant does not possess an interest in immoveable property of such value as aforesaid, he shall procure some person or persons to become his surety or sureties for the payment of the said amount.

(iii) When the sureties are a body of village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally to the Government for the payment of the said amount, their personal security may be accepted, provided that the sureties have executed a bond in the annexed Form C. In other cases, the security given by the surety or sureties shall consist of the mortgage of immoveable property.

(iv) The Collector must in every case satisfy himself that the security offered in whatever form it is given, is sufficient to guarantee the repayment of the loans, and when he is of opinion that security other than land is sufficient, such security may be accepted.

8. If the loan applied for is one that can be granted under the provisions of section 4, sub-section (1), of the Act, and if the security offered is good and sufficient, the officer dealing with the application or the Collector, when the application and report have been transmitted to him under rule 5, may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if empowered by rule 1 to do so; otherwise the Collector shall forward the application, with his report thereon, to the Commissioner for disposal.

Procedure.

9. When the Revenue Officer, rather than th[illegible] has power under rule 1 to [illegible]hould actually be loan applied for, he may, as [illegible]e detailed bill, the local enquiry is completed a[illegible] of the advance as [illegible]the amount of the the security required by rule 11, sanction the loan, and, if so desired by the applicant, disburse it on the spot. Loans or instalments of loans sanctioned by the Collector or any higher authority may be disbursed in the village by Subdivisional officers and Deputy Collectors empowered under rule 1, and by any reliable non-official agency, where available:

Provided that disbursement on the spot may not in any case exceed Rs. 500 for a single item:

Provided also that, when any loan is payable in more than one instalment, the second or any subsequent instalment shall not be passed for payment by the sanctioning officer until he has had an enquiry made locally and satisfied himself that satisfactory progress is being made with the work for which the loan was sanctioned.

Drawing of money on abstract bills.

10. For the purposes of rule 9, the Revenue Officer may draw a lump sum at a time on an abstract bill, subject to the following restrictions:—

(a) No officer disbursing loans under the said rule shall be allowed to draw a second abstract bill without producing a detailed bill to account for the amounts already disbursed from the last advance taken, any balance left being at the same time refunded into Government Treasury.

(b) In no case shall the submission of the detailed bill be delayed beyond the end of the month following that in which the advance was drawn from the Treasury.

(c) The disbursing officer shall take the receipts of the payees on the spot as soon as advances have been made, and shall certify at the foot of the detailed bill that the advances were duly sanctioned by him and paid in his presence.

(d) The Collector shall prescribe a money limit for the amount which may be drawn on an abstract bill by each officer with due regard to the circumstances of each case.

Explanation to clause (a).—It is not intended that the money should actually be returned to the Treasury on each occasion. When preparing the detailed bill, the disbursing officer should only show in it the unexpended balance of the advance as refunded. This balance will be deducted at the Treasury from the amount of the abstract bill submitted for a further advance.

Order granting loan, and security bonds.

11. (i) If the loan is sanctioned, the applicant must sign the order granting the loan, which shall be in the annexed Form B, as nearly as may be.

(ii) If the security for the payment of the loan consists of the mortgage of an interest of the applicant, such as is referred to in clause (i) of rule 7, mortgage may be effected by clause (f) of Form B being inserted in the order granting the loan, and by the order being attested by at least two witnesses, and by a copy thereof being sent to the registering officer under section 89 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, as amended by section 3, Act VII of 1886.

(iii) If the security is furnished by a surety or sureties, it shall be taken where the sureties give only personal security, in the annexed Form C, and where the surety or sureties mortgages or mortgage immoveable property, in the annexed Form D.

(iv) Every bond executed in Form D must be attested by at least two witnesses, and a copy of it must be sent to the registering officer under the said section 89 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

(v) If the loan is granted to a body of villagers who make themselves jointly and severally liable, they shall, in addition to signing the order in Form B, sign a bond in the annexed Form E.

Payment where to be made.

12. A copy of the order granting the loan shall be given to the applicant, and, on presentation thereof payment of the loan or of any instalment of the loan may be made to him either at the district or the subdivisional Treasury, or on the spot under rule 9.

Closure of loan on failure to take instalment due.

13. (i) In the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed.

(ii) The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken ; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 17 and 18 in modification of the order in Form B granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned.

ILLUSTRATION.—A applies for and obtains sanction to a loan of Rs. 100, payable to him in four instalments of Rs. 25 on the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July, and the 1st October 1908. In the order granted to him, the loan is declared to be repayable in half-yearly instalments, beginning from 1st October 1909. He takes only the first two instalments. The Collector may treat the loan as one of Rs. 50, completely paid on the 1st April 1908, and if he does so, he must draw up a revised order in Form B, in which all the conditions of the repayment of the loan actually taken are to be recorded.

Interest on loans.

14. (i) The ordinary rate of interest on loans shall be one anna on the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

(ii) The Local Government may, for special reasons and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(iii) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector shall charge interest on it at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment :

Provided that, whenever the Collector is satisfied that the default is due to inability to pay, and that the levy of such interest would be productive of hardship, he may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, reduce or remit it.

(iv) In charging penal interest on overdue instalments not suspended under rule 20, the same period of 15 days' grace shall be allowed as in the case of payments of cesses, and thereafter interest shall be charged on the total of the overdue instalment at the same rate as the interest on the loan.

Interest for intervening period.

15. (i) Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable.

(ii) The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum on the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

16. (i) The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the Table of Equated Repayments of Takavi Loans, prepared by the Accountant-General, Bengal, similar to the annexed Form F, which shows the amounts of equal yearly payments necessary to repay a loan advanced with interest at 6¼ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

Table of repayment.

(ii) When the instalments are payable half-yearly, the sums to be paid each half year shall be half the sum shown in the said Table for a yearly instalment.

17. Repayment shall be by equated yearly or half-yearly instalments, the date of the first instalment being later than one year from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.

Repayment by instalments; date of first instalment.

18. The date of the last instalment shall not be later than five years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, ten years from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.

Date of last instalment.

19. The dates for payment of instalments (annual or half yearly) shall be fixed by the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, for each thana of his district, with reference to the season when repayment can most easily be made.

Date of repayments of loans.

Explanation.—The season at which repayment can most easily be made will ordinarily be the time when crops grown for sale are taken to market. In jute districts, for instance, it would probably be best to provide for repayment by one annual instalment in September, when the jute crop is sold, except in cases where the borrower himself prefers to pay in two yearly instalments.

20. (i) The realisation of instalments or of interest may be suspended by the Collector on proof of failure of crops from causes beyond the borrower's control, or of other exceptional calamity rendering the payment of the instalments unduly burdensome to him.

Suspension of instalments or of interest.

(ii) The Collector shall report every such suspension to the Commissioner, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

(iii) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspensions the total amount to be repaid shall remain the same as before.

(iv) The power of suspension of payments of instalments or of interest on loans, which is conferred on the Collector by clause (i) of this rule, may be exercised to the extent of Rs. 700 in any one case.

(v) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (iv) of this rule, in all cases where suspension of revenue or rent has been granted on a large scale over a wide area, a suspension of payment of instalments due during the period for which suspension of revenue or rent has been granted shall be made by the Collector without reference to any higher authority, and the effect of such suspension shall be to postpone, for one instalment period at a time, the payment of all remaining instalments due on the loan.

Remission of loan.

21. (i) The Collector shall, in no case, without reference to the Commissioner, remit repayment of a loan; and he may recommend remission only in cases where the recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship.

(ii) Remission may be sanctioned by the Commissioner up to the amount of loan a Collector may sanction, and by the Board up to the amount a Commissioner may sanction. Larger remissions shall, in all cases, require the sanction of the Local Government.

Misapplication of loan.

22. (i) If, at any time, it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of a loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan, with such interest and costs (if any) as may be payable in respect thereof.

(ii) Before determining to take action under clause (i) of this rule, the Collector shall take into consideration the expense of supervision, even when that may have been supplied by the debtor himself.

Returns, registers and accounts.

23. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

"Collector."

24. In these rules, "Collector" includes a Deputy Commissioner.

RULES UNDER THE LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT XIX OF 1883.

1. (1) Subject to the provisions of these rules, and provided that the district allotment is not exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, Subdivisional Officers, and also Deputy Collectors specially empowered by the Collector with the approval of the Commissioner, may sanction loans of sums not exceeding Rs. 500 in each case, and the Collector may sanction loans up to Rs. 1,000 in each case, for purposes specified in the Act.

Powers of sanction.

(2) Any loan exceeding Rs. 1,000 shall require the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000 the sanction of the Board; and the Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, may call for such detailed plans and estimates, or for such professional opinion as may seem necessary, before sanctioning any such loan.

2. Applications for loans may be presented to the Collector or to any other Revenue Officer, not below the rank of a Kanungo, authorised in this behalf by the Collector.

Application to whom to be made.

3. (1) Application may be made orally or in writing.

(2) The officers authorised by rule 2 to receive applications shall keep with them, for free distribution, copies of the annexed Form A, and shall do their best to secure the presentation of all written applications as nearly as possible in that form, but shall not reject any such application that may be presented in any other form.

Form of application.

(3) If applications are received orally, they shall at once be reduced to writing by the officers authorised to receive them.

4. (1) A Revenue Officer receiving an application under rule 2 shall either make a local enquiry himself or cause one to be made by another Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo, or by some reliable non-official agency if available, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A.

Local enquiry.

(2) A Kanungo shall be so employed only when a gazetted officer is not available.

(3) In addition to the procedure prescribed in this rule, a Revenue Officer receiving the application under rule 2 may, if he thinks fit, publish a notice under section 5 of the Act calling upon persons objecting to the loan to appear before the officer deputed to hold the local enquiry, at a time and place to be fixed in the notice, and to submit their objections.

(4) Such notice shall be published by being affixed to a prominent place in the village in which the land, to the improvement of which the loan is to be applied, is situated.

5. If the Revenue Officer is not empowered by rule 1 to sanction the loan, he shall transmit the application with his report to the Collector or to the officer who ordered the enquiry, as the case may be, provided that, if the receiving enquiring officer is subordinate to a Subdivisional Officer, he shall submit it to the Subdivisional Officer.

Submission of application with report of local enquiry.

6. The Local Government may, by general or special order, empower any person to perform all or any of the functions of a Collector or of a Revenue Officer referred to in rules 2, 4 and 5.

Delegation of functions.

7. In deciding whether the security offered is sufficient, the officer dealing with the application shall be guided by the following principles :—

Security.

(i) Where the amount of the loan does not exceed three-fourths of the value of the applicant's transferable interest in the land after the improvement has been made, no collatorial security need be required.

(ii) Where the applicant's interest in the loan is not sufficient of itself to guarantee the repayment of the loan, further security shall be required, which may consist of transferable interests in other lands belonging to the applicant or to other persons willing to become his sureties or of personal security; and such officer may, if empowered by rule 1, at his discretion advance on such security an amount not exceeding five times the annual assesment of the land held by the applicant.

(iii) Where a body of five or more co-villagers bind themselves jointly and severally as contemplated in section 9 of the Act, their personal security will generally be sufficient.

8. If the proposed improvement falls within section 4, sub-section (2), of the Act, and if the security offered is good and sufficient, the Officer dealing with the application, or the Collector, when the application and report have been transmitted to him under rule 5, may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if he has power by rule 1 to do so ; otherwise the Collector shall forward the application, with his report thereon, to the Commissioner for disposal.

Procedure.

9. Where the Revenue Officer, other than the Collector has power under rule 1 to sanction the loan applied for, he may, as soon as the local enquiry is completed and the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A are filled in, take the security required by rule 11, sanction the loan, and, if so desired by the applicant, disburse it on the spot. Loans, or instalments of loans, sanctioned by the Collector or any higher authority may be disbursed in the village by Subdivisional Officers and Deputy Collectors empowered under rule 1, and by any reliable non-official agency where available.

Disbursement of loans on the spot.

Provided that disbursement on the spot may not in any case exceed Rs. 500 for a single item :

Provided also that, when any loan is payable in more than one instalment the second or any subsequent instalment shall not be passed for payment by the sanctioning officer until he has had an enquiry made locally and satisfied himself that satisfactory progress is being made with the work for which the loan was sanctioned.

10. For the purposes of rule 9 the Revenue Officer may draw a lump sum at a time on an abstract bill, subject to the following restrictions :—

Drawing of money on abstract bills.

(a) No officer disbursing loans under the said rule shall be allowed to draw a second abstract bill without producing a detailed bill to account for the amounts already disbursed from the last advance taken, any balance left being at the same time refunded into the Government Treasury.

(b) In no case shall the submission of the detailed bill be delayed beyond the end of the month following that in which the advance was drawn from the Treasury.

(c) The disbursing officer shall take the receipts of the payees on the spot as soon as advances have been made, and shall certify at the foot of the detailed bill that the advances were duly sanctioned by him and paid in his presence.

(d) The Collector shall prescribe a money-limit for the amount which may be drawn on an abstract bill by each officer with due regard to the circumstances of each case.

Explanation to clause (a).—It is not intended that the money should actually be returned to the Treasury on each occasion. When preparing the detailed bill, the disbursing officer should show in it the unexpended balance of the advance as refunded. This balance will be deducted at the Treasury from the amount of the abstract bill submitted for a further advance.

Certificate for grant of security bond.

11. (1) If the loan is sanctioned, the applicant must sign a certificate in the annexed Form B; and when the value of his interest in the land to be improved, or in the said land, together with any other land belonging to him which he may have hypothecated, is not sufficient to cover the loan, he must execute, or cause to be executed, a bond in the annexed Form C or D, as the case may be.

(2) If the loan is granted to a body of villagers who make themselves jointly and severally liable, they shall, in addition to signing the certificate in Form B, sign a bond in the annexed Form E.

Payment where to be made.

12. A copy of the certificate shall be given to the applicant, and, on presentation thereof payment of the loan or of any instalment on the loan may be made to him either at the district or the subdivisional treasury, or on the spot under rule 9.

Closure of loan, on failure to take instalment due.

13. (1) In the case of a loan granted by instalments if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed.

(2) The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 17 and 18, in modification of the certificate in Form B granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned.

ILLUSTRATION.—A applies for and obtains sanction to a loan of Rs. 1,000, payable to him in four instalments of Rs. 250 on the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July, and the 1st October 1908. In the certificate granted to him, the loan is declared to be repayable in half-yearly instalments beginning from the 1st October 1909. He takes only the first two instalments. The Collector may treat the loan as one of Rs. 500 completely paid on the 1st April 1908, and if he does so, he must draw up a revised certificate in Form B in which all the conditions of the repayment of the loan actually taken are to be recorded.

14. (1) The ordinary rate of interest on loans shall be one anna in the rupee, or 6¼ per cent. per annum.

Interest on loans.

(2) The Local Government may, for special reasons, and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest, or without interest.

(3) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector shall charge interest on it at 6¼ per cent. per annum, from the date of its falling due to the date of payment:

Provided that, whenever the Collector is satisfied that the default is due to inability to pay, and that the levy of such interest would be productive of hardship, he may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, reduce or remit it.

(4) In charging penal interest on overdue instalments not suspended under rule 20, the same period of 15 days' grace shall be allowed as in the case of payments of cesses, and thereafter interest shall be charged on the total of the overdue instalment at the same rate as the interest on the loan.

15. (1) Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment) or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable.

Interest for intervening period.

(2) The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

16. The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table in the annexed Form F, which shows the amount of equal yearly and half-yearly payments necessary to repay a loan advanced with interest at 6¼ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

Table of repayment.

Repayment by instalments : date of first instalment.

17. (1) Repayment shall be by yearly or half-yearly instalments.

(2) The date of the first instalment shall be the time when profit begins to accrue, but shall in no case be later than two and-a-half years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.

Date of last instalment, and principle on which instalments should be fixed.

18. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily be later than twenty years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement: Provided that the whole amount of the loan shall in all cases be repaid before expiry of the period for which the improvement is likely to be effective.

Date of repayment of instalments or of interest.

19. The dates for repayment of instalments (annual or half-yearly) shall be fixed by the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, for each thana of his district, with reference to the season when repayment can most easily be made.

EXPLANATION.—The season at which repayment can most easily be made will ordinarily be the time when crops grown for sale are taken to market. In jute districts, for instance, it would probably be best to provide for repayment by one annual instalment in September, when the jute crop is sold, except in cases where the borrower himself prefers to pay in two yearly instalments.

Suspension of instalments.

20. (1) The realisation of instalments or of interest may be suspended by the Collector on proof of failure of crops from causes beyond the borrower's control, or of other exceptional calamity rendering the payment of instalments unduly burdensome to him.

(2) The Collector shall report every such suspension to the Commissioner, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

(3) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspension. The total amount to be repaid shall remain the same as before.

(4) The power of suspension of payments of instalments or of interest on loans which is conferred on the Collector by clause (1) of this rule may be exercised to the extent of Rs. 1,000 in any one case.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (4) of this rule, in all cases where suspension of revenue or rent has been granted on a large scale over a wide area, a suspension of payment of instalments due during the period for which suspension of revenue or rent has been granted shall be made by the Collector without reference to any higher authority, and the effect of such suspension shall be to postpone for one instalment period at a time the payment of all remaining instalments due on the loan.

Remission of loan.

21. (1) The Collector shall, in no case without reference to the Commissioner, remit repayment of a loan; and he may recommend remission only in cases where a work fails from causes beyond the borrower's control and where recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship.

(2) Remission may be sanctioned by the Commissioner up to the amount of loan a Collector may sanction, and by the Board up to the amount a Commissioner may sanction. Larger remissions require the sanction of the Local Government.

Inspection of work.

22. The Collector shall make provision for the inspection, from time to time, of all works undertaken under the Act. In all cases the works shall, if possible, be inspected within one month from the expiration of the time within which completion is directed in the certificate Form B.

Misapplication of loan.

23. (1) If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of a loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue Authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

(2) Before determining to take action under clause (1) of this rule, the Collector shall take into consideration the expense of supervision, even when that may have been supplied by the debtor himself.

24. (1) With a view to encouraging irrigation in precarious tracts, which have suffered severely in recent famines and which have not since obtained by irrigation or otherwise, protection sufficient to guarantee them against the recurrence of similar calamities, loans may be granted to landowners under the foregoing rules, sufficient to pay for a portion of the cost of the contemplated improvements, a free grant being made of the remainder of the cost, the proportion of the free grant to the total cost depending on the property of the applicant and the marginal profit from irrigation :

Loans combined with free grants.

Provided that, without the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which shall only be accorded in special cases, the maximum amount of the free grant shall not exceed half the said total cost or Rs. 500, whichever may be less :

Provided also that the work be carried out to the sanction of the Collector.

(2) Should the money advanced under clause (1), or any part of it, be misapplied or spent otherwise than in accordance with the conditions of the gift, the whole amount shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue under section 7 of the Act, For this purpose the grant shall, in the first instance, be treated as part of the loan and may be remitted only if and when the work is found to have been duly completed.

(3) The foregoing provision of this rule shall apply also in the case of irrigation or protective works which it is beyond the capacity of the people concerned to construct without assistance and which are likely to lead ultimately to an increase in the land-revenue or to secure the land-revenue already assessed.

(4) In making loans under this rule, the procedure prescribed in the foregoing rules shall, mutatis mutandis, be followed.

25. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

Returns, registers and accounts.

Supplementary Rules having effect only in temporarily-settled Estates.

26. When land is reclaimed from waste and brought under cultivation by means of a loan granted under the Act, the increase in value derived from the improvement shall not be taken into account in revising the assessment of land-revenue on the land until after the expiration of a period of three years, reckoned from the beginning of the harvest first reaped after such reclamation was effected.

Reclamation of waste land.

Improvement by irrigation.

27. When land assessed at unirrigated rates is improved by irrigation by means of a loan granted under the Act, the increase in value derived from the improvement shall not be taken into account in revising the assessment of land-revenue on the land—

(a) if the irrigation is provided by the construction of a new masonry well, until after the expiration of twenty years, reckoned from the beginning of the harvest first reaped after such improvement was effected;

(b) if the irrigation is provided by the construction of a distributary from a canal, until after the expiration of a period of five years, reckoned as in clause (a) of this rule directed; or

(c) if the irrigation is provided by any means other than those hereinbefore in clauses (a) and (b) specified until after the expiration of a period of ten years, reckoned as in clause (a) of this rule directed.

Saving.

Loans in special cases.

28. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to affect any power of the Board of Revenue or the Local Government to grant, in special cases, loans under the Act on terms other than those hereinbefore prescribed, or to affect the terms of any special agreement under which any loan under the Act has been, or may hereafter be, granted, or the terms of any unexpired settlement.

(SEE RULES 11, 13 AND 22.)

Certificate granted under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, and the rules made thereunder.

To , son of , of

On production of this certificate the aforesaid is entitled to receive from the Government, in the district of , the following sums, on the dates noted against each, as a loan to be expended on (here describe clearly the nature of the improvement) the land specified in the margin.

Date.	Amount.

2. The conditions relating to the making and repayment of this loan are as follow :—

(a) That it, with the interest thereon, shall be payable on the dates and by the amount specified below :—

Date.	Amount (Principal and interest).

(b) That, in the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed. The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken ; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 17 and 18, in modification of this certificate.

(c) That interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

(d) That the loan shall be applied solely to the purpose specified above; and that, if at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

(e) That, unless (here enter any conditions as to the period or periods appointed for completing the work) the work has been completed by (date) or any extension of the said date granted by the Collector, the loan shall be held to have been misapplied.

(f) That for the repayment of the loan with any interest due on the same, the immoveable property specified in the margin is hypothecated to Government.

(g) That, if any instalment is not paid on the due date the whole amount of the loan shall be deemed to have become due.

(h) That, if the work be a work having for its object the improvement of irrigation in a precarious tract, and be carried out to the satisfaction of the Collector, a portion of the loan will be remitted as a free-grant and as a matter of grace, subject to the conditions laid down in rule 24.

These clauses to be used only when needed.

(i) That, if it be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that the statements made by the aforesaid in his application for this loan, as to the nature and extent of encumbrances, are in any particular untrue, the Collector may so declare in writing, and thereupon the whole of such loan, with such interest as may become due thereon, shall forthwith become due and payable.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1286 L.R.—The 28th February 1908.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 10 of the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules, in supersession of those in section 152, pages 45-48, of the Bengal Famine Code (Revised Edition of 1905), as to the grant of loans under that Act to proprietors and occupants of land, in tracts which may, from time to time, be affected by distress, for the purpose of constructing tanks and executing other works in their own villages and giving employment to labourers thereon.

SLIP No. 3L.

In sub-rule (1) of rule 2 of the special rules under t[he] Improvement Loans Act, XIX of 1883, for tracts affe[cted] distress, published under Government Notification No. 1628 L. dated the 23rd March 1909, and inserted in the Board's Rule[s] 1902, by Circular order No. 8 of April 1909, substitute "Commissioners of Divisions" for "Board of Revenue;" and in sub-rul[e] (3) of the same rule strike out the words "through the Boa[rd] of Revenue."

4-1-1912.

SPECIAL RULES UNDER THE LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT, XIX OF 1883, FOR TRACTS AFFECTED BY DISTRESS.

1. These rules shall have effect in such tracts as may, from time to time, be declared by the Local Government to be affected by distress.

Application of rules.

2. (1) On the first warnings of distress, the Local Government will call upon the ~~Board of~~ Revenue to submit estimates of sums required for advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, and will allot to each Division such amount as may, with reference to local conditions and the district programmes of village relief works, seem to be necessary.

Allotment of funds.

(2) Commissioners may divide the sums so allotted among the districts of their Divisions at their discretion, and may transfer assignments from the one district to another; but the total expenditure within the Division must be kept within the amount assigned.

(3) If a Collector considers the allotment assigned to his district to be insufficient, he shall report the fact and his requirements to the Commissioner, who shall, if possible, arrange for a transfer from another district, or report the matter, ~~through the Board of~~ Revenue, to the Local Government for orders.

3. (1) In distressed areas loans may be made for land improvements which will afford employment to the poor, with the assistance of free grants-in-aid from famine funds.

Loans combined with free grants.

(2) The general proportion of the free grant-in-aid to the total expenditure will be fixed for each Division by the Local Government.

(3) The proportion in individual cases, or classes of cases, shall be fixed by the Collector, but the previous sanction of the Commissioner must be obtained if that proportion varies by more than 25 per cent. from the average proportion fixed for the Division.

(4) Should the money thus advanced, or any part of it, be misapplied or spent otherwise than in accordance with the conditions of the gift, the whole amount shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue under section 7 of the Act. For this purpose the grant shall, in the first instance, be treated as part of the loan and may be remitted only if and when the work is found to have been duly completed.

Powers of sanction.

4. (1) Subject to the provisions of these rules, and provided that the district allotment is not exceeded Subdivisional Officers and Famine Relief Charge Superintendents, and also Deputy Collectors specially empowered by the Collector with the approval of the Commissioner of the Division, may sanction loans (including free grants-in-aid at the proportion fixed under rule 3) not exceeding Rs. 1,000 in each case, and the Collector may sanction such loans up to Rs. 5,000 in each case.

(2) Loans exceeding Rs. 5,000 shall require the sanction of the Commissioner, and loans exceeding Rs. 10,000 the sanction of the Board; and the Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, may call for such detailed plans and estimates or for such professional opinion on the project proposed as may seem necessary before sanctioning any such loans.

Applications for loans.

5. (1) Applications for loans may be made orally or in writing to the Famine Relief Circle Officer or Charge Superintendent, or to any Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo.

(2) The officers authorised by clause (1) of this rule to receive applications shall keep with them, for free distribution, copies of the annexed Form D—I, and shall do their best to secure the presentations of all written applications as nearly as possible in that Form, but shall not reject any such application that may be presented in any other Forms.

(3) If applications are received orally, they shall at once be reduced to writing by the officer authorised to receive them.

Local enquiry.

6. (1) An officer receiving an application under rule 5 shall either make a local enquiry himself, or cause one to be made by a Famine Relief Officer not below the rank of a Circle Officer, or by a Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo, or by some reliable non-official agency if available, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form D—I.

(2) A Kanungo or a Circle Officer shall be so employed only when a gazetted officer is not available.

(3) In addition to the procedure prescribed in this rule, an officer receiving application under rule 5 may, if he thinks fit, publish a notice under section 5 of the Act calling upon persons objecting to the loan to appear before the officer deputed to hold the local enquiry at a time and place to be fixed in the notice, and to submit their objections.

(4) Such notice shall be published by being affixed to a prominent place in the village in which the land, to the improvement of which the loan is to be applied, is situated.

Submission of application with report of local enquiry.

7. If the Famine Relief Officer or the Revenue Officer is not empowered by rule 4 to sanction the loan, he shall transmit the application with his report to the Collector or the officer who ordered the enquiry, as the case may be, provided that, if the receiving or enquiring officer is subordinate to a Famine Relief Charge Superintendent or to a Subdivisional Officer, he shall submit the application to his immediate superior.

Security.

8. In deciding whether the security offered is sufficient, the officer dealing with the application shall be guided by the following principles :—

(i) Where the amount of the loan does not exceed three-fourths of the value of the applicant's transferable interest in the land after the improvement has been made, no collateral security need be required.

(ii) Where the applicant's interest in the land is not sufficient of itself to guarantee the repayment of the loan, further security shall be required, which may consist of transferable interests in other lands belonging to the applicant or to other persons willing to become his sureties or of personal security; and such officer may, if empowered by Rule 4, at his discretion advance on such security an amount not exceeding five times the annual assessment of the land held by the applicant.

(iii) Where a body of five or more co-villagers bind themselves jointly and severally as contemplated in section 9 of the Act, their personal security will generally be sufficient.

9. (1) Where any application submitted refers to a project already entered in the district programme of village relief-works, the information given in the programme and in any plans that may have been prepared for the work may be referred to in dealing with such application.

Principles to be observed in determining the amount to be advanced.

(2) In determining the amout of the loan in such cases, the officer dealing with the application shall follow the estimates of cost of the works as given in the said programme. For other works the rate shall not exceed the ordinary local rate by more than 25 per cent.

10. If the proposed work be approved by the enquiring officer and if the security offered be good and sufficient, he may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself if empowered by rule 4 to do so; otherwise he shall forward the application with his report for orders under rule 7.

Procedure.

11. If the loan in sanctioned in the village by an officer other than the Collector, the sanctioning officer, after filling in the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form D—I, and taking the security required by Rule 13, may, if so desired by the applicant, disburse the loan on the spot. Loans or instalments of loans sanctioned by the Collector or any higher authority may also be disbursed in the village by Subdivisional Officers and Famine Relief Charge Superintendents and by Deputy Collectors empowered under Rule 4, and by any reliable non-official agency, where available.

Disbursement of loans on the spot.

Provided that, when any loan is payable in more than one instalment, the second or any subsequent instalment shall not be paid by the disbursing officer, except as provided in rule 16.

12. For the purpose of rule 11, the officer concerned may draw a lump sum at a time on an abstract bill, subject to the following restrictions:—

Drawing of money on abstract bills.

(a) No officer disbursing loans under the said rule shall be allowed to draw a second abstract bill without producing a detailed bill to account for the amounts already disbursed from the last advance taken, any balance left being at the same time refunded into the Government Treasury.

(b) In no case shall the submission of the detailed bill be delayed beyond the end of the month following that in which the advance was drawn from the Treasury.

(c) The disbursing officer shall take the receipts of the payees on the spot as soon as advances have been made, and shall certify at the foot of the detailed bill that the advances were duly sanctioned by him and paid in his presence.

(d) The Collector shall prescribe a money-limit for the amount which may be drawn on an abstract bill by each officer with due regard to the circumstances of each case.

Explanation to clause (a).—It is not intended that the money should actually be returned to the Treasury on each occasion. When preparing the detailed bill, the disbursing officer should only show in it the unexpended balance of the advance as refunded. This balance will be deducted at the Treasury from the amount of the abstract bill submitted for a further advance.

Certificate for grant of loan and security bond.

13. If the loan is sanctioned, the applicant must sign a certificate in the annexed Form D—II (a); and, when the value of his interest in the land on which the work is to be executed, or in the said land, together with any other land belonging to him which he may have hypothecated, is not sufficient to cover the loan, he must execute, or cause to be executed a bond in the annexed Form D—II (b) or Form D—II (c) as the case may be.

Where payment will be made.

14. On the certificate under Rule 13 being signed, a copy of it shall be given to the applicant, with an order for payment which may be made at the District or Subdivisional Treasury or at the office of the Famine Relief Charge Superintendent, or at the applicant's village under rule 11, or by any officer specially deputed for the purpose by the Collector, as may be convenient.

Interest.

15. Interest shall be charged at one anna per rupee, or 6¼ per cent. per annum, except in the case of a misapplication of the loan, when interest shall be charged at double the above rate, as provided for in rules 22 and 23.

16. Loans shall ordinarily be given in three instalments, viz., two-fifths before the work has been commenced, two-fifths when it is approximately half finished, and one-fifth when it has been passed as completed after due inspection.

Payment of loans by instalments.

17. (1) Repayment shall be made by yearly or half-yearly instalments.

Repayment by instalments; date of first instalment.

(2) The date of the first instalment shall be the time when profit begins to accrue, but shall in no case be later than two and-a-half years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the first instalment actually taken.

18. The date of the payment of the last instalment shall not ordinarily be later than twenty years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually taken, the amount of the instalments being fixed, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement:

Date of last instalment, and principle on which instalments should be fixed.

19. (1) In the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed.

Closure of loan, on failure to take instalment due.

(2) The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector consistent with rules 17 and 18, in modification of the certificate in Form D—II (a) granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned.

ILLUSTRATION.—A applies for and obtains sanction to a loan of Rs. 1,000 payable to him in three instalments, two of Rs. 400 each (⅖ths of the total amount) and one of Rs. 200, payable, respectively, on 1st January, 1st May and 1st September 1908. In the certificate granted to him, the loan is declared to be repayable in half-yearly instalments, beginning from the 1st October 1909. He takes only the first two instalments. The Collector may treat the loan as one of Rs. 800 completely paid on the 1st May 1908, and, if he does so, he must draw up a revised certificate in form D—II(a) in which all the conditions of the repayment of the loan actually taken are to be recorded.

Suspension of instalments or of interest.

20. (1) The realisation of instalments or of interest may be suspended, by the order, and at the discretion, of the Collector, on proof of failure of crops from causes beyond the borrower's control or of other exceptional calamity rendering the payment of instalments unduly burdensome to him.

(2) The Collector shall report every such suspension to the Commissioner, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

(3) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspension. The total amount to be repaid shall remain the same as before.

(4) The power of suspension of payment of instalments which is conferred on the Collector by clause (1) of this rule may be exercised to the extent of Rs. 5,000 in any one case.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (4) of this rule in all cases where suspension of revenue or rent has been granted on a large scale over a wide area, a suspension of payment of instalments due during the period for which suspension of revenue or rent has been granted shall be made by the Collector without reference to any higher authority, and the effect of such suspension shall be to postpone for one instalment period at a time the payment of all remaining instalments due on the loan.

Inspection and measurements.

21. (1) It shall ordinarily be sufficient, if a work has been properly located and measured out beforehand, to make a detailed measurement after it has been completed, a careful inspection being made only when the work is about half done, with the object of ascertaining whether the second instalment of the loan should be paid.

(2) If the final measurements agree substantially with those specified in the original estimate, the account shall be closed, any difference being adjusted by the Collector.

SLIP No. 210.

THE following corrections should be made in the "Special Rules under the Land Improvement Loans Act, for tracts affected by distress," embodied in Circular Order No. 7, of May, 1908:—

In sub-rule (2) of Rule 23 for the words "six months before" substitute the word "on."

2. A similar correction should be made in clause 2(c) of Form D—II(a) appended to the Rules.

3-10-1908.

22. (1) If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of a loan has been misapplied, or that it is not being spent on the work for which it was intended, or that the statements made by the applicant in his application for the loan (Form D—I), or by his suroties in their bond proffering collateral security, as to the nature and extent of the encumbrances on the immoveable property pledged as security for the repayment of the loan, are in any particular untrue, the Collector may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue Authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon at the rate of 12½ per cent. per annum from the date on which the loan was made to the date of recovery.

Interest to be levied in the case of misapplication of loan, or of discovery of untruth of statements made by applicant or his sureties.

(2) Before determining to take action under clause (1) of this rule, the Collector shall take into consideration the expense of supervision, even when that may have been supplied by the debtor himself.

23. (1) In the circumstances described in rule 22, interest shall also be levied at 12½ per cent. per annum for the period intervening between the dates of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal becomes payable.

Interest for intervening period.

(2) The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum, six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

24. If the work for which a loan is made is carried out to the satisfaction of the Collector, and in accordance with the conditions imposed by these rules, and if it is necessary to grant some remission, it shall take the form of a remission of land revenue. The loan with interest shall ordinarily be recovered, Forms of remission of part of loan.

Irrecoverable loans.

26. The Board shall regulate the form of all returns, registers and accounts relating to loans advanced under these rules.

Returns, registers and accounts.

Date	Amount.
,,	,,
,,	,,

2. The conditions relating to the making and repayment of this loan are as follows :—

(a) That it shall be repayable on the dates and by the amounts specified below :—

Date	Amount (Principal and interest).
,,
,,

(b) That it shall be applied solely to the carrying out of the work specified above, in such manner as may be approved by the Collector, and that, if it be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, or is not being spent on the work in question, the whole amount of the loan shall be deemed to become forthwith due with interest at the rate of 12½ per cent. per annum, from the date on which the loan was made to the date of recovery.

(c) That in the event of misapplication of the loan, interest shall also be levied at 12½ per cent. per annum for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum ~~six months before~~ the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

(d) That, for the repayment of the loan, the immoveable property specified in the margin is hypothecated to Government.

N.B.—(1) Both the land to be improved, and any other land belonging to the applicant, which he may have hypothecated as also any immoveable property hypothecated by others, as collateral security, should be described in the marginal specification, as nearly as possible in the manner prescribed in section 21 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

N.B.—(2) In the description of immoveable property to be given in the margin, it shall be stated if the property is free from encumbrances, or, if not, what are the nature and extent of the encumbrances.

(e) That, if any instalment be not paid on the due date, the whole amount of the loan shall be deemed to have become due forthwith.

(f) That, if it be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that the statements made by the aforesaid in his application for this loan, as to the nature and extent of encumbrances, are in any particular untrue, the Collector may so declare in writing and proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with interest at the rate of 12½ per cent. per annum from the date on which the loan was made to the date of recovery.

(g) That, if the work be carried out to the satisfaction of the Collector, the sum of Rs. will be remitted as a free grant-in-aid.

(h) That the person to whom the loan is made shall carry out all directions which the Collector of the district, or any other person duly authorised in this behalf, may give with respect to (i) the manner in which the work will be executed, and (ii) the periodical returns to be furnished.

Signature of Collector or other officer sanctioning the loan.

or by failing to pay any instalment on the date fixed for its payment, we will be jointly and severally liable to Government for such sum, not exceeding , as may be necessary to make good the amount which in consequence of his default he may have become liable to pay.

FORM D—II (c)

(SEE RULE 13.)

Hypothecation Bond to be used when immoveable property is preferred by Collateral Surety.

WHEREAS has on received from the Collector of a certificate under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, and the rules made thereunder, in virtue of which he is entitled to receive the aggregate sum of Rs. as a loan from Government; and whereas security for due application of the loan, and for the punctual repayment of the same, according to the terms of the certificate, is demanded from him; I (or we) hereby mortgage to Government the immoveable property mentioned in the schedule below, as collateral Security, and agree that, if he fails to comply with the terms on which the loan has been granted, either by misapplying the same or by failing to pay any instalment on the date fixed for its payment, it shall be lawful for the Collector to recover from the said property such sum as may be necesary to make good the amount which, in consequence of 's failure to comply with the conditions of this certificate, may be due to Government.

SCHEDULE.

$\frac{\text{I}}{\text{We}}$ declare that the statements made by $\frac{\text{me}}{\text{us}}$ in the above schedule as regards the nature and extent of the encumbrances on the immoveable property mortgaged by $\frac{\text{me}}{\text{us}}$ as security for the repayment of the loan granted to are true to $\frac{\text{my}}{\text{our}}$ knowledge, save as to matters stated on information and belief, and as to these, $\frac{\text{I}}{\text{we}}$ believe the same to be true.

N.B.—In describing the immoveable property to be mentioned in the schedule above it shall be stated whether the property is free from encumbrances, or, if not, what are the nature and extent of the encumbrances.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1287 L.R.—The 28th February 1908.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 4 of the Agriculturists' Loans Act, 1884, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to make the following rules, in supersession of all previous rules published with the notifications noted on the margin, as to loans to be made to owners and occupiers of arable land for the relief of distress, the purchase of seed or cattle and other purposes not specified in the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, but connected with agricultural objects.

RULES UNDER THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT, XII OF 1884.

1. The Collector may sanction loans of sums not exceeding Rs. 700 in each case. Subdivisional Officers and any Deputy Collector who may be specially empowered in this behalf by the Collector with the approval of the Commissioner may sanction loans not exceeding Rs. 250. Loans exceeding Rs. 700 shall require the sanction of the Commissioner, and loans exceeding Rs. 5,000 the sanction of the Board. The district allotment may not be exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner.

Power to sanction loans.

2. Applications for loans may be presented to the Collector or to any other Revenue Officer not below the rank of a kanungo authorised in this behalf by the Collector.

Application to whom to be made.

3. (i) Applications may be made orally or in writing.

(ii) The officers authorised by rule 2 to receive application shall keep with them for free distribution copies of the annexed Form A, and shall do their best to secure the presentation of all written applications as nearly as possible in that form, but shall not reject any such application that may be presented in any other form.

Forms of Application.

(iii) If applications are received orally, they shall at once be reduced to writing by the officer authorised to receive them.

4. (i) A Revenue Officer receiving an application under rule 2 shall either make a local enquiry himself or cause one to be made by another Revenue Officer not below the rank of a kanungo or by some reliable non-official agency, if available, for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A.

Local enquiry.

(ii) A Kanungo shall be so employed only when a gazetted officer is not available.

5. If any Revenue Officer is not empowered by rule 1 to sanction the loan, he shall transmit the application with his report to the Collector or to the officer who ordered the enquiry, as the case may be, provided that, if the receiving or enquiring officer is subordinate to a Subdivisional Officer, he shall submit it to the Subdivisional Officer.

Submission of application with report of local enquiry.

6. The Local Government may, by general or special order empower any person to perform all or any of the functions of a Collector or of a Revenue Officer referred to in rules 2, 4 and 5.

Delegation of functions.

7. (i) When the applicant possesses an interest in immoveable property of value sufficient to secure the whole amount that may become payable in respect of the loan, he shall mortgage that interest, or a sufficient portion thereof, to the Government as security for the payment of that amount, and no further security need be required from him.

Security.

(ii) When the applicant does not possess an interest in immoveable property of such value as aforesaid, he shall procure some person or persons to become his surety or sureties for the payment of the said amount.

(iii) When the sureties are a body of village residents who bind themselves jointly and severally to the Government for the payment of the said amount, their personal security may be accepted, provided that the sureties have executed a bond in the annexed Form C. In other cases, the security given by the surety or sureties shall consist of the mortgage of immoveable property.

(iv) The Collector must in every case satisfy himself that the security offered in whatever form it is given is sufficient to guarantee the payment of the loan, and when he is of opinion that security other than land is sufficient, such security may be accepted.

8. If the loan applied for is one that can be granted under the provisions of section 4, sub-section (1) of the Act, and if the security offered is good and sufficient, the officer dealing with the application or the Collector, when the application and report have been transmitted to him under rule 5, may, on completion of the local enquiry sanction the loan himself, if empowered by rule 1 to do so ; otherwise the Collector shall forward the application, with his report thereon, to the Commissioner for disposal.

Procedure.

9. Where the Revenue Officer, other than the Collector, has power under Rule 1 to sanction the loan applied for, he may, as soon as the local enquiry is completed and the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A are filled in, take the security required by Rule 11, sanction the loan, and, if so desired by the applicant, disburse it on the spot. Loans or instalments of loans sanctioned by the Collector or any higher authority may be disbursed in the village by Subdivisional Officers and Deputy Collectors empowered under Rule 1, and by any reliable non-Official agency, where available:

Disbursement of loans on the spot.

Provided that disbursement on the spot may not in any case exceed Rs. 500 for a single item :

Provided also that, when any loan is payable in more than one instalment, the second or any subsequent instalment shall not be passed for payment by the sanctioning officer until he has had an enquiry made locally and satisfied himself that satisfactory progress is being made with the work for which the loan was sanctioned.

10. For the purposes of rule 9, the Revenue Officer may draw a lump sum at a time on an abstract bill, subject to the following restrictions:—

Drawing of money on abstract bills.

(a) No officer disbursing loans under the said rule shall be allowed to draw a second abstract bill without producing a detailed bill to account for the amounts already disbursed from the last advance taken, any balance left being at the same time refunded into Government Treasury.

(b) In no case shall the submission of the detailed bill be delayed beyond the end of the month following that in which the advance was drawn from the Treasury.

(c) The disbursing officer shall take the receipts of the payees on the spot as soon as advances have been made, and shall certify at the foot of the detailed bill that the advances were duly sanctioned by him and paid in his presence.

(d) The Collector shall prescribe a money-limit for the amount which may be drawn on an abstract bill by each officer with due regard to the circumstances of each case.

Explanation to clause (a).—It is not intended that the money should actually be returned to the Treasury on each occasion. When preparing the detailed bill, the disbursing officer should only show in it the unexpended balance of the advance as refunded. This balance will be deducted at the Treasury from the amount of the abstract bill submitted for a further advance.

Order granting loan, and security bonds.

11. (i) If the loan is sanctioned, the applicant must sign the order granting the loan, which shall be in the annexed Form B, as nearly as may be.

(ii) If the security for the repayment of the loan consists of the mortgage of an interest of the applicant, such as is referred to in clause (i) of rule 7, the mortgage may be effected by clause (f) of Form B being inserted in the order granting the loan, and by the order being attested by at least two witnesses, and by a copy thereof being sent to the registering officer under section 89 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, as amended by section 3, Act VII of 1886.

(iii) If the security is furnished by a surety or sureties, it shall be taken where the sureties give only personal security in the annexed Form C, and where the surety or sureties mortgages or mortgage immoveable property, in the annexed Form D.

(iv) Every bond executed in Form D must be attested by at least two witnesess, and a copy of it must be sent to the registering officer under the said section 89 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

(v) If the loan is granted to a body of villagers who make themselves jointly and severally liable, they shall, in addition to signing the order in Form B, sign a bond in the annexed Form E.

12. A copy of the order granting the loan shall be given to the applicant, and, on presentation thereof, payment of the loan or of any instalment of the loan may be made to him either at the district or the subdivisional Treasury or on the spot under rule 9.

Payment where to be made.

13. (i) In the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed.

Closure of loan on failure to take instalment due.

(ii) The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken ; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 17 and 18 in modification of the order in Form B granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned.

ILLUSTRATION.—A applies for and obtains sanction to a loan of Rs. 100 payable to him in four instalments of Rs. 25 on the 1st January, the 1st April, the 1st July, and the 1st October 1908. In the order granted to him, the loan is declared to be repayable in half yearly instalments, beginning from 1st October 1908. He takes only the first two instalments The Collector may treat the loan as one of Rs. 50 completely paid on the 1st April 1908, and if he does so, he must draw up a revised order in Form B, in which all the conditions of the repayment of the loan actually taken are to be recorded.

14. (i) The ordinary rate of interest on loans shall be one anna in the rupee, or $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum.

Interest on loans.

(ii) The Local Government may, for special reasons and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest or without interest.

(iii) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest, is not paid when it falls due, the Collector shall charge interest on it at $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment:

Provided that, whenever the Collector is satisfied that the default is due to inability to pay, and that the levy of such interest would be productive of hardship, he may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, reduce or remit it.

(iv) In charging penal interest on overdue instalments not suspended under rule 20, the same period of 15 days' grace shall be allowed as in the case of payments of cesses, and thereafter interest shall be charged on the total of the overdue instalment at the same rate as the interest on the loan.

Interest for intervening period.

15. (i) Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable.

(ii) The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

Table of repayment.

16. The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table in the annexed Form F, which shows the amounts of equal yearly and half-yearly payments necessary to repay a loan advanced with interest at 6¼ per cent per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

Repayment by instalments; date of first instalment.

17. Repayment shall be by equated yearly or half-yearly instalments, the date of the first instalment not being later than one year from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.

Date of last instalment.

18. The date of the last instalment shall not be later than five years from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or, when the loan is advanced in instalments, ten years from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.

Date of repayments of loans.

19. The dates for payment of instalments (annual or half-yearly) shall be fixed by the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, for each thana of his district, with reference to the season when repayment can most easily be made.

Explanation.—The season at which repayment can most easily be made will ordinarily be the time when crops grown for sale are taken to market. In jute districts, for instance, it would probably be best to provide for repayment by one annual instalment in September, when the jute crop is sold, except in cases where the borrower himself prefers to pay in two yearly instalments.

20. (i) The realisation of instalments or of interest may be suspended by the Collector on proof of failure of crops from causes beyond the borrower's control, or of other exceptional calamity rendering the payment of the instalments unduly burdensome to him.

Suspension of instalments or of interest.

(ii) The Collector shall report every such suspension to the Commissioner, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

(iii) No interest shall be charged for the period of suspension; the total amount to be repaid shall remain the same as before.

(iv) The power of suspension of payments of instalments or of interest on loans which is conferred on the Collector by clause (i) of this rule may be exercised to the extent of Rs. 700 in any one case.

(v) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (iv) of this rule in all cases where suspension of revenue or rent has been granted on a large scale over a wide area, a suspension of payment of instalments due during the period for which suspension of revenue or rent has been granted shall be made by the Collector without reference to any higher authority, and the effect of such suspension shall be to postpone for one instalment period at a time the payment of all remaining instalments due on the loan.

21. (i) The Collector shall in no case, without reference to the Commissioner, remit repayment of a loan; and he may recommend remission only in cases where the recovery of the loan in full would occasion serious hardship.

Remission of loan.

(ii) Remission may be sanctioned by the Commissioner up to the amount of loan a Collector may sanction, and by the Board up to the amount a Commissioner may sanction. Larger remissions shall in all cases require the sanction of the Local Government.

22. (i) If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of a loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan, with such interest and costs (if any) as may be payable in respect thereof.

Misapplication of loan.

(ii) before determining to take action under clause (i) of this rule, the Collector shall take into consideration the expense of supervision, even when that may have been supplied by the debtor himself.

Returns, registers and accounts.

23. The Board shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

2. Strike off the first six lines "The procedure ... . for such words" of rule 12, Section III, page 158 of the Boa[illegible] Rules, and insert the following in lieu thereof :—

Paragraph 648 of Public Works Department Code.

On the requisition of the Civil Officer, the Executive Engineer or the District Engineer will prepare detailed plans and estimates for works costing up to Rs. 2,500 each. But when the works are likely to exceed Rs. 2,500 in cost, a preliminary report and statement of probable cost, together with such general plans or sketches as may be necessary to elucidate the proposals, should be submitted for the administrative approval of the officer concerned befo[illegible]led estimate is [illegible]ed.

12. The procedure to be observed is as follows:—As regards Minor works, i.e., those which are within the power of sanction of the Civil officer concerned, the Executive Engineer or the District Engineer will, on the requisition of the Civil officer, prepare detailed plans and estimates for such works. When the total of the estimate is within Rs. 200, the Executive Engineer, in districts where works are carried out by the Public Works Department, will send the plan and estimate direct to the Civil officer. When the estimate exceeds Rs. 200 (and in districts where District Boards carry out works for the Public Works Department, whatever the amount of the estimate may be), the plan and estimate will be sent by the Executive Engineer or District Engineer to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, who, after scrutiny, and if necessary, revision, will forward them to the Civil officer. Civil officers who have been given grant for Minor works from the Public Works budget should record their sanctions on estimates which have been duly approved by the Public Works officer competent the deal with them in the following forms:—

Paragraph 2026, Public Works Department Code.

"Estimate for sanctioned by for the sum of Rs. debitable to the allotment placed at his disposal by the Government of Bengal in No. , dated , as below:—

	Rs.
Allotment available for the year ...
Less sanctioned previously... ..
Amount of this sanction
Balance of allotment still available ...

The sanction should in all cases be intimated and the plans estimates sent to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, and not to the Executive Engineer or District Engineer direct.

Civil officers who have not recived any allotment for Minor works should send the plans and estimates approved to the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, who will, if possible, sanction and allot from the grant at his disposal.

13. Commissioners and Heads of Departments should not call on Executive or District Engineers to prepare detailed estimates for works for the execution of which they are unable to find funds from the grants placed at their disposal.

14. To enable the Civil officers named below to exercise the powers conferred upon them by these rules, an allotment from the budget grant of the Public Works Department will be placed annually at their disposal:—

Commissioner, Burdwan Division.
" Presidency "
" Patna "
" Bhagalpur "
" Orissa "
" Chota Nagpur "
Commissioner of Excise and Salt.

15. For all Major works which exceed the limits of sanction f Civil officers, the administrative approval of the Local Govern- ent is required before detailed plans and estimates are required. he Executive Engineer or District Engineer will, on request by the Civil officer, furnish a rough plan for, an approximate estimate of, the cost of the work proposed. These will in all cases be sent to the Civil officer, through the Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, who should state if he considers that the amount provided in the appaoximate estimate is fair for a work of the class proposed.

" The Civil officer should furnish the Executive Engineer or District Engineer with particulars as to the reasons for which the building is required, and as to the accommodation which has to be provided, while the Executive Engineer or District Engineer should show that his plan will generally suit the Civil officer's requirements, and he should give particulars as to the class of work which it is proposed to provide for and show on what information his estimate of cost is based.

" On receipt of the rough plan and approximate estimate from he Superintending Engineer or Inspector of Works, the Civil fficer will submit them to Government in the Department con- rned. When administrative approval has been accorded, orders ill issue in the Public Works Department to the Superintending ngineer or Inspector of Works for the preparation of detailed ans and estimates.

" 16. When a scheme is submitted for approval, for which funds have not been allotted, the term ' administrative approval ' should be used for ' administrative sanction.' " 4-1-1906.

7. Repayment shall be by half-yearly instalments. The date of the first instalment shall not, as a rule, exceed two years from the date of the loan, and shall, in cases in which such a principle is applicable, be fixed with reference to the time when the improvement will begin to yield a return.

Payment of first instalment.

8. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily exceed ten years from the date of the loan, the amount of the instalments being fixed in cases in which such a principle is applicable, with reference to the annual profit expected to accrue from the improvement. With the sanction of the Board of Revenue, the time for payment may, in special cases, be extended to 20 years.

Date of last instalment.

9. If the proposed improvement falls within the provisions of section 4, clause (2) of the Act, and the security offered is good and sufficient, the Collector may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if empowered by rule 2 to do so; otherwise he shall forward the application, with his report thereon, to the Commissioner for disposal.

Procedure.

10. If the loan be sanctioned, the applicant shall be required to sign a certificate in the annexed Form B, and, when his interest in the land to be improved is not sufficient to cover the loan, to execute (together with his sureties, if any,) a bond in the annexed Form C or D, as the case may be. If the loan is granted to a body of villagers who make themselves jointly and severally liable, they shall, in addition to signing the certificate in Form B, sign a bond in Form D[A].

Certificate.

11. A copy of the certificate shall be given to the applicant, and, on presentation thereof, payment of the loan shall be made to him at the district or subdivisional treasury.

Payment where to be made.

12. (a) The ordinary rate of interest shall be one anna in the rupee, or 6¼ per cent. per annum.

Rate of interest.

(b) The Local Government may, for special reasons, and on special application through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest, or without interest.

(c) If any instalment of principal or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest is not paid when it falls due, the Collector shall charge interest on it at not less than 6¼ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

13. The payment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table in annexed Form E, which shows the amount of equal half-yearly payments necessary to repay a loan advanced with interest at 6¼ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to twenty.

Table of repayment.

14. The dates for payment of instalments shall be the 30th June and the 31st December of each year.

Suspension of instalment.

15. The realisation of instalments may be suspended by the Collector on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity. The Collector shall report any such suspension, through the Commissioner, to the Board of Revenue, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

Inspection.

16. The Collector shall make provision for the inspection, from time to time, of any work undertaken under the Act. In all cases the work shall, if possible, be inspected within one month from the expiration of the time within which completion is directed in the certificate.

Misapplication of loan.

17. If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest as may have become due thereon.

Returns and registers.

18. The Board of Revenue shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

Rules under Section 11, having effect only in temporarily-settled estates.

1. Reclamation of waste land.—When land is reclaimed from waste and brought under cultivation by means of a loan granted under Act XIX of 1883, the increase in value derived from the improvement shall not be taken into account in revising the assessment of land revenue on the land until after the expiration of a period of three years, reckoned from the beginning of the harvest first reaped after such reclamation was effected.

2. Improvement by irrigation.—When land assessed at unirrigated rates is improved by irrigation by means of a loan granted under Act XIX of 1883, the increase in value derived from the improvement shall not be taken into account in revising the assessment of land revenue on the land—

(a) If the irrigation is provided by the construction of a new masonry well, until after the expiration of twenty years, reckoned from the beginning of the harvest first reaped after such improvement was effected;

(b) If the irrigation is provided by the construction of a distributary from a canal, until after the expiration of a period of five years, reckoned as in clause (a) of this rule directed; or

(c) If the irrigation is provided by any means other than those hereinbefore in clauses (a) and (b) specified, until after the expiration of a period of ten years, reckoned as in clause (a) of this rule directed.

7. The half-yearly instalments of repayment shown in Form E appended to the rules under the Land Improvement Loans Act should be arranged so that the interest will gradually decrease with the decrease of the principal. For instance, in the case of a loan of Rs. 1,000 payable in 20 equal instalments, the first of which is due on the 31st December 1901, the division of principal and interest should be arranged in accordance with the following table:—

9. When a joint bond in Form D[A] is taken from the recipients :—

(a) Recovery should be made, as far as possible, from each joint-debtor according to the amount received by him and specified in the bond.

(b) Solvent members can be made to help in realizing dues from defaulters.

(c) If it proves to be impossible to collect from each joint-debtor in the manner indicated in (a) and (b), and if there is no sufficient reason to recommend a remission, recovery may then be made from the solvent joint-debtors.

(d) Recovery should be made by Subdivisional Officers or Deputy Collectors or other Revenue officers whom the Collector may depute. Where loans have been extensively and simultaneously taken, it would probably be possible to arrange for collecting at fixed centres. On failure to collect, recourse should be had to the certificate procedure.

(e) A list should be attached to the Form (D^A) showing the sums actually taken individually by each joint-debtor. The list should be signed by the officer who distributes the loans.

10. In order to facilitate the realization of loans under the Land Improvement Loans Act—

(i) The repayment of instalments by money-order should be encouraged as far as practicable, as this will obviate the necessity of visits to the Subdivisional or District head-quarters.

(ii) Borrowers should be supplied with printed slips showing how the money-order form is to be filled up and containing a note of the date of each instalment.

11. With reference to the above instruction, the following form of notice, vernacular versions of which can be obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery, is prescribed for general use:—

Loan of Rs.

to

of village

under the Land Improvement Loans Act

as follows: After the first instalment ... record has been deposited in the record-room, then, ... the next instalment is payable, the record should be obtained from the record-room and be re-deposited there in the first week of the month following that in which such instalment was paid, and after the necessary entries have been made in register 21; and similarly in regard to each successive instalment. Progress in collections should be watched by means of the register and, where the Collector thinks such is needed, by an arrear list. The treasury chalans admitting payment of the instalments of the loan should be sent to the record-keeper to be filed with the records concerned.

SLIP No. 239.

17A. Each record of a Land Improvement Loan case should be deposited in the record-room in the first week of the month following that in which the loan has been made after the necessary entries are made in Register 21.

NOTICE.

You have separately agreed to repay the above loan in the instalments noted below :—

Date when due.	Amount payable.
	Principal.	Interest.	Total.

2. You should pay each instalment to the Collector / Subdivisional Officer of on the date it is due.

3. If you like you may send the instalments due to the Collector / Subdivisional Officer of by money-order.

4. If you send the instalment by money-order you must be careful to write in the money-order the name of the person who took the loan, or if there were several persons, the name of the principal person. You must also write your village and the thana in which it is situated.

5. You must also be careful to write on the money-order that the instalment is paid on account of the original loan of Rs.

6. You must write all these things clearly so that there will be no confusion.

12. Register 21—Land Improvement Advances—Should be written up by mauzas and the mauzas be grouped by thanas and under thanas according to the years in which the loans were originally granted.

13. In the case of bonds with joint obligations, the unit for entry in Register 21 should be the bond, but the separate obligation of each recipient of the loan should be recorded.

14. When a loan has been repaid in full the word "satisfied" should be entered in the remarks column of Register 21.

15. A certificate should be attached to Annual Return XXVIII—Recovery of Advances—to the effect that it has been prepared from Register 21.

16. The clerk in charge of Register 21 (Advances under the Land Improvement Loans Act) is primarily responsible that the register is properly and correctly kept, and also that, when an instalment of a loan is not repaid on the date on which it falls due, the fact is immediately brought to the notice of the Deputy Collector in charge in order that the Collector may issue such orders as may seem necessary.

17. At the close of every quarter, the Deputy Collector in charge or other gazetted officer, should satisfy himself by an examination of the entries in Register 21 that the realisations have been correcly posted and the balances correctly brought forward ; also that action is being taken in all instance of arrears. It should be noted in the register that the examinntion in question has been made. 5-3-1904.

Insert the following as instruction 18 :—

18. The Board having been recently addressed by the Commissioner of the Presidency Division on the subject of the retention of title-deeds relating to property pledged as security for the repayment of loans granted under the Land Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Act, consulted the other Commissioners on the subject and asked them to report the practice obtaining in the several districts of their divisions.

The Board have considered their replies and are not satisfied as to the general necessity of taking possession of the title-deeds of a borrower of a loan advanced under the Land Improvement Loans Act, even when the amount of the loan exceeds Rs. 500. Any provision to this effect might, in their opinion, tend to unduly discourage the taking of this class of loans; but, on the other hand, they see no objection to such a precaution being taken at the discretion of the Collector whenever he considers it to be desirable. In such cases the deeds should be kept under lock in the record-room and a register in the following, or other suitable, form should be opened :—

1	2	3	4	5	6
Serial number.	Number and year of the case in which title-deed is filed.	Name of the party filing the title-deed.	Date of filing.	Nature and date of the title-deed.	Name of executant.

7	8	9	10	11
Name of the person in whose favour executed.	Whether registered or not.	Date of return.	Signature of recipient.	REMARKS.

Substitute "20th October" for "1st August" in the first sentence of instruction 2, Sections IV and V, Chapter VII, pages 161 and 170, and insert after that instruction the following instruction:—

"2A. The following dates have been fixed for the submis- of—

(1) First estimates:—

By Collectors of districts to Commissioners of Divisions	20th September.
By Commissioners of Divisions to Board of Revenue in respect of loans under Classes I and II	20th October.
By Commissioners of Divisions to Government in respect of loans under Classes III and IV	20th October.
By Commissioners of Divisions to Accountant-General in respect of loans under all the four classes	20th October.
By the Board of Revenue to Government in respect of loans under Classes I and II	20th November.
By the Accountant-General to Government in respect of the loans under all the four classes in a consolidated estimate	20th November.

(2) Revised estimates in case of emergency:—

By Collectors to Commissioners ...	15th January.
By Commissioners to Board of Revenue ...	25th January.
By Board to Government	1st February.

10-1-1908.

3. Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to affect the powers of the Board of Revenue or of the Local Government to grant, in special cases, loans under the Act on other terms than are herein provided, or to affect the terms of any special agreement under which any loan under the Act has been, or shall be, granted, or of any unexpired settlement.

INSTRUCTIONS FRAMED BY THE BOARD WITH REFERENCE TO THE PRECEDING RULES.

Sums to be allotted by Government.

1. Loans under the preceding rules will be made from such sums as the Local Government may, from time to time, allot to the Board of Revenue for the purpose.

Estimate.

2. Commissioners should submit to the Board by the 1st August of each year an estimate of their requirements for loans under the Act for each of the districts of their Divisions for the ensuing financial year; and when orders thereon are received from Government and an allotment is made, the Board will distribute it. Commissioners may divide the sum so allotted among the districts of their Divisions at their discretion, and may transfer assignments from one district to another, provided that the expenditure in the Division be kept within the amount assigned to it.

Irrecoverable balance.

3. When any portion of the amount payable in respect of a loan made under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, a special report should be made to the Board of Revenue.

Power of Board to make remissions.

4. By Government order No. 306 $\frac{T.}{F.}$, dated the 17th May 1900, the Board are empowered to remit irrecoverable loans under the Land Improvement Loans Act up to a limit of Rs. 100 (principal plus interest), and by the same order they are required to submit to Government a half-yearly statement showing the sums so remitted.

Enquiries as to securities.

5. Revenue officers are required to satisfy themselves that the property mortgaged by debtors as security for repayment of loans is of such a nature and value that, if sold, its sale-proceeds will be sufficient to cover both the loans and the interest that has accrued thereon.

Reports for remissions.

6. In submitting applications for sanctions to write off irrecoverable loans granted under the Land Improvement Loans Act, Commissioners are requested to state in each case whether attempts have been made to sell locally the property pledged as security for the repayment of the loan.

CERTIFICATE GRANTED UNDER THE LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT, 1883.

To son of of

ON production of this certificate the aforesaid is entitled to receive from the Collector of the following sums, on the dates noted against each, as a loan to be expended on (here describe clearly the nature of the improvement) the land specified in the margin :—

Dates.	Amounts.
,,	,,

2. The conditions relating to the making and repayment of this loan are as follows :—

(a) That it, with the interest thereon, shall be repayable on the dates and by the amounts specified below :—

Date.	Principal.	Interest.	Total.
,,	,,	,,	,,
,,	,,	,,	,,

(b) That it shall be applied solely to the purpose specified above, and that if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, the whole amount of the loan shall, with such interest as may have become due thereon, be deemed to have become due.

These clauses to be used only when needed.

(c) That unless (here enter any conditions as to the period or periods appointed for completing the work) the work has been completed by (date) or any extension of the said date granted by the Collector, the loan shall be held to have been misapplied.

(d) That for the repayment of the loan with any interest due on the same, the immoveable property specified in the margin is, in addition to the land on which the improvement is to be made, hypothecated to Government.

(e) That if any instalment is not paid on the due date, the whole amount of the loan shall be deemed to have become due.

Signature of Collector.

I understand and agree to the aforesaid terms and conditions.

Signature of Certificate-holder.

N. B.—Both the land to be improved and all the immoveable property hypothecated as collateral security, whether by the borrower himself or by a surety or sureties, should be described in the marginal specification as nearly as possible in the manner prescribed in section 21 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

Form C.

(See rule 10.)

Security Bond to be used when Applicant proffers Personal Security.

Whereas has on received from the Collector of a certificate under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, in virtue of which he is entitled to receive the aggregate sum of Rs. as a loan from Government, we hereby agree that if the said shall fail to comply with the terms on which the loan has been granted, either by misapplying the same or by failing to pay any instalment on the date fixed for its payment or any interest that may be due, we will be jointly and severally liable to Government for such sum not exceeding as may be necessary to make good the amount which, in consequence of his default, he may have become liable to pay.

Form D.

(See rule 10.)

Hypothecation Bond to be used when immoveable property is proffered by Collateral Surety.

Whereas has on received from the Collector of a certificate under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, in virtue of which he is entitled to receive the to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed. The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with rules 7 and 8, in modification of this certificate.

(c) That interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump-sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

(d) That it shall be applied solely to the purpose specified above, and that if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, the whole amount of the loan shall, with such interest as may have become due thereon, be deemed to have become due.

These clauses to be used only when needed.

(e) That unless

* the work has been completed by or any extension of the said date granted by the Collector, the loan shall be held to have been misapplied.

(f) That for the repayment of the loan, with any interest due on the same, the immoveable property specified in the margin is hypothecated to Government.

(g) That if any instalment is not paid on the due date, the whole amount of the loan shall be deemed to have become due.

(h) If it shall be proved to the † satisfaction of the Collector that the statements made by the aforesaid in his application for this loan, as to the nature and extent of encumbrances, are in any particular untrue, the Collector may so declare in writing and thereupon the whole of such loan, with such interest as may become due thereon, shall forthwith become due and payable.

* Here enter any conditions as to the period or periods appointed for completing the work.

† Here insert the date.

Signature of Collector.

I understand and agree to the aforesaid terms and conditions.

Signature of Certificate-holder.

N.B.—1. Both the land to be improved and all the immoveable property hypothecated as collateral security whether by the borrower himself or by a surety or sureties, should be described in the marginal specification as nearly as possible in the manner prescribed in section 21 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877.

2. In the description of the immoveable property to be given in the margin of clause (f), paragraph 2 above, it shall be stated if the property is free from encumbrances, and, if not, what are the nature and extent of the encumbrances.

FORM D.

(See Rule 10.)

Hypothecation Bond to be used when immoveable property is preferred by Collateral Surety.

WHEREAS has on received from the Collector of a certificate under the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, in virtue of which he is entitled to receive the aggregate sum of Rs. as a loan from Government; and whereas security for the due application of the loan, and for the punctual repayment of the same according to the terms of the certificate, is demanded from him, I hereby mortgage to Government the immovable property mentioned in the schedule below as collateral security, and agree that if he fails to comply with the terms on which the loan has been granted, either by misapplying the same or by failing to pay any instalment on the date fixed for its payment, it shall be lawful for the Collector to recover from the said property such sum as may be necessary to make good the amount which, in consequence of 's failure to comply with the conditions of the certificate, may be due from me.

SECTION V.—THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT, XII OF 1884.

Preliminary.

The Agriculturists' Loans Act, XII of 1884, is not intended to supersede altogether the ordinary machinery of loans from mahajans under which agricultural operations are carried on in this country. Its object is to enable the Government to step in and assist the more needy cultivators with loans on those occasions of unusual pressure when the local mahajans are unwilling to run extraordinary risks. In granting loans, therefore, under the Act, some discretion should be exercised by District Officers; preference should be given to cultivators of the poorer classes, and an attempt should be made to distinguish these from persons whose credit is good enough to enable them to obtain loans, on reasonable terms, from the local money-lenders.

Rules under the Act issued by the Government of Bengal, in Notification No. 930L.R., dated the 19th February 1901.

Powers of sanction.

1. Subject to the provisions of these rules, the Collector may sanction loans of sums not exceeding Rs. 700 each for purposes specified in the Act, provided that the district allotment be not exceeded without the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division. Loans exceeding Rs. 700 require the sanction of the Commissioner, and exceeding Rs. 5,000, the sanction of the Board. A Collector may delegate to an officer in charge of a subdivision the power to sanction loans not exceeding Rs. 250 each for purposes specified in the Act.

Applications

2. Applications for loans may be presented to any Revenue Officer of, or above, the rank of Kanungo or Sub-Deputy Collector, for transmission to the Collector.

and form.

3. All applications shall be made in writing and as nearly as possible in the annexed Form A.

Local enquiry.

4. The Collector shall either make a local enquiry himself or shall cause one to be made by a Revenue Officer not below the rank of a Kanungo or Sub-Deputy Collector for the purpose of ascertaining the particulars mentioned on the reverse of Form A.

Security.

5. (i) When the applicant possesses an interest in immoveable property of value sufficient to secure the whole amount that may become payable in respect of the loan, he must mortgage that interest, or a sufficient portion thereof, to the Government as security for the payment of that amount, and no further security need be required from him.

(ii) When the applicant does not possess an interest in immoveable property of such value, he must procure some person or persons to become his surety or sureties for the payment of the said amount.

(iii) When the sureties are a body of village residents, who bind themselves jointly and severally to the Government for the payment of the amount, their personal security may be accepted, provided that the sureties have executed a bond in the annexed Form D^A. In other cases, the security given by the surety or sureties must consist of the mortgage of immoveable property.

Payment of first instalment.

6. Repayment shall be by half-yearly instalments, the date of the first instalment not exceeding one year from the date of the loan.

Date of last instalment.

7. The date of the last instalment shall not ordinarily exceed five years from the date of the loan. With the sanction of the Board of Revenue, the time for repayment may, in special cases, be extended to ten years.

Procedure.

8. If the loan applied for is one that can be granted under the provisions of section 4, sub-section (1), of the Act, and the security offered is good and sufficient, the Collector may, on completion of the local enquiry, sanction the loan himself, if empowered by rule 1 to do so; otherwise he shall forward the application, with his report thereon, to the Commissioner for disposal.

SLIP No. 36.

THE following should be added after rule 4 of the Rules under the Agriculturists' Loans Act on page 168 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

4A. The Local Government may, by general or special order, empower any person to perform all or any of the duties of a Collector or of a Revenue Officer referred to in rules 2 and 4.

2-11-1903.

SLIP No. 44.

IN rules 6 and 7, page 168, for the words "from the date of the loan" substitute the words "from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or when the loan is advanced in instalments, from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid.'

5-3-1904.

AFTER rule 7, page 168, add the following rule:—

After rule 11, page 169, add the following rule:—

"11A. Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable." 5-3-1904.

After rule 12, page 159, add the following rule :—

"12A. Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable." 5-3-1904.

SLIP No. 91.

Pages 160 and 169.—Substitute the words "to the Commissioner" for the words "through the Commissioner to the Board of Revenue" in rules 15 and 14, respectively, of the rules under the Land Improvement Loans Act, XIX of 1883, and the Agriculturists' Loans Act, XII of 1884. 2-9-1905.

9. (i) If the loan is sanctioned, the applicant must sign the order granting the loan, which shall be in the annexed Form B, as nearly as may be.

Order to be signed.

(ii) If the security for the repayment of the loan consists of the mortgage of an interest of the applicant, such as is referred to in clause (i) of rule 5, the mortgage may be effected by clause (d) of the form being inserted in the order granting the loan, and by the order being attested by at least two witnesses and by a copy thereof being sent to the registering officer under section 89 of the Indian Registration Act, 1877, as amended by section 3, Act VII of 1886.

(iii) If the security is furnished by a surety or sureties, it will be taken, where the sureties give only personal security, in the annexed Form C, and where this surety or sureties mortgages or mortgage immoveable property, in the annexed Form D, which should be attested by at least two witnesses and a copy of it sent to the registering officer under the said section of the Indian Registration Act, 1877. If the loan is granted to a body of villagers who make themselves jointly and severally liable, they shall, in addition to signing the order in Form B, sign a bond in the annexed Form D[A].

Payment where to be made.

A copy of the order granting the loan shall be given to the applicant, and, on presentation thereof, payment of the loan shall be made at the district or subdivisional treasury.

Rate of interest.

11. (i) The ordinary rate of interest shall be one anna in the rupee, or 6¼ per cent. per annum.

(ii) The Local Government may, for special reasons, and on special application, through the Board of Revenue, sanction a loan at a lower rate of interest, or without interest.

(iii) If any instalment of principal, or of interest, or of consolidated principal and interest is not paid when it falls due, the Collector shall charge interest on it at not less than 6¼ per cent. per annum from the date of its falling due to the date of payment.

Table of repayment.

12. The repayment of the loan shall be made in accordance with the table marked E, which shows the amount of equal half-yearly payments necessary to repay a loan advanced with interest at 6¼ per cent. per annum for any number of years from one to ten.

Instalments.

13. The dates for payments of instalments shall be the 30th June and the 31st December of each year.

Suspension of instalments.

14. The realisation of instalments may be suspended by the Collector on proof of failure of crops or other exceptional calamity. The Collector shall report any such suspension, through the Commissioner, to the Board of Revenue, who shall pass such orders on the case as may seem proper.

Misapplication of loan.

15. If at any time it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the loan has been misapplied, he may, after recording in writing the grounds of his decision, and subject to the control of the superior Revenue authorities, proceed to recover the whole amount of the loan with such interest and costs (if any) as may be payable in respect thereof.

Returns and registers.

16. The Board shall regulate the forms of all returns, registers, and accounts relating to loans under the Act.

INSTRUCTIONS FRAMED BY THE BOARD WITH REFERENCE TO THE PRECEDING RULES.

Sums to be allotted by Government.

1. Loans under these rules will be made from such sums as the Local Government may, from time to time, allot to the Board of Revenue.

Estimate.

2. Commissioners will submit to the Board, by the 1st August of each year, an estimate of their requirements for loans under the Act for each of the districts of their Divisions for the ensuing financial year; and when orders thereon are received from Government and an allotment is made, the Board will distribute it. Commissioners may divide the sums so allotted among the districts of their Divisions at their discretion, and may transfer assignments from one district to another, provided that the expenditure in the Division must be kept strictly within the amount assigned to it.

Irrecoverable balance.

3. When any portion of the amount payable in respect of a loan made under these rules is found to be irrecoverable, a special report shall be made to the Board of Revenue.

Power of the Board to make remissions.

4. By Government order No. 306 T.—F., dated the 17th May 1900, the Board are empowered to remit irrecoverable loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act up to a limit of Rs. 100 (principal plus interest), and by the same order they are required to submit to Government a half-yearly statement showing the sums so remitted.

Inquiries as to securities.

5. Revenue Officers are required to satisfy themselves that the property mortgaged by debtors as security for repayment of loans is of such a nature and value that, if sold, its sale-proceeds will be sufficient to cover both the loans and the interest that has accrued thereon.

Report as to remissions.

6. In submitting applications for sanction to write off irrecoverable loans granted under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, Commissioners are requested to state in each case whether attempts have been made to sell locally the property pledged as security for the repayment of the loan.

Page 170.

3. Insert the following instructions after instruction 6:—

7. The half-yearly instalments of repayment shown in Form E appended to the rules under the Agriculturists' Loans Act should be arranged so that the interest will gradually decrease with the decrease of the principal. For instance, in the case of a loan of Rs. 1,000 payable in 20 equal instalments, the first of which is due on the 31st December 1901, the division of principal and interest should be arranged in accordance wih the following table :—

Page 170.—For the clauses "Where loans have been extensively and simultaneously taken, it would probably be possible to arrange for collecting at fixed centres. On failure to collect, recourse should be had to the certificate procedure," in instruction 10 (d), substitute the following :—

"Where joint loans have been extensively and simultaneously taken the Board direct that Deputy and Sub-Deputy Collectors should be employed freely to collect these loans at local centres, convenient to the debtors. The collection tours should be timed to take place at periods when harvests have just been reaped and sold. Ample notice, about the places and dates where the collecting officers will be present, should be given beforehand locally through the panchayats of the villages concerned. Recourse to certificates under the Public Demands Recovery Act should be exceptional and should never be resorted to where property has been proved in which case suspension should be granted. Raiyats are not to be pressed for payment at times when they cannot be expected to have any means at their disposal to meet the demands." 10-9-1910.

9. The following table shows the amount of principal and interest due each half-year on an advance of Rs. 100 repayable in five years :—

NOTE—In this table it is assumed that the first instalment is claimed six months after the date of the loan, but as, under rule 6 of the rules under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, it may be claimed after a longer period, not exceeding one year, interest should be separately levied for any period in excess of six months intervening between the date of the advance and the date on which the first instalment is paid. Thus if a loan of Rs. 100 is granted on 1st March and the first instalment is paid on 31st December following, then, in addition to the amount shown in the table, a further payment of interest should be levied for the four months March, April, May and June.

10. When a joint bond in form D[A] is taken from the recipients—

(a) Recovery should be made, as far as possible, from each joint-debtor according to the amount received by him and specified in the bond.

(b) Solvent members can be made to help in realising dues from defaulters.

(c) If it proves to be impossible to collect from each joint-debtor in the manner indicated in (a) and (b), and if there is no sufficient reason to recommend a remission, recovery may then be made from the solvent joint-debtors.

(d) Recovery should be made by Subdivisional officers or Deputy Collectors or other Revenue officers whom the Collector may depute. When loans have been extensively and simultaneously taken, it would probably be possible to arrange for collecting at fixed centres. On failure to collect, recourse should be had to the certificate procedure.

SLIP No. 238.

12A. For every payment a receipt in the proper form must be given, viz:—

(a) Payments at the treasury.—When payment is made by a borrower into a Government treasury the duplicate challan accompanying such payment should be signed and returned to the tenderer as a receipt.

(b) Payments made otherwise.—Whenever a payment is made by a borrower otherwise than into the treasury, a receipt, in the form of the check receipt prescribed by rule 22, section VII, Chapter III of the Practice and Procedure Manual, 1908, must invariably be granted for such a payment by the officer of Government who receives the payment from the borrower. In the case of a loan granted to a group of borrowers on their joint and several securities, when a sum is repaid which includes contributions from more than one member of the group, one receipt only need be given in respect of that repayment; but on the back of both the receipt and the counterfoil should be clearly stated the name of each contributor and the amount repaid by him. Special care must be taken by the officer in charge of the loans collection department to ensure that the rules of the Board regarding the issue and custody of cheque receipt books are carried out.

8-10-1909.

(e) A list should be attached to the Form (DA) showing the sums actually taken individually by each joint-debtor. The list should be signed by the officer who distributes the loans.

11. In order to facilitate the realisation of loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act—

(i) The repayment of instalments by money-order should be encouraged as far as practicable, as this will obviate the necessity of visits to the Subdivisional or District head-quarters.

(ii) Borrowers should be supplied with printed slips showing how the money-order form is to be filled up and containing a note of the date of each instalment.

12. With reference to the above instruction, the following form of notice, vernacular versions of which can be obtained from the Controller of Stationery, is prescribed for general use:—

Loan of Rs.
to
of village
of thana
made on under the Agriculturists' Loans Act

NOTICE.

You have separately agreed to repay the above loan in the instalments noted below:—

Date when due.	Amount payable.
	Principal.	Interest.	Total.

2. You should pay each instalment to the Collector / Subdivisional Officer of on the date it is due.

3. If you like you may send the instalments due to the Collector / Subdivisional Officer, of by money-order.

4. If you send the instalment by money-order you must be careful to write in the money-order the name of the person who took the loan, or if there were several persons then the name of the principal person. You must also write your village and the thana in which it is situated.

5. You must also be careful to write on the money-order that the instalment is paid on account of the original loan of Rs.

6. You must write all these things clearly so that there will be no confusion]

2. Page 170. Insert the following as instruction 19 :—

19. Each record of an Agriculturists' loan case should be deposited in the record-room in the first week of the month following that in which the loan has been made after the necessary entries are made in Register 22.

When a loan is made in instalments the procedure would be as follows: After the first instalment has been paid, and the record has been deposited in the record-room, then, when the next instalment is payable, the record should be obtained from the record-room and be re-deposited there in the first week of the month following that in which such instalment was paid, and after the necessary entries have been made in register 22; and similarly in regard to each successive instalment. Progress in collections should be watched by means of the Register and where the Collector thinks such is needed, by an arrear list The treasury chalans admitting payment of the instalments of the loan should be sent to the record-keeper to be filed with the records concerned.

13. Register 22 (Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act) should be written up by mauzas and the mauzas be grouped by thanas and under thanas according to the years in which the loans were originally granted.

14. In the case of bonds with joint obligations, the unit for entry in Register 22 should be the bond, but the separate obligation of each recipient of the loan should be recorded.

15. When a loan has been repaid in full the word "satisfied" should be entered in the remarks column of Register 22.

16. A certificate should be attached to Annual Return XXVIII (Recovery of advances) to the effect that it has been prepared from Register 22.

17. The clerk in charge of Register 22 (Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act) is primarily responsible that the Register is properly and correctly kept, and also that, when an instalment of a loan is not repaid on the date on which it falls due, the fact is immediately brought to the notice of the Deputy Collector in charge in order that the Collector may issue such orders as may seem necessary.

18. At the close of every quarter the Deputy Collector in charge or other gazetted officer should satisfy himself by an examination of the entries in Register 22 that the realisations have been correctly posted and the balances correctly brought forward; also that action is being taken in all instances of arrears. It should be noted in the Register that the examination in question has been made. 5-3-1904.

(b) That in the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed. The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with Rules 6 and 7, in modification of this order.

(c) That interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump-sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable.

(d) That it be applied solely to the purpose specified above, and that, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Collector that any part of the said loan has been misapplied, the whole amount of the loan shall, with such interest and costs (if any) as may have become payable in respect thereof, be deemed to have become due.

SECTION VI.—EMBANKMENTS.

1. Rules* made by the Lieutenant-Governor under section 90 of Act II (B.C.) of 1882 which have the force of law—

Rules.

I. All estimates for works to be executed under this Act shall include 23 per cent. for establishment and, in addition, the estimated cost of all Estimates.

*See the Calcutta Gazette of 14th January 1894.

petty establishments employed for watching or guarding embankments, and for working sluices.

Tools and plant.

II. Where tools and plant are to be provided by Government, a charge of 3 per cent. on the outlay will be made, and this percentage shall be added to the estimates.

Superintending Engineer's opinion to be obtained.

III. The Collector shall, previous to submitting a report to the Commissioner under sections 11, 19 or 43 of the Act, obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Engineer, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings in the case.

Notices for new works.

No notices regarding new works, the estimated cost of which exceeds Rs. 2,500, shall be published under section 8 of the Act until the estimates, specifications and plans have received the approval of the Chief Engineer.

Estimates to be countersigned by Seperintending Engineer.

IV. No estimate under section 49 of the Act shall be transmitted to the Collector until it has been countersigned by the Superintending Engineer, who is responsible that the repairs proposed to be executed are necessary, for the manner in which it is proposed to execute them, and that the rates entered in the estimate are fair and reasonable.

Surveys.

V. The Superintending Engineer shall, on the requisition of the Collector, furnish a written opinion on any work it is proposed to execute under the Act, causing all necessary surveys to be made.

Sanction of charges.

VI. Where the Collector, under the last preceding section, requires surveys to be made, he shall either cause the estimated cost of the same to be paid to the Engineer, or procure sanction, under the ordinary rules for the disbursement of public money, to the proposed expenditure. Such deposit or sanction shall provide for the salaries and allowances of the Engineers and Surveyors it is intended to employ.

Condition of lands.

VII. The Superintending Engineer shall, in any enquiry under section 51 of the Act, on receiving a requisition to that effect from the Collector, give his written opinion as to the boundaries of the lands affected by such works or repairs, and the extent to which they have been benefited or affected. This opinion shall form part of the record of proceedings in the case.

Collector should consider objections.

VIII. Notwithstanding that there is no express mention in section 52 of the Act of objections preferred before the Collector to the Engineer's accounts and certificate of expenses, on the ground that certain lands are not benefited by the works or repairs as specified in such certificate, the Collector should entertain and consider such objections. As the disposal of such objections will often depend on professional enquiries, the Collector should consult the Engineer, and, if necessary, the Superintending Engineer, before passing orders, and the substance of the reference to the Engineer, and of his reply, shall form part of the record.

Alteration in the certificate.

If the Collector shall, on such objection, come to the conclusion that any alteration should be made in the certificate which has been signed by the Engineer under section 51, he may at any time, before making an order charging or apportioning the amount under section 58 of the Act, make such alteration as provided in section 52.

Procedure in cases of grave or imminent danger to life and property.

IX. When it is considered that the ordinary procedure under the Act would be attended with grave and imminent danger to life and property, and proceedings under section 25 of the Act are taken by the Collector, or under section 29 by the Engineer, the Collector shall make an immediate report to the Commissionor, and forward a copy thereof to the Superintending Engineer. In such cases the Commissioner shall lose no time in submitting a copy of this report, with his opinion thereon, through the Board, for the orders of Government.

Delegation of powers.

X. All orders passed under section 31 of the Act shall be in writing, and the applicant shall be entitled to receive a copy of the same, free of charge, on application. The Engineer shall delegate to all Public Works subdivisional officers the power of receiving applications under section 31 of the Act for temporary roadways and temporary water-courses, but no person so appointed shall pass an order for the construction of a temporary water-course, unless he has been specially authorised to do so by the Superintending Engineer. Such authority shall specify the embankments in regard to which only this power is to be exercised. In all cases where an application for a temporary water-course is made to a person appointed by the Engineer, such application shall be submitted to the Engineer for transmission to the Collector. The Engineer, in forwarding applications under this section to the Collector, shall state in writing whether in his opinion they can be sanctioned without endangering the safety of the embankment.

Sluices.

XI. All Public Works subdivisional officers shall be authorised to open or shut sluices under general rules to be issued by the Engineer with the approval of the Collector. A copy of all rules made under this section shall be transmitted to the Superintending Engineer.

Appeal.

XII. Any order to remove an embankment or obstruction, or to repair damage, passed under section 79 of the Act, shall be appealable to the Court to which an appeal ordinarily lies from the decision of the Magistrate who passes the order.

Rules not applicable to Orissa.

2. The above rules do not apply to Orissa, to which certain sections only of the Act extend.

Dates of instalments.

3. Under the powers vested in him by section 61 of the Act, the Lieutenant-Governor has directed that the dates specified below shall be the days on which instalments of the amount charged to, or apportioned on, estates or tenures respectively under the said Act shall be payable:—

I.—In respect of estates—

(d) Estates paying an annual revenue exceeding Rs. 100	7th June. 28th September. 12th January. 28th March.

III—When any instalment is not paid on the date on which it is due, interest shall be charged at the rate of 5 per centum per annum from such date until payment thereof.

Certain estates not affected.

4. Estates and tenures in the Sunderbans, as defined under the provisions of clause 2, section 13, Regulation III of 1828, and in the Province of Orissa, are not affected by the above orders.

Terms of contract not affected.

5. The above orders do not affect the terms of any contract agreement in regard to dates of payment which may have been entered into between the zamindars of any district and Government. Such zamindars if, as in Midnapore and Saran, they have agreed to pay annually in one single payment, shall be bound by that agreement and by no other.

Section VII.—Escheats.

Government claims.

1. All property, whether real or personal, to which there is no legal claimant, belongs to the State.

Procedure to claim personal property.

2. The mode of procedure, where personal property is left without a claimant, is described in section 7, Regulation V of 1799. In regard to such property, the duty of the Collector is confined to informing the Judge concerning it whenever he becomes aware of its existence. It follows, of course, that he should take such measures as lie in his power to make himself acquainted with the existence of such property.

Government interests to be watched.

3. In cases where personal property under attachment of the Civil Court is claimed by persons alleging themselves to be heirs of the deceased intestate persons, the Collector should be represented before the Judge by the Government Pleader, where the interests of Government require such cases to be watched.

Civil Courts have no jurisdiction where real property is concerned.

4. When real property is left without a claimant, it does not appear that the intervention of the Civil Courts is in any way necessary, or can be, by any law, invoked.

How kutcha tiled or thatched houses are to be treated.

5. It has been ruled that kutcha tiled or thatched houses left by persons dying intestate are to be dealt with as personal or real property according to the existing practice of the district, different judicial officers taking different views on the point and the High Court being unwilling to interfere unless in the regular way of appeal.

Duties of the Board and of Collectors.

6. By section 7, Regulation XIX of 1810, the Board are vested with the general superintendence of all escheats, and are required to inform themselves fully, "through the local agents," of any property of that description, and report to Government whether it should, in their opinion, be sold on the public account, or in what other mode it should be disposed of. The Collector being an ex-officio local agent, should report, for the orders of the Commissioner and the Board, all cases subject to the exceptions mentioned in rule 7, in which he learns the existence of unclaimed real property, and should take immediate possession of such property on the part of Government, taking measures at the same time to invite claimants to the property as publicly as possible Should the Collector's action be opposed by any person actually in possession, he must desist from occupying the property and report the circumstances with his opinion in regard to the propriety of instituting a suit for the establishment of the right of Government. Notices inviting claimants to the property should remain open for six months.

Occupancy tenures will not be claimed by Government.

7. The Government has, however, decided not to act upon its right of taking possession as escheats of mere occupancy tenures (whether transferable or not) of cultivators dying without heirs, and in such cases Collectors should not put forward any claim on behalf of Government, and no report to the Board need be made.

Procedure in cases of tenures worth less than Rs. 500.

In the case of any tenure of a middleman or cultivator which, though of a permanent character, is worth less than Rs. 500, according to the valuation of such tenures in the district for the time being, the Collectors should report all particulars to the Board as hitherto, but should refrain from taking possession until the orders of Government are received, as, in respect of such tenures, the Government will not, as a matter of course in every case, act on its right to claim the escheat.

Property escheated not to be ordinarily sold for twelve years.

8. With reference to the provisions of the law of limitation (Act XV of 1877), the Board will not ordinarily advise the Government to sell any such property until it has been in full possession of it for twelve years, except in the case of lakhiraj and rent-free tenures valued at less than Rs. 500, of which the sale will be sanctioned at the end of six months after the declaration of escheat.

Appropriation to local improvements.

9. Small patches of land in the neighbourhood of towns, or such escheats as shops, tanks, and gardens, similarly situate, may, with the special sanction of Government in each case, be appropriated to local improvements.

Illegitimate claimants to be liberally dealt with.

10. On the occurrence of the escheat of estates which may have belonged to Hindus, Muhammadans, or others, to whom the Indian Succession Act does not apply, the Government will deal in a liberal spirit with the claims of persons who, except for the fact of illegitimacy, would have been entitled to succeed, or who for any reason have a moral, though not a legal, claim to consideration: such cases will be reported to the Government of India for final orders.

Illegitimate European claimants.

11. In dealing with the escheated property of illegitimate Europeans who may die intestate in India, it has been customary for the Government of India to be guided by the principles applicable to the disposal of similar escheats in England; under which the property, or a portion thereof, is distributed, as a matter of grace and bounty, to the next-of-kin of the deceased, after Substitute the following for the existing rules in Section VIII, Chapter VII, pages 181-182 of the Board's Rules, 1902.

Publication of notification.

1. The notification under section 5 (a) shall be published at the Collector's cutcherry, Subdivisional cutcherry, Munsif's cutcherry and police-station within the jurisdiction of which the treasure was found, and at some conspicuous spot in the village in which it was found.

Collector's report.

2. On receipt of any notice under section 4, or on receipt of information from any person other than the finder that treasure has been found, the Collector shall report the fact direct to Government stating—

(1) The name of finder.

(2) The nature of treasure and number of coins, if any.

(3) The approximate value.

(4) The date of finding.

(5) Whether, the treasure being coin, it is recommended that the Government should acquire it. In the event of such recommendation being made, if the find is small, all the coins shall be submitted to Government. In the case of large finds, only a few specimens of each type shall be submitted. The expert who examines the coins may correspond direct with the Collector and request that in the case of large finds all the coins, or such number of them as he may prescribe, be submitted to him.

(6) The Collector shall also submit a detailed report of the origin, surroundings and exact nature of the find.

(7) A copy of the Collector's report shall be forwarded by Government to the Superintendent, Archæological Survey, Eastern Circle.

Proceedings when finder does not give notice.

3. In the case of information being given by a person other than the finder, the Collector shall issue a notice under section 5 (b) of the Act on the person informed against to show cause why he should not be prosecuted for not giving the required notice, and in the event of no cause being shown, the Collector shall take such further action as may seem expedient.

Cost of notices.

4. All notices under section 5 shall be served at the cost of the Government.

5. The acquisition of the whole or any part of the treasure by the Collector, under the authority given by section 16 of the Act, shall be subject to the opinion of the expert or experts whose advice shall be previously obtained by the Government.

Acquisition of coins.

6. If for any special reasons, such as the largeness of the quantity found, or the coins being known to be of merely metal value, the Collector considers it unnecessary to acquire the whole of the coins found he shall, in the report mentioned in rule 2 above, state (eighthly) why he considers that the whole of the coins found need not be acquired on behalf of the Government.

If only a portion to be acquired.

7. Coins submitted to the Government by Collectors shall be sent for examination to experts. Those experts shall report to Government in the forms (A) and (B) appended to these rules the number and nature of the coins and their probable numismatic value. They shall also advise the Government whether the coins or any part of them should be acquired. Ordinarily all coins pronounced by the experts to be rare specimens shall be acquired by Government.

8. Collectors are empowered to purchase, otherwise than when proceeding under the provision of the Treasure Trove Act, any coins, whether gold, silver or copper, which appear to be old and not of British Mintage, when they are less than Rs. 10 in value, on payment of a sum equal to the value of the materials of the coins, together with one-fifth of such value. Coins so purchased shall be submitted to the Government in the General Department for distribution in the manner described in rule 2.

Collectors to purchase old coin not treasure trove.

Explanation. Such coins include coins struck at Calcutta, Murshidabad, Benares, Surat, Arcot, in the name of Shah Alum, dated 19th Juloos.

9. (a) All fines levied under this Act shall be credited to the head "Treasure Trove" subordinate to head XXV—Miscellaneous, and any treasure which vests in the Government under section 20 or 21 shall, unless it be such as it is thought advisable for the Government to retain, be sold in the manner described below with reference to the sale of surplus coins, and the proceeds shall be credited to the above head.

Proceeds of fines and sales to be credited to Government.

(b) Any surplus coins which it is considered desirable to retain after the distribution prescribed in rules 11 and 13 shall be sent to the Indian Museum and there kept for sale. Notices containing particulars thereof shall be published quarterly in the local Gazette and the "Gazette of India," copies of the notices being sent to the Asiatic Society and to the other institutions mentioned in rule 11.

Subject to be noticed in the Land Revenue Annual Report.

10. All Collectors shall append a paragraph to their Land Revenue Annual Reports, stating whether any notices have been presented during the year under report under section 4, or any proceedings taken before the Magistrate under section 20 or 21 under rule 8 above. Commissioners shall mention the results of the working of the Act as reported by Collectors in their own reports.

Distribution of coins acquired.

11. Coins, where more than two specimens are found and acquired, shall be distributed by Government, subject to the proviso laid down in rule 12, to the following 14 cabinets in the order in which they are named below. This distribution shall be intimated to the Superintendent, Archæological Survey, Eastern Circle—

(1) The Indian Museum.
(2) The Madras Museum.
(3) The Provincial Museum, Lucknow.
(4) The Lahore Museum.
(5) The Nagpur Museum.
(6) The Public Library, Shillong.
(7) The Archæological Museum, Poona.
(8) The Peshawar Museum.
(9) The Quetta Museum.
(10) The Ajmere Museum.
(11) The Rangoon Museum.
(12) Asiatic Society, Bengal.
(13) Bombay Branch, Royal Asiatic Society.
(14) The British Museum.

Accumulation of duplicates to be avoided.

12. It shall not be necessary to present coins to an institution, which already possesses exactly similar specimens.

To facilitate the selection and to avoid the accumulation of duplicates, the Government shall be furnished by each cabinet with a catalogue of the existing collections, which shall also be published.

If the publication of catalogues cannot be arranged for, hand-lists shall be printed giving such details of the coins in each cabinet, that they can be recognised.

Retention of specimen coin by non-official examiner.

13. No official who is entrusted with the examination of the coins as part of his ordinary duties shall, in any circumstances, retain a specimen of any coin. Non-official examiners may, however, retain one specimen only of each variety: provided that specimens remain over after all the cabinets named in rule 11 have been supplied. In such cases a statement shall be furnished to the Government by the examiner or examiners concerned.

Submission of report.

14. The Superintendent of Archæological Survey, Eastern Circle, shall submit to the Government, not later than the 30th of June each year, a report containing a brief summary of the result of the examination, etc., of coins during that year. The report shall show the total number of coins dealt with in the year, classifying them by metal, and also roughly by the series to which they belong; it shall also give a short account of any notable finds. The form (C) appended shall be used for this purpose.

deducting the expenses incurred and a proportion as the Crown's share according to a certain scale.

Reward to informer.

12. In a case under rule 6 above, Government granted a reward of 10 per cent. on the sale-proceeds of the property which was declared an escheat for information given by a person that the property was claimable as an escheat.

Section VIII.—Rules under the Indian Treasure Trove Act (VI of 1878).

Publication of notification.

1. The notification under section 5 (a) shall be published at the Collector's cutcherry, Subdivisional cutcherry, Munsif's cutcherry and police-station within the jurisdiction of which the treasure was found, and at some conspicuous spot in the village in which it was found.

Collector's report.

2. On receipt of any application under section 4, or on receipt of information from any person other than the finder that treasure has been found, the Collector shall report the fact to the Commissioner, stating—

(1) Name of finder.
(2) Nature of treasure, and number of coins, if any.
(3) Approximate value.
(4) Date of finding.
(5) Whether the treasure, being coin, has been acquired under section 16, or whether it is recommended that Government should acquire the treasure.

A copy of this report shall be sent to the Asiatic Society at Calcutta for information.

Proceedings when finder does not give notice.

3. In the case of information being given by a person other than the finder, the Collector shall issue a notice under section 5 (b) of the Act on the person informed against to show cause why he should not be prosecuted for not giving the required notice, and in the event of no cause being shown, the Collector shall take such further action as may seem expedient.

Cost of notices.

4. All notices under section 5 shall be served at the cost of Government.

Report to the Board.

5. On receipt of the Collector's report, the Commissioner will, if he thinks the property ought to be acquired by Government, report the case for the orders of the Board. This rule does not apply to cases where coins are the property found.

Acquisition of coins.

6. Collectors shall ordinarily acquire, under section 16 of the Act (without it's being necessary for them to obtain the sanction of higher authority), the whole of any coins found, whether gold, silver, or copper, that appear to be old and not of British mintage.

Explanation.—These include coins struck at Calcutta, Murshidabad, Benares, Surat, Arcot, in the name of Shah Alum, dated 19th Juloos.

If only a portion to be acquired.

7. If for any special reasons, such as the largeness of the quantity found, or the coins being known to be of merely metal value, the Collector considers it unnecessary to acquire the whole of the coins found, he shall, in the report mentioned in rule 2 above, state (sixthly) why he considers that the whole of the coins found need not be acquired on behalf of Government.

Commissioner to report to Government.

8. On receipt of the report, the Commissioner, if he thinks that the whole of the coins found should not be acquired, shall report the case for the orders of Government.

9. Coins acquired under section 16 of the Act shall be sent to the Asiatic Society at Calcutta, and the Society shall report to Government the numbers and nature of the coins, and their probable numismatic value.

Collector to purchase old coin not treasure trove.

10. Collectors are empowered to purchase, otherwise than when proceeding under the provisions of the Treasure Trove Act, any coins of the age and description stated in rule 6 above, when they are less than Rs. 10 in value, on payment of a sum equal to the value of the materials of the coins, together with one-fifth of such value. Coins so purchased shall be treated in the manner described in the last section.

Proceeds of fines and sales to be credited to Government.

11. All fines levied under this Act shall be credited to the head 'Treasure Trove' subordinate to head 'XXV.—Miscellaneous,' and any treasure which vests in Government under section 20 or 21 shall, unless it be such as it is thought adviseable for Government to retain, be sold by public auction to the highest bidder under the orders of the Commissioner, and the proceeds be credited to the above head.

Subject to be noticed in the Land Revenue Annual Report.

12. All Commissioners and Collectors should append a paragraph to their Land Revenue Annual Reports, stating whether any applications have been presented during the year under report under section 4, or any proceedings taken before the Magistrate under section 20 or 21, or under rule 10 above.

Section IX.—Classification and disposal of chaukidari chakran lands.

1. As the resumption of chaukidari chakran lands is going on in many districts, the following rules are laid down for the guidance of Collectors other than those in the Chota Nagpur Division.

Settlement of transferred chaukidari lands.

2. Chaukidari chakran lands dealt with under Part II of the Chaukidari Act, VI (B.C.) of 1870, are not to be considered as separate "estates" within the meaning of the Land Registration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1876. Under section 41 of Regulation VIII of 1793, they form part of the estate in which they are situated. Under sections 48 and 51 of the Chaukidari Act, they are to be transferred to the "zamindar" of such estate or tenure, who is defined in section 1; and it has been ruled (vide Government letter No. 3020J., dated 23rd July 1894,) that they are not to be treated as amalgamated with such estate or tenure. Under the General Clauses Act, the singular includes the plural, so that the word "zamindar" in section 48 et seq. means all the registered proprietors. Transferred chaukidari chakran lands are the property of the zamindar to whom they are transferred, but are hypothecated for the payment of the amount due to the "Village Chaukidari Fund." The settlement of them is offered at half rates to the zamindar in the first instance, because half the services of the chaukidar were legally supposed to be his. If he does not take settlement, after having had the opportunity, which section 50 gives him, of contesting the assessment, the Collector should make the order of transfer in Form C absolute, and if the assessment is not paid, should deal with the lands under sections 54 to 56 (vide Legal Remembrancer's letter No. 161, dated 4th May 1893, to the Commissioner of Burdwan). Even if such lands are subsequently transferred by sale under section 55, Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, this does not create them an estate within the meaning of that word as used in the Land Registration Act.

Effect of sale of chaukidari lands.

3. The effect of the sale of chaukidari chakran lands is clearly described in section 55 of Act VI (B.C.) of 1870. The purchaser acquires the right to hold them free of incumbrances, but subject to the chaukidari assessment at half rates. He cannot be said to hold them revenue-free, because, at the time of the permanent settlement, revenue was assessed on them under section 41 of Regulation VIII of 1793. The exact legal status of the auction-purchasers of such lands need not be settled by the Revenue authorities. It is for the Civil Courts to decide it. All that the Revenue authorities are concerned with is the payment of the assessment due to the Village Chaukidari Fund.

Register No. 81 and form of notification for sale of chaukidari lands.

4. The Collector alone can legally make the first transfer, under section 50, and it is not clear that subsequent transfers are valid unless they are made under sections 54 and 55. In order, however, to maintain a record of transferees of chaukidari chakran lands, a separate register (No. 81) has been opened. Columns 5, 7 and 8 in the register are also intended for the record of transfers made by sale under section 55 after the first transfer under section 50, Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, and they should be entered in it subject to their being made under section 55, and not by private sale or arrangement, which should not be recognised. The form of notification for sale of chaukidari lands for arrears of assessment is given in the Appendix to this Chapter.

Particulars of sale of chakran lands.

5. When chakran lands are sold, under section 55 of Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, in accordance with the provisions of Act XI of 1859, the particulars of the sale should be entered in Register 19 (Sales for arrears of revenue), and should be distinguished from ordinary revenue sales by a letter—say C—or by entry in red ink.

Assessment of road-cess on transferred chaukidari lands.

6. The assessment of road-cess on transferred chaukidari chakran lands should be made on the half annual value which the transferee retains. They do not come within the definition of "estate," but they clearly within the definition of "tenure" in section 4 of the Road Cess Act.

APPENDIX.

[See Section IX, Rule 4.]

Notification under section 6, Act XI of 1859, and section 55, Act VI (B.C.) of 1870, for sale of chaukidari chakran lands.

The public are hereby informed that the chaukidari chakran lands specified below, will be sold under the provisions of Act XI of 1859, at the office of the Collector of on (date) at (hour), for arrears of assessment on account of due to the Village Chaukidari Fund, unless such arrears are paid up on or before the said date:—

The following should be inserted as Section X—Rules for the guidance of officers receiving trust money whether by bequest or otherwise of Chapter VII, Miscellaneous, of the Board's Rules, 1902:—

SECTION X.

Rules for the guidance of officers receiving trust money, whether by bequest or otherwise.

(1) All trust money received by an officer in his official capacity shall, unless a trust fund has been created, be lodged in the Treasury, where it will be credited as a deposit.

(2) The fact that the money has been received, together with the nature of the trust, shall be at once reported to his official superior and by him to Government, if necessary, through the usual channel.

(3) No expenditure shall be incurred from such funds, except with the sanction of the authority competent to sanction the payment, if made, from general revenues.

(4) If the money is to be expended on some work of public utility, the work shall be carried out in the same manner and with the same sanction as if it were undertaken at Government expense.

(5) The officer sanctioning any expenditure from such funds must satisfy himself that it is in accordance with the terms of the trust.

(6) The above rules must be strictly adhered to, and officers must be held personally responsible for any misapplication of trust money which may result from its neglect.

CHAPTER VIII.

Pensions.

Rules framed by the Board with the consent of the Local Government, under section 14, Act XXIII (the Pensions' Act), 1871.

SECTION I.—PRELIMINARY.

Application of these rules.

The rules governing service pensions, extraordinary pensions and gratuities for service not entitling to pension, are contained in the Civil Service Regulations, published under the authority of the Government of India. The following instructions therefore apply to territorial and political pensions only, disbursed through the Revenue authorities.

SECTION II.—THE PLACE AND TIMES AT WHICH, AND THE PERSONS TO WHOM, PENSIONS ARE TO BE PAID.

Payment where to be made.

1. As a general rule, pensions are payable at the District Treasury, upon which a permanent payable order has been issued by the Accountant-General.

Payment at subdivisions.

2. But pensioners residing within any subdivision of a district may obtain payment of their pensions from the subdivisional treasury in the same way as from the District Treasury.

Transfer of payment.

3. A Commissioner may, on application and on sufficient cause shown, permit transfer of payment from a treasury in his Division to any other treasury in British India. This order does not extend to political pensions in cases where the pensioner resides, by order of Government, in a particular place.

Particulars to be submitted.

4. Copy of the order directing the transfer should be forwarded by the Commissioner to the Accountant-General, Bengal, together with a brief narrative of the origin and particulars of the pension; and the District Officer of the district, from which the payment is transferred, should be instructed to return his and the pensioner's portion of the permanent payable order to the Accountant-General. The Accountant-General will then issue a fresh permanent payable order to the officer, who will, in future, pay the pension, or, if that officer belongs to another province, will move the Accountant-General of such province to do so.

To be paid monthly.

5. As a rule, pensions shall be paid monthly.

Arrears of pension.

6. If a pension remains undrawn for more than six months, the disbursing officer must at once make enquiry into the cause of the non-appearance of the pensioner, and return the pay order to the Accountant-General, Bengal. When the enquiry has been completed, the result should be communicated to him. If the pensioner afterwards appears, the Collector or other disbursing officer may reclaim the pay order and renew his payments; but the payment of the arrears that have accumulated cannot be made without the sanction of the Commissioner, and if the amount of arrears exceeds Rs. 1,000, without the previous sanction of the Board obtained through the Commissioner.

Personal appearance at time of payment.

7. (a) As a rule, a pensioner must take payment in person, after identification, by comparison with the permanent pay order.

Exemptions.

(b) A pensioner specially exempted by the Local Government from personal appearance, a female pensioner not accustomed to appear in public, or a male pensioner, who is unable to appear in consequence of bodily illness or infirmity, may receive his or her pension upon the production of a life-certificate, signed by a responsible officer of Government, or by some other well-known and trustworthy person.

(c) A pensioner of any description, who produces a life-certificate signed by some person exercising the powers of a Magistrate of any class under the Criminal Procedure Code, or by any Registrar or Sub-Registrar under the Registration Act, or by any pensioned officer who, before retirement, exercised the powers of a Magistrate, is also exempted from personal appearance.

Precautions.

(d) In all cases referred to in the clauses (b) and (c), the disbursing officer must take precautions to prevent imposition, and must, before the first payment in each year, require proof, independent of that furnished by the life-certificate, of the continued existence of the pensioner. For this purpose he should (save in cases of exemption from personal appearance granted by the Local Government) require the personal attendance and due identification of all male pensioners who are not incapacitated by bodily illness or infirmity from so attending, and in all cases where such inability may be alleged, he should require proof thereof in addition to the proof submitted of the pensioner's existence.

Pensioners of rank.

8. Pensions of pensioners of rank, especially exempted by Government, shall be paid to an agent holding a power-of-attorney upon the production of the permanent order and of a separate receipt.

Payment to an agent.

9. Pensions of pensioners exempted under head (b) of rule 7 (save in cases mentioned in rule 8) may be paid to an agent on their behalf on the

and the payment of arrears that have accumulated not exceeding Rs. 1,000 can be sanctioned by the Collector. If the amount of arrears exceeds Rs. 1,000, the previous sanction of the Board should be obtained through the Commissioner.

Collectors of districts are empowered to sanction the payment of arrears of pension due to deceased pensioners to their heirs.

production of the permanent order, of a life-certificate as therein prescribed and of a separate receipt.

Arrears of deceased pensioners.

10. On the death of a pensioner, payment of any arrear actually due may be made to his heirs, provided that they apply within six months from his death; it cannot be paid thereafter without the sanction of the Board of Revenue. But if the arrears do not exceed Rs. 100, and the case present no peculiar features, the Commissioner is empowered to pass the arrears on his own authority. Even if the pension has been sanctioned before the death of the pensioner, the payment may be made under the orders of the authority who would have been competent to sanction the pension if the pensioner had not died.

Section III.—Delivery of Certificates to Pensioners.

Permanent payable order to be made over to the pensioner.

1. On the receipt by the disbursing officer of the permanent payable order, he shall summon the pensioner, and, on his appearing, shall make over to him his portion of the permanent payable order, and explain to him at what times he can draw his pension and how he must proceed for the purpose. No other certificate need be given.

When made over to the agent.

2. When the pensioner is exempted from appearance in person, the permanent order may be made over to any person authorised to act on the pensioner's behalf.

When much worn.

3. When the pensioner's portion of the permanent payable order is much worn, or its back is filled with entries of payment, he should return it to the disbursing officer, who will forward both portions of the order to the Accountant-General and obtain from him a duplicate order bearing the same number and date.

When lost.

4. If the pensioner loses his portion, the disbursing officer's half may be returned to the Accountant-General, who will issue a duplicate order bearing the same number and date as the original.

Section IV.—Records to be kept on the subject of Pensions, Correction and Transmission of such Records, and Registers of Certificates Delivered to Pensioners.

Registry of applications.

1. In each Collectorate a list of pensions granted shall be kept up in the form given in Appendix A. Applications for pensions are to be entered in Register 8 of miscellaneous cases.

Pensions undrawn for two years.

2. All pensions not drawn for two years shall be struck off this register. If renewed by order of Government, a fresh entry will be made in the register.

Death of pensioner.

3. Upon the death of a pensioner the District Officer should at once report the circumstance to the Accountant-General and return the original permanent order to his office.

Permanent payable orders.

4. When pensions are granted, the Accountant-General issues permanent payable orders to the disbursing officer of the station at which the pension is payable, directing him to pay periodically, until further notice, the amount of the pension upon the production of the counterpart of the order and a separate receipt according to the prescribed form. These orders should be entered in the register of permanent orders prescribed in Article 343 of the Civil Account Code, vol. I (1899).

Register to be kept at subdivision.

5. When payment of any pension is permitted at a subdivision, a copy of the permanent order of such shall be forwarded to the subdivision, a note to that effect being made in the register of permanent orders at the head-quarters station. At each subdivision a register of permanent orders so received shall be kept up in the same form as the register prescribed for the head-quarters station.

Payment to be recorded.

6. Upon presentation of a claim for payment, the District Officer should at once record the sum paid upon the permanent order, enter the amount in the cash-book, and submit the separate receipt (Appendix B), with his treasury account, to the Accountant-General as a voucher in support of the charge.

Section V.—Disposal of Claims to, Right of Succession to, or to Participation in, Pensions or Grants, and Grant of Certificate to the Civil Court in certain cases.

Continuance of hereditary pensions.

1. The Board are competent to sanction the continuance of hereditary pensions when the hereditary title has been already recognised by Government or decreed by a competent court of justice. But it is to be borne in mind that the Government never undertook, absolutely, to pay the pensions included in the Permanent Settlement, and that if a pension has unadvisedly been continued to heirs, the hereditary nature of the gratuity may, on the death of the incumbent, again be questioned.

Not to be ordinarily allowed.

2. As a general principle, pecuniary grants will not be continued after the death of the parties in whose favour they were originally made. Pensioners whose pensions are granted for life only, and are resumable at their decease, are to be in no way encouraged by the local officers to hope that their pensions will be continued to their heirs, and thereby induced to neglect making a proper provision for their families. The Board are to submit to Government for decision any case in which they may be of opinion, on the decease of a life-pensioner, that the pension, or any part thereof, should be continued to the heirs.

General principles.

3. The principles laid down in the memorandum by Mr. F. Millett, printed in Appendix C, are, under the orders of Government, to be followed in recommending, or deciding upon, the continuance or discontinuance to heirs of the various classes of pensions with which the memorandum deals.

Distribution of pensions.

4. As a rule, the distribution of pensions is irrespective of Hindu or Muhammadan law, and dependent on the pleasure of Government only. In cases where the original grant of a pension to two or more persons was joint and undivided, the survivor or survivors will be considered entitled to retain only an exact half, or lesser share, according to circumstances, of the whole sum, without reference to sex.

Grant of certificates.

5. But when the grant was of a specific sum annually, payable in perpetuity and unconditionally, the District Officer may, with the sanction of the Commissioner and the Board, grant a certificate to the Civil Court under section 6, Act XXIII of 1871, where the question at issue is the right of one or other of two parties to receive any portion of such grant.

APPENDIX C.

(See Section V, Rule 3.)

Memorandum by Mr. F. Millett on Pensions and Charitable or other allowances, dated 12th May 1845.

The Government never undertook absolutely to pay the pensions included in the Permanent Settlement.

Section 74, Regulation VIII, 1793, provided "with respect to any of the existing established zamindari charges, such as pensions, charitable or other allowances, which it may be thought proper to continue, they shall be paid by the Collectors, &c."

Regulation XXIV, 1793, prescribed the rules for determining their continuance or discontinuance, the fundamental principle being that all such pensions and allowances were gratuitous.

The following are the principal provisions of that Regulation:—

"Pensions received by virtue of sanads granted before the Dewanny, or since granted with the sanction of Government, and pensions received from before 1179 (country era), to be continued to the grantees or original holders. But if the grantees or original holders be dead, the pensions not to be continued to their heirs or descendants without the sanction of Government; and—

"No pension after the death of the person then entitled to it to be continued to his descendants without the like sanction, whether the grant was, in either case, according to the terms of it, hereditary or otherwise.

"Whenever Government orders the continuance of a pension, whether to the original holder or his heir, the Collector to give him a certificate, stating the title of the party thereto during his or her life.

"The Collector to keep a register of these certificates, noting therein such personal identifications of the parties as might detect any attempt to transfer the certificates to others.

"The pensions and allowances being gratuitous, the determining upon the continuance or discontinuance of them under the rules prescribed is reserved to Government."

It appears to me plain that according to this Regulation every pension confirmed was to be confirmed as a life-pension only, and that on the death of any pensioner the case of any new claimant was to be submitted to Government for its determination.

Section 6 of Regulation XXIV, 1803 (Ceded Provinces), provided that pensions granted to fakeers and other religious persons, for the purpose of lighting mausoleums or mosques, or for that of repairing them, as also to enable them to perform their religious ceremonies, usual in the muharram, were to be continued; but that pensions of this description were not to be considered as of a personal nature, and that the Collector was to be responsible for their being applied to the purpose for which they were bestowed.

Certificates were, under this Regulation, to be granted for pensions renewed on the death of pensioners, and registers of certificates to be kept as under Regulation XXIV, 1793; and section 16 declared that the continuance or discontinuance of pensions was, after the death of the persons then receiving them, to depend solely on the pleasure of Government.

I reconcile sections 6 and 16 in this way. Pensions received by fakeers at the date of the Regulation for certain purposes were to be continued to them; but if they applied them to other purposes, they would be resumed. On the death of the then holders, the pensions were to be continued to their successors or [illegible] not as Government might determine, each renewal requiring a specific order.

By section 30, Regulation XII, 1805, the provisions of Regulation XXIV, 1793, were made applicable to pensions and allowances granted for religious purposes in Cuttack, [illegible] with these provisos:—

I—That pensions obtained from the Government of Berar under grants prior to October 1803 should be continued to the then incumbents, and on their death should descend to their heirs and successors or revert to Government, as should appear to the Governor-General in Council, on a consideration of the tenor of the grant and all the circumstances of the case, to be proper, under section 4 of the said Regulation.

II—Pensions received, under whatever authority, for three or more years before October 1803 to be continued to the then incumbents for life; but on their death to revert to Government, unless any particular reasons should appear to Government to exist for continuing them to their heirs and successors.

In the terms "on a consideration of the tenor of the grant" contained in the proviso I, we find the first indication of Government prescribing a rule to itself respecting the continuance of a pension to heirs and successors of incumbents. Section 4, Regulation XXIV, 1793, to which reference is made, contains no such rule.

By section 7, Regulation XXII, 1806, the Board were instructed, in determining whether, on the death of a pensioner, the pension, or any part of it, should be continued to heirs or successors, "to ascertain particularly the situation and circumstances of the person claiming the continuance of the pension, and not to comply with any applications of that nature unless, on the ground of poverty or other substantial reason, the party claiming it shall have a strong claim on the indulgence of Government."

This relates to pensions to a certain amount (fifty rupees) left to the Board's decision; but I presume the principle was applicable to all.

Section 8 enjoined Collectors to discontinue the payment of all pensions where the persons to whom they had been adjudged had died, until it could be determined whether they were to be continued to heirs.

Section 9 had in view the commutation of money-pensions for grants of waste land or property.

It begins by repeating the declaration that pensions are gratuitous, and that the continuance or discontinuance of them is to depend on the pleasure of Government.

It then enacts that adjudged pensions are not to be commuted for grants of land except with the consent of the pensioner, and adds these further provisos:—

That pensions granted for, and bonâ fide appropriated to, the support of institutions, either of the Hindu or Muhammadan religion, shall be continued for the support of such institutions, unless the present incumbents or their successors shall, of their own free will and accord, agree to accept waste lands in lieu of the said pensions; and that no pensions which are declared to be hereditary, either by the terms of the grant or by any existing Regulations, shall be commuted without the consent of the present pensioners or their successors.

The first proviso has been quoted as containing an abstract rule that pensions for the support of the institutions therein described shall be continued in perpetuity; but considering the whole scope of the section, it seems to me rather to mean that so long as the allowances are continued by the pleasure of Government, they shall be continued in the shape of money payments, unless the incumbent for the time being consents to a commutation for land.

So also in respect of pensions which, in consideration of the terms of the grant, the Government may hereafter continue to the heirs of present incumbents. These shall likewise be continued in the shape of money payments, unless, with the consent of the heir to whom it is continued, it shall be commuted for land.

The same rule to apply to pensions declared hereditary by the Regulations, i.e., those described in section 2, Regulation XXXIV, 1795, and section 2, Regulation XXIV, 1803, which are declared to be property, and liable to be sued for and inherited as such, and are distinct from the gratuitous pensions.

Suppose, then, a case in which the grant was not hereditary by the terms of it, but which the Government thought it right to continue to the heir of a deceased incumbent, they might insist on his taking land in lieu of it or renouncing all claim to the allowance.

Sections 2 and 3, Regulation XI, 1813, enact that all pensions shall be stopped until those receiving them prove that they are either the original grantees, or that they have been regularly declared entitled to succeed to the enjoyment of the pensions, and that new registers shall be made and corrected as often as any pensions revert wholly or in part to Government, or whenever other individuals than those by whom the pensions are at present received, shall be adjudged entitled to the reversion of them.

So far, then, as the law is concerned, it appears to me that the continuance or discontinuance of any pension or allowance on the death of an incumbent rests entirely in the discretion of Government; that when continued it should be for the life of the applicant only.

In practice, I believe the Government has very much fettered itself in the exercise of this discretion.

CHAPTER IX.

Security Bonds and Securities.

Rules for taking security from Ministerial and non-Gazetted Officers.

All payments to be made direct into treasury, with certain exceptions.

1. As a general rule, all payments should be made direct to the treasury by the person from whom they are due, and should not pass through the hands of any Government official.

No exception to this rule should be allowed without the special sanction of the Board.

An exception has been sanctioned in the case of collections of all kinds made by Government officers in the mufassal and brought to head-quarters.

When money cannot be paid in on the day when it is brought, owing to the treasury being closed, or to other sufficient cause, it should be deposited with the nazir, who should give a receipt for it. On the next open day the nazir should pay in the money, and should attach a copy of the receipt to the chalan.

All officers handling public money to give security.

2. Every officer through whose hands public money passes is to furnish security, which should, as a rule, be 10 per cent. in excess of the maximum amount likely to be in his custody at one time.

In special cases in which the application of this rule would cause hardship, and where the amount of money under the officer's control cannot be diminished by administrative arrangements, the Board are authorised, for reasons to be recorded in each case, to reduce the amount of security as far as they think necessary.

Security bonds of peons.

3. The general rule that every official who handles public money should give security is not to be enforced in case of peons. But in future no peon should be appointed who cannot give a security bond (executed by some person of known respectability and solvency) for his good and honest conduct, in the following form :—

"I know A.B. to be an honest man, and I agree to forfeit Rs. 50, if called upon to do so, should he be proved to have embezzled Government money up to or beyond that amount."

Exceptions.

Native military pensioners employed in civil capacities as peons, messengers, &c., are exempted from the operation of this rule, provided that such pensioners do not come under the provisions of Act XII of 1850 (Public Accountants' Default Act).

CHAPTER X.

Fines, Suspension and Miscellaneous.

Section I.—Fines.

Can only be imposed according to law.

1. Fines can only be imposed by revenue officers, under Act XX of 1848, in case in which they are authorised by law to summon landholders or call for papers. The procedure prescribed by law must in each case be carefully followed. The report to the Commissioner prescribed by section 2 should be made if possible on the day on which the fine is imposed.

Return to Commissioner.

2. The report should be in the accompanying form, and should specify distinctly the nature and object of the call, and the law under which it was made:—

Statement of fines imposed by the Collector or Superintendent of Survey of under section 1, Act XX of 1848.

District.	Name of estate and pargana.	Names of zamindars.	Object of call.	Regulation under which call was made.	Amount of daily fine.	Date of orders imposing the fine.	Date from which the fine is payable.	Remarks.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Realisation.

3. Immediate measures should be adopted for realising the fine, which is payable daily, and must not be allowed to accumulate. The fine is to be realised by sale of the estates of the zamindar as for arrears of revenue, and, if the amount be not so realised, by sale of any other property belonging to him, and by the arrest of his person.

Powers of a Deputy Collector.

4. An uncovenanted Deputy Collector may levy fines under Act XX of 1848.

5. As soon as an order to impose a fine is passed by any competent revenue authority, the necessary entries in the appropriate case Register should at once be made, and a certificate that the entries have been made should be given by the muharrir in charge of the register, and filed with the record of the case. The Record-keeper should never receive into his department any record in which a fine has been imposed, unless the papers contain this certificate.

Entry in case register.

Section II.—Suspension and Imprisonment.

1. Saving as provided in rule 3 (a), the salary of an officer who is dismissed ceases absolutely from the date of his dismissal; no allowances may be granted to him for any period occupied in his prosecution of appeals against the order dismissing him.

Dismissal.

2. Saving as provided in rule 3 (b), an officer suspended from office as a penalty for misconduct is entitled to no salary while he is absent from duty.

Suspension.

3. Subject to the proviso that, without the permission of the local Government, no expenditure in excess of what would have taken place if the officer had remained on duty may be incurred—

Additional expenditure.

(a) Subsistence allowance, at a rate not exceeding one quarter of his salary, may be granted by the authority suspending him to an officer removed from office pending enquiry into his alleged misconduct, provided that, if the officer is a European, his subsistence allowance should not commonly be less than Rs. 25 a month, if his salary be less than Rs. 100 a month, the rate may be increased accordingly.

Note.—The subsistence allowance is authorised as a matter of grace only, and cannot be claimed as of right.

(b) If the suspension of an officer as a penalty for misconduct is, upon reconsideration or appeal, held to have been unjustifiable or not wholly justifiable, or if an officer dismissed from office or suspended pending enquiry into his alleged misconduct is, after enquiry, or upon reconsideration or appeal, reinstated, then the revising or appellate authority may grant to the officer, for the period of his absence from duty—

(1) If the officer is honourably acquitted, full salary;

(2) Otherwise, such portion of his salary as to the revising or appellate authority may seem expedient.

SLIP No. 185.

THE following should be inserted as rule 2A in Section III, Chapter X, page 223 ;—

"2A. Every endeavour should be made to have all the forms and stationery needed by the various Departments under the Collector kept in one stock. 21-2-1908.

4. When any servant of Government is committed to prison, either for debt or on a criminal charge, he is to be considered as under suspension from the date of his arrest, and not allowed to draw any pay until the termination of the proceedings against him, when an adjustment of his allowances will be made, according to the circumstances of the case—the full amount being given only in the event of the officer being acquitted of blame, or (if the imprisonment was for debt) of its being proved that the officer's liability arose from circumstances beyond his control.

Effect of imprisonment.

Section III.—Miscellaneous.

1. Instructions for the guidance of Executive Officers as regards their manner towards, and intercourse with, the Natives, will be found in Appendix A.

Manner towards, and intercourse with, Natives.

2. All printing on account of any Government office is to be executed at the Alipore Jail Press, unless that press is unable to undertake it.

Printing.

3. All public notifications of general importance to the Native community should be sent for publication in the Bengali Gazette.

Bengali Gazette.

4. All general powers-of-attorney authorising agents to act in any revenue office, and on behalf of any one, are to be produced in original if required. A copy of each general power is to be filed in the Collectorate. A file of the copies is to be maintained, with an index cover showing (a) the serial number, (b) the names of the parties (the principal and the attorney), and (c) the date of execution.

Powers-of attorney.

5(a) If the original power is registered, or authenticated by a Registration officer, and the copy is certified by a Registration officer, no further verification is necessary. Such copies will be made and granted under the rules of the Registration Department for the grant of copies.

(b) If the original is registered or authenticated as above, but the copy is not certified by an officer of the Registration Department, the copy must be compared and certified by the sarishtadar. Such copies are to be made by the parties themselves on the cartridge paper sold at the Collector's office for petitions.

(c) If the original is not registered or authenticated as above, the copy must have the attestation of the sarishtadar, the attorney himself, two witnesses, and the District or Subdivisional Officer. These copies are to be made as in the case last mentioned.

Not to be attested.

6. The law does not require any Court, Judge, or Magistrate, to attest powers-of-attorney, and such like documents; nor does it, except in the case mentioned in section 85, Act I of 1872, attach any peculiar efficacy to such attestations, as compared with attestations by private witnesses. If, however, the attestation of any Court, Judge, or Magistrate is desired in any case, the application should be complied with on payment of the fee of Re. 1, which should be levied by affixing an adhesive court-fee stamp of that value.

Registration of powers.

7. When an agent acting under a general power-of-attorney institutes a suit on behalf of his principal, such general power-of-attorney must be registered in the Court, or a copy thereof must be filed with the record. A general power-of-attorney held by a vakil does not exempt him from the obligation of filing a vakalutnama bearing the usual court-fee, when he conducts a suit on behalf of his principal professionally and not merely as an agent.

Contracts to which Government is a party.

8. Contracts in the mufassal to which Government is a party are to be executed, according to established custom, in the name of Government. The Act of Parliament which regulates the making of contracts by the Government, to which English law is applicable, is appended to Circular order No. 21 of 1860 (vide also Circular order No. 5 of November 1876 and No. 2. of June 1880).

Contracts and agreements involving liabilities on the part of the State.

9. Rules prescribed by the Secretary of State for India to regulate the power of the Government of India and of Local Governments and Administrations to enter into or sanction contracts and agreements involving liabilities on the part of the State will be found in Appendix B.

Form of agreement for farmers of toll-gates.

10. A form of agreement to be used between Government and the farmers of toll-gates established under the provisions of Act VIII of 1851 has been approved by Government for adoption generally in the districts of the Lower Provinces.

Fees for mural tablets.

11. Of the fee (Rs. 50) for the erection of mural tablets in Government churches, the chaplain is to pay three-fourths immediately to the Collector, to be credited to Government, to meet the cost of repairs and church establishment. The remainder is at the disposal of the chaplain for charitable purposes.

Government officers to pay tolls.

12. All officers of Government, when proceeding on the public service, should, under all circumstances, pay, on demand, the amount of all tolls (whether road or ferry) other than canal tolls, for which the next succeeding rule provides, which may be demanded of them

BOARD'S RULES, 1902.

SLIP No. 122.

Page 225.—The following is to be substituted for rule 13, section III, chapter X:—

13. All vessels, whether owned by Government or otherwise, which are being used exclusively by Government officers or subordinates, whether Civil or Military, travelling on duty or are being used exclusively for Government work are exempted from the payment of toll or demurrage on canals or canalized rivers. Vessels owned by Port Commissioners which may enter the Calcutta Canals or Tolly's Nala either from stress of weather or on business connected with the port, and which do not ply for hire with passengers, materials or goods, are also exempted from canal dues.

Vessels exempted from payment of toll or demurrage on canals or canalized rivers.

Circular No. 11 of Government of Bengal in the Public Works Department, dated the 11th July 1906.

In order to maintain accurate statistics of traffic, passes must in all cases be given which in the case of vessels used by officers must specify the nature of the vessel and the names of occupants, and, in the case of vessels used for Government work, must specify the name of the work for which used and the nature and approximate quantity of cargo.

Passes to issue in all cases to maintain accurate statistics of traffic.

6-8-1906.

the sums thus paid being subsequently recovered by being charged in their contingent bills. Only police officers proceeding on duty, who might be detained inconveniently by not having money with them, should be permitted to pass without paying at all.

Officers and vessels exempted from payment of canal dues.

13. Only the officers and vessels enumerated below are to be exempted in future from the payment of canal dues:—

Officers exempted.

(a) Canal Officers of the Public Works Department travelling on duty within their circles or divisions.

(b) Deputy Revenue Superintendents of Irrigation travelling on duty within their circles or divisions.

(c) Officers of the Police Department and subordinates down to the rank of head-constables when on duty within their respective charges

(d) Officers of the Forest Department when passing through the Calcutta Canals or Tolly's Nala in vessels belonging to the Forest Department.

(e) Port Officers in discharge of duties connected with their respective ports.

(f) The Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta when on duty connected with the port.

Vessels exempted.

(a) Vessels on the Yacht establishment of the Viceroy, or Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

(b) Vessels conveying troops.

(c) Vessels or boats, the property of any department of Government and on Government service, provided that they are not merely being used as passenger boats by officers other than those named in Part I of this schedule.

(d) Boats engaged by the Police Department solely for police purposes.

(e) Boats engaged by the Postal Department solely for the conveyance of mails or postal servants when plying on the Nadia rivers.

(f) Vessels owned by the Port Commissioners which may enter the Calcutta Canals or Tolly's Nala either from stress of weather or on business connected with the port, and which do not ply for hire with passengers, materials, or goods.

(g) Boats under the charge of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta when used in Calcutta Canals or Tolly's Nala for purposes of sanitary inspection in connection with the port.

Right of fishery.

14. Government has the right of fishery in all navigable rivers which are public property, unless the right has been granted or leased to some individual. But in regard to tidal rivers, it may sometimes be expedient that the exclusive right of fishery should not be granted to private individuals, or to certain classes of individuals, to the exclusion of the general public. A Collector should not grant a lease of such a fishery without the previous sanction of the Board.

15. The question has arisen on several occasions as to the fishery right in pools which originally formed part of a river. The Legal Remembrancer has been consulted, and the Board now state in accordance with his opinion, the principles applicable—

I. When the pool lies in the old bed of the river, and in consequence formed no part of an estate, the fishery right of the holder of the river jalkar subsists in it, whether it is connected throughout the year with the flowing stream or not.

II. When the pool lies within the area of an estate—

(a) the fishery right of the holder of the river jalkar subsists if the pool is connected with the river throughout the year;

(b) otherwise, the fishery right in the pool passes to the zamindar of the estate.

Compensation.

16. Bills for compensation paid to proprietors for rent of lands appropriated for military cantonments must be submitted for adjustment within three months from the date of the final sanction to the compensation by the competent authority.

Resumption.

17. Whenever lands are granted, either wholly or in part, revenue-free, a condition of resumption in case of misconduct is to be inserted in the title-deed.

Revenue-free lands.

18. All lands declared to be revenue-free should be immediately entered in General Register B, part I.

Fractions of an anna to be avoided.

19. In all settlements, revisions of settlements, grants of compensation, takavi advances, balances of all kinds, and in every species of accounts, charge, or receipt, the use of pies, the fractional parts of an anna, should be avoided. If the fraction is below six pies, it should be omitted altogether; if above six pies, one anna should be entered.

Use of annas to be dispensed with where possible.

20. Further, in all settlements, revisions of settlements, grants of compensation, takavi advances, and other revenue transactions, as distinguished from those of account, the use of annas should be dispensed with as far as possible. In assessments they should never be used; and in the distribution of assessment, either into instalments or shares, their use should be avoided where possible.

NOTE.—The word "assessment" in the rule cited above, should be understood to mean "assessments of land revenue payable by proprietors," and not "rents paid by raiyats in a Government estate," though both are defined as "land revenue" by section 2, Act II (B.C.) of 1894.

Slip No. 151.

Insert the following as a note under Rule 15, Section III, Chapter X, on page 226 of the Board's Rules, 1902 :—

Note.—In a case where charges for the maintenance of certain drainage canals were adjusted in the books of the Public Works Department while the rents derived from fisheries in these canals were credited under "XXX—Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of Civil Officers" Government ordered that these fishery rents should be credited to the same head as that to which the expenditure is charged. In accordance with these orders, the fishery rents which were formerly collected in the Civil Department are now to be credited under "XXX—Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of Civil Officers" and then passed on to the Public Works Department, through the Exchange Accounts and finally adjusted in the books of that Department.

"27 (a). Every fifth year 1906, 1911, etc.) a complete return is to be submitted, compiled from the stock-book (see rule 6, Section VI, Chapter IV, page 100), showing the stores in hand on the 31st March by the officers concerned in the Departments below:—

(a) Excise Department.—By Collectors, to the Commissioner of Excise, Bengal.

(b) Stamp Department.—By the Superintendent of Stamps, Calcutta, to the Board.

(c) Salt Department.—By Collectors and by the Assistant Commissioner, to the Commissioner of Salt, Bengal.

(d) Stationery Department.—By the Superintendent of Stationery, Calcutta, to the Board.

No report or return showing increase and decrease is required for every intermediate year." 1-8-1903.

21. The only exceptions which can be allowed to the above rules are in (1) fines and forfeitures, (2) savings of establishments, (3) deposits, (4) interest, (5) deductions for the funds, and (6) pensions.

Exceptions.

22. One punkha-puller may be allowed for the Collector and for each Assistant Collector, and one in the English and one in the Native office.

Punkha-pullers.

23. Two punkha-pullers are allowed at a subdivision, one for the officer in charge and one for his office establishment.

Punkha-pullers at subdivisions.

24. As a general rule charges for the wages of punkha-pullers will be admitted in the contingent bills of all officers under the Bengal Government only from the 15th March to the 15th October of each year; but in cases of exceptional necessity, European officers will be allowed punkha-pullers to the 1st November.

Duration of employment of punkha-pullers.

25. Members of the Board and their Secretaries, Commissioners and Judges, can however entertain punkha-pullers, if required, from the 1st March to the 15th November.

26. Khas khas tatties may be sanctioned by the Commissioner in the districts of the Bihar and Chota Nagpur Divisions only. Their cost should be included in the office contingent bill.

Khas khas tatties.

27. The registers of valuable ordnance and other stores in the custody of the officers named below are to be kept in Form C prescribed in rule 6, Section VI, Chapter IV.

Stock-book.

Commissioners.	Superintendent of Salt Golas.
Collectors and Magistrates.	Opium Agents.
Deputy Commissioners.	Sub-Deputy Opium Agents.
Commissioner in the Sundarbans.	Shipping Master, Calcutta.
Collectors of Customs.	Superintendent of Stamps and Stationery.

28. The instructions contained in rule 6, Section VI, Chapter IV, in respect of the several kinds of articles to be brought on the stock-book, are to be strictly followed.

Instructions for keeping up the stock-book.

29. Inspecting officers, such as Commissioners and District Officers, should see at the time of inspection that the stock-books are properly kept up in accordance with the rules.

Inspection of stock-book.

Government, and (3) cost of monthly keep, including servants and food:—

Head 1.—Elephants in the possession of the reporting officer throughout the year.

„ 2.—Elephants received during the year.

„ 3.—Elephants removed from the list during the year (showing what has become of them).

Where title-deeds to be deposited.

31. Title-deeds, conveyances, and other similar legal documents belonging to the Bengal Government, connected with property in Calcutta and the suburbs, should be deposited with the Government Solicitor, and those relating to property in the mufassal with the Inspector-General of Registration, Lower Provinces.

Petitions to India Government.

32. The rules for the submission of petitions to the Government of India will be found in Appendix C.

Deduction from salaries of sums paid to Government officers who appear as witnesses in Civil Courts.

33. The High Court's General letter No. 23, dated the 3rd of December 1891, lays down that when Government officers are summoned to appear as witnesses in Civil Courts, all sums on account of their salaries, &c., should be paid to them in full, a certificate of the payment being at the same time granted. Under clause 4 of standing order No. 17 of the Accountant-General's standing orders, it is the duty of the head of the office to see that payments made by the Courts are deducted from the amounts payable under the ordinary salary and travelling allowance rules. The summons, which is sent to the head of the office, should be filed in the same way as other official letters. The head of the office should be required to compare the file of summonses with the certificates received by the witnesses from the Civil Courts at the time of signing the pay-bills. A certificate should be given on the pay-bill that this has been done. The head of the office may make some subordinate (e.g., the record-keeper from whose department most of the witnesses are summoned) responsible for this certificate.

Custody of service-books.

34. Article 67 of the Civil Account Code, Volume I, 6th edition, and Article 881 of the Civil Service Regulations, prescribe that the service-books should be kept in the custody of the head of the office. The words 'Head of the office' in the rules quoted above shall be taken to mean 'the Treasury Officer, as the agent of the District Officer.' Whenever it is necessary to make any entry in any service-book, a slip should be sent to the Treasury Officer, when he is doing treasury work, requesting him to give it out. He should retain the slip as a receipt, and return it when the service-book is returned to his custody. All entries in service-books

It will furnish the District Officer with data for estimating the worth of those clerks who do not personally come before him, it will check favouritism, and do away with the need of relying entirely as to the merits of clerks, on the opinions of others—opinions which are often not supported by facts. A page in the book is to be assigned to each clerk; any error, act or omission of a clerk not serious enough to be entered in the service-book, but which cannot be entirely overlooked, should be entered on that page under the orders of the District Officer or gazetted head of the department concerned. The entry, as soon as possible after being made, should be initialled by the officer who ordered it to be made and by the clerk concerned, who would thus have an opportunity of knowing what is entered against him. On a question of the clerk's leave or promotion coming up, the entries in this Black Book against his name should be examined, and if not thought sufficient to stop his leave or promotion, they should be struck out, so that the clerk may start again with a clean sheet.

32(B). The ministerial head of each department should keep a note-book, alphabetically arranged, in which should be entered references—as for instance, the number and year of the collection and file—to important orders and precedents relating to his department. This note-book should be handed on by the head of the department to his successor. The Deputy Collector in charge and the Collector should occasionally examine the book in order to test the nature of the entries and in order also to obtain some fair idea of the officer's business capabilities. Such a book properly maintained and referenced would diminish considerably the labours of the record-keeper who is at present often called upon to search blindly for correspondence and precedents.

Insert the following as rule 32(C), Section III, Chapter X, page 229 of the Board's Rules, 1902:—

32(C). The Personal Assistants to Commissioners of Divisions should each have a lettered Note book, chronologically arranged, in which note should be made (with suitable cross references and with reference to the appropriate collections and files) of important rulings and precedents, not to be found in the Board's Manuals or Handy-book of Reference, and of orders of Government, the Board and the Commissioner in important matters affecting the Division. This note-book should be handed on by each Personal Assistant to his successor and the fact recorded in the report of making over charge. This rule applies to Personal Assistants to the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, Director of Land Records and the Director of the Agricultural Department.

should be attested by the District Officer himself, who is the head of the office, in accordance with Article 67 of the Civil Account Code. In subdivisions the Subdivisional Officer is the 'Head of the office,' and the service-books should be filed in the Sub-Treasury.

Supply of maps.

35. The Map Record and Issue Office, Calcutta, supplies printed maps on the public service, on book-debit, when the value exceeds Rs. 50, and on cash payment when up to that value. It also arranges for the colouring and mounting of maps when required. All charges for freight and postage of parcels must be borne by applicants themselves. Incidental charges for colouring, mounting and binding maps, and for packing cases, are included in the bills submitted by this office. When accounts are settled by book-debit, the rules as to the disposal of the duplicate and triplicate copies of the invoice, printed thereon, must be strictly adhered to. Cash payments include payments by money-order, remittance transfer receipts, and cheques (not crossed) on European banks in Calcutta. Hundis and receipts for payment into treasuries are not accepted, but postage labels of the value of half or one anna are accepted for bills not exceeding one rupee in amount.

All applications for printed maps on the public service should be made to the Officer in charge of the Map Record and Issue Office, 13, Wood Street, Calcutta, and should give full and clear particulars as to the kind of map required and its scale, and any other information that will guide that office in knowing exactly what is required.

The mode of transit and address or station to which the maps are to be sent should invariably be specified. All addresses should be clearly written.

Indent forms for maps on the public service can be obtained from the Officer in charge of the Map Record and Issue Office.

Lists of all newly-published maps are periodically notified in the Gazettes of India and Local Governments.

Indents for maps.

36. Indents for maps must be duly approved and countersigned by the authorised officers. The following officers are authorised to countersign indents, so far as the Revenue Department is concerned:—

Opium Department	... by Opium Agents.
Revenue Department	by Commissioners of Divisions. by Commissioner of Excise, Bengal. by Director of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.
Agricultural Department.	by Agricultural Chemist to the Government of India.

Where reserve to be kept.

5. All tents required for official use are to be purchased from the Buxar Jail. Without the special sanction of Government, no tent required for official use is to be purchased elsewhere.

To be purchased from Buxar Jail.

6. Commissioners of Divisions are authorised to sanction the purchase of larger or smaller tents than those given in Rule 1, provided that the total allotment placed at their disposal for the purchase of tents is not exceeded.

Powers of Commissioners.

7. The allotment made by Government for the purchase of tents is to be treated separately from the rest of the grants for contract contingencies, savings being carried forward from year to year during the contract period and made available for expenditure on that account only. Savings under other heads of contract contingencies may be appropriated to the purchase of additional tents, or tents of larger size than is allowable according to the scale, or even for darbar tents when required.

Allotments to be treated separately.

8. A tent is expected with repairs to last in efficient condition for eight years.

To last eight years.

9. A correct record should be kept of the date when each tent that has been, or is hereafter, purchased and an annual report of such charges is to be submitted to Government and to the Accountant-General within three months after the close of the year in which they are incurred.

Record to be kept.
Report to be submitted to Government and to Accountant-General.

10. The sale-proceeds of old tents are to be credited to Government.

Sale-proceeds to be credited to Government.

11. All tents are to be carefully preserved and frequently examined and aired when not in use.

Care to be taken.

12. An officer in camp is entitled to charge to Government the cost of carrying one office tent for himself, one tent for his native establishment while engaged in official work, one tent for chaprasis, and one for his police guard, in cases where he is entitled to a guard. When Government tents are used only for office purposes by an officer on tour, they are carried at Government expense. When Government tents are used partly for office and partly for private purposes, the officer so using them must pay half the cost of carriage. When Government tents are used wholly for private purposes, the officer so using them must pay the whole cost of their carriage. The travelling allowance paid by Government to civil officers is intended to cover expenses of this character.

Cost of carriage.

APPENDIX A.

[See Section III, Rule 1.]

Instructions for the guidance of Executive Officers as regards their manner towards, and intercourse with, the Natives.

Manner towards the Natives.

The first and one of the most important points is the manner of European superiors towards the Natives. It would be quite out of place, to speak of the necessity of kindness, and of an absence of all violence; this must be a matter of course: there is much more required than that conciliation which is a duty, but which, when it appears as such, loses half its effect. It must, to make an impression, be a habit of the mind grounded on a favourable consideration of the qualities and merits of those to whom it extends; and this impression, I am satisfied, every person will have, who, after obtaining a thorough knowledge of the real character of those with whom he has intercourse, shall judge them, without prejudice or self-conceit, by a standard which is suited to their belief, their usages, their habits, their occupations, their rank in life, the ideas they have imbibed from infancy, and the stage of civilization to which the community, as a whole, are advanced. If he does so, with that knowledge and that temper of mind which are essential to render him competent to form an opinion, he will find enough of virtue, enough of docility, and disposition to improvement, enough of regard and observance of all the best and most sacred ties of society, to create an esteem for individuals and an interest in the community, which, when grounded on a sincere conviction of its being deserved, will render his kindness natural. All human beings, down to the lowest links of the chain, inclusive of children, are quick in tracing the source of the manners of others, and, above all, of their superiors—when that is regulated by the head, not the heart; when it proceeds from reason, not from feeling, it cannot please; for it has in it, if at all artificial, a show of design which repels, as it generates suspicion. When this manner takes another shape, when kindness and consideration appear as acts of condescension, it must be felt as offensive. Men may dread, but can never love or regard, those who are continually humiliating them by the parade of superiority.

2. A friendly and conciliatory demeanour towards the people should particularly be studied. The public officer, who comes amongst them not only as possessed of higher moral principle and of superior education and intelligence, but also as their friend, sympathizing with them in their misfortunes and studious of their best interest, will always find them meet him with gratitude and ready obedience.

3. Frequent and unreserved intercourse with all classes of the community is most necessary for the efficient performance of a Collector's duties.

Intercourse.

4. The intercourse to be maintained with the Natives is of two kinds—private and official.

Private intercourse.

5. The first should extend as much as possible to all ranks and classes and be as familiar, as kind, and as frequent, as the difference of habits and pursuits will admit.

6. There is a veil between the Natives of India and their European superiors, which leaves the latter ignorant, in an extraordinary degree, of the real character of the former. He can only judge his own domestics by what he sees of their conduct in his presence; of the manner in which they perform their other duties in life, he is, if not ignorant, but imperfectly informed: so many minute obstacles, grounded upon caste, usages, and religion, oppose an approach to closer acquaintance that it can never be generally attained; but in private intercourse much may be learnt that will facilitate the performance of public duty, and give that knowledge of the usages and feelings of the various classes of the Native which will enable its possessors to touch every chord with effect. In an unceremonious interchange of visits with the most respectable, and in seeking the society of the most learned, the European public officer will not only gain much information, but impart complete confidence, and lay the grounds of that personal attachment which will ever be found of the greatest aid to his public labours. He will also obtain, by such habits of private intercourse, the means of elevating those he esteems by marks of notice and regard; but in pursuing this course he must beware, lest he lose his object by falling into the weaknesses or indulgences of the persons with whom he thus associates. It is in the performance of this part of his duty, when all the pride of station is laid aside, that he must most carefully guard that real superiority which he derives from better knowledge and truer principles of morality and religion; for it is from the impression made by the possession, without the ostentation, of those higher qualities that he must expect the benefit above described as likely to result from a familiar and private intercourse with the Natives under his direction and control.

Official intercourse.

7. In all official intercourse with the Natives, one of the first points of importance is, that these, whatever be their rank, class, or business, should have complete and easy access to personal communication with their European superior. Though Native servants must be employed and trusted, and though it is quite essential to behave to all with kindness, and to raise the higher classes of them by a treatment which combines consideration and respect, yet they can never without hazard be used as exclusive mediums of communication: their real or supposed influence will, under whatever circumstances they are allowed frequent approach to an European officer in the exercise of authority, give them opportunities of abusing his confidence if they desire it; and as our servants, who are seldom selected from the higher classes, cannot be supposed to have even the same motives with those of Native rulers for good conduct, much less the same title to regard, men under power will have, in aggravation of the feeling arising out of subjection to foreign rule, that of being to a certain extent at the mercy of persons of their own nation whom they neither trust nor respect. There is no remedy for such an evil except being completely easy of access; but this, however much the superior may desire it, is not to be established without difficulty and perseverance. It affects the interest and consequence of every man in his employ, from the highest to the lowest; but in proportion to their efforts to counteract it, so must his be to carry this important point on which, more than all others, the integrity of his personal administration and the good of the country depend. No Native servant, high or low, must be allowed the privilege of either introducing or stopping an applicant or a complainant; all such must come with confidence to the European superior, or to such assistant as he may specifically direct to receive or hear them. It requires much temper and patience, constant activity, and no slight sacrifice of personal comfort to maintain an intercourse with the Natives upon this footing.

8. A public officer placed in your situation must always be vigilant and watchful; but no part of his duty requires such care and wisdom in its performance. He cannot rest in blind confidence, nor refuse attention to obvious and well-authenticated facts; but he must be slow in giving his ear, or in admitting to private and confidential intercourse secret agents and informers, lest these make an impression (which will be their object) upon his mind; for there is no failing of human nature to which the worst part of the Natives of India have learnt so well to address themselves as any disposition to suspicion in their superiors.

9. The efficiency of a Collector's administration of his duties will greatly depend on the manner in which he conducts himself towards his Native subordinates. Difference of religion and of social system necessarily separates him greatly from them, and prevents his forming that accurate estimate of character which is only to be acquired in the confidence of private intercourse. Conscious of this disadvantage, he should strive to remedy it by giving them the freest access to him in all official matters, and by labouring to inspire them with confidence in the soundness of his judgment and rectitude of his purpose. Excessive suspicion of Native subordinates is as fatal as excessive confidence. They are necessarily the executioners of his orders; they must be in a great measure the exponents of his will, and should be to some degree his confidential advisers in cases of difficulty. A person who is extremely suspicious of advice tendered to him may be as much shackled in his power of independent action as the man who weakly assents to whatever is proposed. The safest plan is to consult those who are best able to give advice, and to weigh their expressed opinions impartially and dispassionately.

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 46 (Public Works), dated the 12th October 1893,

In supersession of the orders contained in the Financial Resolution of the 20th October 1888, and letter of the 21st February 1890, cited in the preamble, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to issue the following rules, prescribed by Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, to regulate the power of the Government of India and of Local Governments and Administrations to enter into or sanction contracts and agreements involving liabilities on the part of the State.

Statutory Rules.

The following provisions and restrictions are prescribed by the Secretary of State in Council, in exercise of the power reserved to him by Statutes 22 and 23 Vict., Chap. 41, section 1, and shall apply to all concessions, grants, leases, and contracts (except such as may be made under any special legislative sanction) made or entered into by the Government of India, or by a Local Government or Administration or other authority in India, to or with any person, firm, company, syndicate, municipality, or other public body who or which has applied for the same for mining, milling, or any other industrial or manufacturing purposes (not being ordinary agricultural or settlement purposes) or for the purpose of any railway, tramway, water-works, or other undertaking of a like nature :—

I.—No concession, grant, or lease of land, of mineral or forest rights, of right to water power, or of right of way or other easement, or of any privilege in respect of land, of mineral or forest rights, of right to water power, or of an easement, and no contract involving the execution or maintenance by Government of works, shall be made or entered into by the Government of India to, with, or in favour of any person, firm, syndicate, company, municipality, or other public body for any of the purposes above mentioned without the express sanction of the Secretary of State in Council,—

if such concession, grant, lease, or contract

(a) is intended to endure for a period exceeding ten years, and is not accompanied by an unconditional power of revocation or cancelment by the Government of India at any time during such period on the expiry of six months' notice to that effect, and imposes on the revenues of India an annual liability in excess of fifty thousand rupees; or

(b) imposes on such revenues a charge or expenditure or liability to damages in excess of twelve lakhs of rupees; or

(c) involves the cession of property or rights of which the estimated value exceeds twelve lakhs of rupees.

II.—No concession, grant, or lease of land, of mineral or forest rights, or right to water power, or of right of way or other easement, or of any privilege in respect of land, or mineral or forest rights, of right to water power, or of an easement, and no contract involving the execution or maintenance by Government of works, shall be made or entered into by any Local Government or Administration or other authority in India to, with, or in favour of any person, firm, company, syndicate, municipality, or other public body for any of the purposes above mentioned without the express sanction of the Government of India and of the Secretary of State in Council,—

if such concession, grant, lease, or contract

(a) is intended to endure for a period exceeding ten years, and is not accompanied by an unconditional power of revocation or cancelment by the Government of India at any time during such period on the expiry of six months' notice to that effect, and imposes on the revenues of India an annual liability in excess of fifty thousand rupees; or

(b) imposes on such revenues a charge or expenditure or liability to damages in excess of twelve lakhs of rupees; or

(c) involves the cession of property or rights of which the estimated value exceeds twelve lakhs of rupees.

III.—No such concession, grant, lease or contract shall be made by any Local Government or Administration or other authority in India to, with, or in favour of any person, firm, company, municipality, or other public body for any of the purposes above mentioned without the express sanction of the Government of India,— if such concession, grant, lease, or contract

(a) is intended to endure for a period exceeding five years, and is not accompanied by an unconditional power of revocation by the Government at any time during such period on the expiry of six months' notice to that effect, and imposes on the revenues of India an annual liability in excess of five thousand rupees; or

(b) imposes on such revenues a charge or expenditure or liability to damages in excess of one lakh of rupees; or

(c) involves the cession of property or rights of which the estimated value exceeds one lakh of rupees.

IV.—No such concession, grant, lease, or contract shall be made by any Local Government or Administration or other authority in India to, with, or in favour of any joint stock company, except with the sanction of the Government of India, and subject to these rules so far as as the same may be applicable.

V.—No transfer of any such concession, grant, lease, or contract, or of any part thereof, or any interest therein, or any underletting, shall be recognized as valid except it be made with the express assent of—

(a) the Secretary of State in Council in cases falling within Rule I or II;
(b) the Government of India in cases falling within Rule III; and
(c) the Local Government or Administration in any other cases; with the proviso that a transfer or underletting to a company will in all cases require the sanction of the Government of India.

And the Secretary of State in Council and the Government of India, as the case may be, may in his or their absolute discretion refuse such assent.

VI.—In every writing intended to express any concession, grant, lease, or contract which falls within these Rules, it shall be expressly declared that such concession, grant, lease, or contract is granted or made subject to them.

VII.—When the assent of the Secretary of State in Council is rendered by these Rules necessary to the validity of any concession, grant, lease, or contract, or to the transfer thereof, it shall be signified under the hand of an Under-Secretary of State; and when the assent of the Government of India is so required, it shall be signified under the hand of a Secretary of that Government.

VIII.—The foregoing Rules, I to VII inclusive, shall not apply to any concession, grant, lease, or contract for any of the purposes mentioned in Rule I if made under any special rules issued or approved by the Secretary of State in Council.

Supplementary Rules.

Rule A.—In cases where it is considered expedient to grant concessions or to make agreements, such as those contemplated in the Statutory Rules, the deed of concession, or the agreement, if the rights under it are transferable, must be so framed that it will be beyond the power of the grantees or contractees to transfer their rights, or any part of them, except with the sanction of the Government of India, or of Local Governments and Administrations in cases coming within their cognizance.

B.—All such concessions and agreements will further be subject to any special provisions made by Government to meet particular cases or particular classes of cases.

C.—Before any concession or agreement of the class referred to is submitted for the approval of the Government of India, its terms should be considered in the Judicial Department of the Local Government, and by the highest legal adviser to that Government.

D.—The foregoing Rules shall not apply to any concession, grant, lease or contract for any of the purposes mentioned in the Statutory Rules, if made under any special rules issued or approved by the Secretary of State in Council.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, together with a copy of the Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 46 (Public Works), dated the 12th October 1893, be forwarded, for information and guidance, to the several Departments of the Government of India, the several Local Governments and Administrations, the Mint Masters, Calcutta and Bombay, the Director-General of the Post Office, and the Commissioner of the Northern India Salt Revenue.

No. 46, (Public Works), dated 12th October 1893.

From—The Secretary of State for India (EARL OF KIMBERLEY),
To—The Government of India.

I have considered in Council your letter, dated 30th May 1893, No. 163F. & C., on the subject of the proposed Rules determining the power of the Government of India and of Local Governments and Administrations to sanction contracts and agreements.

2. By Rule A (Supplementary Rules) no transfer of a concession or contract may be made to other parties "except with the sanction of the Government of India." To these words should apparently be added the following, in accordance with clause (1) at the close of your 5th paragraph "or of Local Governments and Administrations in cases coming within their cognizance." And Rule V (Statutory Rules) will similarly require alteration. But it is not clear from the 5th paragraph of your despatch to what extent you propose to give Local Governments full power to permit transfers, for the words "cases falling under Rule III of the Statutory Rules, and therefore primarily within their cognizance," would include concessions, etc., imposing on the revenues of India an annual liability in excess of Rs 5,000 or a charge in excess of one lakh. I do not gather that this is your intention.

3. You have rightly added Rule D, in order to avoid inconsistency with the ruling under which the Mining Lease Rules are exempt from the operation of the Statutory Rules.

4. Rule A, as it stands in the draft, subjects transfers not only to the sanction of Government, but to its approval of the terms of sale and provisions with respect to capital and otherwise. It appears to me undesirable that Government should, in ordinary cases, become formally a party to the terms upon which a transfer may be negotiated, or should be involved in any responsibility in regard to the amount of capital or to questions of commission, whether the transfer be from the original concessionaires to a company or an individual, or from one company to another. I have therefore struck out the latter part of Rule A from the words "and subject to" to the end. As the Rule thus amended still requires the general sanction of the Government of India or of Local Governments to all transfers (except those occurring under Rule D), power is retained to intervene specially in cases where it may be deemed desirable to do so. But in all future cases of transfer to which only general sanction is accorded, it should be made perfectly clear that Government undertakes no responsibility for the terms negotiated between the parties.

5. In connection with this matter, I may state that several cases have recently arisen in which it has been sought to obtain money in this country for working concessions which had been granted by your Government, and that in some of these cases the amount of capital, and also the commission proposed to be charged to the public, have, in my opinion, been exorbitant. I consider that on all occasions of the grant of concessions steps should be taken to satisfy Government, as far as possible, of the good faith of the applicants and of their ability to carry out their undertaking, and that, if necessary, security should be required for the due performance of their obligations.

6. I forward a reprint of the Rules, with the Supplementary Rules placed last, and with the addition to Rule A referred to above; also with Rule V, revised in accordance with what I conceive to be the intention of Your Excellency; and I request to be informed whether this reprint correctly expresses your views. If it be so, the Rules thus amended may be issued as having received my sanction.

APPENDIX C.

[See Section III, Rule 32.]

Rules for the submission of Petitions to the Government of India.

Note 1.—In these rules the words "Local Government" include a Local Administration, the Commander-in-Chief in India, and a Lieutenant-General Commanding the Forces, and also, except as regards rule 3 (7), Section III, the Head of a Department directly under the Government of India.

Note 2.—These rules do not apply to non-pensionable subordinate, clerical and menial establishments employed in the construction and working of State railways, to whom Circular No. VI Railway, Public Works Department, dated 1st June 1888, applies.

Note 3.—These rules apply, so far as may be, to all memorials, letters and applications, &c., addressed to the Governor-General in Council.

Note 4.—The rules in Sections I and III apply also to petitions by persons no longer in Military employ, who have served in the Army or the Royal Indian Marine, or have been attached to Regiments or Batteries or to the Staff or Departments of the Army in any capacity.

Section I.

Rules regulating the submission of Petitions to the Government of India by private persons or public bodies.

1. Every petition to the Government of India, whether it bears immediately on a matter of Imperial policy, or has reference to the orders or the general policy and action of a Local Government, should be forwarded through the Local Government under which the petitioner is residing or is employed. But there is no objection to the petitioner's forwarding simultaneously a duplicate copy of the petition to the Government of India, if he so desires, provided that he marks it as a "duplicate."

1-A. A petition from a person who has been removed from, or has left, the service of Government, relating to his removal from the service or to claims arising out of his service, should be forwarded through the Local Government under which the petitioner was employed.

2. A petition may be either in manuscript or print, but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the petitioner, or when the petitioners are numerous, by one or more of them; and it must conclude with a specific prayer.

3. Every petition should be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Local Government, requesting its transmission to the Government of India, and, when any order of a Local Government is appealed against, by a copy of such order, as well as of any orders passed in the case by subordinate authorities.

4. Communications on matters connected with any Bills before the Council may be addressed either in the form of a petition to the Governor-General in Council, or in a letter to the Secretary in the Legislative Department, and must in either case be sent to the Secretary in the Legislative Department. Ordinarily such communications will not be answered. Except in the case of the High Court at Fort William, such communications from Courts, officials, or public bodies should be sent through the Local Governments.

Section II.

Special rules regulating the submission of Petitions by officers in Civil employ.

1. Every officer wishing to petition the Government of India should do so separately.

APPENDIX C.

[SEE SECTION III, RULE 30.]

Rules regarding the submission of Petitions to the Government of India.

NOTE 1.—In these rules the words "Local Government" include a Local Administration, the Commander-in-Chief in India, and a Lieutenant-General Commanding the Forces, and also, except as regards rule 11(7), the head of a department directly under the Government of India.

NOTE 2.—These rules do not apply to non-pensionable subordinate, clerical and menial establishments employed in the construction and working of State Railways, to whom Circular No. VI-Railway, Public Works Department, dated 1st June 1888, applies.

NOTE 3.—These rules apply, so far as may be, to all memorials, letters and applications, etc., addressed to the Governor-General in Council.

NOTE 4.—These rules apply also to petitions by persons no longer in military employ who have served in the Army or the Royal Indian Marine, or have been attached to regiments or batteries or the staff or departments of the Army in any capacity.

SECTION 1.

As to the submission of petitions to the Government of India by private persons or public bodies.

1. Every petition to the Government of India should be forwarded through the Local Government having jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the petition. In cases where no Local Government is in a position to deal with the subject-matter of the petition, it should be forwarded through the Local Government within whose jurisdiction the petitioner is or has last been residing or employed.

2. A petition may be either in manuscript or in print; but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the petitioner, or, when the petitioners are numerous, by the signatures of one or more of them, and it must conclude with a specific prayer.

3. Every petition should be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Local Government requesting its transmission to the Government of India, and, when any order of a Local Government its appealed against, by copy of such order, as well as of any orders passed in the case by subordinate authorities.

4. Communications on matters connected with any bills before the Council may be addressed either in the form of a petition to the Governor-General in Council or in a letter to the Secretary in the Legislative Department, and must in either case be sent to the Secretary in the Legislative Department. Ordinarily, such communications will not be answered. Except in the case of the High Court at Fort William; such communications from courts, officials or public bodies should be sent through the Local Government.

Section II.

As to the submission of petitions by officers in civil employ.

5. Every officer wishing to petition the Government of India should do so separately.

6. Every petition should be submitted through the head of the office or department to which the petitioner belongs, and should be forwarded by him through the usual official channel.

7. No officer may submit a petition in respect of any matter connected with his official position, unless he has some personal interest in the matter.

8. No notice will be taken of a petition relating to any matter connected with the official prospects or position of an officer still in the public service, unless it is submitted by the officer himself.

Section III.

As to the transmission or withholding of petitions by Local Governments.

9. Every petition to the Government of India should be forwarded by the Local Government concerned with a concise statement of the material facts and (unless there are special reasons for not doing so) an expression of opinion.

If the petition is an appeal against an order of dismissal from Government service, the papers submitted by the Local Government should show whether the charge against the petitioner was reduced to writing; whether his defence was taken and reduced to writing; and whether his decision was in writing. Where service or character books are maintained, these also should be submitted.

10. When the petition is not in English, the Local Government should transmit a translation with it.

11. Local Governments are vested with discretionary power to withhold petitions addressed to the Government of India in the following cases:—

(1) When a petition is illegible or unintelligible.

(2) When a petition contains language which, in the opinion of the Local Government, is disloyal, disrespectful or improper.

(3) When a previous petition has been disposed of by the Secretary of State for India or the Governor-General in Council, and the petition discloses no new facts or circumstances which afford grounds for a consideration of the case.

(4) When a petition is an application for pecuniary assistance by a person manifestly possessing no claim.

(5) When a petition is an application for employment from a person not in the service of Government; or is a request for exemption from the provisions of any law or rule prescribing the qualifications to be possessed by persons in the service of Government, or by persons engaging in any profession or employment.

(6) When a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision with which the executive has no legal power of interference.

NOTE 1.—In the following cases, namely:—

(a) when a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision in a case which the Government has reserved any discretion of interference, or

(b) when a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision in a suit to which the Government was a party, or

(c) when a petition is practically a prayer for mercy or pardon, or contains such a prayer, the petition must be transmitted to the Government of India unless it falls under clause (13) of this rule.

NOTE 2.—When a petition of the kind referred to in (c) of Note 1 is addressed to the Government of Ind previous petition has been rejected by the Local Government, the petition must be transmitted, unless the case is one of which the Local Government is competent to dispose on its own responsibility under the orders contained in the Resolution of the Government of India in the Home Department, No. $\frac{20}{3-13}$, dated the 14th October 1885.

(7) When a petition is an appeal against an order of the Local Government upholding on appeal the dismissal, removal, reduction or other punishment of a Government servant or an employé of a local authority whose salary was not more than Rs. 100 a month.

(8) When a petition is an appeal against a decision which, by any law or rule having the force of law, is declared to be final.

(9) When a petition is addressed by an officer still in the public service, and has reference to his prospective claim for pension, except as provided in article 915 of the Civil Service Regulations.

(10) When a petition is an appeal against the non-exercise by the Local Government of a discretion vested in it by law or rule.

(11) When a petition is an appeal in a case for which the law provides a different or specific remedy, or in regard to which the time limited by law for appeal has been exceeded.

(12) When a petition is an appeal against an order or decision of the Local Government, and is made more than six months after the communication of such order or decision to the petitioner without satisfactory explanation of the delay.

(13) When a petition relates to a subject on which the Local Government is competent to pass orders and no previous application for redress has been made to the Local Government.

(14) When a petition makes a proposal regarding legislation which the Local Government is not prepared to support.

12. If a petition is withheld, the petitioner should be informed of the fact and the reason for it.

13. A list of petitions withheld under rule 11, with reasons for withholding them, shall be forwarded quarterly t Government of India in the proper department. 3-4-1905.

2. Every petition should be submitted through the Head of the office or department to which the petitioner belongs, and be forwarded by him through the usual official channel. But there is no objection to the petitioner transmitting a duplicate to the Government of India direct, provided that he marks it as a "duplicate."

3. No officer may submit a petition in respect of any matter connected with his official position, unless he has some personal interest in such matter.

4. No notice will be taken of a petition relating to any matter connected with the official prospects or position of an officer still in the public service unless it is submitted by the officer himself.

Section III.

Rules for observance by Local Governments in regard to the transmission or withholding of Petitions.

1. Petitions should be forwarded to the Government of India by the Local Government with a concise statement of material facts and (unless there be special reasons for not doing so) an expression of opinion.

If the petition is an appeal against an order of dismissal from Government service, the papers submitted by the Local Government should show whether the charge against the petitioner was reduced to writing; whether his defence was taken and reduced to writing; and whether the decision was in writing.

2. When the petition is not in English, the Local Government should transmit a translation with it.

3. Local Governments are vested with discretionary power to withhold petitions addressed to the Government of India in the following cases:—

(1) when a petition is illegible or unintelligible;

(2) when a petition contains language which, in the opinion of the Local Government, is disloyal, disrespectful, or improper;

(3) when a previous petition has been disposed of by the Secretary of State or the Governor-General in Council, and the petition discloses no new facts or circumstances which afford grounds for a reconsideration of the case;

(4) when a petition is an application for pecuniary assistance by a person manifestly possessing no claim;

(5) when a petition is an application for employment from a person not in the service of Government;

(6) when a petition is an appeal from a judicial decision, with which the executive has no legal power of interference;

NOTE.—If the Government has reserved any discretion of interference, or is concerned as a party to the suit, or if the appeal is practically an appeal for mercy or pardon, the petition must be transmitted. But in the last-mentioned case the transmission of the petition will not affect the discretion in regard to capital sentences allowed to Local Governments by the Home Department Resolution dated 14th October 1885.

(7) when a petition is an appeal against an order of the Local Government upholding on appeal the dismissal, removal, reduction, or other punishment of a Government servant whose salary was not more than Rs. 100 a month;

(8) when a petition is an appeal against a decision which by any law, or rule having the force of law, is declared to be final;

(10) when a petition is an appeal against an order or decision of the Local Government, and is made more than six months after the communication of such order or decision to the petitioner without satisfactory explanation of the delay;

(11) when a petition is addressed by an officer still in the public service, and has reference to his prospective claim for pension, except as provided in Article 995 of the Civil Service Regulations;

(12) when a petition is an appeal against the non-exercise by the Local Government of a dispensatory discretion vested in it by law or rule;

NOTE.—In connection with a reference received in 1890 from the Government of Madras, the Government of India held that this rule could only be applied to cases in which a discretion was reserved to Government by some law or rule to dispense with some requirement or qualification. It was further explained that, for the rule to apply, there must be a discretion vested in the Local Government by a law or rule to waive or dispense with some qualification or condition, and the Local Government must have declined to waive such qualification or condition. The Governor-General in Council is now pleased to withdraw this limitation of the rule, and directs that the rule should not be interpreted in the restricted sense mentioned above.

(Government of India, Home Department, letter to the Government of Bengal, No. 2586, dated 29th December 1898.)

(13) when a petition relates to a subject on which the Local Government is competent to pass orders, and no previous application for redress has been made to the Local Government.

4. If a petition is withheld, the petitioner should be informed of the fact, and the reason for it.

5. A list of petitions withheld under rule 3, with the reasons for withholding them, shall be forwarded quarterly to the Government of India in the Department concerned.

(Government of India, Home Department, Notifications Nos. 1812 and 65, dated the 11th October 1889, and 21st January 1898, respectively.)

Rule XIII.—The Government of India may withhold the transmission of a memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India unless the memorialist has previously memorialized the Government of India and the Local Government concerned on the same subject; and the Government of Madras or Bombay may withhold the transmission of a memorial which under Rule IV they are authorized to forward direct, unless the memorialist has previously memorialized the Local Government concerned on the same subject: provided that, when the memorial is one for pardon which no authority in India has power to grant, it should be addressed to His Majesty and forwarded to the Secretary of State for India. 7-9-1906.

(10) When a memorial is a mere appeal against the non-exercise by one of the Governments in India of a discretion vested in such Government by law or rules.

(11) When a memorial is an appeal against the action of a private individual, or of a body of private individuals, regarding the private relations of the memorialist and such individual or body.

(12) When a memorial is an appeal against orders refusing the grant of a pension to an inferior servant who is not eligible for such grant under the pension rules.

XIII.—The Government of India may withhold the transmission of a memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India, unless the memorialist has previously memorialized the Government of India and the Local Government concerned on the same subject: provided that, when the memorial is one for pardon, which no authority in India has power to grant, it should be addressed to His Majesty and forwarded to the Secretary of State for India.

XIV.—When a memorial is withheld, the memorialist should be informed of the fact and of the reason for it.

XV.—A list of memorials withheld under the discretionary power conferred by rule XII, with the reasons for withholding them, will be forwarded quarterly to the Government of India in the case of memorials withheld by Local Governments under the same discretionary power, and by the Government of India in the department concerned to the Secretary of State for India.

CHAPTER XI.

Troops.

Section I.—Supply of Carriage.

Supply of carriage by civil authorities.

1. As a rule, the officers of the Commissariat Department are to supply all carriage needed by troops on the march, making their own arrangements if possible, but applying to the civil authorities for such assistance as they need. The following regulations are to be strictly adhered to, whenever it may be necessary to apply to the civil authorities for carriage.

Duties of the Commanding Officer.

2. Commanding Officers are required to comply with any special regulations for the supply and relief of carriage of the several provinces or districts in which the troops are about to move and cause them to be strictly acted up to by all under their authority. The special regulations applicable to Bengal, are contained in the following rules 3 to 6.

Employment of chowdries or brokers.

3 Wherever possible and convenient, the Government desires that chowdries or brokers should be employed to engage carriage, every precaution being taken to guard against oppression on their part. When the services of such men are required continuously, they may be paid a regular salary; otherwise, and ordinarily, they should be paid by a commission, which should be generally at the rate of one anna in the rupee.

Rates of hire of carriage in each district to be fixed by Government.

4. The Government will as far as possible, from time to time, acting upon the advice of the District and Divisional Officers, fix the rates of hire, back hire (which is always allowed at least at half-rates), demurrage, &c., to be allowed in each district for the different kinds of carriage procurable there; and a District Officer, when making over carriage to the Commanding Officer, is to be careful to deliver to him in writing a full statement of the rates of hire, back hire, demurrage and the like, and of the weight to be carried by each cart, boat or beast.

Demurrage.

5. If it is necessary to collect carriage beforehand, demurrage rates must be paid until it is actually employed; but care should be taken, as far as possible, to curtail charges of this kind, and when they are necessary, the indenting officer should be immediately warned to that effect.

CHAPTER XI.

Troops.

Section I.—Supply of Carriage.

Supply of carriage by civil authorities.

1. As a rule, the officers of the Commissariat Department are to supply all carriage needed by troops on the march, making their own arrangements if possible, but applying to the civil authorities for such assistance as they need. The following regulations are to be strictly adhered to, whenever it may be necessary to apply to the civil authorities for carriage.

Duties of the Commanding Officer.

2. Commanding Officers are required to comply with any special regulations for the supply and relief of carriage of the several provinces or districts in which the troops are about to move and cause them to be strictly acted up to by all under their authority. The special regulations applicable to Bengal, are contained in the following rules 3 to 6.

Employment of chowdries or brokers.

3 Wherever possible and convenient, the Government desires that chowdries or brokers should be employed to engage carriage, every precaution being taken to guard against oppression on their part. When the services of such men are required continuously, they may be paid a regular salary; otherwise, and ordinarily, they should be paid by a commission, which should be generally at the rate of one anna in the rupee.

Rates of hire of carriage in each district to be fixed by Government.

4. The Government will as far as possible, from time to time, acting upon the advice of the District and Divisional Officers, fix the rates of hire, back hire (which is always allowed at least at half-rates), demurrage, &c., to be allowed in each district for the different kinds of carriage procurable there; and a District Officer, when making over carriage to the Commanding Officer, is to be careful to deliver to him in writing a full statement of the rates of hire, back hire, demurrage and the like, and of the weight to be carried by each cart, boat or beast.

Demurrage.

5. If it is necessary to collect carriage beforehand, demurrage rates must be paid until it is actually employed; but care should be taken, as far as possible, to curtail charges of this kind, and when they are necessary, the indenting officer should be immediately warned to that effect.

Civil officer not to make any final payment or adjustment, but only advances.

6. It is to be particularly observed that the civil officer is not authorised to make any final payment or adjustment, but only to make advances which he should recover from the military authorities.

All requisitions for carriage to be in writing.

7. All requisitions on the civil authorities for carriage must be forwarded in writing. District Officers are forbidden to supply carriage on verbal orders: in cases of emergency, when the applicant may not have the means at hand for preparing requisitions, they will furnish printed forms and the necessary writing materials.

Notice to be given 15 days' beforehand with copy of route, enumerating halting places, &c.

8. Not less than fifteen days' notice (in districts where carriage is scarce, a much longer notice is necessary) is to be given to the District Officer or Political Agent of the quantity and description of carriage required, and whenever it is known that carts are obtainable with great difficulty or not procurable, the requisitions should show the number of camels that will be required in lieu. When cart carriage can only be procured with difficulty, it will be supplied for that portion of the baggage which the indenting officer certifies as being unsuited for pack transport, the balance being made up by the equivalent in camels, or such other kind of transport as is available. The requisitions should be accompanied by a copy of the route, enumerating the halting places; and an intimation of the precise date on which carriage will be required should also be forwarded with them.

Mode in which requisition should be prepared.

9. The requisition for the carriage required for that portion of the men's baggage for the conveyance of which Government is responsible, must be invariably distinct from the requisition for the carriage required for the rest of the men's baggage and for that of the officers. Each requisition must state distinctly whether the charges for the carriage demanded will be paid by the State or by the troops themselves, so that there may be no question as to the quarter from which payment is to be claimed.

Responsibilities and status of chowdries.

10. The District Officer shall make arrangements for the supply of carriage with chowdries or contractors, who shall be responsible for its proper quality, and for the good conduct of the parties in charge of it. The chowdries should not be allowed to use badges or other signs of office, or to seize carriage; they should be, as much as possible, the representative men of the classes who nominate them, and interference in their nomination or deposition should be avoided as much as possible.

Relief of carriage.

11. The District Officer shall also arrange for the relief of the carriage at the stages ordered in the carriage rules of the province, or at stations determined on at the time of engagement; and he will forward the requisition, or a copy of it to the civil officer of the district at the next station, to enable him to make such timely preparations as will prevent delay or impediment to the public service. He will also inform the officer making the demand that this has been done; but failing the receipt of such intimation, the latter should satisfy himself on the point, by application to the civil officer, previous to marching. Except in cases of emergency, such as the breaking down of carriage, the death of cattle, &c., carriage is not to be exchanged except at the regular stations; but this rule is not intended to prohibit the discharge of carriage at any intermediate point with the consent of the owner.

Hiring of carriage.

12. Carriage is to be hired to a convenient stage in the adjoining district, beyond which it is not to be taken without the written consent of the owners, unless the civil officer of that district shall certify that a relief cannot be furnished.

Rates of hire and demurrage for carriages, chowdries' fees, &c., now in force.

13. The Government of Bengal have fixed the rates of hire, back hire, demurrage, chowdries' fees, &c., to be allowed in each district for the different kinds of carriage procurable there according to the schedule given below. A District Officer when making over carriage to the Commanding Officer is to be careful to deliver to him in writing a full statement of the date of engagement of each cart or pack-bullock, with names of carters or drivers, also of the rate of hire and of the weight to be carried by each cart, boat or boast. Should this information not be received, Commanding Officers must apply for it in order that no misunderstanding may exist on these very important points. The statement will also contain a specification of advances, if any, made under rule 4.

It will be understood that the rates in column 4 are only to apply to coolies employed in carriages. Coolies, locally employed on duties such as to clear encamping-grounds, will be paid at local rates, which it is not necessary to fix authoritatively.

List of carters engaged.

14. The District Officer will also supply the Commanding Officer with a detailed list, in duplicate, showing the carters' names, date of engagement, and amount of advance paid. The Commanding Officer will afterwards return one copy of the list to the District Officer, with information as to the date of discharge of each cart, and the amount paid The Commanding Officer will report any case in which he is not supplied with the required list.

15. The indenting officer should be warned to the effect that full hire is to be paid from the date on which the carriage is engaged by the Collector to the date on which it is discharged, and that no reductions are allowed in cases of halts or on account of demurrage rates.

Responsibility of indenting officer for the hire of the carriage.

16. When necessary the District Officer is to advance half the hire on engaging the carriage. The Commanding Officer of the troops is responsible that this is repaid to the civil officer, and that the full balance is discharged in due course.

Advances for carriage.

17. The Commissariat will make any advance required by the owners or drivers of carriage procured by that department for the public and private use of officers and troops, will repay any advances made by civil officers, and settle all claims on account of public carriage supplied for the use of regiments of British cavalry, and infantry, and batteries of royal artillery.

Advances by Commissariat.

18. Commanding Officers are responsible that the carriage is not overladen, that the beasts are not overdriven, that the cartmen and parties in charge are properly treated, and are further enjoined to take measures which will prevent the ill-treatment of baggage animals, when such are made over for the carriage of regiments, as, in cases of deaths resulting from injuries inflicted by soldiers or regimental followers, Government will not bear the cost of compensation to the owners.

Care of cartmen and cattle.

19. Whenever any of the public cattle attached to corps on a march become unserviceable from sickness or other causes, the Commissariat Department will take measures for having them exchanged.

Sick cattle to be exchanged.

20. If the Commanding Officer has any complaint to make regarding the carriage, or the behaviour of the men in charge, he should address the District Officer of the first station that he reaches, who will afford every legal redress in his power; on the other hand, District Officers are responsible to Government that the local carriage rules are fairly adhered to; and, if they fail in inducing adherence to them, they should at once report the matter for the orders of superior authority.

Redress of complaints regarding carriage.

21. On the occasion of the discharge or exchange of carriage, the Commanding Officer should require the certificate of the Quartermaster that every cart and camel-man and cooly has been duly paid up in full. This certificate should then at once be communicated to the civil authority, British or Native, accompanying the troops who should be requested to verify its correctness by appeal to the parties paid, and then to append his countersignature as a voucher; such certificates should be in duplicate, one copy being retained by the regiment, and the other sent to the civil officer of the district concerned.

Rules to be observed on paying up and discharging carriage.

Discharge certificate to be given to cartmen, &c.

22. A passport (purwannah) in English and the vernacular signed and sealed by the District Officer, is to be given to each person in charge of carriage. The carriage protected by this document shall not be liable to seizure on the way home for the use of troops unless they are marching in the direction of the owner's house.

Scale of baggage allowed to be carried on service or relief, for which carriage will be furnished.

23. The following table shows the utmost weight of baggage which each class and description of troops is permitted to carry on a march, and for which carriage will be furnished on requisition on the responsibility of the authorities, Civil and Military.

24. Officers or soldiers who may require additional carriage at the period of a general relief, for the transport of their baggage or families, are invariably to make their own arrangements, in which they will be aided by Cantonment Magistrates, whose duty it is to facilitate the movements of troops and of individuals by furnishing carriage at as low a rate as may be consistent with justice to the owners.

Extra carriage to be obtained from civil authorities.

25. District Officers are to supply the Accountant-General promptly with vouchers in respect to charges for carriage, &c., on account of the Military Department, and to comply generally with the rules laid down by the Department of Account for the adjustment of accounts.

Procedure for adjustment of accounts.

Section II.—Supply of Provisions.

1. On receiving the route by which a corps or detachment is to move, the Commanding Officer will, without unnecessary delay, communicate to the civil or political authorities of the districts to be traversed the date on which the corps or detachment will arrive at each of the stages on the road, noticing the places at which it will halt for one or more days: at least a fortnight's notice should, if possible, be given in each case.

Notice to be given to the civil authorities.

RULE 10 -for "Executive Commissariat Officers" substitute— "Supply and Transport Officers."

22-3-1903.

2. Should any unexpected difficulties or subsequent orders cause a change in the date fixed for the arrival of the corps or detachment at any of the stages, early notice of the same is to be communicated to the civil authorities concerned, in order that the necessary instructions may be given to the native civil officers respecting the provision of supplies at the proper time.

All changes to be notified to local authorities.

3. If supplies have been collected agreeably to the route furnished by the Commanding Officer of a corps or detachment to the civil authorities, and any loss arises owing to a deviation from the route, the Commanding Officer will be made responsible for such loss, unless the urgency of the deviation is proved to the satisfaction of Government.

Route not to be deviated from.

4. The communication (rule 1 of this Section) to the civil authority concerned is to be accompanied by a requisition (Appendix); but requisitions for supplies for British troops on a march are not to be made without its being first ascertained by Commanding Officers from the Executive Commissariat officers equipping the troops, or from the victualling gumashta with them, that none of the articles demanded are to be supplied by contract.

Form of requisition for supplies.

5. The supplies enumerated in the requisition are the only articles which civil officers will be expected to provide. It will therefore be the duty of Commanding Officers to make such arrangements as may appear necessary to enable the regimental bazars to furnish all other articles, such as tobacco, gur, &c., which may be required for the comfort of the men, and of which a sufficient stock can always be laid in at the larger cities or stations on the route. Whenever the quantity of firewood demanded cannot be supplied, 'opla' will be provided as a substitute.

Extra supplies to be obtained by Commanding Officers.

6. The supplies to be demanded are to be strictly limited to the quantity and articles actually required, and which are certain to be taken by the troops: should more be demanded than is necessary, the officer preferring the requisition will be held responsible for any loss that may accrue to the suppliers. In preparing the requisition, the number of men and cattle of each description actually present is to be correctly enumerated, and the quantity of grain required for the daily consumption of private cattle should also be ascertained.

Scale laid down is the maximum allowed.

7. The Commissariat agent proceeding with the public cattle attached to a corps or detachment should be prohibited from demanding a larger supply of grain than is actually required,

Commissariat agent not to demand more than necessary.

and should be warned against exacting any dustoori, or receiving any description of perquisite. The price-current furnished to him should state at foot the description and quantity of grain he may have purchased.

Revised requisitions to be submitted when necessary.

8. If the quantity of supplies furnished is found to exceed what is required for daily consumption, revised requisitions are to be sent to the civil authorities concerned. This rule is to be most particularly attended to by Commanding Officers in order to protect the contractors from loss.

Supply of rations on march.

9. On the line of march the supply of rations is generally entrusted to a native agent, styled a victualling gumashta, who is appointed by the executive Commissariat officer to accompany the troops. The Commanding Officer is required to give the agent all necessary assistance by protecting him from maltreatment, causing his vouchers to be duly filled up and signed, the daily requisitions to be furnished to him, permitting him to lodge the public money in his possession under charge of the quarter or other available guard, and furnishing him with authenticated extracts of all orders previous to their being complied with.

Daily requisitions for rations.

10. To enable the Commissariat Department to bring the exact quantity of rations to the ground, instead of an extra supply to meet unexpected demands, requisitions for the rations required for each day are to be sent in to executive Commissariat officers by 2 o'clock P.M. on the previous day.

Carriage of rum on march.

11. Commanding Officers of regiments and detachments under orders to march are to give previous intimation to the Commissariat Department of the quantity of rum that will be required on the road, malt liquor not being allowed on the march. The cost of carriage on the march will be borne by the Commissariat Department.

Advance allowed for fuel.

12. An advance of Rs. 200 may be made by paymasters to Commanding Officers on the commencement of a march, to enable them to furnish funds for the wholesale purchase of the firewood, &c., to be recovered by the retail sale, the advance being readjusted at the close of the march in the usual manner.

Supplies by country people to be encouraged.

13. Every encouragement is to be given to the people of the country to supply the camp bazar, and any soldier using them ill, or attempting to defraud them, is to be instantly confined and punished.

Civil authorities to depute a functionary to accompany each corps.

14. The civil authorities will invariably depute a functionary of respectability to meet a regiment or detachment the day before it enters the district under their charge. This individual, who is always to be treated with proper consideration, will wait upon the Commanding Officer, receive his instructions, and precede the corps daily, to ensure the supplies being in readiness, and to satisfy himself that they are of good quality.

All accounts to be ready by the evening of each day.

15. To ensure the prompt adjustment of demands connected with supplies furnished to corps and detachments on the march, the civil functionary in attendance is to have all the accounts ready for adjustment by 4 o'clock in the afternoon each day, and submitted to the Quartermaster in time to enable him to report such adjustment to the Commanding Officer by sunset, so that sufficient time may be afforded for the investigation of all disputed claims.

Acknowledgment to be given when demands are settled.

16. When all the demands have been satisfied, the civil functionary in attendance must give an acknowledgment to the Commanding Officer that all the demands of the day have been settled; and when, from any particular circumstance, the demands have not been adjusted, a statement to that effect, specifying the amount and the nature of the demand, must be given by the Commanding Officer, on which is to be distinctly stated the proper officer to whom the document should be forwarded for adjustment.

Soldiers not to be employed to collect supplies.

17. Officers and others who may require sheep, fowls, kids, milk, eggs, or other articles not authorised to be requisitioned, are not to employ soldiers or lascars in procuring them, but must send their servants into the neighbouring villages with money for their purchase. The civil functionary who attends the corps or detachment will be able to give information where such articles are likely to be obtained, but is in no case to interfere by his authority in procuring them. This rule applies with equal force to officers of the Commissariat Department collecting supplies, and also to officers travelling with escorts; the latter should apply to the nearest local police officers, by whom every assistance consistent with the regulations of Government will be afforded.

Russud guard to be commanded by a native officer.

18. The russud guard of native troops is to be commanded by a native officer, who should be selected for the duty with reference to his temper, discretion, and other obviously necessary qualifications; and, in addition to receiving full instructions for his conduct, should be warned that if any of the party under his command misconduct themselves by taking without payment firewood, grain, &c., he will be held responsible for their behaviour.

Duty of native officer commanding russud guard.

19. It will be this native officer's duty to prevent any disturbances taking place in the villages in which the supplies are collected, and to afford every protection in his power to the people bringing them. In the Bengal Presidency he will receive the firewood, earthen-pots, forage and straw, duly paying for the articles on delivery. The carriage for them to the camp will be furnished by the civil functionary, when they will be made over to the chowdry of the bazar, or other persons who may be entrusted with the duty of retailing them to the officers and men: any portion of these articles, which may remain unsold at the time of closing the bazar, being returned to the parties from whom they were received in the morning at the price then fixed for them.

Where russud guards are not required.

20. In the case of detachments, or where burdashtkhanas or extemporized bazars or storehouses (which are only provided for encamping grounds on much used lines of road, where there is no large town or sadar bazar close at hand) have been established along a line of road, russud guards are not to be employed; but in lieu thereof, an intelligent non-commissioned officer is to be sent on in advance daily, to give notice of the approach of the troops, and to see that the requisite supplies are in readiness for the troops, when they arrive.

Bazars to be visited daily.

21. On the march of a corps or detachment, the Quarter-master as well as the British (or Native) officer of the day, is to be directed to visit the bazar daily, to see that no just cause of complaint exists on the part of the contractors or others attending with supplies.

Course to be adopted when supplies are bad.

22. In the event of an unfavourable report being made of the supplies furnished, it will be the duty of Commanding Officers not to be solely guided by the report of the chowdry or russud guard, but to order a thorough investigation by a committee of officers in British corps, or of native officers, superintended by an experienced British officer, in native corps, a copy of whose report should be forwarded for the information of the civil officer of the district. The examination of the supplies should not be confined to a sample, but extended to the whole quantity furnished.

Authorities to have access to camp.

23. To prevent the necessity of future complaint or reference to the civil or military authorities of the district, the revenue and police officers, and even the villagers residing in the vicinity of the camp, should have ready access, in order that Commanding Officers may have early information of any occurrence deserving their attention. The officer on duty should be held responsible for the enforcement of this order, and should be instructed to bring any individual into camp who may wish to prefer a complaint.

Guard for protection of burdashtkhanas.

24. When marching along lines of roads where burdashtkhanas have been established, it will be the duty of Commanding Officers to give a guard for the support and protection of the different contractors appointed by Government, who will supply all regimental bazars wholesale in the usual manner; small detachments, however, or individuals proceeding on duty or leave, will be supplied direct from the burdashtkhanas themselves.

Price-current to be furnished to officers.

25. In order to prevent, as far as possible, any imposition being practised on the troops, the Commanding Officer should apply to the civil officer of the district for a price-current, in the vernacular and English, of all articles of fixed value; of those of fluctuating price, duplicate copies of the price-current will be furnished, one of which is to be signed by the Commanding Officer, and to be sent by him by post to the civil officer of the district, with an intimation of any disposition, when such appears, to impose inferior articles or improper prices on the men.

Supplies in cantonments to be furnished by Cantonment Magistrates.

26. The civil authorities are relieved from all responsibility connected with supplies of troops encamped in military cantonments where sadar or station bazars exist, and the duty of providing such supplies devolves on the officers in charge of such bazars, to whom Commanding Officers of corps and detachments will submit their requisitions.

Section III.—Miscellaneous.

Cleaning of wells.

1. General Officers commanding Divisions and districts will, on receipt of the annual relief circular from the Quartermaster-General, or of any order for movement of troops by route march, inform the civil authorities of the routes by which troops will march, in order that all wells at the encamping grounds on the roads to be traversed may be thoroughly cleaned out before the movements commence.

Duty of a Collector.

2. Whenever a Collector receives from the officer in command intimation of the approach of troops, he is to acknowledge it and communicate to the officer in command any information that he thinks likely to facilitate the progress of the detachment, or promote the comfort of the troops.

Cleanliness of encamping grounds.

3. The established encamping grounds when not occupied are kept clean and free from jungle growth and generally in order by the local subordinate civil officer, under the orders of the civil officer of the district. The latter should be addressed without delay when there is a subject of complaint.

4. Encamping grounds being intended for the use of private travellers as well as troops, the expense of demarcating them is a charge upon the Civil Department.

Expense of demarcating encamping grounds is a civil charge.

5. At the commencement of the marching season, it is the duty of each Collector or Subdivisional Officer to see that every encamping ground within his jurisdiction is made clear and fit for the encamping of troops. Whenever notice is given of the approach of troops, a ministerial officer should be specially deputed to see that the grounds are in a proper state. Any small expenditure incurred under these orders should be charged in the contingent bill.

Encamping grounds to be put in order at the commencement of the marching season.

6. On the receipt of an order to march, and of the route by which the corps is to proceed, the Commanding Officer is to report to the civil or political authorities of the districts through which he is to pass, the probable date of arrival within their respective jurisdictions (giving the strength of the corps, proposed halting places and intended date of arrival at each), in order that they may issue the necessary instructions to the police to afford every assistance in their power to facilitate the march of the troops. He will at the same time request that a police officer or darbar official may be warned to accompany the corps through the district, who should be held responsible that, in addition to the precautions taken by the sentries of the force, proper measures are adopted by the local authorities to prevent thefts, or, if they occur, to punish the offenders. The civil officers concerned should also be informed of the probable dates of arrivals at rivers or nalas intersecting the march, where boats or temporary bridges may be required for crossing the troops and their baggage.

Reports to be made to the civil and political authorities.

7. Whenever a civil officer, whether British or Native, is deputed to accompany corps or detachments through the several districts along the line of march, Commanding Officers are required to bear in mind that, though attached to the troops in a magisterial capacity, his presence does not relieve them of their responsibility for the discipline of their men and the protection of the people from exaction and outrage, which still remains single and absolute; and that they are bound to take all military precautions for the maintenance of order and the prevention of irregularities.

Duties of Commanding Officers not affected by presence of civil officers.

8. The civil officer is appointed for the purpose of adjudicating on the spot on disputes occurring between the soldiery and the people, and on the claims of cartmen or others temporarily attached to the troops by civil authority, for discharge from their engagements and due satisfaction of their wages. The Commanding Officer should daily see the civil officer, and ascertain the complaints made and the claims or disputes remaining unadjusted.

Duties of deputed civil authority.

Prevention of sale of spirituous liquors.

9. Commanding Officers will concert with the civil officers of the district and the civil officers on the spot for the closing by them, according to the regulations of the province, at all places of sale of spirituous liquors on, or adjacent to, the line of march, whilst British troops are passing by, or are encamped in the vicinity; they will also make any other arrangements at or near the camp ground for the prevention of the unauthorised sale of liquor to their men as may be considered necessary, posting a guard where deemed advisable. District civil officers will, on receiving intimation of the march of British troops, give due notice to the local native civil authorities.

Charges for boats and temporary bridges.

10. Whenever troops in the Bengal Presidency are specially provided with boats, temporary bridges or other accommodation for the purpose of crossing rivers or nalas on their route, the Commanding Officer will grant a certificate to the person furnishing the same, specifying the number of boats and men, the burden of each boat, and the period employed on the public service: when temporary bridges have been constructed for the above purpose, the certificate is to specify generally the dimensions of the bridges, and the materials of which they are composed. The certificate, accompanied by a detailed account of the expense incurred, will then be forwarded by the party receiving it to the civil officer of the district, who will communicate to the Commanding Officer the particulars of the account in view to obtaining his certificate that the services charged for in it were performed, or a statement of such exception as he may have to offer to any, of the charges. The civil authorities who arrange for the services will pay the charge and adjust it by book debit to the Military Department for the Civil Accounts.

Compensation to be paid for injured crops.

11. Cultivated lands must not be occupied for the encampment of troops without absolute necessity. When crops are injured or destroyed from an unvoidable encroachment of a camp, or by the march of troops, compensation is to be paid on the spot to the owner by a staff officer deputed by the General Officer commanding the force, or, on occasions of the movement of single corps, by the Quartermaster of the regiment. The compensation is to be paid in concert with the civil officer (British or Native) attached to the camp or in its vicinity. Such advances as may be required to meet the above object will be made by the Commissariat Officer or agent attached to the troops in camp, under the written authority of the Commanding Officer.

Lakhirajdars liable to furnish supplies.

12. Lakhirajdars come under the definition of the word "landholder" given in Regulations XI of 1806 and VI of 1825, and are therefore liable to furnish supplies for troops passing through their lands.

Examined.

Quartermaster.

_____ Commanding,

Commissariat Officer.

NOTES.

I.—This requisition should reach the District Civil Officer at least a fortnight before the date on which the supplies are required.

II.—This requisition is to be framed by the Commissariat Department and Commanding Officer to the extent each will be responsible for the supplies to be paid for by the State and by troops.

III.—Only the articles shown on reverse can be requisitioned. Further articles, or an excess over the requisitioned amount of authorised articles, cannot be demanded, and the Commanding Officer and Commissariat Agent must make the best arrangements practicable to obtain them.

IV.—Requisitions for supplies in excess of actual requirements should on no account be made. If from any cause the quantity provided on indent is subsequently found to much exceed requirements, the official on whose requisition the excess supply was furnished, should, in concert with the Civil Officer, make such arrangement for its disposal as may appear best for all concerned.

V.—For transport mules and ponies grain of the cheapest kind locally obtainable to be requisitioned for.
